

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

A close-up photograph showing a portion of a ruler with markings in centimeters and millimeters. A small, dark, rectangular object is placed on the ruler, positioned between the 1 cm and 2 cm marks. The object appears to be a small block or a piece of material being measured.

Sarah Reice her Book
 1777
 D. C. Knoll 1777

1717

D. A. Russell

24-

An ADVERTISEMENT to the READER.

SOME say the Pilgrim's Progress is not mine,
Insinuating as if I would shine,
In Name and Fame by the Worth of another,
Like some made rich by robbing of their Brother :
Or that so fond I am of being Sire,
I'll Father Bastards ; or if Need require,
I'll tell a Lie in Print to get Applause :
I scorn it ; John such Dirt heap never was,
Since God converted him. Let this suffice
To shew why I my Pilgrim Patronize.

It came from mine own Heart, so to my Head,
And thence into my Fingers trickled ;
Then to my Pen, from whence immediately
On Paper I did dribble it daintily.

Manner and Matter too was all mine own,
Nor was it unto any Mortal known,
Till I had done it. Nor did any then
By Books by Wits by Tongues, or Hand or Pen
Add five Words to it, or write half a Line
Therefore : The Whole, and every whit is mine.

Also for This, thine Eye is now upon,
The Matter in this Manner came from none
But the same Heart, and Head, Fingers and Pen,
As did the others. Witness all good Men ;
For none in all the World without a Lie,
Can say that this is mine excepting I.

I write not this of any Ostentation.
Nor 'cause I seek of Men their Commendation ;
I do it to keep them from such surmize,
As tempt them will my Name to scandalize,
Witness my Name, if anagram'd to thee,
The Letters make, Nu bony in a B.

JOHN BUNY

A

THE Holy War,
MADE BY SHADDAI
UPON
DIABOLUS;
For the Regaining of the Metropolis of the WORLD;
OR, THE LOSING
And Taking again of the Town OF
MANSOUL.

By JOHN BUNYAN, Author of the Pilgrim's Progress, 1st. and 2d Part.

Note. The 3d Part suggested to be his, is an Imposſor.

I have uſed Similitudes, Hoſ. xii. 10.

GLASGOW:
Printed in the Year 1752.

TO THE READER.

*'T*IS strange to me, that they that love to tell Things done of old, yea, and that do excell
Their Equals in Historiology,

Speak not of Mansoul's Wars, but let them lie
Dead like old Fables, or such worthless Things,
That to the Reader no Advantage brings:

When Men, let them make what they will their own,
Till they know this, are to themselves unknown.

Of Stories I well know there's divers Sorts,
Some Foreign, some Domestick; and Reports
Are thereof made as Fancy leads the Writers;
(By Books a Man may guess at the Inditers.)

Some will again of that which never was,
Nor will be, feign, (and that without a Cause)
Such Matter, raise such Mountains, tell such Things
Of Men, of Laws, of Countries, and of Kings;
And in their Story seem to be so Sage,
And with such Gravity cloath every Page,
That though their Frontispiece says all is vain,
Yet to their Way Disciples they obtain.

But, Readers, I have somewhat else to do,
Than with vain Stories thus to trouble you;
What here I say some Men do know so well
They can with Tears of Joy the Story tell.

True
Christian:

The Town of Mansoul is well known to many,
Nor are her Troubles doubted of by any.

TO THE READER.

*That are acquainted with these Histories,
That Mansoul and her Wars Anatomize.*

The Scriptures.

*Then lend thine Ear to what I do relate Touching the Town of Mansoul, and her State,
How she was lost, took Captive, made a Slave;
And how against him set, that should her save.
Yea, how by hostile Ways she did oppose
Her Lord, and with his Enemy did close,
For they are true, he that will them deny,
Must needs be best of Records vilifie,
For my part I (myself was in the Town,
Both when 'twas set up, and when pulling down,
I saw Diabolus in its Possession,
And Mansoul also under his Oppression.
Yea, I was there when she own'd him for Lord,
And to him did submit with one Accord.*

*When Mansoul tampled on Things Divine,
And wallowed in Filth as doth a Swine:
When she betook herself unto her Arms,
Fought her Emanuel, despis'd his Charms,
Then I was there, and grieved for to see Diabolus, and Mansoul so agree.*

Her Counsels.

*Let no Man then count me a Fab's Maker,
Nor make my Name or Credit a Partaker
Of their Derision, what is here in view,
Of mine own Knowledge I dare say is true.*

*I saw the Prince's armed Men come down
By Troops, by Thousands, to besiege the Town.
I saw the Captains, heard the Trumpets sound,
And how his Forces cover'd all the Ground:
Yea, how they set themselves in Battlè-ray,
I shall remember to my dying Day.*

*I saw the Colours waving in the Wind,
And they within to Mischiefe how combin'd
To ruin Mansoul, and to ~~bring~~ away
Her Primum Mobile with Delay.*

Her Soul.

*I saw the Mortars cast up against the Town,
And how the Slings were plac'd to beat it down.*

TO the READER.

*I heard the Stones fly whizzing by my Ears,
(What longer kept in Mind than got in Fears?)
I heard them fall, and saw what Work they made,
And how Old Mors, did cover with his Shade, Dea
The Face of Mansoul, and I heard her cry, Woe worth the Day in dying I shall die.*

*I saw the Battering-Rams, and how they play'd
To beat up Ear-gate, and I was afraid,
Not only Ear-gate, but the very Town
Would by these Battering-Rams be beaten down.*

*I saw the Fights, and heard the Captains shout,
And in each Battle, saw who fac'd about: Lut
I saw who wounded were, and who were slain,
And who when dead, would come to Life again.*

*I heard the Cries of those that wounded were,
(While others fought like Men bereft of Fear,)
And while the Cry, Kill, Kill, was in mine Ears,
The Gutters ran, not so with Blood as Tears.*

*Indeed the Captains did not always fight.
But when they would molest us Day and Night;
They cry, up, fall on, let us take the Town,
Kept us from sleeping, or from lying down.*

*I was there when the Gates were broken ope,
And saw how Mansoul then was stript of Hope,
I saw the Captains march into the Town,
How there they fought, and did their Foes cut down.*

*I heard the Prince bid Boanerges go Up to the Castle, and there seize his Foe,
And saw him and his Fellows bring him down
In Chains of great Contempt quite through the Town.*

*I saw Emanuel when he possess'd
His Town of Mansoul, and how greatly blest
A Town, his gallant Town of Mansoul was,
When she receiv'd his Pardon, lov'd his Laws.*

*When the Diabolians were caught,
When try'd, and when to Execution brought,
Then I was there; yea, I was standing by
When Mansoul did the Rebels crucifie.*

*I also saw Mansoul clad all in white,
And heard her Prince call her his Heart's Delight.*

TO the READER.

*I saw him put upon her Chains of Gold,
And Rings and Bracelets, goodly to behold.*

*What shall I say? I heard the Peoples Cries,
And saw the Prince wipe Tears from Mansoul's Eyes.
I heard the Groans, and saw the Joy of many:
Tell you of all I neither will, nor can I,
But by what here I say, you well may see That Mansoul's matchless Wars no Fables be.*

*Mansoul! the Desire of both Princes was,
One keep his Gain would t'other gain his Loss;
Diabolus would cry, The Town is mine,
Emanuel would plead a Right Divine Unto his Mansoul; then to Blows they go,
And Mansoul cries, These Wars will me undo!*

*Mansoul, her Wars seem'd endless in her Eyes,
She's lost by one, becomes another's Prize;
And he again that lost her last would swear,
Have her, I will, or her in Pieces tear.*

*Mansoul, it was the very Seat of War,
Wherefore her Troubles greater were by far,
Than only where the Noise of War is heard,
Or where the shaking of a Sword is fear'd:
Or only where small Skirmishes are fought,
Or where the Fancy fighteth with a Thought.*

*She saw the Swords of Fighting Men made red,
And heard the Cries of those with them wounded.
Must not her Frights then be much more by far,
Than theirs that to such Doings Strangers are?
Or theirs that hear the Beating of a Drum,
But not made fly for Fear from House and Home?*

*Mansoul not only heard the Trumpet sound,
But saw her Gallants gasping on the Ground;
Wherefore we must not think that she could rest
With them whose greatest Earnest is but Jest:
Or where the blustering Threatning of great Wars
Do end in Parleys, or in wording Jars.*

Mansoul, her mighty Wars, they do pretend Her Weal, or Woe, and that World without End;

To the READER.

*re she must be more concern'd than they ears begin and end the self same Day:
re none other Harm doth come to him
ingag'd, but Loss of Life or Limb,
ust needs confess that now do dwell,
erse, and can this Story tell.*

*me not then with them, that to amaze
le, set them on the Stars to gaze, ng with much Confidence
the only Men that have Science brave Creatures; yea, a World they will each Star, tho' it be past their Skill
it manifest unto a Man son hath, or tell his Fingers can.*

*have too long held thee in the Porch,
thee from the Sun-shine with a Torch.
wo go forward, step within the Door,
e behold five hundred Times much more
rts of such inward Rarities,
the Mind well, and well feed the Eyes,
e which of a Christian, thou wilt see.
ou go to work without my Key.*

The Margin.

*ries Men do soon lose their Way)
turn it right if thou would'st know
e. and would'st with my Heifer plow;
re in the Window, fare thee well,
may be to ring thy Pissing Bell.*

John Bunyan

A RELATION
OF THE HOLY WAR, &c.

IN my Travels, as I walked through many Regions and Countries, it was my chance to happen in that famous Continent of Universe ; a very large and spacious Country it is. It lieth between the two Poles and just amidst the four Points of the Heavens. It is a Place well watered, and richly adorned with Hills and Valleys, bravely situated ; and for the most part (at least where I was) very fruitful, also well peopled, and a very sweet Air.

The People are not all of one Complexion, nor of one Language, Mode, or Way of Religion ; they differ as much as 'tis said) do the Planets themselves. Some are right and some are wrong, even as it happeneth to be in lesser Regions.

In this Country, as I said, it was my Lot to travel and there travel I did, and that so long, even till I had learned much of their Mother tongue, together with the Customs and Manners of them among whom I was. And to speak Truth, I was much delighted to see and hear many Things which I saw and heard among them : Yea, I had (to be sure) even lived and died a Native among them. (I was so taken with them and their Doings) had not my Master sent for me back to his House, there to do Business for him, and to see Business done.

A native
State pleased to the Flesh

The Holy War,

Now there is in this gallant Country of Unice, a fair and delicate Town, a Corporation called Manfoul, a Town for its Building so curious, for its Situation so commodious, for its Privileges so advantageous; (I mean with reference to its Original) that may say of it, as was said-before, of the Continuum in which it is placed, There is not its Equal under the whole Heaven.

As to the Situation of this Town, it lieth just between the two Worlds, and the first Founder, and Builder of it, so far as by the best and Scriptures.

The Almighty.

was one Shaddai; and he built it for his own Delight. Gen. i. 26. He made it the Mirror and Glory of all that he made, even the Top-piece, beyond any Thing else that he did in that Country: Yea, so goodly a Town was Manfoul, when first built, that it is said by some, the Gods at the setting up thereof, came down to see it, and sung for Joy. And as he made it goodly to behold, so also mighty to have Dominion over all the Country round about. Yea, all was commanded to acknowledge Manfoul for their Metropolitan, all was enjoined to do homage to it. Ay, the Town itself had positive Commission, and Power from her King to demand Service of all, and also to subdue any, that any ways denied to do it.

Created Angels.

The Heart.

There was reared up in the midst of this Town, a most famous and stately Palace; for Strength it may be called a Castle; for Pleasantness, a Paradise; for Largeness, a Place so copious as to contain all the World, Eccles. iii. 11. This Place, the King Shaddai intended but for himself alone, and not another with him: Partly because of his own Delights, and partly because

The Power of the Souls.

he would not that the Terror of Strangers should be upon the Town. This Place Shaddai made also a Garrison of,

but committed the keeping of it, only to the Men of the Town.

The

The Wall of the Town was well built, yea, so fast and firm was it knit and compacted together, that had it not been for the Townsmen themselves, they could not have been shaken, or broken for ever.

For here lay the excellent Wisdom of him that built Manfoul, that the Walls could never be broken down nor hurt, by the most mighty adverse Potentates, unless the Townsmen gave Consent thereto.

The Body..

This famous Town of Manfoul had five Gates, at which to come out, and at which to go in, and these were made likewise answerable to the Walls: To wit, impregnable, and such as could never be opened nor forced, but by the Will and Leave of those within. The Names of the Gates were these,

Ear-gate, Eye-gate, Mouth-gate, Nose-gate, and Feet-gate.. The five Senses.

Other Things there were that belonged to the Town of Manfoul, which if you adjoin to these, will yet give further Demonstration to all, of the Glory and Strength of the Place. It had always a Sufficiency of Provision within its Walls; it had the best, most wholesome, and excellent Law that was then extant in the World. There was not a Rascal, Rogue, or traiterous Person then within its Walls: They were all true Men, and fast joined together, and this you know is a great Matter. And to all these, it was always so long as it had the Goodness to keep true to Shaddai the King, his Countenance, his Protection, and it was his Delight, &c.

The State of Manfoul at first.

Well, upon a Time, there was one Diabolus a mighty Giant, made an Assault upon the famous Town of Manfoul, to take it, and make it his own Habitation.

This Giant was King of the Blacks or

Negros, and a most raving Prince he Sinners the fallen Angels.

was. We will, if you please, first dis-

The Original of Diabolus.

course of the Original of this Diabolus,

and then of his taking of this famous

Town of Manfoul.

This Diabolus is indeed a great and mighty Prince, and yet both poor and beggarly. As to his Orig-

The Holy War.

he was at first one of the Servants of King Shaddai made and taken, put by him into most high and mighty Place, yea, and was put into such Principality as belonged to the best of his Territories and Dominions, Isaiab xiv. 12. This Diabolus was made Son in the Morning, and a brave Place he had of it: It brought him much Glory, and gave him much Brightness, and an Income that might have contented his Luciferian Heart, had it not been insatiable, and enlarged as Hell itself.

Well, he seeing himself thus exalted to Greatness and Honour, and raging in his Mind for higher State and Degree, what doth he but begins to think with himself, how he might be set up as Lord over all, and have the sole Power under Shaddai, 2 Pet. ii. 4. Jude vi. (Now that did the King reserve for his Son, yea, and had already bestowed it upon him) wherefore he first consults with himself what had best to be done, and then breaks his Mind to some other of his Companions, to the which they also agreed. So in fine, they came to this Issue, that they should make an Attempt upon the King's Son to destroy him, that the Inheritance might be theirs. Well, to be short, the Treason (as I said) was concluded, the Time appointed, the Word given, the Rebels rendezvoused, and the Assault attempted. Now the King and his Son being all, and always Eye, could not but discern all Passages in his Dominions; and he having always a Love for his Son, as for himself, could not, at what he saw, but he greatly provoked and offended: Wherefore what does he, but takes them in the very Nick, and first Trip that they made towards their Design, convicts them of the Treason, horrid Rebellion and Conspiracy that they had devised, and now attempted to put into Practice, and calls them altogether out of all Place of Trust, Benefit, Honour, and Preferment; this done, he banishes them from the Court, turns them down into the horrid Pits, and as fast bound in Chains; never more to expect the least Favour from his Hands; and to abide the Judgment that that he had appointed ; and that for ever and ever.

Now they being thus cast out of all Place of Trust, Profit, and Honour, and also knowing that they had lost their Prince's Favour for ever, being banished his Court and cast down to the horrible Pits, you may be sure they would now add to their former Pride, what Malice and Rage against Sbaddai, and against his Son they could, 1 Pet. v. 8. Wherefore roving and ranging in much Fury from Place to Place, (if perhaps they might find something that was the King's) to revenge, by spoiling of that, themselves on him. At last they happened into this spacious Country of Universe, and steer their Course towards the Town of Manfoul; and considering that that Town was one of the chief Works and Delights of King Sbaddai; what do they, but after Council taken, make an Assault upon that. I say they knew that Manfoul belonged unto Sbaddai, for they were there when he built it, and beautified it for himself. So when they had found the Place, they shouted horribly for Joy, and roared on it like as a Lion upon the Prey; Saying, Now we have found the Prize, and how to be revenged on King Sbaddai, for what he hath done to us. So they sat down and called a Council of War, and considered with themselves what Ways and Methods they had best to engage in, for the winning to themselves this famous Town of Manfoul: And these four Things were then propounded to be considered of.

A Council of War held by Diabolus.

First, Whether they had best all of them to shew themselves in this Design to the Town of Manfoul?

Secondly, Whether they had best to go and sit down against Manfoul, in their now ragged and beggarly Guise?

Thirdly, Whether they had best shew to Manfoul their Intentions, and what Design they came about, or whether to assault it with Words and Ways of Deceit?

Fourthly, Whether they had not best, by some of their Compagnions; to give out private Orders to take the advantage, if they see one or more of the principal Town men to shoot them; if thereby they shall judge their Cause and Design will the better be promot'd.

The Holy War,

It was answered to the first of these Proposals, in the Negative, to wit, that it would not be best that all should shew themselves before the Town, because the Appearance of many of them might alarm and fright the Town, whereas, a few, or but one of them, was not so likely to do it. And to inforce this Advice to take place, 'twas added further, that if Mansoul was frightened or did take the Alarm, 'tis impossible said Diabolus (for he spake now) that we should take the Town: For that none can enter into it without its own Consent. Let therefore but a few, or but one assault Mansoul, and in my Opinion, said Diabolus, let me be he. Wherefore to this they all agreed, and then to the second Proposal they came, namely, Whether they had best to go and sit down before Mansoul, in their now ragged and beggarly Guise? To which it was answer'd also in the Negative, by no means; and that because, tho' the Town of Mansoul had been made to know, and to have to do before now, with Things that are invisible; they did never as yet see any of their fellow Creatures in so bad and Rascal Condition as they. And this was the Advice of the fierce Alecto. Then said Apollyon,

Alecto.
Apollyon.

the Advice is pertinent, for even one of us appearing to them as we are now, must needs both beget and multiply such Thoughts in them, as will both put them into a Consternation of Spirit, and necessitate them to put themselves upon their Guard: And if so, said he, then, as my Lord Electo said but now, 'tis in vain for us to think of taking the Town. Then said that mighty Giant Behzebub. The Advice that already is given is safe; for though the Men of Mansoul have seen such Things as we once were, yet hitherto they did never behold such Things as we now are. And 'tis best in mine Opinion, to come upon them in such a Guise as is common to, and most familiar among them. To this when they had consented: The next Thing to be considered was, in what Shape, Hue, or Guise, Diabolus had best to shew himself, when he went about to make Mansoul his own. Then one said one thing, and another the contrary. At last Lucifer answered, That in his Opinion, 'twas best that his Lordship should assume the Body of some of those Creatures that they of the Town had Dominion over. For, quoth he, those are not only familiar to them, but being under them, they will never imagine that any Attempt should by them be made upon the Town; and to blind all, let him assume the Body of one of those Beasts that Mansoul deems to be wiser than any of the rest, Gen. i. Rev. xx. 1, 2. This Advice was applauded of all, so it was determined that the Giant Diabolus should assume the Dragon, for that he was in those Days, as familiar with the Town of Mansoul, as now is the Bird with the Boy. For nothing that was in its primitive State was at all amazing to them. Then they proceeded to the third Thing, which was,

3. Whether they had best shew their Inclinations, or the Design of his coming to Mansoul, or no?

This also was answered in the Negative, because of the Weight that was in their former Reasons, to wit, for that Mansoul were a strong People, a strong People in a strong Town, whose Wall and Gates were impregnable, (to say nothing of their Castle) nor can they by any means be won but by their own Consent. Besides, said Legion, (for he gave answer to this) A Discovery of our Intentions, may make them send to their King for Aid, and if that be done, I know, quickly what Time of Day 'twill be with us: Therefore let us assault them in all pretended Fairness, covering of our Intentions with all manner of Lies, Flatteries, delusive Words; feigning of Things that will never be, and promising of that to them, that they shall never find: This is the Way to win Mansoul, and to make them of themselves to open their Gates to us; yea, and to desire us too, to come in to them.

And the Reason why I think that this Project will do, is, because the People of Mansoul are now every one Simple and Innocent; all Honest and True: Not do they as yet know what it is to be assaulted with Fraud, Guile, and Hypocrisie. They are Strangers to Lying and dissembling Lips; wherefore we cannot, if thus we be disguised, by them at all be discerned; our Lies shall go for true Sayings, and our Dissimulation, for upright Dealings. What we promise them, they will in that believe us; especially, if in all our Lies and feigned Words, we pretend great Love to them, and that our Design is only their Advantage and Honour. Now there was not one Bit of a Reply against this, this went as current down, as doth the Water down a steep Descent: Wherefore they go to consider of the last Proposal, which was, . . .

4. Whether they had not best to give out Orders to some of their Company, to shoot some one or more of the principal of the Townsmen: If they judge that their Cause may be promoted thereby,

This was carried in the Affirmative; and the Man that was designed by this Stratagem to be destroyed, was one Mr. Resistance, otherwise called Captain Resistance, and a great Man in Mansoul this Captain Resistance was; and a Man that the Giant Diabolus, and his Band, more feared, than they feared the whole Town of Mansoul besides. Now who should be the Actor to do the Murder; that was the next; and they appointed one Tisiphone, a Fury of the Lake, to do it.

They thus having ended the Council of War, rose up, and assay'd to do as they had determined; they marched towards Mansoul, but all in a Manner invisible, save only one; nor did he approach the Town in his own Likeness, but under the Shape, and in the Body of the Dragon.

So they drew up, and set down before Ear-gate, for that was the Place of Hearing for all without the Town, as Eye-gate was the Place of Perfection.

So as I said, he came up with his Train to the Gate, and laid his Ambuscade for Captain Resistance, within Bow-shot of the Town. This done, the Giant, ascended up close

The Result
of their Council.

Diabolus
marches up to
the Town.

to the Gate, and called to the Town of Mansoul for Audience. Nor took he any with him but one All-paust, who was his Orator in all difficult Matters. Now, as I said, he being come up to the Gate (as the Manner of those Times was) sounded his Trumpet for Audience: at which the chief of the Town of Mansoul, such as my Lord Innocent, my Lord Will be-will, my Lord-Mayer, Mr. Recorder, and Captain Resistance, came down to the Wall to see who was there, and what was the Matter. And my Lord Will be-will, when he looked over, and saw who stood at the Gate, demanded what he was, and wherefore he was come, and why he refused the Town of Mansoul with so unusual a Sound?

The Lords of Mansoul ap-
pared.

Diabolus then, as if he had been a Lamb, began his Oration and said, Gentlemen of the famous Town of Mansoul, I am, as you may perceive, no far Dweller from you, but near, and one that is bound by the King to do you my Homage, and what Service I can; wherefore that I may be faithful to myself, and to you, I have somewhat of Concern to impart unto you. Wherefore grant me your Audience and hear me patiently. And first, I will assure you, it is not myself, but you, not mine, but your Advantage that I seek by what I now do, as will full well be made manifest, by that I have open'd my Mind to you. For, Gentlemen, I am (to tell you the Truth) come to show you how you may obtain great and ample Deliverance from a Bondage that unawares to yourselves you are captivated and enslaved under. At this the Town of Mansoul began to prick up its Ears. And what is it, pray, what engaged. is it, thought they? And he said, I have something to say to you concerning your King, concerning his Law, and also touching yourselves. Touching your King, I know he is great and potent, but yet, all that he has said to you, is neither true, nor yet for your Advantage. 'Tis not true, for that wherewith he hath hitherto awed you, shall not come to pass, nor be fulfilled, though you do the Thing he hath forbidden. But if there was Danger, what a Slavery is it to live always in Fear of the greatest of Punishments, if

Diabolus his Oration.

do

The Holy War,

Diabolus his Subtilty made up of Lies.

*doing so small and trivial a Thing, as eating
a little Fruit is? 2. Touching his Laws, this I say further, they are both unreasonable, intricate, and intolerable. Unreasonable as was hinted before, for that the Punishment is not proportioned to the Offence. There is great Difference, and*

Disproportion betwixt the Life, and an Apple; Yet the one must go for the other by the Law of your Shaddai. But it is also intricate, in that he saith, First, You may eat of all; and yet after, forbids the eating of one. And then in the last Place; it must needs be intolerable, for as much as that Fruit which you are forbidden to eat of (if you are forbidden any) is that, and that alone, which is able by your eating, to minister you a Good, as yet unknown by you. This is manifest by the very Name of the Tree, it is called the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil; and have you that Knowledge as yet? No, no, nor can you conceive how good, how pleasant, and how much to be desired to make one wise it is, so long as you stand by your King's Commandment. Why should you be bolden in Ignorance and Blindness? Why should you not be enlarged in Knowledge and Understanding? And, now, Ab ye Inhabitants of the famous Town of Mansoul, to speak more particularly to yourselves, you are not a free People! Ye are kept both in Bondage and Slavery, and that by a grievous Threat, no Reason being annexed, but so I will have it, so it shall be. And is it not grievous to think on, that that very Thing you are forbidden to do, might you but do it, would yield you both Wisdom and Honour: For then your Eyes will be opened, and you shall be as Gods. Now, since this is thus, quoth he, can you be kept by any Prince in more Slavery, and in greater Bondage than you are under, this Day? You are made Underlings, and are wrapt up in Inconveniences, as I have well made appear: For what Bondage greater than to be kept in Blindness? Will not Reason tell you, that it is better to have Eyes than to be without them; and to be at Liberty, to be better than to be shut up in a dark and stinking Cave?

And just now while Diabolus was speaking these Words to Mansoul, Tisiphone shot hisseance slain. at Captain Resistance, where he stood on the Gate, and mortally wounded him in the Head, so that he, to the Amazement of the Townsmen, and the Encouragement of Diabolus, fell down dead quite over the Wall. Now when Captain Resistance was dead (and he was the only Man of War in the Town) poor Mansoul was who left naked of Courage, nor had she now any Heart to resist. But this was as the Devil would have it. Then stood forth that He, Mr. Ill-pause, that Diabolus brought with him, who was his Orator, and he addressed himself to speak to the Town of Manfoul: The Tenour of whose Speech here follows.

The Holy War,

Mr. Ill-pause his Speech to the Town of Manfoul. Ill-pause. Gentlemen, quoth he, it is my Master's Happiness, that he has this Day a quiet and teachable Auditory; and it is hoped by us, that we shall prevail with you, not to cast off good Advice: My Master has a very great Love for you, and although, as he very well knows, that he runs the Hazard of the Anger of King Shaddui, yet Love to you will make him do more than that. Nor doth there need that a Word more should be spoken to confirm for Truth what he has said; there is not a Word that carries with itself Evidence in its Bowels; the very Name of the Tree may put an End to all Controversy in this Matter.

I therefore at this Time shall only add this Advice to you, under, and by the Leave of my Lord (and with that he made Diabolus a very low Congee.) Consider his Words, look on the Tree and the promising Fruit thereof; remember also that yet you know but little, and that this is the Way to know more: And if your Reasons be not conquered to accept of such good Counsel, you are not the Men I took you to be. But when the Towns-folk saw that the Tree was good for Food, and that it was pleasant to the Eye, and a Tree to be desired to make one wise, they did as old Ill-pause advised, they took and did eat thereof; now this I should have told you before, that even then, when this Ill-pause was making of this Speech to the Townsmen, my Lord Innocency's Death. My Lord Innocency, (whether by a Shot from the Camp of the Giant, or from some Qualm that suddenly took him, or whether by the stinking Breath of that treacherous Villain, Old Ill-pause, for so I am most apt to think) sunk down in the Place where he stood, nor could he be brought to Life again. Thus these two brave Men died: brave Men

call them, for they were the Beauty and Glory of Mansoul, so long as they lived therein: Nor did there now remain any more a Noble Spirit in Mansoul, they all fell down and yielded Obedience to Dia'olus, and became his Slaves and Vassals as you shall hear.

Now these being dead, what do the rest The Town of the Towns-folk, but as Men that had taken.

found a Fool's Paradise, they presently, as afore was hinted, fell to prove the Truth of the Giant's Words, and first they did as Ill-pause had taught them, they looked, they considered, they were taken with the forbidden Fruit, they took thereof and did eat: And having eaten, they became immediately drunken therewith; so they opened the Gates; both Ear-gate, and Eye-gate, and let in Diabclus with all his Bands, quite forgetting their good Shaddai, his Law, and the Judgment that he had annexed with solemn Threatning to the Breach thereof.

Diabclus having now obtained Entrance in at the Gates of the Town, marches up to the Middle thereof, to make his Conquest as sure as he could, and finding by this Time, the Affections of the People warmly inclining to him, he, as thinking 'twas best striking while the Iron is hot, made this further deceivable Speech unto them, saying, Alas, my poor Mansoul! I have done thee indeed this Service, as to promote thee to Honour, and to greaten thy Liberty, but now, Alas! Alas! poor Mansoul, thou wantest now one to defend thee, for assure thyself, that when Shaddai shall hear what is done, he will come: For sorry will he be that thou hast broken his Bonds, and cast his Cords away from thee. What wilt thou do? Wilt thou after Enlargement, suffer thy Privileges to be invaded and taken away? Or what wilt thou resolve with thyself? Then they all with one Consent said to this Bramble. Do thou reign over us. So he accepted the Motion, and became He is entertained for their King.
the King of the Town of Mansoul. This being done, the next Thing was, to give him Possession of the Castle, and so of the whole Strength of the Town. Wherefore into the Castle

The Holy War,

He is possessed of the Castle, and fortieth it for himself.

goes (it was that which Shaddai built in Mansoul, for his own Delight and Pleasure :) This now was become a Den, and Hold for the Giant Diabolus.

Now having got Possession of this stately Palace, or Castle, what doth he, but make it a Garrison for himself, and strengthens and fortifies it with all sorts of Provisions against the King Shaddai, or those that should endeavour the re-gaining of it, to him, and his Obedience again.

He new modelleth the Town.

This done, but not thinking himself yet secure enough, in the next Place he bethinks himself of new modelling the Town: and so he does, setting up one, and putting down another at Pleasure. Wherefore my Lord Mayor, whose Name was my Lord Understanding, and Mr. Recorder, whose Name was Mr. Conscience, those he puts out of Place and Power.

The Lord-Mayor put out of Place.

As for my Lord-Mayor, though he was an Understanding Man, and one too that had complied with the rest of the Town of Mansoul in admitting of the Giant into the Town, 2 Cor. x. 4, 5. Yet Diabolus thought not fit to let him abide in his former Lustre and Glory, because he was a seeing Man: Eph. iv. 18, 19. Wherefore he had darkned it not only by taking from him his Office and Power, but by building of an high and strong Tower, just between the Sun's Reflections, and the Windows of my Lord's Palace: By which means the House and the whole of his Habitation, was made as dark as Darkness itself. And thus being alienated from the Light, he became as one that was born blind. To this his House my Lord was confined, as to a Prison; nor might he upon his Parole, go further than within his own Bounds. And now had he had an Heart to do for Mansoul, what could he do for it, or wherein could he be profitable to her? So then, so long as Mansoul was under the Power and Government of Diabolus, (and so long it was under him, as it was obedient to him: which was even until by War it was rescued out of his Hand.) So long my Lord Mayor was rather an Impediment in, than an Advantage to, the famous Town of Mansoul.

As for Mr. Recorder, before the Town was taken, he was a Man well read in the Laws of his King, and also a Man of Courage and Faithfulness to speak Truth on every Occasion: And he had a Tongue as bravely-hung, as he had an Head filled with Judgment. Now this Man, Diabolus could by no means abide, because, though he gave his Consent to his coming into the Town, yet he would not, by all Wiles, Trials, Stratagems and Devices that he could use, make him wholly his own. True, he was much degenerated from his former King, and also much pleased with many of the Giant's Laws, and Service: But this would not do, for as much as he was not wholly his; he would now and then think upon Shaddai, and have a dread of his Law upon him, and then he would speak with a Voice as great against Diabolus, as when a Lion roar-eth. Yea, and would also at certain times when his Fits were upon him (for you must know, that sometimes he had terrible Fits) make the whole Town of Mansoul shake with his Voice; and therefore the new King of Mansoul could not abide him.

The Recorder
put out of Place.

He sometimes speaks for his first King.

Diabolus therefore feared the Recorder, more than any that was left alive in the Town of Mansoul, because as I said, his Words did shake the whole Town; they were like the Ratling of Thunder, and also like Thunder-claps. Since therefore the Giant could not make him wholly his own, what doth he do, but studies all that he could to debauch the Old Gentleman, and by Debauchery to stupify his Mind, and more harden his Heart in Ways of Vanity. And as he attempted, so he accomplished his Design. He debauched the Man, and by little and little, so drew him into Sin and Wickedness, that at last he was not only debauched as at first, and so by consequence defiled, but was almost (at least I say) past all Conscience of Sin. And this was far

He is more
debauched than before.

The Holy War,

farthest Diabolus could go. Wherefore he bethinks him of another Project, and that was to persuade the

The Town taken off from heeding of him.

Men of the Town that Mr. Recorder was mad, and so not to be regarded.

And for this he urged his Fits, and said, If he be himself, why doth he not do thus always? But, quoth he, all mad Folk have their Fits, and in them raving Language; so hath this old and doating Gentleman. Thus by one Means or other, he quickly got Manfoul to flight, neglect, and despise whatever Mr. Recorder could say. For besides, what already you have heard, Diabolus had a Way to make the Old Gentleman when he was merry, unsay and deny what he in his Fits had affirmed. And indeed this was the next Way to make himself ridiculous, and to cause that no Man should regard him. Also now he never spake freely for King Shaddai, but always by Force and Constraint. Besides, he would at one Time be hot against that, at which at another he would hold his Peace, for uneven was he now in his Doings. Sometimes he would be, as if fast asleep, and again sometimes as dead, even then when the whole Town of Manfoul was in her Career after Vanity, and in her Dance after the Giant's Pipe.

How Conscience becomes so ridiculous, as with Carnal Men it is.

Wherefore, sometimes when Manfoul did use to be frightened with the thundering Voice of the Recorder that was, and when they did tell Diabolus of it, he would answer, that what the Old Gentleman said, was neither of Love to him, nor Pity to them, but of a foolish Fondness that he had to be prating: And so would hush, still, and put all to quiet again. And that he might leave no Argument un-urged that might tender to make them secure, he said, and said it often, Oh Manfoul! Consider, that notwithstanding the Old Gentleman's Rage, and the Rattle of his high and thundring Words, you hear nothing of Shaddai himself (when Liar and Deceiver that he was, every Out-cry of Satanical Rhetorick.

Mr. Recorder against the Sin of Manfoul was the Voice of God in him to them.)

But

But he goes on and says, You see that he values not the Loss, nor Rebellion of the Town of Mansoul, nor will he trouble himself with calling of his Town to a Reckoning, for their giving themselves to me. He knows that though ye were his, now you are lawfully mine; so leaving us to one another, he now hath shaken his Hands of us.

Moreover, O Mansoul! quoth he, consider how I have served you, even to the uttermost of my Power; and that with the best that I have, could get, or procure for you in all the World: Besides, I dare say, that the Laws and Customs that you now are under, and by which you do Homage to me, do yield you more Solace and Content, than did the Paradise that at first you possessed. Your Liberty also, as yourselves do very well know, has been greatly widen'd and enlarged by me; whereas I found you a

His Flatteries.

pen'd up People, I have not laid any Restraint upon you: you have no Law, Statute, or Judgment of mine to fright you; I call none of you to Account for your Doings, except the Madman, you know who I mean: I have granted you to live, each Man like a Prince in his own, even with as little Controul from me, as I have from you.

Conscience.

And thus would Diabolus hush up, and quiet the Town of Mansoul, when the Recorder that was, did at Times molest them: Yea, and with such cursed Orations as these, would set the whole Town in a Rage and Fury against the old Gentleman: Yea, the Rascal Crew at some Times would be for destroying him. They have often wished (in my Hearing) that he had lived a Thousand Miles off from them: His Company, his Words, yea, the Sight of him, and especially when they remembered how in old Times he did use to threaten and condemn them; (for all he was now so debauched) did terrify and afflict them sore.

Men sometimes angry with their Conscience.

But all Wishes were vain; for I don't know how, unless by the Power of Shaddai, and his Wisdom, he was preserved in Being amongst them. Besides, his Ho-was as strong as a Castle, and stood hard by a strong Ill-thoughts. Hold of the Town: moreover, if at any Time any of the Crew or Rabble attempted to make Of Fears. him away, he could pull up the Stuices, and let in such Floods as would drown all round about him.

The Holy War,

The Will. But to leave Mr. Recorder, and to come to my Lord Will-be-will, another of the Gentry of the famous Town of Manfoul. This Will-be-will was as high born in Manfoul, and was as much, if not more, a Free-holder than many of them were: Besides, if I remember my Tale aright, he had some Priviledge peculiar to himself in the famous Town of Manfoul: Now, together with these, he was a Man of great Strength, Resolution and Courage, nor in his Occasion could any turn him away. But I say, whether he was proud of his Estate, Priviledges, Strength, or what (but sure it was thro' Pride of something) he scorns now to be a Slave in Manfoul; and therefore resolves to bear office under Diabolus, that he might (such an one as he was) be a petty Ruler and Governor in Manfoul, and (head-strong Man that he was) thus he began betimes; for this Man, when Diabolus did make his Oration at Ear gate, was one of the first that was for consenting to his Words, and for accepting of his Council as wholesome, and that was for opening of the Gate, and letting him into the Town: Wherefore Diabolus had a Kindness for him; and therefore he designed for him a Place: And perceiving the Valour and Stoutness of the Man, he coveted, to have him for one of his great Ones, to act and do in Matters of the highest Concern.

The Will take Place under Diabolus. So he sent for him, and talked with him of that secret Matter that lay in his Breast, but there needed not much Persuasion in the Case. For as at first he was willing that Diabolus should be let into the Town; so now he was as willing to serve him there: When the Tyrant therefore perceived the Willingness of my Lord to serve him, and that his Mind stood bending that Way, he forthwith made him Captain of the Castle, Gover-

Governor of the Wall, and Keeper of the Gates of Mansoul: Yea, there was a Clause in his Commission, that no Thing without him should be done in all the Town of Mansoul. So that now, next to Diabolus himself, who but my Lord Will-be-will in all the Town of Mansoul; nor could any thing now be done, but at his Will and Pleasure throughout the Town of Mansoul, Rem. viii. 7. He had also one Mr. Mind for his Clerk, a Man to speak on, every Way like his Master: For he and his Lord were in Principle one, and in Practice not far asunder, Eph. ii. 2, 3, 4. And now was Mansoul brought under to Purpose, and made to fulfil the Lusts of the Will, and of the Mind.

Heart.
Flesh.
Senses.

Mr. Mind, my Lord's Clerk.

But it will not out of my Thoughts, what a desperate one this Will-be-will was, when Power was put into his Hand. First, he flatly denied that he owed any Suit or Service to his former Prince, and Liege-Lord. This done, in the next Place he took an Oath, swore Fidelity to his great Master Diabolus, and then being stated and settled in his Places, Offices, Advancements and Preferments; Oh! you cannot think unless you had seen it, the strange Work that this Workman made in the Town of Mansoul.

First, he maligned Mr. Recorder to Death, he would neither endure to see him, nor hear the Words of his Mouth; he would shut his Eyes when he saw him, and stop his Ears when he heard him speak. Also he could not endure that so much as a Fragment of the Law of Shaddai should be any where seen in the Town. For Example, his Clerk Mr. Mind had some old rents Neb. ix. 26. and torn Parchments of the Law of good Shaddai in his House, but when Will-be-will saw them, he cast them behind his Back. True, Mr. Recorder had some of the Laws in his Study, but my Lord could by no means come at them: He also thought and said, the Windows of my old Lord-Mayor's House were always

The Carnal
Will opposeth Conscience.

too light for the Profit of the Town of Mansoul. The Light of a Candle he could not understand. Corrupt Will loves a dark

The Holy War,

not endure. Now nothing at all pleased Will-be-will but what pleased Diabolus his Lord.

There was none like him to trumpet about the Streets, the brave Nature, the wise Conduct, and great Glory of the King Diabolus: He would range throughout all the Streets of Mansoul, to cry up his illustrious Lord, and would make himself even as an Abject, among the base and Rascal Crew, to cry up his valiant Prince. And I say, when, and wheresoever he found those Vassals, he would even make himself as one of them. In all ill Courses he would act without bidding, and do Mischief without Commandment.

The Lord Will-be-will also had a Deputy under him, and his Name was Mr. Affection; one that was also greatly debauched in his Principles, and answerable thereto in his Life: Rom. i. 25. He was only given to the Flesh, and therefore they call him Vile Affection:

A Match betwixt Vile Affections and Carnal-Lust.

Now there was he, and one Carnal-Lust, the Daughter of Mr. Mind (like to like, quoth the Devil to the Collier) that fell in Love and made a Match, and were married; and as I take it they had several Children, as Impudence, Black-mouth, and Hate-reproof: These three were black Boys; and besides these three they had three Daughters, as Scorn-Truth, Slight-God, and the Name of the youngest was Revenge; these were all married in the Town, and also begot and yielded many bad Brats, too many to be inserted. But to pass by this.

When the Giant had thus ingarrison'd himself in the Town of Mansoul, and had put down and set up whom he thought good, he betakes himself to Defacing. Now there was in the Market-place of Mansoul, and also upon the Gates of the Castle, an Image of the blessed King Sbaddai; this Image was so exactly engraven (and it was engraven in Gold) that it did the most resemble Sbaddai himself of any Thing that then was extant in the World. This he basely commanded to be defaced, and it was basely done by the Hand of Mr. No-truth. Now you must must know, that as Diabolus had commanded, and that by the Hand of Mr. No-Truth, the Image of Shaddai was defaced; he likewise gave Order that the same Mr. No-Truth should set up in its stead the horrid and formidable Image of Diabolus, to the great Contempt of the former King, and debasing his Town of Manfoul.

What No-truth

Moreover, Diabolus made Havock of all Remains of the Laws and Statutes of Shaddai, that could be found in the Town of Manfoul; to wit, such as contain'd either the Doctrines or Morals, with all Civil and Natural Documents. Also relative Severities he sought to extinguish. To be short, there was nothing of the Remains of Good in Manfoul, which he and Will-be-quill sought not to destroy; for their Design was to turn Manfoul into a Brute, and to make it like to the sensual Sow, by the Hand of Mr. No-Truth.

All Law-Books destroyed that could be found.

When he had destroyed what Law and good Orders he could, then further to effect his Design, namely, to alienate Manfoul from Shaddai her King, he commands, and they set up his own vain Edicts, Statutes, and Commandments, in all Places of Resort, or Concourse in Manfoul, 1 John ii. to wit, such as gave Liberty to the Lusts of the Flesh, the Lusts of the Eyes, and the Pride of Life, which are not of Shaddai, but of the World. He encouraged, countenanced, and promoted Lasciviousness, and all Ungodliness there. Yea, much more did Diabolus to encourage Wickedness in the Town of Manfoul: He promised them Peace, Content, Joy and Bliss in doing his Commands, and that they should never be called to an account for their not doing the contrary. And let this serve to give a Taste to them that love to hear of what is done beyond their Knowledge, afar off in other Countries.

Now Manfoul being wholly at his Beck, and brought wholly to his Bow, nothing was heard or seen therein but that which tended to set up him.

But now, he having disabled the Lord Mayor and Mr. Recorder from bearing of Office in Manfoul, and

They have a new Lord Mayor and new Recorder.

The Holy War.

seeing that the Town, before he came to it, was the most ancient of Corporations of the World; and fearing if he did not maintain Greatness, they at any time should object that he had done them an Injury: Therefore, I say (that they might see that he did not intend to lessen their Grandeur, or to take from them any of their advantageous Things) he did chuse for them a Lord-Mayor, and a Recorder, himself: And such as contented them to the Heart, and such also as pleased him wondrous well.

The New
Lord-Mayor.

The Name of the Mayor that was of Diabolus's making, was the Lord Lustings. A Man that had neither Eyes nor Ears; all that he did, whether as a Man, or an Officer, he did it naturally as doth the Beast. And that which made him yet the more ignoble, tho' not to Manfoul, yet to them that beheld, and were grieved for its Ruins, was, that he could never favour Good, but Evil.

The new Recorder.

The Recorder was one whose Name was Forget-good. And a very sorry Fellow he was. He could remember nothing but Mischief, and to do it with Delight. He was naturally prone to do Things that are hurtful; even hurtful to the Town of Manfoul, and to all the Dwellers there. These two therefore, by their Power and Practice, Examples and Smiles upon Evil, did much more Mischief, and settle the common People in hurtful Ways. For who doth not perceive but when those that sit aloft, are vile and corrupt themselves, they corrupt the whole Region and Country where they are.

He doth make them new Aldermen.

Besides these, Diabolus made several Burgesses, and Aldermen in Manfoul: Such as out of whom the Town, when it needed, might chuse them Officers, Governors and Magistrates. And these are the Names of the Chief of them. Mr. Incredulity, Mr. Haughty, Mr. Swearing, Mr. Whoring, Mr. Hard-heart, Mr. Piety, Mr. Fury, Mr. No-truth, Mr. Stand-to-lies, Mr. False Peace, Mr. Drunkenness, Mr. Cheating, Mr. Anything.

thing; Thirteen in all. Mr. Incredulity is the Eldest, and Mr. Atheism they Youngest of the Company.

There was also an Election of Common-Council-men, and others; as Bailiff, Serjeants, Constables, &c. but all of them like those afore-named, being either Fathers, Brothers, Cousins or Nephews to them, whose Names for Brevity sake, I omit to mention.

When the Giant had thus far proceeded in his Work, in the next Place he betook him to build some strong Holds in the Town; and he built three that seemed to be impregnable. The first he called the Hold of Defiance, because it was made to command the whole Town, and to keep it from the Knowledge of its antient King. The second he called Midnight Hold, because it was built on purpose to keep Manfoul from the true Knowledge of itself. The third was called Sweet-Sin-Hold, because by that he fortified Manfoul against all Desires of Good. The First of these Holds stood close by Eye-gate, that as much as might be Light might be darkened there. The second was built hard by the Old Castle, to the End that that might be made more blind, (if possible) And the third stood in the Market-Place.

He buildeth
three strong Holds.

He that Diabolus made Governor over the first of these, was one Spite-God, a most blasphemous Wretch. He came with the whole Rabble of them that came against Manfoul at first, and was himself one of themselves. He that was made the Governor of Midnight-Hold was one Love-no-light, he was also one of them that came first against the Town. And he that was made the Governor of the Hold called Sweet-Sin-Hold, was one whose Name was Love-Flesh, he was also a very lewd Fellow, but not of that Country from whence the others are bound. This Fellow could find more Sweetness, when he stood sucking of a Lust, than he did in all the Paradise of God.

And now Diabolus thought himself safe: he had taken Manfoul; he had ingarrison'd himself therein; he had put down the old Officers, and had set up ne

The Holy War,

Diabolus has made his Nest.

Ones; he had defaced the Imadai, and had set up his own spoiled the old Law-Books, promoted his own vain Lies; he had made Magistrates, and set up new Aldermen; he had his new Holds, and had man'd them for himself; all this he did to make himself secure, in Case Shaddai, or his Son should come to make an upon him.

Tidings carried to the Court of what had happened to *Man-
soul*.

Now you may well think before this Time, Word by Word other could not but be carried good King Shaddai, how his the Continent of Universe was that the Giant Diabolus, once one of his Majesties, had in Rebellion against the King, thereof for himself: Yea, Tidings were brought to the King thereof, and that to a circumstance.

At first, How Diabolus came upon Man being a simple People and innocent) with Cleverness, Lies and Guile: Item, That he had slain their Right Noble and Valiant Captain Resistance, as he stood upon the Gate with his Townsmen: Item, How my brave innocent fell down dead, (with Grief some say being poisoned with the stinking Breath of our Lord, as say others) at the hearing of his just Lord, the Prince Shaddai so abused, by the Mouth of a Diabolian, as that Varlet Ill-pause was. The further told, that after this Ill-pause had made an Oration to the Townsmen, in behalf of His Master, the simple Town believing that was said with one Consent did open Ear-gate, the chief of the Corporation, and did let him with his the Possession of the famous Town of Man further shewed how Diabolus had served the Mayor, and Mr. Recorder, to wit, that he had from all Place of Power and Trust: Item, also that my Lord Will-be-will was turned a very Rebel and Runagate, and that so was one Mr. Mind, his Clerk, and that they two did range and revel it all the Town over, and teach the wicked ones their Ways. He said moreover, that this Will-be-will was put into great Trust, and particularly that Diabolus had put in Will-be-will's Hand, all the strong Places in Mansoul; and that Mr. Affection was made my Lord Will-be-will's Deputy, in his most rebellious Affairs. Yea, said the Messenger, this Monster, Lord Will-be-will has openly disavowed the King Shaddai, and hath horribly given his Faith and plighted Troth to Diabolus.

Also, said the Messenger, besides this, the new King, or rather rebellious Tyrant over the once famous, but now perishing Town of Mansoul, has set up a Lord-Mayor, and Recorder of his own. For Mayor he has set up one Mr. Lustings, and for Recorder Mr. Forget-good, two of the vilest of all the Town of Mansoul. This faithful Messenger also proceeded, and told what a Sort of new Burgeesses Diabolus had made; also that he had built several strong Forts, Towers, and strong Holds in Mansoul. He told too, the which I had almost forgot, how Diabolus had put the Town of Mansoul into Arms, the better to capacitate them on his Behalf, to make Resistance against Shaddai their King, should he come to reduce them to their former Obedience.

Now the Tidings-teller did not deliver his Relation of Things in private, but in open Court, the King and his Son, High Lords, Chief Captains, and Nobles, being all there present to hear. But by that they had heard the whole of the Story, it would have amazed one, to have seen, had he been there to behold it, what Sorrow and Grief, and Compunction of Spirit, there was among all Sorts, to think that the famous Mansoul was now taken: Only the King and his Son foresaw all this long before, yea, and sufficiently provided for the Relief of Mansoul, tho' they told not every body thereof. Yet, because they also would have a Share in c

Grief at Court
to hear the Tidings.

The Holy War,

doling of the Misery of Mansoul, therefore they also did, and that at a Rate of the highest Degree, bewail the losing of Mansoul, Gen. vi. 5, 6. The King said plainly, that it grieved him at the Heart, and you may be sure that his Son was not a whit behind him. Thus they gave Conviction to all about them, that they had Love and Compassion for the famous Town of Mansoul. Well, when the King and his Son were retired into the Privy-chamber, there they again consulted about what they had designed before, to wit, That as Mansoul should in Time be suffered to be lost :

The Secrets of his Purpose.

So as certainly it should be recovered again. Recovered I say, in such a Way as that both the King and his Son would get themselves Eternal Fame and Glory thereby. Wherefore, after this Consult, the Son of Shaddai (a sweet and comely Person, and one that had always great Affection for those that were in Affliction, but one that had mortal Enmity in his Heart against Diabolus, because he was designed for it, and because he sought his Crown and Dignity) Iſa. xlix. 5. 1 Tim. i. 15. Heb. xiii. 14. This Son of Shaddai, I say, having stricken Hand with his Father; and promised that he would be his Servant to recover Mansoul again, stood by his Resolution, nor would he repent of the same. The Purport of which Agreement was this, to wit, That at a certain Time prefixed by both, the King's Son should take a Journey into the Country of Universe, and there in a Way of Justice and Equity, by making of Amends for the Follies of Mansoul, he should lay the Foundation of her perfect Deliverance from Diabolus, and from his Tyranny.

A brave Design
on foot for the Town of Mansoul.

Moreover, Emanuel resolved to make, at a Time convenient, a War upon the Giant Diabolus, even while he was possessed of the Town of Mansoul; and that he would fairly, by Strength of Hand, drive him out of his Hold, his Nest, and take it to himself, to be his Habitation.

By the Holy Ghost.

Hold, his Nest, and take it to himself, to be his Habitation.

Thi

This now being resolved upon, Order was given to the Lord Chief Secretary, to draw up a fair Record of what was determined, and so cause that it should be published in all the Corners of the Kingdom of Universe. A short Breviat of the Contents thereof, you may if you please take here as follows :

The Holy Scriptures.

Let all Men know, who are concerned, that the Son of Shaddai, the great King, is engaged by Covenant to his Father, to bring his Mansoul to him again ; yea, and to put Mansoul too, through the Power of his matchless Love, into a far better, and more happy Condition than it was in before it was taken by Diabolus.

The Contents.

These Papers therefore were published in several Places, to the no little Molestation of the Tyrant Diabolus ; for now thought he, I shall be molested, and my Habitation will be taken from me.

But when this Matter, I mean this Purpose of the King and his Son, did at first take Air at Court, who can tell how the High Lords, Chief Captains, and noble Princes that were there, were taken with the Business ! First, they whispered it to one another, and after that it began to ring throughout the King's Palace, all wondering at the glorious Design, that between the King and his Son was on foot for the miserable Town of Mansoul. Yea, the Courtiers could scarce do any Thing, either for the King or Kingdom, but they would mix with the Doing thereof, a Noise of the Love of the King and his Son, that they had for the Town of Mansoul.

Among the Angels.

Nor could these Lords, high Captains, and Princes, be content to keep this News at Court ; yea, before the Records thereof were perfected, themselves came down and told it in Universe. At last it came to the Ears, as I said, of Diabolus, to his no little Discontent. For you must think it would perplex him to hear of such a Design against him : Well, but after a few Cal in his Mind, he concluded upon these four Things.

Diabolus perplexed at the News.

The Holy War,

First, that this News, this good Tidings (if possible) should be kept from the Bars of Town of Manfoul: For, said he, if I shall once come to the Knowledge of Shaddai their former King, and Emasoul, his Son, are contriving of Good for the Town of Manfoul, what can be expected by me, but that Manfoul, will make a Revolt from under my Hand and Government and return again to him?

He concluded on several Things.

First how to keep the News from Manfoul.

Now to accomplish this his Design, he renews his Flattery with my Lord Will-be-will, and also gives him strict Charge and Command, that he should keep Watch by Day and by Night of all the Gates of the Town, especially Ear-gate and Eye-gate: For I hear of a Design, quoth he, a Design to make us all Traytors, and that Manfoul must be reduced to its first Bondage again. I hope they are but flying Stories, quoth he, however, let no such News by any means be let into Manfoul, lest the People be dejected thereat: I think, my Lord, it can be no welcome News to you, I am sure it is none to me. And I think that at this Time it should be all our Wisdoms and Care to nip the Head of all such Rumours as shall tend to trouble our People: Wherefore I desire my Lord, that you will in this Matter

The Will engaged against Gospel. Good Thoughts should be kept of Manfoul.

Let there be strong Guards daily kept at every Gate of the Town. Stop also and examine from whence such come, whom you perceive do come from either to Trade; nor let them by any means be admitted into Manfoul, unless you shall plainly perceive they are Favourers of our excellent Government.

I command moreover, said Diabolus, that there be Spies continually walking up and down the Town of Manfoul, and let them have Power to suppress and destroy any they shall perceive to be plotting against or that shall prate of what by Shaddai and intended.

by John Bunyan.

This therefore was accordingly done : My Lord Man-soul hearken'd to his Lord and Master, went willingly after his Commandment, and with all the Diligence he could, kept any that would, from going out abroad or that sought to bring these Tidings to Man-soul, from coming into the Town.

Secondly, This done, in the next place, Diabolus, that he might make Man-soul as sure as he could, frames and imposes a new Oath, and horrible Covenant upon the Towns-folk.

A new C imposed.

To wit, That they should never desert him, nor Government, nor yet betray him, nor seek to alter Laws : But that they should own, confess, stand by, acknowledge him for their rightful King, in Defence any that do, or hereafter shall, by any Pretence, Law or Title whatsoever, lay Claim to the Town of Man-soul. xxviii. 15. Thinking belike that Shaddai had Power to absolve them for this Covenant with Death, Agreement with Hell. Nor did the silly Man-soul or boggle at all at this most monstrous Engagement, as if it had been a Sprat in the Mouth of a Whale, and swallowed it without any chewing. Were they troubled at it ? Nay, they rather bragged and boasted of their brave Fidelity to the Tyrant their pretended King, swearing that they would never be Changelings, nor forsake their Old Lord for a New.

Thus did Diabolus tie poor Man-soul fast, but Jealous that never thinks itself strong enough, put him in next Place upon another Exploit, which was yet more, if possible, to debauch this Town of Man-soul : Wherefore he caused by the Hand of one Mr. Filth, an odious, nasty, lascivious Piece of Beastliness to be drawn up in Writing, and set upon the Gates, whereby he granted and gave Licence to all his true and trusty Sons in Man-soul, to whatsoever their lustful Appetites prompted them to and that no Man was to let, hinder, or controul the upon Pain of incurring the Displeasure of their Priv

Odious A
istical Pamph lets and fil Ballads and mances full Ribaldry.

The Holy Mat,

ow this he did for these Reasons :

1. That the Town of Mansoul might be yet made weaker and weaker, and so more unable, should Tidings come, that Redemption was designed ; to believe, hope, or ent to the Truth thereof. For Reason says, The r the Sinner, the lest Ground or Hope of Mercy.

The second Reason was, If perhaps Emanuel, the of Shaddai their King, by seeing the horrible and hane Doings of the Town of Mansoul, might re- though entered into a Covenant of redeeming, of pursuing that Covenant of their Redemption ; e knew that Shaddai was Holy, and that his Son uel was Holy, yea, he knew it by woeful Experi- : For, for the Iniquity and Sin of Diabolus, was he from the highest Orbs. Wherefore what more ral than for him to conclude, that thus for Sin it at fare with Mansoul : But fearing lest also this : should break, he bethinks himself of another, to Thirdly, to endeavour to possess all Hearts in Town of Mansoul, that Shaddai was raising of an y, to come to overthrow, and utterly to destroy Town of Mansoul (and this he did to forestall any ngs that might come to their Ears, of their Deli- nce) for thought he, if I first spread this abroad, the ngs that might come after, will all be swallowed up is ; for what else will Mansoul say, when they hear that they must be delivered, but that the true nng is, Shaddai intends to destroy them ? Wherefore mmons the whole Town into the Market-place, and with deceitful Tongue, thus he addresses himself them.

Gentlemen; and my very good Friends,
Place of you are all as you know my Legal Subjects,
ing and of and Men of the famous Town of Mansoul ;
ering. you know how from the first Day that I have
with you until now, I have behaved myself among
and what Liberty, and great Privileges. you have under my Government, I hope to your Honour,
and.

and mine, and also to your Content and Delight: Now, my famous Mansoul, a Noise of Trouble there is Abroad, of Trouble to the Town of Mansoul, sorry I am therefore for your Sakes. For I received but now by the Post, from my Lord Lucifer, (and he useth to have good Intelligence) That your old King Shaddai, is raising of an Army to come against you, to destroy you Root and Branch: And this, O Mansoul! is now the Cause, that at this Time I have called you together; namely, to advise what in this Juncture is best to be done. For my Part, I am but one, and can with Ease shift for myself, did I list to seek my own Ease, and to leave my Mansoul in all Danger: But my Heart is so firmly united to you, and so unwilling am I to leave you, that I am willing to stand and fall with you, to the utmost Hazard that shall befall me. What say you? O my Mansoul! will you now desert your old Friend; or, do you think of standing by me? Then as one Man, with one Mouth, they cried out together, Let him die the Death that will not.

Then said Diabolus again, 'Tis in vain for us to hope for Quarter, for this King knows not how to show it: True, perhaps, he at his first sitting down before us, will talk of, and pretend to Mercy, that thereby with the more Ease, and less Trouble, he may again make himself the Master of Mansoul; whatever therefore he should say, believe not one Syllable or Tittle of it, for all such Language is but to overcome us, and to make us while we wallow in our Blood, the Trophies of his merciless Victory. My Mind is therefore, that we resolve to the last Man, to resist him, and not to believe him on any Terms. For, in at that Door will come our Danger. But shall we be flattered out of our Lives? I hope you know more of the Rudiments of Politicks than to suffer yourselves so pitifully to be served.

Very deceiv-ing Language.

But suppose he should, if he get us to yield, save some of our Lives, or the Lives of some of them that are Underlings in Mansoul, what Help will that be to you that are the Chief of the Town, especially you whom I have set up, and whose Greatness has been procured by ye throv

The Holy War,

Lying Language.

through your faithful sticking to me? And suppose again, that he should give Quarter to every one of you, be sure he will bring you into that Bondage under which you were captivated before, or a worse, and then what good will your Lives do you? Shall you with him live in Pleasure, as you do now? No, no, you must be bound by Laws that will pinch you, and be made to do that, which at present is hateful to you? I am for you, if you are for me, and it is better to die valiantly, than to live like pitiful Slaves. But I say, the Life of a Slave will be accounted a Life too good for Manfoul now. Blood, Blood, nothing but Blood is in every Blast of Shaddai's

He is afraid of losing *Man-
foul*.

Trumpet against poor Manfoul now: Pray be concerned, I hear he is coming up, and stand to your Arms, that now while you have any Leisure, I may learn you some Feats of war. Armour for you I have, and by me it is; yea, and it is sufficient for Manfoul, from Top to Toe; nor can you be hurt by what his Force can do, if you shall keep it well girt and fastened about you: Come therefore to my Castle and welcome, and harness yourselves for the War. There is Helmet, Breast plate, Sword, Shield, and what not, that you will fight like Men.

He puts them upon Arming themselves.

His Helmet.

1. My Helmet, otherwise called an Head-piece, is Hope of doing well at last, what Lives soever you live, Deut. xxix. 19. This is that which they had, who said, that they should have Peace, tho' they walked in the Wickedness of their Heart, to add Drunkenness to thir; a Piece of approv'd Armour is this, and whoever has it, and can hold it, so long no Arrow, Dart, Sword, or Shield, can hurt him; this therefore keep on, and thou wilt keep off many a Blow, my Manfoul.

His Breast-plate.

2. My Breast-plate is a Breast-plate of Iron, Rev. ix. 9. I had it forged in mine own Country, and all my Soldiers are armed therewith; in plain Language it is an Hard-Heart, an Heart as hard as Iron, and as much past feeling as a Stone; the which if you get and keep, neither Mercy shall win you, nor Judgment fright fright you. This therefore is a Piece of Armour, most necessary for all to put on that hate Shaddai, and that would fight against him under my Banner.

3. My Sword is a Tongue that is set on Fire of Hell, Pf. lvii. 4. and lxiv. 3 Jam. His Sword.

iii. And that can bend itself to speak Evil of Shaddai, his Son, his Ways, and People; use this, it has been tried a thousand times twice told; whoever hath it, keeps it, and makes that Use of it as I would have him, can never be conquered by mine Enemy.

4. My Shield is Unbelief, Job xv. 26. His Shield. Pf. lxxvi. 3. Mark vi. 5. 6. or calling into Question the Truth of the Word, or all the Sayings that speak of the Judgment that Shaddai has appointed for wicked Men, use this Shield; many Attempts he has made upon it, and sometimes, 'tis true, it has been bruised, but they that have writ of the Wars of Emanuel against my Servants, have testified that he could do no mighty Work there, because of their Unbelief: Now to handle this Weapon of mine aright, it is not to believe Things because they are true, of what Sort, or by whomsoever asserted; if he speaks of Judgment, care not for it; if he speaks of Mercy, care not for it; if he promises, if he swears that he would do to Man/soul, if it turns, no Hurt but Good, regard not what is said, question the Truth of all; for it is to wield the Shield of Unbelief aright, and as my Servants ought and do: And he that does otherwise loves me not, nor do I count him but an Enemy to me.

5. Another Part or Piece, said Diabolus, of mine excellent Armour is, a dumb and Prayerless Spirit, a Spirit that scorns to cry for Mercy; wherefore be you my Man/soul, sure that you make use of this: What! cry for Quarter? Never do that, if you would be mine; I know you stout Men, and am sure that I have clad you with that which is Armour of Proof; wherefore to cry to Shaddai for Mercy, let that be far from you: Besides all this, I have a Maul, Fire-brands, Arrows, and Death, all good Hand Weapons, and such as will do Execution.

After he had thus furnished his Men with Armo

The Holy War.

He backs all with a Speech to them.

and Arms, he addressed himself to them in such like Words as these, Remember, quoth he, that I am your rightful King, and that you have taken an Oath, and entered into Covenant to be true to me and to my Cause; I say, remember this, and shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men of Mansoul. Remember also the Kindness that I have always shewed to you, and that without your Petition. I have granted to you external Things, wherefore the Privileges, Grants, Immunities, Profits, and Honours wherewith I have endowed you, do call forth at your Hands, Returns of Loyalty, my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And when so fit a Time to shew it, as when another shall seek to take my Dominion over you into their own Hands? One Word more, and I have done: Can we but stand, and overcome this one Shock or Brunt, I doubt not but in little Time all the World will be ours. And when that Day comes, my true Hearts, I will make you Kings, Princes and Captains, and what brave Days shall we have then?

Diabolus having thus armed and fore-armed his Servants and Vassals in Mansoul, against their good and lawful King Shaddai, in the next Place he doubleth his

They of Man-ful shew their Loyalty to the Giant.

Guards at the Gates of the Town, and betakes himself to the Castle, which was his strong Hold: His Vassals also, to shew their Wills, and suppose (but ignoble) Gallantry, exercise them in their Arms every Day, and teach one another Feats of War; they also defied their Enemies, and sung up the Praises of their Tyrant; they threatened also what Men they would be, if ever Things should rise so high as a War between Shaddai and their King.

Now all this Time, the good King, the King Shaddai, was preparing to send an Army to recover the Town of Mansoul again from under the Tyranny of their pretended King Diabolus: But he thought

Shaddai prepareth an Army for the recovery of Mansoul.

good at the first, not to send them by the Hand and Conduct of brave Emanuel his Son, but under the Hand of some of his Servants, to see first by them the Temper of Manfoul; and whether by them they would be won to the Obedience of their King. The Army consisted of above Forty Thousand, all true Men: For they came from the King's own Court, and were those of his own chusing.

They came up to Manfoul under the Conduct of four stout Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thousand Men, and these are their Names, and their Signs. The Name of the First was Boanerges. The Name of the Second was Captain Conviction. The Name of the Third Captain Judgment. The Captains Names. And the Name of the Fourth was Captain Execution. These were the Captains that Shaddai sent to regain Manfoul.

These four Captains (as was said) the King thought fit in the first Place to send to Manfoul, to make an Attempt upon it; for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use to send these four Captains in the Van, for they were very stout and rough hewn Men, Psal. lx. 4. Men that were fit to break the Ice, and to make their Way by dint of Sword, and their Men were like themselves.

To each of these Captains the King gave a Banner, that it might be displayed, because of the Goodness of his Cause, and because of the Right that he had to Manfoul.

First to Captain Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to him, I say, was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign was Mr. Thunder, he bore the Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark iii. 17.

The second Captain was Captain Conviction, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Sorrow, he did bear the Pale Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Book of the Law wide open, from whence issued a Flame of Fire, Deut. xxxii. 2.

The third Captain was Captain Judgment, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Terror, he bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was a burning fiery Furnace, Matt. xiii. 40, 41.

The fourth Captain was Captain Execution; to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign was

The Holy War.

He backs all with a Speech to them.

and Arms, he addressed himself to in such like Words as these, Remember be, that I am your rightful King that you have taken an Oath, and entred into Covenant true to me and to my Cause; I say, remember this shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men of Mansoul. member also the Kindness that I have always shewn you, and that without your Petition. I have granted you external Things, wherefore the Privileges, Grac Immunities, Profits, and Honours wherewith I have adorned you, do call forth at your Hands, Returns of Love my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And when so fit a Time shew it, as when another shall seek to take my Dominion over you into their own Hands? One Word more, I have done: Can we but stand, and overcome this Giant or Brunt, I doubt not but in little Time all the World be ours. And when that Day comes, my true Heirs will make you Kings, Princes and Captains, and brave Days shall we have then?

Diabolus having thus armed and fore-armed his vants and Vassals in Mansoul, against their good lawful King Shaddai, in the next Place he doublet

They of Mansoul shew their Loyalty to the Giant. Guards at the Gates of the Town, betakes himself to the Castle, which his strong Hold: His Vassals also shew their Wills, and suppose (but

ble) Gallantry, exercise them in their Arms every and teach one another Feats of War; they also do their Enemies, and sung up the Praises of their Tyranny they threatened also what Men they would be, if Things should rise so high as between Shaddai and their King.

Now all this Time, the King was preparing to send a Messenger to Mansoul again from a tender

Shaddai prepareth an Army for the recovery of Mansoul.

and whether by them they would be won
 obedience of their King. The Army consisted of Forty Thousand, all true Men: For they were in the King's own Court, and were those of his King.

came up to Mansoul under the Conduct of four Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thousand, and these are their Names, and their Signature of the First was Boanerges. The Name of the Second was Captain Conviction. The

of the Third Captain Judgment. The Captains

Name of the Fourth was Captain Execution. These were the Captains that Sbaddai gain Mansoul.

four Captains (as was said) the King thought fit
 to Place to send to Mansoul, to make an Attempt
 for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use
 these four Captains in the Van, for they were stout and rough hewn Men, Psal. lx. 4. Men that can break the Ice, and to make their Way by dint
 of Iron, and their Men were like themselves.

Of these Captains the King gave a Banner,
 might be displayed, because of the Goodness
 of the Cause, and because of the Right that he had to

to Captain Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign
 was Thunder, he bore the Colours, and his Scutcheon

Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark iii. 17.

The second Captain was Captain Conviction, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Conscience, he bore the Pale Colours, and his Scutcheon was a Book of the Law wide open, from which came forth a River of Fire, Deut. xxxii. 2.

The third Captain Judgment, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr.
Right, he bore the Colours, and his Scutcheon was a Scales, Isa. lxiii. 40, 41.

The fourth was Captain Execution, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was

The Holy War.

He backs all
with a Speech
to them.

and Arms, he addressed himself to the
in such like Words as these, *Remember quoth he, that I am your rightful King, & that you have taken an Oath, and entred into Covenant be true to me and to my Cause; I say, remember this, & shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men of Mansoul. I member also the Kindness that I have always shewed
you, and that without your Petition. I have granted you external Things, wherefore the Privileges, Grants Immunities, Profits, and Honours wherewith I have dowed you; do call forth at your Hands, Returns of Loyalty
my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And when so fit a Time shew it, as when another shall seek to take my Dominion over you into their own Hands? One Word more, and have done: Can we but stand, and overcome this one Sh or Brunt, I doubt not but in little Time all the World be ours. And when that Day comes, my true Hearts will make you Kings, Princes and Captains, and w
brave Days shall we have then?*

Diabolus having thus armed and fore-armed his S vants and Vassals in Mansoul, against their good & lawful King Shaddai, in the next Place he doubleth
They of Man- Guards at the Gates of the Town, & soul shew their betakes himself to the Castle, which Loyalty to the his strong Hold: His Vassals also, Giant. shew their Wills, and suppose (but igni
ble) Gallantry, exercise them in their Arms every D
and teach one another Feats of War; they also defi
their Enemies, and sung up the Praises of their Tyrar
they threatened also what Men they would be, if e Things should rise so high as a War between Shad
and their King.

Now all this Time, the good King, the King Shaddai
was preparing to send an Army to recover the Town
Mansoul again from under the Tyranny of their p tended King Diabolus: But he thoug
good at the first, not to send them by Hand and Conduct of brave Emanuel Son, but under the Hand of some Servants to see first by them the T

*Shaddai pre-pareth an Army
for the recovery
of Mansoul.*

and whether by them they would be won bedience of their King. The Army consisted Forty Thousand, all true Men: For they in the King's own Court, and were those of his ing.

came up to Mansoul under the Conduct of four Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thousand, and these are their Names, and their Signs.
The Name of the First was Boanerges. The Name of
the Second was Captain Conviction. The Name of the Third Captain Judgment. The Captains

Name of the Fourth was Cap- Names.
tion. These were the Captains that Shaddai
gain Mansoul.

four Captains (as was said) the King thought fit Place to send to Mansoul, to make an Attempt
for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use
these four Captains in the Van, for they were
t and rough hewn Men, Psal. lx. 4. Men that to break the Ice, and to make their Way by dint
, and their Men were like themselves.

th of these Captains the King gave a Banner,
might be displayed, because of the Goodness
ause, and because of the Right that he had to o Captain Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to y, was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign

Thunder, he bore the Colours, and his Scutcheon
Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark iii. 17.

second Captain was Captain Conviction, to him Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was ow, he did bear the Pale Colours, and his was the Book of the Law wide open, from lued a Flame of Fire, Deut. xxxiii. 2.

ird Captain was Captain Judgment, to him was n Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was fiery Furnace, Matt. xiii. 40, 41.

arth Captain was Captain Execution;
iven Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign

The Holy War.

He backs all with a Speech to them.

and Arms, he addressed himself to in such like Words as these, Remember ye, that I am your rightful King that you have taken an Oath, and entered into Covenants to be true to me and to my Cause; I say, remember this shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men of Mansoul. Remember also the Kindness that I have always shewed you, and that without your Petition. I have granted you external Things, wherefore the Privileges, Graces, Immunities, Profits, and Honours wherewith I have endowed you, do call forth at your Hands, Returns of Love from my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And when so fit a Time I shew it, as when another shall seek to take my Dominion over you into their own Hands? One Word more, have done: Can we but stand, and overcome this one or Brunt, I doubt not but in little Time all the World be ours. And when that Day comes, my true Heavens will make you Kings, Princes and Captains, and brave Days shall we have then?

Diabolus having thus armed and fore-armed his vassals and Vassals in Mansoul, against their good lawful King Shaddai, in the next Place he doubled They of Mansoul shew their Loyalty to the Giant. Guards at the Gates of the Town, betakes himself to the Castle, which his strong Hold: His Vassals also shew their Wills, and suppose (but ble) Gallantry, exercise them in their Arms every and teach one another Feats of War; they also do their Enemies, and sung up the Praises of their Ty they threatened also what Men they would be, if Things should rise so high as a War between Shaddai and their King.

Now all this Time, the good King, the King Shaddai was preparing to send an Army to recover the Town Mansoul again from under the Tyranny of their pretended King Diabolus: But he thought good at the first, not to send them by his own Hand and Conduct of brave Emmanuel his Son, but under the Hand of some of his Servants, to see first by them the

Shaddai prepareth an Army for the recovery of Mansoul.

Manfoul; and whether by them they would be won
: Obedience of their King. The Army consisted ove Forty Thousand, all true Men: For they from the King's own Court, and were those of his husing.

ey came up to Manfoul under the Conduct of four Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thou-
Men, and these are their Names, and their Signs.
Name of the First was Boanerges. The Name of econd was Captain Conviction. The

of the Third Captain Judgment. The Captains
the Name of the Fourth was Cap- Names.
execution. These were the Captains that Shaddai regain Manfoul.

ese four Captains (as was said) the King thought fit
first Place to send to Manfoul, to make an Attempt
t; for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use d these four Captains in the Van, for they were tout and rough hewn Men, Psal. lx. 4. Men that it to break the Ice, and to make their Way by dint ord, and their Men were like themselves.

each of these Captains the King gave a Banner,
t might be displayed, because of the Goodness Cause, and because of the Right that he had to ul.

t to Captain Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to
I say, was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign
r. Thunder, he bore the Colours, and his Scutcheon
e Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark iii. 17.

e second Captain was Captain Conviction, to him
ven Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was orrow, he did bear the Pale Colours, and his eon was the Book of the Law wide open, from e issued a Flame of Fire, Deut. xxxii. 2.

third Captain was Captain Judgment, to him was Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr.

he bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was
g fiery Furnace, Matt. xiii. 40, 41.

fourth Captain was Captain Execution;
given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign

He backs all
with a Speech
to them.

and Arms, he address'd in such like Words a quoth he, that I can you that you have taken an Oath, and enter
be true to me and to my Cause; I say,
shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men remember also the Kindness that I have you, and that without your Petition.
you external Things, wherefore the Immunities, Profits, and Honours where dowed you, we call forth at your Hands,
my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And re-shew it, as when another shall seek to over you into their own Hands? One have done: Can we but stand, and over-er Brunt, I doubt not but in little Time be ours. And when that Day comes, will make you Kings, Princes and Co-
brave Days shall we have then?

Diabolus having thus armed and fovants and Vassals in Mansoul, again:
lawful King Shaddai, in the next Place

They of Man- Guards at the Gates of soul shew their betakes himself to the Loyalty to the his strong Hold: His Giant. shew their Wills, and

ble) Gallantry, exercise them in their
and teach one another Feats of War

their Enemies, and sung up the Praise
they threatened also what Men they Things should rise so high as a Wall
and their King.

Now all this Time, the good King
was preparing to send an Army Mansoul again from under the

Shaddai pre-pareth an Army for the recovery of

The Holy War.

He backs all
with a Speech
to them.

and Arms, he address'd himself to them in such like Words as these, Remember with be, that I am your rightful King, that you have taken an Oath, and enter'd into Covenant be true to me and to my Cause; I say, remember this, shew yourselves stout, and valiant Men of Mansoul. member also the Kindness that I have always shew'd you, and that without your Petition. I have granted you external Things, wherefore the Privileges, Graces, Immunities, Profits, and Honours wherewith I have doted you, do call forth at your Hands, Returns of Loyalty my Lion-like Men of Mansoul: And when so fit a Time shew it, as when another shall seek to take my Dominion over you into their own Hands? One Word more, and have done: Can we but stand, and overcome this one Sinner or Brunt, I doubt not but in little Time all the World shall be ours. And when that Day comes, my true Hearts will make you Kings, Princes and Captains, and in brave Days shall we have then?

Diabolus having thus armed and fore-armed his servants and Vassals in Mansoul, against their good lawful King Shaddai, in the next Place he doubleth the Guards at the Gates of the Town, and betakes himself to the Castle, which is his strong Hold: His Vassals also, shew their Wills, and suppose (but ignoble) Gallantry, exercise them in their Arms every Day, and teach one another Feats of War; they also delude their Enemies, and sung up the Praises of their Tyrant, they threatened also what Men they would be, if evil Things should rise so high as a War between Shaddai and their King.

Now all this Time, the good King, the King Shaddai was preparing to send an Army to recover the Town Mansoul again from under the Tyranny of their pretended King Diabolus: But he thought good at the first, not to send them by the Hand and Conduct of brave Emanuel his Son, but under the Hand of some of Manfoul; and whether by them they would be won to the Obedience of their King. The Army consisted of above Forty Thousand, all true Men: For they came from the King's own Court, and were those of his own chusing.

Shaddai prepareth an Army for the recovery of Mansoul.

Some say that Emanuel by them the T

They came up to Manfoul under the Conduct of four Rout Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thousand Men, and these are their Names, and their Signs. The Name of the First was Boanerges. The Name of the Second was Captain Conviction. The Name of the Third Captain Judgment. The Captains Names. And the Name of the Fourth was Captain Execution. These were the Captains that Shaddai sent to regain Manfoul.

These four Captains (as was said) the King thought fit in the first Place to send to Manfoul, to make an Attempt upon it; for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use to send these four Captains in the Van, for they were very stout and rough hewn Men, Psal. lx. 4. Men that were fit to break the Ice, and to make their Way by dint of Sword, and their Men were like themselves.

To each of these Captains the King gave a Banner, that it might be displayed, because of the Goodness of his Cause, and because of the Right that he had to Manfoul.

First to Captain Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to him, I say, was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign was Mr. Thunder, he bore the Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark iii. 17.

The second Captain was Captain Conviction, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Sorrow, he did bear the Pale Colours, and his scutcheon was the Book of the Law wide open, from whence issued a Flame of Fire, Deut. xxxii. 2.

The third Captain was Captain Judgment, to him was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Wryer, he bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was burning fiery Furnace, Matt. xiii. 40, 41.

The fourth Captain was Captain Execution, was given Ten Thousand Men; his Ensign

one Mr. Justice; he also bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was a fruitless Tree, with an Ax lying at the Root thereof, Mat. iii. 10.

These four Captains, as I said, had every one of them under his Command ten thousand Men, all of good Fidelity to the King, and stout at their military Actions.

Well, the Captains and their Forces, their Men and under Officers, being had upon a Day by Shaddai into the Field, and there called all over by their Names, were then and there put into such Harness as became their Degree, and that Service that now they were going about for their King.

Now when the King had muster'd his Forces (for it is he that muster'd the Host to the Battle) he gave unto the Captains their several Commissions, with Charge and Commandments in the Audience of all the Soldiers, that they should take heed faithfully and courageously to do and execute the same. Their Commissions were for the Substance of them, the same in Form, though as to Name, Title, Place and Degree of the Captains, there might be some, but very small Variation: And here let me give you an Account of the Matter and Sum contained in their Commission.

A Commission from the great Shaddai, King of Mansoul, to his Trusty and Noble Captain, the Captain Boanerges, for making War upon the Town of Mansoul.

‘ O! Thou Boanerges, one of my stout and Thundering Captains, over one Ten Thousand of my Valiant and Faithful Servants, Mattb. x. 11. Luke x. 5. Go thou in my Name, with this thy Force to the miserable Town of Mansoul, and when thou comest thither, offer them first Conditions of Peace; and command them, that casting off the Yoke and Tyranny of the wicked Diabolus, they return to me their rightful Prince and Lord; command them also that they cleanse themselves from all that is his, in the Town of Mansoul, (and look to thyself that thou have good Satisfaction, touching the Truth of their

• their Obedience.) Thus when thou hast commanded
 • them (if they in Truth submit thereto) then do thou
 • to the uttermost of thy Power, what in thee lies, to set
 • up for me a Garrison in the famous Town of Mansoul;
 • nor do thou hurt the least Native that moveth or
 • breatheth therein, if they will submit themselves to me,
 • but treat thou such as if they were thy Friend or Bro• ther; for all such I love, and they shall be dear unto
 • me: And tell them that I will take a Time to come
 • unto them, and to let them know that I am merciful,
 • Thess. ii. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

• But if they shall, notwithstanding thy Summons,
 • and the producing of my Authority, resist, stand out • against thee, and rebel; then I do command thee to • make use of all thy Cunning, Power, Might, and
 • Force, to bring them under by Strength of Hand.
 • Farewel.'

Thus you see the Sum of their Commissions; for as I said before, for the Substance of them, they were the same that the rest of the Noble Captains had.

Wherefore they having received each Commander his Authority, at the Hand of their King; the Day being appointed, and the Place of their Rendezvous prefixed, each Commander appeared in such Gallantry, as his Cause

They prepare for a March.

and Calling required. So after a new Entertainment from Shaddai, with flying Colours, they set forward to march towards the famous Town of Mansoul. Captain Beanterges led the Van; Captain Conviction, and Captain
Judgment made up the main Body, and Captain Execusion brought up the Rear. They then having a great Way to go (for the Town of Mansoul was far off from the Court of Shaddai) Eph. ii. 13, 17. they marched through the Regions and Countries of many People, not hurting or abusing any, but blessing wherever they came.
 They also lived upon the King's Cost, in all the Way they went.

Having travelled thus for many Days, at last they came within Sight of Mansoul, the which when they saw, the Captains could for their Hearts do no less than

for a while, bewail the Condition of the Town; for they quickly saw how that it was prostrate to the Will of Diabolus, and to his Ways and Designs.

Well, to be short, the Captains came up before the Town, march up to Ear-gate, set down there (for that was the Place of Hearing.) So when they had pitched their Tents, and intrenched themselves, they addressed themselves to make their Assault.

The World
are convinced
by the well or-der'd Life of the Godly.

Now the Townsfolk at first, beholding so gallant a Company, so bravely accoutred, and so excellently disciplin'd, having on their glittering Armour, and displaying of their Colours, could not but come out of their Houses and gaze. But the cunning Fox Diabolus, fearing that the People, after this Sight, should on a sudden Summons, open the Gates to the Captains, came down with all Haste from the Castle, and made them retire into the Body of the Town, who when he had them there, made this lying and deceivable Speech unto them.

Diabolus alienates their Minds from
them.

Gentlemen, quoth he, although you are my trusty and well beloved Friends, yet I cannot but (a little) chide you for your late uncircumspect Action, in going out to gaze on that great and mighty Force that but Yesterday sat down before (and have now intrenched themselves in order to the maintaining of the Siege against) the famous Town of Mansoul. Do you know who they are? Whence they came? And what is their Purpose in sitting down before the Town of Mansoul? They are they of whom I have told you long ago, that they would come to destroy this Town, and against whom I have been at the Cost to arm you Cap-a-pee for your Body, besides, great Fortifications for your Mind. Wherefore then did you not rather, even at the first Appearance of them, cry out, Fire the Beacons, and give the whole Town an Alarm concerning them, that we might all have been in a Posture of Defence; and have been ready to have received them with the highest Acts of Defiance

That's false, Satan.

nce, then had you shew'd yourselves Men
 my liking, whereas by what you have ne, you have made me half afraid, I y, half afraid, that when they and shall come to push a Pike, I shall find want Courage to stand it out any
 ger. Wherefore have I commanded a Watch, and that I should double your Guards at the Gates: Wherefore have endeavour'd to make you as hard as Iron, and your Hearts
 a Piece of the nether Millstone. Was it, think you, that I might shew yourselves Women, and that I might go out like a Company of Innocents to gaze on your mortal Foe! Fye, fye, t yourselves into a Posture of Defence,
 at up the Drum, gather together in arlike Manner, that our Foes may know, that before y shall conquer this Corporation, there are valiant Men in Mansoul.

Satan greatly afraid of God's Ministers, that they will set Mansoul against him.

He stirs them
 up to bid Defiance to the Ministers of the Word.

I will leave off now to chide, and will not further reke you: But I charge you, that henceforwards you let see no more such Actions. Let not henceforwards a Man you, without Order first obtained from me, so much as
 w his Head over the Wall of the Town of Mansoul:
 u have now heard me, do as I have commanded, and u shall cause me that I dwell securely with you, and that I take Care for myself, so for your Safety and Honour
 so. Farewel.

Now were the Townsfolks strangely
 tered: They were as Men stricken ith a panick Fear: They ran to and
 o the Streets of the Town of Mansoul, ying out Help! Help! the Men that turn e World upside down, are come hither

When Sinners
 hearken to Sat-
 tan, they are set
 in a rage against Godliness.

6. Nor could any of them be quiet after, but still as en bereft of Wit, they cried out, The Destroyers of ur Peace and People are come: This went down
 th Diabolus. Ah! quoth he to himself, 'This I like well, now it is as I would have it, now you shew
 our Obedience to your Prince; hold you but he

The Holy War,

The Lord Will-be-will his Speech to the Trumpeter. verner of the Town (this Will-be-will was the Apostate of whom mention was made before) and the Keeper of the Gates of Mansoul. He therefore with big and ruffling Words, demanded of the Trumpeter, who he was? Whence he came? And what was the Cause of his making so hideous a Noise at the Gate, and speaking such insufferable Words against the Town of Mansoul?

The Trumpeter.

The Trumpeter answered, I am Servant to the most noble Captain, Captain Boanerges, General of the Forces of the Great King Shaddai, against whom both thyself, and the whole Town of Mansoul have rebelled, and lift up the Heel; and my Master the Captain, hath a special Message to this Town, and to thee, as a Member thereof: The which if you of Mansoul shall peaceably hear, so; if not, take what follows.

Will-be-will. Then said the Lord Will-be-will, I will carry the Words to my Lord, and will know what he will say.

Trumpeter.

But the Trumpeter replied, saying, Our Message is not to the Giant Diabolus, but to the miserable Town of Mansoul: Nor shall we at all regard what Answer by him is made; nor yet by any for him; we are sent to this Town, to recover it from under his cruel Tyranny, and to persuade it to submit, as in former Times it did, to the most excellent King Shaddai.

Will be-will. Then said the Lord Will-be-will, I will do your Errand to the Town.

Trumpeter.

The Trumpeter then replied, Sir, do not deceive us, least in so doing, you deceive yourselves much more. He added moreover, For we are resolv'd, if in peaceable Manner you do not submit yourselves, then to make War upon you, and bring you under by Force. And of the Truth of what I say, this shall be a Sign unto you, you shall see the Black Flag, with its hot burning Thunder-bolts, set upon the Mount To-morrow, as a Token of Defiance against your Prince, and of our Resolution to reduce you to our Lord and rightful King.

ounded his Trumpet, and gave a Third Summons to Mansoul, Isa. lviii. 1. He said moreover, That if this they should still refuse to do, the Captains of his Prince would with Might come down upon them, and endeavour to reduce them to their Obedience by Force.

Then stood up my Lord Will-be-will, who was the Go-out his Trumpeter again to summon Manfoul to a Hearing of the Message: that they had brought from Shaddai, Zech. vii. 11. so he went and sounded, and the Townsmen came up, but made Ear-gate as sure as they could. Now, when they were come up to the Top of the Wall, Captain Boanerges desir'd to see the Lord Mayor, but my Lord Incredulity was then Lord Mayor, for he came in the Room of my Lord Lustings.

So Incredulity, he came up and shewed himself over the Wall. But when the Captain Boanerges had set his Eyes upon him, he cried out aloud, This is not he; where is my Lord Understanding, the ancient Lord Mayor of the Town of Manfoul, for to him I would deliver my Message?

Boanerges, refuses to make Incredulity a Judge of what he had to deliver to the famous Town of Manfoul.

Then said the Giant, (for Diabolus was also come down) to the Captain: Mr. Captain, You have by your Boldness given to Manfoul, at least four Summons, to subject herself to your King; by whose Authority I know not; nor will I dispute that now. I ask therefore, what is the Reason of all this ado? Or what would you be at if you know yourselves.

Then Captain Boanerges, whose was Boanerges his Speech. the Black Colours, and whose Scutcheon was Three Burning Thunder-bolts, (taking no Notice of the Giant, or of his Speech) thus address'd himself to the Town of Manfoul: Be it known unto you, O unhappy and rebellious Manfoul! That the most Gracious King, the Great King Shaddai, my Master, hath sent me unto you, with Commission (and so he shewed to the Town his Broad Seal) to reduce you to his Obedience. And as he hath commanded me, in Case you yield upon my Summons, to carry it to you as if you were my Friends or Brethren; but he also hath bid, that if after Summons to submit, you still stand out and rebel, we should endeavour to take you by Force.

Then stood forth Captain Conviction, and said (his was the Pale Colours, and for a Scutcheon he had the Boc Book of the Law wide open, &c.) Hear, O Mansoul! Thou, O Mansoul, was once famous for Innocency, but now thou art degenerated into Lies and Deceit;

Captain Conviction his Speech.

Rom. iii. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 23. Chap. xvi. 17, 18. Psal. l. 21, 22. Thou hast heard what my Brother, the Captain Boanerges, hath said, and it is your Wisdom, and will be your Happiness, to stoop to, and accept of Conditions of Peace and Mercy, when offered; especially when offered by one, against whom thou hast rebelled, and one who is of Power to tear thee in Pieces, for so is Shaddai our King, nor when he is angry, can any Thing stand before him. If you say you have not sinned, or acted Rebellion against our King, the whole of your Doings, since the Day that you cast off his Service (and there was the Beginning of your Sin) will sufficiently testify against you; what else means your hearkening to the Tyrant, and your receiving him for your King? What means else your rejecting the Laws of Shaddai, and your obeying of Diabolus? Yea, what means this of your taking up Arms against, and the shutting of your Gates upon us, the faithful Servants of your King? Luke xii. 58, 59. Be ruled then, and accept of my Brother's Invitation, and overstand not the Time of Mercy, but agree with thine Adversary quickly. Ah! Mansoul, suffer not thyself to be kept from Mercy, and to be run into a Thousand Miseries, by the flattering Wiles of Diabolus: Perhaps that Piece of Deceit may attempt to make you believe that we seek our own Profit in this our Service: But know, it is Obedience to our King, and Love to our Happiness, that is the Cause of this Undertaking of ours.

Again, I say unto thee, O Mansoul, consider if it be not amazing Grace, that Shaddai should so humble himself as he doth, 2 Cor. v. 18, 19, 20, 21. Now he by us reasons with you, in a Way of Intreaty and sweet Persuasions, that you would subject yourselves to him. Has he that need of you, that we are sure you have of him? No, no, but he is merciful, and will not that Mansoul should die, but turn to him and live.

Captain Judgment's Speech.

Then stood forth Captain Judgment, whose was the Red Colours, and for a Scutcheon had the Burning Fiery Furnace, and he said, O ye Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul! that have lived so long in Rebellion and Acts of Treason against the King Shaddai: Know, that we come not To-day to this Place, in this Manner, with our Message of our own Minds, or to revenge our own Quarrel; it is the King our Master that hath sent us to reduce you to your Obedience to him, the which if you refuse, in a peaceful Way to yield, we have Commission to compel you thereto. And never think of yourselves, nor yet suffer the Tyrant Diabolus to persuade you to think that our King by his Power, is not able to bring you down, and lay you under his Feet, for he is the Former of all Things, and if he touches the Mountains they smoke. Nor will the Gate of the King's Clemency stand always open, for the Day that shall burn ye like an Oven, is before him; yea, it hasteth greatly, and slumbereth not, Mal. iv. 1. 1 Pet. ii. 3. O Mansoul! Is it little in thine Eyes, that our King does offer thee Mercy, and that after so many Provocations? Yea, he still holdeth out his golden Sceptre to thee, and will not suffer his Gate to be shut against thee, wilt thou provoke him to do it? Consider of what I say; 'To thee it shall be opened no more for ever, Job xxxvi. 14. Ch. xxxvi. 18. Ps. ix. 7. Isa. lxvi. 15. If thou sayest thou shalt not see him, yet Judgment is before him; therefore trust thou in him: Yea, because there is Wrath, beware, lest he take thee away with his Stroke; then a great Ransom cannot deliver thee. Will he esteem thy Riches! No, not Gold, nor all the Forces of Strength. He hath prepared his Throne for Judgment; for he will come with Fire, and with his Chariots; like a Whirlwind, to render his Anger with Fury, and rebukes with Flames of Fire. Therefore, O Mansoul, take heed, lest after thou hast fulfilled the Judgment of the Wicked, Ju‘ fice and Judgment should take hold of thee.’ Now while that Captain Judgment was making of this Oration to the Town of Manfoul, it was observed by some, that Diabolus trembled : But he proceeded in his Parable, and said, O thou woeful Town of Manfoul ! wilt thou not yet set open the Gate to receive us, the Deputies of the King, and those that would rejoice to see thee live ? Ezek. xxii. 14. ‘ Can thine Heart endure, or can thy Hands be strong in the Day that he shall deal in Judgment with thee ?’ I say, canst thou endure to be forced to drink, as one would drink sweet Wine, the Sea of Wrath that our King has prepared for Diabolus and his Angels ? Consider, betimes consider.

Then stood forth the fourth Captain, the Noble Captain Execution, and said : ‘ O Town of Manfoul ! once famous, but now like the fruitless Bough ; once the Delight of the high Ones, but now a Den for Diabolus : Harken also to me, and to the Words that I shall speak to thee, in the Name of the Great Shaddai. Behold the Axe is laid to the Root of the Tree, every Tree therefore that bringeth not forth good Fruit, is hewn down and cast into the Fire, Matt. iii. 7, 8, 9, 10.

Captain Execution his Speech.

‘ Thou, O Town of Manfoul ! hast hitherto been this fruitless Tree, thou barest nought but Thorns and Briars, Deut. xxxii. 32. Thy evil Fruit fore speaks thee not to be a good Tree : Thy Grapes are Grapes of Gall, thy Clusters are bitter. Thou hast rebelled against thy King, and lo we, the Power and Force of Shaddai, are the Axe that is laid to thy Roots ; what say’st thou, wilt thou turn ? I say again, tell me before the first Blow is given ; wilt thou turn ? Our Axe must first be laid to thy Root before it be laid at thy Root ; it must first be laid to thy Root in a Way of Threatning, before it is laid at thy Root by Way of Execution ; and between these two is required thy Repentance, and this is all the Time thou hast. What wilt thou do ? Wilt thou turn, Or, shall I smite ?’

I fetch my Blow, Manfoul, down you go: For I have Commission to lay my Axe at, as well as to, thy Root; nor will any Thing, but yielding to our King, prevent doing of Execution. What art thou fit for, O Manfoul, if Mercy preventeth not, but to be hewn down and cast into the Fire and burnt?

O Manfoul! Patience and Forbearance, do not act for ever: A Year or two, or three they may, but if thou provoke by a three Years Rebellion, and thou hast already done more than this, then what follows, but cut it down, nay, after that, thou shalt cut it down, Luke xiii. And dost thou think that these are but Threatnings, or that our King has not Power to execute his Words? O Manfoul! thou wilt find that in the Words of our King, when they are by Sinners made little or light of, there is not only Threatning, but Burning Coals of Fire.

Thou hast been a Cumber ground long already, and wilt thou continue so still? Thy Sin has brought his Army to thy Walls, and shall it bring in Judgment to do Execution to thy Town? Thou hast heard what the Captains have said, but as yet thou shuttest thy Gates, speak out Manfoul, wilt thou do so still? Or wilt thou accept of Conditions of Peace?

These brave Speeches of these four noble Captains, the Town of Manfoul refused to hear, yet a Sound thereof did beat against Ear-gate, though the Force thereof could not break it open. In fine, the Town desired a Time to prepare their Answer to these Demands.

The Captains then told them, That if they would throw out to them one Ill-pause, that was in the Town, that they might reward him according to his Works, then they would give them Time to consider: But if they would not cast him to them over the Wall of Manfoul, then they would give them none: For, said they, we know that so long as Ill-pause draws Breath in Manfoul, all good Considerations will be confounded, and nothing but Mischief will come thereon.

Upon what Conditions the Captains would give them time.

Then

Then Diabolus, who was there present, being loth to lose Ill-pause, because he was his Orator (and yet be sure he had, could the Captains have laid their Fingers on him) was resolved at this Instant to give them Answer by himself, but then changing his Mind, he commanded the then Lord Mayor, the Lord Incredulity to do it: Saying, My Lord, do you give these Renegades an Answer, and speak out, that Mansoul may hear and understand you.

Diabolus interrupts them, and sets Incredulity to answer them.

So Incredulity, at Diabolus's Command began and said: Gentlemen, you have here, as we do behold, to the Disturbance of our Prince, and Molestation of the Town of Mansoul, incamped against it: But from whence you come we will not know; and what you are, we will not believe. Indeed, you tell us in your terrible Speech, that you have this Authority from Shaddai; but by what Right he commands you to do it, of that we shall be yet ignorant.

His Speech.

You have also by the Authority aforesaid, summoned this Town to desert her Lord, and for Protection to yield up herself to the Great Shaddai your King: Flatteringly telling her, that if she will do it, he will pass by, and not charge her with her past Offences.

Further, You have also to the Terror of the Town of Mansoul, threatened with great and sore Destruction to punish this Corporation, if she consents not to do as your Wills would have her.

Now, Captains, from whence soever you come, and though your Designs be never so right, yet know ye, that neither my Lord Diabolus, nor I his Servant Incredulity, nor yet our brave Mansoul, doth regard either your Persons, Message, or the King that you say hath sent you: His Power, his Greatness, his Vengeance we fear not; nor will we yield at all to your Summons.

The true Picture of Unbelief:

As for the War that you threaten to make upon us, we must therein defend ourselves as well as we can: And know ye, that we are not without ourerewithal to bid Defiance to you. And in short, for I will not be tedious, I tell you that we take you to be some Vagaband Runagate Crew, that have shaken off all Obedience to your King, have gotten together in a tumultuous Manner, and are ranging from Place to Place, to see, if through your Flatteries, you are skilled to make on the one Side, and Threats wherewith you think to fright, on the other; to make some silly Town, City, or Country, to desert their Place, and leave it to you: But Mansoul is none of them.

The Holy War,

To conclude, We dread you not, we fear you not, nor will we obey your Summons: Our Gates we will keep shut upon you, our Place we will keep you out of: Nor will we long thus suffer you to sit down before us. Our People must live in Quiet: Your Appearance doth disturb them, Luke xi. 21. Wherefore, arise with Bag and Baggage, and be gone, or we will let fly from the \ Flesh. * Walls against you.*

This Oration made by Old Incredulity, was seconded by desperate Will-be-will, in Words to this Effect.

The Speech of the Word Will-be-will. Gentlemen, we have heard your Demand, and the Noise of your Threats, and heard the Sound of your Summons, but we fear not your Force, we regard not your Threats, but we still abide as you found us. And we command you, that in three Days Time, you cease to appear in these Parts, or you shall know what it is, once to dare to offer to rouse the Lion Diabolus, when asleep in the Town of Mansoul.

The Speech of Forget-good, the Recorder. The Recorder, whose Name was Forget-good, he also added as followeth; Gentlemen, my Lords, as you see, have with mild and gentle Words, answered your rough and angry Speeches; they have moreover, in my Hearing, given you Leave quietly to depart as you came. Wherefore take their Kindness and be gone; we might have come out with Force upon you, and have caused you to feel the Dint of our Swords: But as we love Ease and Quiet ourselves; so we love not to hurt or molest others.

The

did the Town of Manfoul shout
as if by Diabolus and his Crew, great Advantage had been gotten Captains. They also rang the

The Town resolved to withstand the Captains.

and made merry, and danced upon the Walls.
bolus also returned to the Castle, and the Lord-
and Recorder to their Place: But the Lord
-will took special Care that the Gates should be l with double Guards, double Bolts, and doucks and Bars. And that Ear-gate (especially) be the better looked to, for that was the Gate,
which the King's Forces sought most to enter:
ord Will-be-will made one Old Mr. Prejudice (an and ill-condition'd Fellow) Captain of the Ward Gate; and put under his Power
ten, called Deaf-men: Men advan-
s for that Service, for as much as attered no Words of the Captains, the Soldiers.

The Band of Deaf-men set to keep Ear-gate.

when the Captains saw the An-
the great Ones, and that they not get an Hearing from the old s of the Town, and that Manfoul
solved to give the King's Army

The Captains
resolved to give them Battle.

they prepared themselves to receive them;
try it out by the Power of the Arm. And ey made their Force more formidable against te; for they knew, that unless they could pe-that, no Good could be done upon the Town.
lone, they put the rest of their Men in their

After which, they gave out the
which was, Ye must be born a-
Then they sounded the Trumpet;

The Battle
began.

ey in the Town made the Answer, with Shout Shout, Charge against Charge, and so the began. Now they in the Town anted upon the Town over Ear- wo great Guns, the one called
ind, and the other Heady. Un-

Two Guns planted upon Ear-gate.

The Holy War,

o these two Guns they trusted much ; they were cast in the Castle by Diabolus's Founder, whose Name was Mr. Puff-up, and mischievous Pieces they were. But so vigilant and watchful were the Captains when they saw them, that tho' sometimes their Shot would go by their Ears with a Whiz, yet they did them no Harm. By these two Guns, the Townsfolk made no question but greatly to annoy the Camp of Shaddai, and well enough to secure the Gate ; but they had not much Cause to boast of what Execution they did, as by what follows will be gathered.

The famous Manfoui had also some other small Pieces in it, of the which they made use against the Camp of Shaddai.

They from the Camp also, did as stoutly, and with as much of that as may (in Truth) be called Valour, let fly as fast at the Town, and at Ear-gate : For they saw that unless they could break open Ear-gate, 'twould be but in vain to batter the Wall. Now the King's Captains had brought with them several Slings, and two or three Battering-Rams ; with their Slings therefore they battered the Houses and People of the Town, and with their Rams they sought to break Ear-gate open.

The Sentence and Power of the Word.

The Camp and the Town had several Skirmishes, and brisk Encounters, while the Captains, with their Engines, made many brave Attempts to break open, or beat down the Tower that was over Ear-gate, and at the said Gate to make their Entrance : But Manfoui stood it out so lustily, through the Rage of Diabolus, the Valour of the Lord Will-be-quill, and the Conduct of Old Incredulity the Mayor, and Mr. Forget-good, the Recorder, that the Charge and Expence of that Summer's Wars, (on the King's Side) seemed to be almost quite lost, and the Advantage to return to Manfoui :

The Town
stoutly stands
out, and the Captains return to their Winter Quarters.

But when the Captains saw how it was, they made a fair Retreat, and intrenched themselves in their

Winter

Winter Quarters. Now in this War, you must need think there was much Loss on both Sides, of which b pleased to take this brief Account following.

The King's Captains, when they marched from th Court to come against Mansoul to War, as they cam crossing over the Country, they happened to ligh

Account is War, reference Loss on ides.

New
s.

upon three young Fellows that had a Mind to go for Soldiers ; proper Men they were, and Men of Courage (and Skill) to Appearance. Their Names were Mr. Tradition, Mr. Human Wisdom, and Mr. Man's Invention. So they came up to the Captains, and proffered their Service to Shaddai. The Captains then hem of their Design, and bid them not to be rash in Offers ; but the young Men told them they had considered the Thing before, and that hearing they were their March for such a Design, came hither on purpose to meet them, that they might be listed under Excellencies. Then Captain Boanerges, for that were Men of Courage, listed them into his Command and so away they went to the War.

Now, when the War was begun, in one of the little Skirmishes, so it was, that a Company of the Will-be-will's Men sallied out of the Sally-Ports, the Sterns of the Town, and fell in upon the Rear of Boanerges's Men, where these three Fellows happened to be, so he took them Prisoners, and away they carried them into the Town ; where they had not lain long in Durance, but it began to be noised about the Streets of the Town, what three notable Prisoners the Will-be-will's Men had taken, and brought in Prisoners out of the Camp of Shaddai. At length Tidings thereof was carried to Diabolus to the Castle, to what my Lord Will-be-will's Men had done, and that they had taken Prisoners.

Then Diabolus called for Will-be-will, to know the Certainty of this Matter. So he asked him, and he told him. Then did the Giant send for the Prisoners, who, when they were come, he demanded of them who they were, whence they came, and what they did in the Camp of Shaddai. They told him. Then he sent them into Ward again.

again. Not many Days after he sent for them to him again, and then asked them, if they would be willing to serve him against their former Captains? They then told him, that they did not so much live by Religion, as by the Fates of Fortune. And that since his Lordship was willing to entertain them, they should be willing to serve him. Now while Things were thus in Hand, there Anything. was one Captain Anything, a great Doer in the Town of Manfoul, and to this Captain Anything did Diabolus send these Men, with a Note under his Hand to receive them into his Company; the Contents of which Letter were thus:

The Holy War,

He therefore sends them to Captain Anything with a Letter.

Anything, my Darling, the three Men that are the Bearers of this Letter, have a Desire to serve me in the War; nor know I better to whose Conduct to commit them, than to thine: Receive them therefore in my Name, and as need shall require, make use of them against Shaddai and his Men, Fare-

Anything receives them into his Service.

wel. So they came, and he received them, and he made two of them Sergeants, but he made Mr. Man's Invention his Ancient Bearer. But thus much for this, and now to return to the Camp.

They of the Camp did also some Execution upon the Town, for they did beat down the

The Roof of old Incredulity's House beaten down.

Roof of the new Lord Mayor's House, and so laid him more open than he was before. They had almost (with a Sling) slain my Lord Will-be-will outright: But he made a Shift to recover again. But they made a notable Slaughter among the Aldermen, for with one only Shot they cut off Six of them: To wit, Six Aldermen slain.

Mr. Swearing, Mr. Whoring, Mr. Fury, Mr. Stand-to-lics, Mr. Drunkenness, and Mr. Cheating.

The Two great Guns dismounted.

They also dismounted the two Guns that stood upon the Tower over Eargate, and laid them flat in the Dirt. I told you before that the King's Noble

Captains had drawn off to their Winter Quarters, and had there intrenched themselves and their Carriages, so as with the best Advantage to their King, and the rearest Annoyance to the Enemy; they might give the seasonable and warm Alarms to the Town of Manfoul, And this Design of them did so hit, that I may say they did almost what they would to the Molestation of the Corporation.

For now could not Manfoul sleep securely as before, nor could they now go to their Debaucheries with that Quietness as in Times past. For they had from the Camp of Shaddai such frequent, warm, and terrifying Alarms; yea, Alarms upon Alarms, first at one Gate, and then at another, and again, at all the Gates at once, that they were broken as to former Peace. Yea, they had their Alarms so frequently, and that when the Nights were at the longest, the Weather coldest, and so consequently the Season most unreasonable, that that Winter was to the Town of Manfoul a Winter by itself. Sometimes the Trumpets would sound, and sometimes the Slings would whirl the Stones into the Town. Sometimes Ten Thousand of the King's Soldiers would be running round the Walls of Manfoul at Midnight, shouting, and lifting up their Voice for the Battle. Sometimes again, some of them in the Town would be wounded, and their Cry and lamentable Voice would be heard to the great Molestation of the now languishing Town of Manfoul. Yea, so distressed were they with those that laid Siege against them, that I dare say, Diabolus their King had in these Days his Rest much broken.

Continual Alarms given to Manfoul.

The Effects of Convictions thought common if abiding.

The Town much molested.

In those Days, as I was informed, new Thoughts, and Thoughts that began to run counter one to another, began to possess the Minds of the Men of the Town of Manfoul. Some would say, There is no living thus: Others would then reply, This will be over shortly: Then would a Third stand up and answer, Let us turn to King Shaddai, and so put an End to all these Troubles: And a Fourth would come in with a fair Speech, saying, I doubt he will not receive us.

Change of Thoughts in Manfoul.

Confidence
speaks.

The old Gentleman too, the Recorder, that was so before Diabolus took Manfoul, he also began to talk aloud, and his Words were now to the Town of Manfoul, as if they were great Claps of Thunder. No Noise now so terrible to Manfoul, as was his, with the Noise of the Soldiers, and Shoutings of the Captains.

Also Things began to grow scarce in Manfoul; now the Things that her Soul lusted after were departed from her, Luke xv. 14, 15. Upon all her pleasant Things there was a Blast, and Burning instead of Beauty. Wrinkles now, and some Shews of the Shadow of Death, were upon the Inhabitants of Manfoul. And now, O how glad would Manfoul have been to have enjoyed Quietness and Satisfaction of Mind, though joined with the meanest Condition in the World!

The Captains also, in the deep of the Winter, did send by the Mouth of Boaz, Boaz's Trumpeter, a Summons to Manfoul, to yield up herself to the King, the Great King Shaddai. They sent it once, and twice, and thrice; not knowing but that at some Time there might be in Manfoul some Willingness to surrender up themselves unto them, might they but have the Colour of an Invitation to do it under. Yea, so far as I could gather, the Town had been surrender'd up to them before now, had it not been for the Opposition of Old Incredulity, and the Fickleness of the Thoughts of my Lord Will-be-will. Diabolus also began to rave, wherefore Manfoul as to yielding was not as yet all of one Mind, therefore they still lay distressed under these perplexing Fears.

Manfoul in Distress.

I told you but now, that they of the King's Army had this Winter sent three Times to Manfoul, to submit herself.

The first Time the Trumpeter went, he went with Words of Peace, telling of them, that the Captains, the noble Captains of Shaddai, did pity and bewail the Misery of the now perishing Town of Mansoul; and were troubled to see them so much to stand in the Way of their own Deliverance. He said moreover, that the Captains bid him tell them, that if now poor Mansoul would humble herself, and turn, her former rebellions, and most notorious Treasons, should by their merciful King be forgiven them, yea, and forgotten too. And having bid them beware that they stood not in their own Way, that they opposed not themselves, nor made themselves their own Losers; he returned again into the Camp.

The Contents
of the first Summons.

Secondly, the second Time the Trumpeter went, he did treat them a little more roughly. For after Sound of Trumpet, he told them, That their continuing in their Rebellion did but chafe, and heat the Spirit of the Captains, and that they were resolved to make a Conquest of Mansoul, or lay their Bones before the Town Walls.

The Contents
of the second Summons.

Thirdly, he went again the third Time, and dealt with them yet more roughly; telling of them, That now, since they had been so horribly prophane, he did not know, not certainly know, whether the Captains were inclining to Mercy or Judgment; only, said he, they commanded me to give you a Summons to open the Gates unto them: So he returned, and went into the Camp.

The Contents
of the third Summons.

These three Summons, and especially the two last, did so distress the Town, that they presently call a Consultation, the Result of which was this, that my Lord Will-be-will should go up to Ear-gate, and there with Sound of Trumpet, call to the Captains of the Camp for a Parly. Well, the Lord Will-be-will bounded upon the Wall, so the Captains came up in

The Town
sounds for a Parly.

their

their Harness, with their Ten Thousand: as their Feet. The Townsmen then told the Captains, that they had heard and considered their Summons, and would come to an Agreement with them and with their

They propound Conditions of Agreement.

King Shaddai, upon such certain Terms, Articles, and Propositions, as with and by the Order of their Prince, they to them, were appointed to propound. To wit, they would agree upon these Grounds to be one People with them.

Proposition First.

1. If that those of their own Company, as the now Lord-Mayer, and their Mr. Forget-good, with their brave Lord Will-be-will, might under Shaddai, be still the Governors of the Town, Castle, and Gates of Mansoul.

Proposition the Second.

2. Provided that no Man that now serv'd under the Great Giant Diabolus, be by Shaddai cast out of House, Harbour, or the Freedom that he hath hitherto enjoyed in the famous Town of Mansoul.

Proposition the Third.

3. That it shall be granted them, that they of the Town of Mansoul enjoy certain of their Rights and Privileges; To wit, such as have formerly been granted them; and that they have long lived in the Enjoyment of, under the Reign of their King Diabolus, that now is, and long has been, their only Lord, and great Defender.

Proposition the Fourth.

4. That no new Law, Officer, or Executioner of Law or Office, shall have any Power over them, without their own Choice and Consent.

These be our Propositions, or Conditions of Peace: And upon these Terms, said they, we will submit to your King.

But when the Captains had heard this weak and feeble Offer of the Town of Mansoul, and their high and bold Demands; they made to them again by their noble Captain, the Captain Boanerges, this Speech following.

O ye Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul, when I heard your Trumpet sound for a Parly with us, I can truly say, I was glad; but when you said you were willing to submit yourselves to our Lord and King, then I was yet more glad: But when by your silly Provisoes, and foolish Cavils, you laid the Stumbling-block of your Iniquity before your Faces, then was my Gladness turned into Sorrows, and my hopeful Beginnings of your Return, into languishing, fainting Fears.

Braverger
his Answer.

I count, that Old Ill-pause, the ancient Enemy of Mansoul, did draw up these Proposals that now you present us with, as Terms of an Agreement; but they deserve not to be admitted to sound in the Ear of any Man that pretends to have Service for Shaddai, 2 Tim. ii. 19. We do therefore jointly, and that with the highest Disdain, refuse, and reject such Things as the greatest of Iniquities.

But, O Mansoul! if you will give yourselves into our Hands, or rather into the Hands of our King, and will trust him to make such Terms with, and for you, as shall seem good in his Eyes, (and I dare say they shall be such as you shall find to be most profitable to you) then we will receive you, and be at Peace with you: But if you like not to trust yourselves in the Arms of Shaddai our King, then Things are but where they were before, and we know also what we have to do.

Then cried out Old Incredulity, the Lord Mayor, and said: And who, being out of the Hands of their Enemies, as ye see ye are now, will be so foolish as to put the Staff out of their own Hands, into the Hands of they know not who? I for my Part, will never yield to so unlimited a Proposition. Do you know the Manner and Temper of their King? ('Tis said by some, that he will be angry with his Subjects, if but the Breadth of an Hair they chance to step out of the Way: And by others, That he requireth of them, much more than they can per-

Old Incredulity's Reply.

Unbelief never is profitable in Talk, but always speaks maliciously.

by John Bunyan.

Now came the Lord-Mayor out from Diabulus, as he had obtained a Favour indeed; wherefore to his Exaltation he goes in great State, and thinks to feed himself well enough with Hopes, until the Time came that his Greatness should be enlarged.

But now, though the Lord-Mayor and Diabulus did thus well agree, yet this Repulse to the brave Captains put Manfoul into a Mutiny. For while Incredulity went into the Castle to congratulate his Lord with what had passed, the Old Lord Mayor that was before Diabulus came to the Town, to wit, my Lord Understanding; and the Old Recorder, Mr. Conscience, getting Intelligence of what had passed at Ear-gate (for you must know that they might not be suffered to be at that Debate, lest they should then have mutinied for the Captains). but I say, they got Intelligence

The Understanding and Conscience both to receive Conviction, and set the Soul Hubbub.

what had passed there, and were much concerned therewith; wherefore they getting some of the Town to their aid, began to possess them with the Reasonableness of the noble Captains Demands, and with the bad Consequences that would follow upon the Speech of Old Incredulity the Lord-Mayor: To wit, how little Reverence he shewed therein, either to the Captains or their King; also how he implicitly charged them with Unfaithfulness and Treachery: For what less, quoth he, could be made of his Words, when he said he would not yield to their Proposition; and added moreover a Supplication, that he would destroy us, when before he sent us Word that he would shew us Mercy.

The Multitude being now possessed with the Conviction of the Evil Old Incredulity had done, began to gather together by Companies in all Places, and in every Corner of the Streets of Manfoul, and first they began to mutter, then to talk openly, and after that they run to arms, and cried as they run, O the brave Captains Shaddai! Would we were under the Government of

A Mutiny in Manfoul.

Cap

Captains, and of Shaddai their King. When the Lord Mayor had Intelligence that Mansoul was in an Uproar, down he comes to appease the People, and thought to have quashed their Heat with the Bigness and the Shew of his Countenance. But when they saw him, they came running upon him, and had doubtless done him a Mischief, had he not betaken himself to his House. However, they strongly assaulted the House where he was, to have pulled it down about his Ears; but the Place was too strong, so they failed of that. So he taking some Courage, addressed himself out of a Window to the People in this Manner:

Incredulity
seeks to quiet
the People.
My Lord Understanding answers
him.

Gentlemen, What is the Reason that there is here such an Uproar To-day?

Und. Then answered my Lord Understanding: It is even because that thou and thy Master have carried it not rightly, and as you should, to the Captains of Shaddai; for in three Things you are faulty; First, In that you would not let Mr. Conscience and myself be at the hearing of your Discourse. Secondly, In that you propounded such Terms of Peace to the Captains, that by no Means could be granted, unless they had intended that their Shaddai should have been only a Titular Prince, and that Mansoul should still have had Power by Law, to have lived in all Lewdness and Vanity before him, and so by Consequence Diabolus should still here be King in Power, and the other only King in Name. Thirdly, For that thou didst thyself, after the Captains had shewed us upon what Conditions they would have received to Mercy, even undo all again with thy unsavory, and unseasonable, and ungodly Speech.

Sin and the Soul at odds.

Incredulity. When Old Incredulity had heard this Speech, he cried out, Treason! Treason! To your Arms! To your Arms! O ye, the trusty Friends of Diabolus in Mansoul.

r, you may put upon my Words what mean-case, but I am sure that the Captains of such ord as theirs is, deserved a better Treatment at is.

Then said Old Incredulity, This e better. But, Sir, quoth he, They chide on both sides.
ike, I spake for my Prince, for nment, and the quieting of the People, whom lawful Actions, you have this Day set to mut us.

hen replied the old Recorder, whose Name Conscience, and said, Sir, you ought not thus pon what my Lord Understanding hath said :
nt enough that he hath spoken the Truth,
you are an Enemy to Mansoul ; be convinced ie Evil of your saucy and malapert Language,
e Grief that you have put the Captains to ;
f the Damages that you have done to Man-
7. Had you accepted of the Conditions, the ie Trumpet, and the Alarm of War had now
it the Town of Mansoul ; but that dreadful les, and your want of Wisdom in your Speech
ie Cause of it.

Then said Old Incredulity, Sir, if I live I your Errand to Diabolus, and there you an Answer to your Words. Mean while we he Good of the Town, and not ask Council of nding. Sir, your Prince and you are Foreign*nsoul*, and not the Natives thereof. And ll but that when you have brought us into aits (when you also shall see that yourselves by no other means than by Flight) you may nd shift for yourselves, or set us on Fire, and the Smoak, or by the Light of our Burning,

e us in our Ruins.

Sir, you forget that you are under a God that you ought to demean yourself like and know ye, when my Lord the King shall hear of this Day's Work, he will give you but little Thanks for your Labour.

Now while these Gentlemen were thus in the Chiding Words, down comes from the Walls at

Gates of the Town, the Lord Willbe-do Men of Arms come down. Mr. Prejudice, Old Ill-pause, and several of the New made Aldermen and Burgesses, and they asked the Reason of the Hubbub and Tumult. And with that every Man began to tell his own Tale, so that nothing could be heard distinctly: Then was Silence commanded, and the Fox Incredulity began to speak; My Lord, quoth he, here are a Couple of peevish Gentlemen, that have, a Fruit of their bad Dispositions, and as I fear, through the Advice of one Mr. Discontent, tumultuously gathered this Company against this Day; and also attempted to run the Town into Acts of Rebellion against our Prince.

A great Confusion.

Then stood up all the Diabolonians that were present, and affirmed these Things to be true.

Now when they that took part with my Lord Understanding, and with Mr. Conscience, perceiv'd that they were like to come by the worst, for that Force and Power was on the other Side; they came in for their Help and Relief: So a great Company was on both Sides. Then they on Incredulity's Side, would have had the two Old Gentlemen presently away to Prison; but they on the other Side said they should not. Then they began to cry up parties again: The Diabolonians cry up Old Incredulity, Forget-good, the new Aldermen, and their great One Diabolus; and the other Party, they as fast cried up Shaddai, the Captains, his Laws, their Mercifulness, and applauded their Conditions and Ways. Then

They fall from words to Blows.

the Bickering went a while, at last they passed from Words to Blows, and now there were Knocks on both Sides

The good Old Gentleman Mr. Conscience was knocked down twice by one of the Diabolonians, whose was Mr. Benumbing. And my Lord Understanding had like to have been slain with an Harquebus, but that he that had shot, wanted to take his Aim aright. Nor did the other Side wholly escape, for there was one Mr. Rash-head, a Diabolonian, that had his Brains beaten out by one Mr. Mind, the Lord Willberwill's Servant; and it made me laugh to see how Old Mr. Prejudice was kickt and tumbled about in the Dirt. For though a while since A hot Skirmish.

he was made a Captain of the Diabolonians, to the Hurt and Damage of the Town; yet now they had got him under their Feet; and I'll assure you he had by some of the Lord Understanding's Party, his Crown crackt to Boot. Mr. Anything also, he became a brisk Man in the Broil, but both Sides were against him, because he was true to none. Yet he had for his Malpertness, one of his Legs broken, and he that did it, wish'd it had been his Neck. Much Harm more was done on both Sides; but this must not be forgotten, it was Harm done on both Sides. now, a Wonder to see my Lord Willberwill so-indifferent as he was, he did not seem to take one Side more than another, only it was perceived that he smiled to see how Old Prejudice was tumbled up and down in the Dirt. Also when Captain Anything came, halting up before him, he seemed to take but little Notice of him.

Now when the Uproar was over, Diabolus sends for my Lord Understanding and Mr. Conscience, and claps them both up in Prison, as the Ring-leaders and Managers of this most heavy riotous Rout in Manful. So now the Town began to be quiet again, and the risoners were used hardly; yea, he thought to have made them away, but that the present Juncture did not serve for that purpose: For that War was in all their Rates. But let us return again to our Story: The Captains, when they were gone back from the Gate, and we come into the Camp again, call'd a Council

The two old Gentlemen put in prison as the Authors of this Revellout.

The Holy War.

The Captains
call a Council,
and consult
what to do.

War, to consult what was further for them to do. Now some said, Let us presently and fall upon the Town, but the greatest Part thought, rather better 'twould be to give them another Summons to yield, and the Reason why they thought this to be the best was, because, that so far as could be perceived, the Town of Mansoul now was more inclinable than heretofore. And if, said they, while some of them are in a Way of Inclination, we should by Ruggedness give them Distaste, we may set them further from closing with our Summons, than we would be willing they should.

The result is,
they send another Trumpeter to Summon the Town to yield.

Wherefore to this Advice they agreed and called a Trumpeter, put Words into his Mouth, set him his Time, and bid him God speed. Well, many Hours were not expired before the Trumpeter addressed himself to his Journey. Wherefore, coming up to the Wall of the Town, he steered his Course to Ear-gate; and there sounded, as he was commanded; they then that were within, came out to see what was the Matter, and the Trumpeter made them this Speech following:

The Summons itself.

O hard-hearted, and deplorable Town of Mansoul! how long wilt thou love thy sinful Simplicity, and ye Fools delight in their Scorning? As yet despise you the Offers of Peace and Deliverance? As yet will ye refuse the Golden Offers of Shaddai, and trust to the Lies and Falshood of Diabolus! Think you when Shaddai shall have conquered you, that the Remembrance of these your Carriages towards him will yield you Peace and Comfort: Or that by ruffling Language you can make him afraid as a Grasshopper! Doth he intreat you, for Fear of you? Do you think that you are stronger than he? Look to the Heavens and be bold, and consider the Stars, how high are they? Can you stop the Sun from running his Course, and bind the Moon from giving her Light? Can you count the Number of the Stars, or stop the Bottles of Heaven? C ll for the Waters of the Sea, and cause them to be Face of the Ground? Can you behold every one is proud, and abase him; and bend their Faces in? Yet these are some of these Works of our King, in Name, this Day, we come up unto you: That you brought under his Authority. In his Name there- summon you again, to yield up yourselves to his Cap-

this Summons the *Manfoul*ians
I to be at a Stand, and knew not Answer to make: Wherefore Di-
orthwith appeared, and took upon him to do it
f, and thus he begins; but turns his Speech to of Manfoul.

The Town at a stand.

ttlemen, quoth he, and my faithful
ts, if it is true what this Summoner aid, concerning the Greatness of their
by his Terror you will always be Bondage, and so be made to sneak.
how can you now, tho' he is at a ce, endure to think of such a mighty
And if not to think of him, while

Diabolus
makes a Speech to the Town,
and endeavours
to terrify it with the Greatness of God.

istance, how can you endure to be in his Presence?

Prince, am familiar with you, and you may play
ne as you would with a Grasshopper. Consider, re, what is for your Profit, and remember the Imes that I have granted you.

ther, If all be true that this Man hath said, how it to pass that the Subjects of Shaddai are so en-in all Places where they come? None in the Unio unhappy as they, none so trampled upon as they.
sider, my Manfoul: Would thou wert as loth to ne, as I am loth to leave thee. But consider I say, ll is yet at my Foot; Liberty you have, if you how to use it: Yea, a King you have too, if you
l how to love and obey him.

on this Speech the Town of Man-
d again harden their Hearts, yet
gainst the Captains of Shaddai.
oughts of his Holiness, sunk them

He drives
Manfoul into Despair.

in Despair: Wherefore after a short Consult they (of the Diabolonians Party they were) sent back this Word

Mansoul grows worse and worse. by the Trumpeter, That for their Parts they were resolved to stick to their King, but never to yield to Shaddai: So it was but in vain to give them any further Summons, for they had rather die upon the Place than to yield. And now Things seemed to be gone quite back, and Mansoul to be out of Reach or Call; yet the Captains who knew what their Lord could do, would not be beat out of Heart: They therefore send them another Summons, more sharp and severe than the last, but the sooner they were sent to reconcile to Shaddai, the further off they were, Hos. xi. 2. As they called them, so they went from them, yea, though they called them to the most High,

The Captains leave off to summons, and betake themselves to Prayer.

So they ceased that Way to deal with them any more, and inclined to think of another Way. The Captains therefore did gather themselves together, to have free Conference among themselves, to know what was yet to be done to gain the Town, and to deliver it from the Tyranny of Diabolus: And one said after this manner, another after that. Then stood up the right noble, Captain Conviction, and said, my Brethren, my Opinion is this:

First, That we continually play our Slings into the Town, and keep them in a continual Alarm, molesting them Day and Night; by thus doing we shall stop the Growth of their rampant Spirits. For a Lion may be tamed by continual Molestation.

Secondly, This done, I advise, that in the next Place, we with one Consent, draw up a Petition to our Lord Shaddai, by which, after we have shewed our King the Condition of Mansoul, and of Affairs here, and have begged his Pardon for our no better Success, we will earnestly implore his Majesty's Help, and that he will please to send us more Force and Power, and some gallant and well spoken Commander to lead them.

compleat his Conquest upon the Town of Mansoul.

To this Speech of the noble Captain Conviction, they as one Man, consented, and agreed that a Petition should forthwith be drawn up, and sent by a fit Man, away to Shaddai with Speed. The Contents of the Petition were thus :

Most Gracious, and Glorious King, the Lord of the best World, and the Builder of the Town of Mansoul, We have, Dread Sovereign, at thy Commandment, put our Lives in Jeopardy, and at thy Bidding made a War upon the famous Town of Mansoul. When we went up against it, we did according to our Commission first offer Conditions of Peace unto it, Matt. xxii. 5. Prov. i. Zech. vii. 10, 11, 12, 13. But they, great King, set light by our Council, and would none of our Reproof : They were for shutting of their Gates, and so keeping us out of the Town. They also mounted their Guns, they sallied out upon us, and have done us what Damage they could, but we pursued them, with Alarm upon Alarm, requiting them with such Retribution as was meet, and have done some Execution upon the Town.

Diabolus, Incredulity and Willbewill are the great Doers against us, now we are in our Winter Quarters, but so as that we do yet with an high Hand molest, and distress the Town.

Once, as we think, had we had but one substantial Friend in the Town, such as would have but seconded the Sound of our Summons, as they ought, the People might have yielded themselves : But there were none but Enemies there, nor any to speak in Behalf of our Lord to the Town : Wherefore, though we have done as we could, yet Mansoul abides in a State of Rebellion against thee.

Now, King of Kings, let it please thee to pardon the Unsuccessfulness of thy Servants, who have been no more advantageous in so desirable a Work, as the conquering of Mansoul is : And send, Lord, as we now desire, more Forces to Mansoul, that it may be subdued ; and a Man to head them, that the Town may both love and fear.

We do not thus speak because we are willing to acquish the War (for we are for laying of our

The Holy War.

against the Place) but that the Town of Mansoul may be won for thy Majesty. We also pray thy Majesty for Expedition in this Matter, that after Conquest, we may be at Liberty, to be sent about other thy Gracious Designs. Amen.

Who carried this Petition.

The Petition thus drawn up, was sent away with haste to the King by the Hand of that good Man, Mr. Love-to-Mansoul.

To whom it was delivered.

When this Petition was come to the Palace of the King, who should it be delivered to, but the King's Son. So he took it and read it, and because the Contents of it pleased him well, he mended it, and also in some Things, added to the Petition himself. So after he had made such Amendments and Additions as he thought convenient, with his own Hands, he carried it unto the King: To whom when he had with Obedience delivered it, he put on Authority, and spake to it himself.

The King receives it with Gladness.

Now the King, at the Sight of the Petition, was glad, but how much more think you, when it was seconded by his Son. It pleased him also to hear that his Servants that encamped against Mansoul, were so hearty in the Work, and so stedfast in their Resolves, and that they had already got some Ground upon the famous Town of Mansoul.

The King calls his Son, and tells him that he shall go to conquer the Town of Mansoul, and he is pleased at it.

Wherefore the King called to him Emanuel his Son, who said, Here am I my Father. Then said the King, thou knowest, as I do myself, the Condition of the Town of Mansoul, and what thou hast done to redeem it. Come now therefore my Son, and prepare thyself for the War, for thou shalt go to my Camp at Mansoul.

Thou shalt also there prosper, and prevail, and conquer the Town of Mansoul.

He solaceth himself in the Thoughts of his Work.

Then said the King's Son: The Law is within my Heart: I delight to do thy Will, Heb. x. This is the Day that I have longed for, and the Work that I have waited for all this while. Grant me therefore Force thou shalt in thy Wisdom think meet; will go, and will deliver from Diabolus, and his Power, thy perishing Town of Manfoul. My has been often pained within me, for the misfortune of Manfoul. But now 'tis rejoiced, but is glad; and with that he leaped over the Mountain of Joy, saying.

We not in my Heart thought any Thing too dear for Manfoul; the Day of Vengeance is in mine Heart, and I, my Manfoul, and glad am I, that thou, my Lord, hast made me the Captain of their Salvation, and I. And I will now begin to plague all that are in a Plague to my Town of Manfoul, and I will it from their Hands.

When the King's Son had said thus to his Father, it presently flew like Lightning about at Court: Yea, it there became the only Talk, what Emanuel was to do for the famous Town of

The highest Peers in the Kingdom covet to go on this Design.

But you cannot think how the Courtiers too, were taken with this Design of the Prince. Yea, so affected were they with this Work, and with the Justice of the War, that the highest Lord, and greatest Peer of the Kingdom, did covet to have Commissions under the King, to go to help to recover again to Shaddai that famous Town of Manfoul.

It was it concluded that some should go and carry Commissions to the Camp, that Emanuel was to come to Manfoul, and that he would bring along with him a mighty, so impregnable a Force, that he could not be resisted. But oh! how ready were the high Ones to run like Lacquies to carry these Tidings to the Camp that was at Manfoul! Now when the Captain received that the King would send Emanuel his Son, and that it also delighted the Son to go on this Errand by the great Shaddai Father: They also, to shew how they were pleased at the Thoughts of his going, gave a Shout that made the

The Camp shout for Joy when they hear the Tidings.

Earth rent at the Sound thereof: Yea, the Mountains did answer the Eccho, and Diabolus himself did totter and shake.

For you must know, that though the Town of Man-soul itself, was not much, if at all, concerned with the Project, for, alas for them they were wofully besotted, for they chiefly regarded their Pleasure and Lusts: Yet

Diabolus afraid at the News of his coming. Diabolus their Governor was, for he had his Spies continually abroad, who brought him Intelligence of all Things, and they told him what was doing at Court against him, and that Emanuel would shortly, certainly come with a Power to invade him. Nor was there any Man in Court, nor Peer of the Kingdom, that Diabolus so feared, as he fear'd this Prince. For if you remember, I shewed you before that Diabolus had felt the Weight of his Hand already. So that since it was he that was to come, this made him sore afraid. Well, you see how I have told you that the King's Son was engaged to come from the Court to save Man-soul, and that his Father had made him the Captain of the

The Prince addresses himself for his Journey.

Forces: The Time therefore of his setting forth, being now expired, he addressed himself for the March, and taketh with him for his Power, five Noble Captains and their Forces.

1. The First was that famous Captain, the Noble Captain Credence, his were the Red Colours; and Mr. Promise bare them, John i. 29. Eph. vi. 16. And for an Escutcheon he had the Holy Lamb, and Golden Shield. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

2. The Second was that famous Captain, the Captain Good-Hope, his were the Blue Colours, Heb. vi. 19. His Standard-Bearer was Mr. Expectation; and for an Escutcheon he had Three Golden Anchors. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

3. The Third Captain was that Valiant Captain, the Captain Charity, 1 Cor. xiii. His Standard-Bearer was Mr. Pitiful, his were the Green Colours; and for his

the Bosom. And he had Ten Thousand at his Feet.

4. The Fourth was that Gallant Commander the Captain Innocent, Mat. x. 16 His Standard-Bearer was Mr. Harmless; his were the White Colours, and for his Scutcheon he had Three Golden Doves.

5. The Fifth was the truly Loyal and well beloved Captain, the Captain Patience: His Standard-Bearer was Mr. Suffer-long; his were the Black Colours; and for a Scutcheon he had Three Arrows through a Golden Heart.

These were Emanuel's Captains, these their Standard-Bearers, their Colours, and Scutcheons, and these the Men under their Command, Heb. vi. 12. So as was said, the brave Prince took his March, to go to the Town of Manfoul. Captain Credence led the Van, and Captain Patience brought up the rear. So the other three with their Men made up the main body. The Prince himself riding in his Chariot at the Head of them.

Faith and Patience do the Work.

But when they set out for their March, Oh! how the Trumpets sounded; their Armour glittered, and how the Colours waved in the Wind. The Prince's Armour was all Gold, and it shone like the Sun in the Firmament. The Captains Armour was of Proof, and was in appearance like the glittering Stars. There was also some from the Court that rode Reformades, for the love that they had to the King Shaddai, and for the happy Deliverance of the Town of Manfoul.

Their March

Emanuel also when he had thus set forwards to go to recover the Town of Manfoul, took with him at the Commandment of his Father, Forty-four Battering Rams, and Twelve Slings to whirl Stones withal. Every one of these was made of pure Gold, and these they carried with them in the Heart and Body of their Army, all along as they went to Manfoul.

The Holy Bible containing 66 Books.

So they marched till they came within less than a League of the Town, and there they lay till the four Captains came thither, to acquaint him with M

The Holy War.

The Forces
joined with Rejoicing.

ters. Then they took their Journey to go to the Town of Mansoul, and unto Mansoul they came, but when the old Soldiers that were in the Camp saw that they had new Forces to join with, they again gave such a Shout before the Walls of Mansoul, that it put Diabolus into another Fright. So they set down before the Town, not now as the other four Captains did, to wit, against the Gates of Mansoul only, but they environed it round on every Side, and beset it behind and before, so

Mansoul be-leaguer'd round.
Mounts cast up against it.

that now let Mansoul look which Way it will, it saw Force and power lie in Siege against it. Besides, there were Mounts cast up against it, the Mount Gracious was on the one Side, and Mount Justice on the other. Farther, there were several small Banks, and advance Grounds, as Plain-truth-Hill, and No-fn-Banks, where many of the Slings were placed against the Town. Upon Mount Gracious were planted four, and upon Mount Justice were placed as many: And the rest were conveniently placed in several Parts round about the Town. Five of the best Battering Rams, that is, of the biggest of them, were placed upon Mount Hearken, a Mount cast up hard by Ear-gate, with Intent to break that open.

Now when the Town of Mansoul saw the Multitude, and the Soldiers that were come up against the Place, and the Rams and Slings, and the Mounts on which they were planted; together with the glittering of the

The Heart of Mansoul begins
to fail.

Armour, and the waving of their Colours, they were forced to shift, and shift, and again to shift their Thoughts; but they hardly changed for Thoughts more stout, but rather for Thoughts more faint. For though before they thought themselves sufficiently guarded, yet now they began to think that no Man knew what would be their Hap or Lot.

The White
Flag hung out.

When the good Prince Emanuel had thus beleagured Mansoul, in the first Place he hangs out the White Flag, which he caused to be set up among the Golden Slings that were planted upon Mount Gracious. And this he did for two Reasons. 1. To give Notice to Manfoul, that he could, and would yet be gracious, if they turned to him. 2. And that he might leave them the more without Excuse, should he destroy them, they continuing in their Rebellion.

So the White Flag, with the three Golden Doves in it, was hanged out for two Days together, to give them Time and Space to consider. But they, as was hinted before, as if they were unconcerned, made no Reply to the favourable Signal of the Prince.

Then he commanded, and they set the Red Flag upon that Mount called Mount Justice. 'Twas the Red Flag of Captain Judgment, whose Escutcheon was the Burning Fiery Furnace. Also this stood waving before them in the Wind, for several Days together. But look how they carried it under the White Flag, when that was hanged out, so did they also when the Red one was: And yet he took no Advantage of them.

The Red Flag
hung out.

Then he commanded again that his Servants should hang out the Black Flag of Defiance against them, whose Escutcheon was the Three Burning Thunder-Bolts. But as unconcerned was Manfoul at this, as at those that went before. But when the Prince saw that neither Mercy nor Judgment, nor Execution of Judgment, would, or could come near the Heart of Manfoul, he was touch'd with much Compunction, and said, Surely this strange Carriage of the Town of Manfoul, doth rather arise from Ignorance of the Manner and Feats of War, than from a secret Dislike of us, and Abhorrence of their own Lives. Or if they know the manner of the War of their own; yet not the Rites and Ceremonies of the Wars in which we are concerned, when I make Wars upon mine Enemy Diabolus.

The Black Flag
hung out.

Christ makes not War as the World does.

Therefore he sent to the Town of Manfoul, to let them know what he meant by those Signs and Ce-

not take it from him by Force ; the Inhabitants boasted even of his Valour, saying, Who is able to make War with him?

Well, when this pretended King had made an End of what he would say, Emanuel the golden Prince stood up and spoke: The Contents of whose Words follow.

Thou deceiving One, said he, I have in my Father's Name, in my own Name, and on the Behalf; and for the Good of this wretched Town of Manfoul, somewhat to say unto thee. Thou pretendest a Right, a lawful Right to the deplorable Town of Manfoul, when it is most apparent to all my Father's Court, that the Entrance which thou hast obtained in at the Gates of Manfoul, was through thy Lies and Falshood; thou belyedst my Father, thou belyedst his Law, and so deceivedst the People of Manfoul. Thou pretendest that the People have accepted thee for their King, their Captain, and right Liege-Lord, but that also was by the Exercise of Deceit and Guile. Now if Lying, Wiliness, sinful Craft, and all manner of horrible Hypocrisy, will go, in my Father's Court (in which Court thou must be tried) for Equity and Right, then will I confess unto thee, that thou hast made a lawful Conquest. But alas! What Thief, what Tyrant, what Devil is there that may not conquer after this Sort? But I can make it appear, O Diabolus, that thou in all thy Pretences to a Conquest of Manfoul, hast nothing of Truth to say. Thinkest thou this to be right, that thou didst put the Lie upon my Father, and madest him (to Manfoul) the greatest Deluder in the World? And what say'st thou to thy perverting knowingly, the right Purport and Intent of the Law? Was it good also that thou madest a Prey of the Innocency and Simplicity of the now miserable Town of Manfoul? Yea, thou didst overcome Manfoul by promising to them Happiness in their Transgressions against my Father's Law, when thou knewest. and couldst not but know, hadst thou consulted nothing but thy own Experience, that that was the Way to undo them. Thou hast also thyself (O thou Master of Enmity) of Spite defaced my Father's Image in Manfoul, and set up thy own in his Place,

Place, to the great Contempt of my Father, the heightening of thy Sin, and to the intolerable Damage of the perishing Town of Mansoul

Thou hast moreover, (as if all these were but little Things with thee) not only deluded and undone this Place; but by thy Lies, and fraudulent Carriage hast set them against their own Deliverance. How hast thou stirred them up against my Father's Captains, and made them to fight against those that were sent of him to deliver them from their Bondage? All these Things, and very many more thou hast done against thy Light, and in Contempt of my Father, and his Law: Yea, and with Design to bring under his Displeasure for ever, the miserable Town of Mansoul. I am therefore come to revenge the Wrong that thou hast done to my Father, and to deal with thee for the Blasphemies wherewith thou hast made poor Mansoul blaspheme his Name. Yea, upon thy Head, thou Prince of the infernal Cave, will I require it.

As for myself, O Diabolus, I am come against thee by lawful Power, and to take by Strength of Hands, this Town of Mansoul out of thy burning Fingers. For this Town of Mansoul is mine. O Diabolus, and that by undoubted Right, as all shall see that will diligently search the most ancient and most authentick Records, and I will plead my Title to it to the Confusion of thy Face.

First, For the Town of Mansoul, my Father built, and did fashion it with this Hand. The Palace also that is in the midst of that Town, he built for his own Delight. This Town of Mansoul therefore is my Father's, and that by the best of Titles: And he that gainsays the Truth of this, must lie against his Soul.

Secondly, O thou Master of the Lie, this Town of Mansoul is mine.

1. For that I am my Father's Heir, his First Born, and the only Delight of his Heart, Heb. i. 2. John xv. 16. I am therefore come up against thee in mine own Right, even to recover mine own Inheritance out of thine Hands.

2. But further, as I have a Right and Title to Mansoul, by being my Father's Heir, so I have also by my Father Father's Donation, John xvii. His it was, and he gave it me; nor have I at any Time offended my Father that he should take it from me, and give it to thee, Iſa. l. 1. Nor have I been forced by playing the Bankrupt to sell, or set to Sale to thee, my beloved Town of Manſoul. Manſoul is my Deſire, my Delight, and the Joy of my Heart. But,

3. Manſoul is mine by Right of Purchase. I have bought it (O Diabolus) I have bought it to my ſelf Now, ſince it was my Father's and mine, as I was his Heir, and ſince alſo I have made it mine by Virtue of a great Purchase, it followeth, that by all lawful Right the Town of Manſoul is mine, and that thou art an Uſurper, Tyrant, and Traytor in thy holding Poſſeſſion thereof. Now the Cauſe of my purchaſing it was this: Manſoul had trespaſſed againſt my Father. Now, my Father had ſaid, that in the Day that they broke his Law, they ſhould die. Now it is more poſſible for Heaven and Earth to paſs away, than for my Father to break his Word, Mat. v. 18. Wherefore when Manſoul had ſinned indeed by hearkening to thy Lie, I put in and became a Surety to my Father, Body for Body, and Soul for Soul, that I would make Amends for Manſoul's Tranſgreſſions: And my Father did accept thereof. So when the Time appointed was come, I gave Body for Body, Soul for Soul, Life for Life, Blood for Blood, and ſo redeemed my beloved Manſoul.

O ſweet Prince
Emanuel.

4. Nor did I do this by the Halves, my Father's Law and Juſtice that were both concerned in the Threatning upon Tranſgreſſion, are both now ſatisfied, and very well content that Manſoul ſhould be delivered.

5. Nor am I come out this Day againſt thee, but by Commandment of my Father; 'twas he that ſaid unto me, Go down and deliver Manſoul.

Wherefore be it known unto thee (O thou Fountain of Deceit) and be it alſo known to the fooliſh Town of Manſoul, that I am not come againſt thee this Day with my Father.

Word to the Town of Manfoul (but so soon as mention was made that he had a Word to speak to the besotted Town of Manfoul, the Gates were double guarded, and all Men commanded not to give him Audience) so he proceeded, and said, O unhappy Town of Manfoul, I cannot but be touched with Pity and Compassion for thee. Thou hast accepted of Diabolus for thy King, and art become a Nurse and Minister of Diabolians against thy Sovereign Lord. Thy Gates thou hast open'd to him, but hast shut them fast against me; thou hast given him a Hearing, but hast stopp'd thine Ears to my Cry; he brought to thee thy Destruction, and thou didst receive both him and it: I am come to thee bringing Salvation, but thou regardest me not. Besides, thou hast with sacrilegious Hands taken thyself, with all that was mine in thee, and hast given all to my Foe, and to be the greatest Enemy my Father has. You have bowed and subjected yourselves to him, you have vowed and sworn yourselves to be his. Poor Manfoul! What shall I do unto thee? Shall I save thee? Shall I destroy thee? What shall I do unto thee? Shall I fall upon thee, and grind thee to Powder, or make thee a Monument of the richest Grace? What shall I do unto thee? Harken therefore thou Town of Manfoul, harken to my Word, and thou shalt live. I am merciful, Manfoul, and thou shalt find me so; shut me not out of thy Gates, Cant. v. 2.

O Manfoul, neither is my Commission or Inclination at all to do thee hurt; why flyest thou so fast from thy Friend, and stickest so close to thine Enemy? Indeed I would have thee, because it becomes thee, to be sorry for thy Sin; but do not despair of Life, this great Force is not to hurt thee, but to deliver thee from thy Bondage, and to reduce thee to thy Obedience.

My Commission indeed is to make War upon Diabolus thy King, and upon all Diabolonians with him; for he is the strong Man armed that keeps the House, and I will have him out; his Spoils I must divide, his Armour I must take from him, his Hold I must cast him out of, and must make it an Habitation for myself. And this, O Manfoul, shall Diabolus know, when, shall be made follow me in Chains, and when Manfoul shall rejoice to see it too.

I could, would I now put forth my might, cause that forthwith he should leave you and depart; but I have it in my Heart so to deal with him, as that the Justice of the War that I shall make upon him, may be seen and acknowledged by all. He hath taken Manfoul by Fraud, and keeps it by Violence and Deceit, and I will make him bare and naked in the Eyes of all Observers.

All my Words are true, I am mighty to save, and will deliver my Manfoul out of his Hand. This Speech was intended chiefly for Manfoul, but Manfoul would not have the Hearing of it. They shut up Ear-gate, they barricado'd it up, they kept it lock'd and bolted, they set a Guard thereat, and commanded that no Manfoul-onian should go out to him, nor that any from the Camp should be admitted into the Town: All this they did, so horribly had Diabolus enchanted them to do, and seek to do for him, against their rightful Lord and Prince: wherefore no Man, nor voice, nor Sound of Man that belonged to the Glorious Host, was to come into the Town.

Emanuel prepares to make War upon Manfoul.

So when Emanuel saw that Manfoul was thus involved in Sin, he called his Army together (since now all his Words were despised) and gave out a Commandment throughout all his Hosts to be ready against the Time appointed. Now forasmuch as there was no Way lawfully to take the Town of Manfoul, but to get in by the Gates, and at Ear-gate as the chief, therefore he commanded his Captains and Commanders to bring their Rams, their Slings, and their Men, and place them at Eye-gate and Ear-gate, in order to his taking the Town.

When Emanuel had put all Things in Readiness to bid Diabolus Battle, he sent again to know of the Town of Manfoul, if in peaceable Manner they would yield themselves; or whether they were yet resolved to put him to try the utmost Extremity? They then, to d resolved upon certain Pro-

that should be offered Ema-
e will accept thereof, so they
and then the next was, Who sent on this Errand. Now in the Town of Mansoul, an a Diablonian, and his Name

Diabolus sends by the Hand of
his Servant Mr.
Loth-to-sloop,
and by him he propounds Conditions of Peace

Loth-to-sloop, a stiff Man in his Way, and a er for Diabolus; him therefore they sent, and his Mouth what he should say. So he went, and he Camp to Emanuel, and when he was come, was appointed to give him Audience. So at the came, and after a Diablonian Ceremony or thus began and said, Tit. i. 16. Great, Sir, that known unto all Men how good-natured a Prince is, he hath sent me to tell your Lordship, that willing, rather than go to War, to

Mark this.

into your Hands one Half of the Mansoul. I am therefore to know if your Migh- ty accept of this Proposition.

said Emanuel, The Whole is mine by Gift and wherefore I will never lose one Half.

said Mr. Loth-to-sloop, Sir, my Master hath said will be content that you shall be the and Titular Lord of all, if he may a part, Luke xiii. 25.

Mark this.

Emanuel answered, The Whole is mine real-in Name and Word only: Wherefore I will be Lord and Possessor of all, or of none at all,
at all.

Mr. Loth-to-sloop said again, Sir, Behold the sion of my Master! He says that he content, if he may but have assigned

Mark this.

the Place in Mansoul, as a Place to live privately
you shall be Lord of all the rest, Acts v. 1, 2,

said the golden Prince, All that the Father giv-
all come to me; and of all that he hath given
I lose nothing, no not a Hoof, nor a Hair
therefore grant him, no not the least C

ner in Mansoul to dwell in, I will have all to myself.

Then Loth-to-sloop said again, But, Sir, suppose that Mark this. my Lord should resign the whole Town to you only with this Proviso, that he sometimes when he comes into this Country, may for old Acquaintance sake, be entertained as a way-faring Man for two Days, or ten Days, or a Month, or so; may not this small Matter be granted?

Then said Emanuel, No. He came as a way-faring Man to David, nor did he stay long with him, and yet it had like to have cost David his Soul, 2 Sam. xii. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. I will not consent that he ever should have any Harbour more there.

Then said Mr. Loth-to-sloop, Sir, you seem to be very Sin and Car- hard. Suppose my Master should yield to all nal Lust, that your Lordship hath said, provided that his Friends and Kindred in Mansoul may have Liberty to Trade in the Town, and to enjoy their present Dwellings; may not that be granted, Sir?

Then said Emanuel, No; that is contrary to my Father's Will, Rom. vi. 12. Col. iii. 5. Gal. v. 24. For all, and all manner of Diabolonians that now are, or that at any Time shall be found in Mansoul, shall not only lose their Lands and Liberties, but also their Lives.

Then said Mr. Loth-to-sloop again, But, Sir, may not my Master, and great Lord, by Letters, by Passengers, Mark this. by accidental Opportunities, and the like,
 maintain, if he shall deliver up all unto thee, some kind of old Friendship with Mansoul? Jahn
 x. 8.

Emanuel answered, No, by no means; for as much as any such Fellowship, Friendship, Intimacy, or Acquaintance in what Way, Sort, or Mède soever maintained, will tend to the corrupting of Mansoul, the alienating of their Affections from me, and the endangering their Peace with my Father.

Mr. Loth-to-sloop yet added further, saying, But,
 Mark this. Great Sir, since my Master hath many Friends, and those that are dear to him in Mansoul, Rom. vi. 12, 13. may he not, if he depart from them,

them, even of his Bounty and good Nature, bestow upon them, as he sees fit, some Tokens of his Love and Kindness that he had for them, to the End that Mansoul; when he is gone, may look upon such Tokens of Kindness once received from their old Friend, and remember him who was once their King, and the merry Times that they sometimes enjoyed one with another, while he and they lived in Peace together.

Then said Emanuel, No; for if Mansoul come to be mine, I shall not admit of, nor consent that there should be the least Scrap, Shred, or Dust of Diabolus left behind, as Tokens or Gifts bestowed upon any in Mansoul, thereby to call to Remembrance the horrible Communion that was betwixt them and him.

Well, Sir, said Mr. Loth-to-sloop, I have one Thing more to propound, and then I am got to the End of my Commission: 2 Kings i. 1, 3, 6. Mark this.

7. Suppose that when my Master is gone from Mansoul, any that yet shall live in the Town, shall have such Business of high Concerns to do, that if they be neglected, the Party shall be undone; and suppose, Sir, that no Body can help in that Case, so well as my Master and Lord; may not now my Master be sent for upon so urgent an Occasion as this? Or if he may not be admitted into the Town, may not he and the Person concerned, meet in some of the Villages near Mansoul, and there lay their Heads together, and there consult together?

This was the last of those enslaving Propositions that Mr. Loth-to-sloop had to propound to Emanuel on Behalf of his Master Diabolus; but Emanuel would not grant it; for he said, there can be no Case, or Thing, or Matter fall out in Mansoul, when thy Master shall be gone, that may not be solved by my Father; 1 Sam. xxviii. 15. Besides, 'twill be a great Disparagement to my Father's Wisdom and Skill, to admit any from Mansoul to go out to Diabolus for Advice, when they are bid before, in every Thing by Prayer and Supplication, to let their Requests be made known to my Father, 2 Kings i. 2, 3. Further this, should it be granted, would be to grant that a Door should be set open for Diabolus.

and the Diabolonians in Mansoul to hatch and plot and bring to pass treasonable Designs, to the Grief of my Father and Me, and to the utter Destruction of Mansoul.

Loth-to-sloop
departs.

When Mr. Loth-to-sloop had heard this Answer, he took his Leave of Emanuel and departed, saying, that he would do Word to his Master concerning this whole Affair. So he departed and came to Diabolus to Mansoul, and told him the whole of the Matter, and how Emanuel would not admit, no not by any Means, that he when he was once gone out, should for ever have any thing more to do either in, or with any that are of the Town of Mansoul. When Mansoul and Diabolus had heard this Relation of Things, they with one Consent, concluded to use their best Endeavours to keep Emanuel out of Mansoul, and sent old Ill-pause, of whom you have heard before, to tell the Prince and his Captains so. So the old Gentleman came up to the Top of Ear-gate, and called to the Camp for a hearing; who, when they gave Audience he said, I have in Commandment from my High Lord to bid you to tell it to your Prince Emanuel, The

A Speech of Old Ill-pause to the Camp.

Mansoul, and their King are resolved to stand and fall together, and that it is in vain for your Prince to think of ever having of Mansoul in his Hand, unless he can take it by Force. So some went and told Emanuel what old Ill-pause, a Diabolonian in Mansoul, had said. Then said the Prince, I must try the Power of my Sword, Eph vi. 17. For I will not (for all the Rebelions and Repulses that Mansoul has made against me

They must Fight.

Preparations
for the battle.

raise my Siege and depart, but will assuredly take my Mansoul, and deliver her from her Enemy. And with that he gave out a Commandment that Captain Boanerges, Captain Conviction, Captain Judgment, and Captain Execution should march forthwith unto Ear-gate, with Trumpets sounding, Colours flying and with shouting for the battle. Also he would that Captain Credence should join himself in with them. Emanuel moreover gave Order that Captain Good-b and Captain Charity should draw themselves up before Eye-gate. He bid also that the rest of his Captains and their Men should place themselves to the best of their Advantage against the Enemy, round about the Town, and all was done as he commanded. Then he bid that the Word should be given forth, and the Word was at this Time, Emanuel. Then was an Alarm sounded, and the Battering Rams were plaid, and the Slings did whirl Stones into the Town amain, and thus the Battle began. Now Diabolus himself did manage the Townsmen in the War, and that at every Gate; wherefore their Resistance was the more forcible, hellish, and offensive to Emanuel. Thus was the good Prince engaged and entertained by Diabolus and Manfoul, for several Days together. And a Sight worth seeing it was, to behold how the Captains of Shaddai behaved themselves in this War.

And first for Captain Boanerges (not to undervalue the rest) he made three most fierce Assaults, one after another, upon Ear-gate, to the shaking of the Posts thereof. Captain Conviction he also made up as fast with Boanerges, as possible he could, and both discerning that the Gate began to yield, they commanded that the Rams should still be layed against it. Now Captain Conviction going up very near to the Gate, was with great force driven back, and received three Wounds in the Mouth. And those that were Reformades, they went about to encourage the Captains.

Boanerges plays the Man.

Conviction wounded.

Angels,

For the Valour of the two Captains made mention of before, the Prince sent for them to his Pavilion; and commanded that a while they should rest themselves, and eat with somewhat they would be refreshed. Care was so taken for Captain Conviction, that he should be eased of his Wounds, the Prince also gave them a Chain of Gold, and bid them yet be of good Courage.

Nor did Captain Good-hope nor Captain Charity come hind in this most desperate Fight, for they did behave themselves at Eye-gate, that they had

*Good-hope and Charity play
the Man at Eye-gate.*

most broken it quite open. These had also a Reward from their Prince, as they had the rest of the Captains, because they did valiantly round about the Town.

In this Engagement several of the Officers of Diabolus were slain, and some of the Townsmen wounded. For the Officers there was one Captain Boasting slain.

Captain Boasting This Boasting thought that no body could have shaken the Post of Ear-gate, nor have shaken the Heart of Diabolus. Next to him there was one Captain Secure slain; this Secure

Captain Secure used to say that the Blind and Lame Mansoul were able to keep the Gates of the Town against Emanuel's Army, 2 Sa

v. 6. This Captain Secure did Captain Conviction cleave down the Head with a two-handed Sword, when he himself received three Wounds in the Mouth.

Besides there was one Captain Bragman, a very desperate Fellow, and he was Captain over a Band of those that threw Fire-brands, Arrows, and Death;

Captain Bragman also received by the Hand of Captain Good-hope at Eye-gate, a mortal Wound in the Breast.

There was moreover one Mr. Feeling, but he was a Captain, but a great Stickler to encourage Mansoul Rebellions, he received a Wound in the Eye by the Hand of one of Boanerges's Soldiers, and he

Mr. Feeling by the Captain himself been slain, but then he made a sudden Retreat.

But I never saw Will-be-will so daunted in all his Life; he was not able to do as he was wont, and for say he also received a Wound in the Leg, and that for of the Men in the Prince's Army had certainly seen him limp as he afterwards walked on the Wall,

Will-be-will I shall not give you a particular Account of the Names of the Soldiers that are maimed and wounded, and slain; for

Many of the Soldiers in Mansoul slain. when they saw that the Posts of Ear-gate and Eye-gate were well nigh broken open; and also that their Captains were slain; this away the Hearts of many of the Diabolians, that were also by the Force of the Shot that were sent by the Old-men Slings into the midst of the Town of Manfoul.

Of the Townsmen there was, one Lowe-no-good, he was a Townsman, but a Diabolonian, he also received his mortal Wound in Manfoul, but he died not very soon. Lowe-no-good wounded.

Mr. Ill-pause also, who came along with Diabolus, when at first he attempted the taking of Manfoul, he also receiv'd a grievous Wound in the Head, some say that his Brain-pan was crackt; this I have taken notice of, that he was never after this able to do that Mischief to Manfoul, as he had done in times past. Also Old Prejudice, and his Any-thing fled. Ill-pause wounded.

Now when the Battle was over, the Prince commanded, that yet once more the White Flag should be set upon Mount Gracious, in Sight of the Town of Manfoul; to know that Emanuel had Grace for the wretched Town of Manfoul.

When Diabolus saw the White Flag hang'd out again, and knowing that it was not for him but Manfoul; he cast in his Mind to play another Prank, to wit, to see if Emanuel would raise his Siege and be gone, upon Promise of Reformation. So he came down to the Gate one Evening, a good while after the Sun was gone down, and calls to speak with Emanuel, who presently came down to the Gate, and Diabolus sits unto him: Diabolus's new Prank.

Forasmuch as thou makest it appear by the White Flag, that thou art wholly given to Peace and Quiet; I thought meet to acquaint thee, that we are ready to accept thereof upon Terms which thou mayest admit. His Speech to Emanuel.

I know that thou art given to Devotion, and that Holiness pleases thee; yea, that thy great Lust in making a War upon Manfoul, is, that it may be on holy Affection. Well, draw off thy Forces from the Town, and I will bend Manfoul to thy Bow.

Diabolus would be Emanuel's Deputy, and would turn Reformer.

First, I will lay down all Acts of filiality against thee, and will be wi become thy Deputy, and will, as formerly been against thee, now thee in the Town of Manfoul. more particularly.

1. I will persuade Manfoul to receive thee for Lord, and I know that they will do it sooner, who shall understand that I am thy Deputy.

2. I will shew them wherein they have erred, as Transgression stands in the Way to Life.

3. I will shew them the holy Law unto which must conform, even that which they have broken.

4. I will press upon them the Necessity of a Religion according to Law.

5. And moreover that none of these Things may I myself at my own proper Cost and Charge, will and maintain a sufficient Ministry, besides Left Manfoul.

6. Thou shalt receive as a Token of our Subject thee, continually Year by Year, what thou shalt this day and levy upon us, in token of our Subjection to

The Answer. Then said Emanuel to him, O

Deceit, how moveable are thy how often hast thou changed and re-changed, if thou mightst still keep Possession of my Manfoul as has been plainly declared before, I am the right thereof? Often hast thou made thy Proposals already this last a whit better than they, 2 Cor. xi. 14. * failing to deceive when thou shew'dst thyself * Black, thou hast now transformed thyself into * a vessel of Light, and wouldest to deceive, be now * Minister of Righteousness.

But know thou, O Diabolus, that nothing is regarded that thou canst propound, for nothing by thee but to deceive; thou neither hast Conscience

Diabolus has no Conscience to God, nor Love to Manfoul.

God, nor Love to the Town of Manfoul whence then should these thy Sayings but from sinful Craft and Deceit that can list, and will propound pleases, and that therewith he may destroy them that believe him, is to be abandoned with all that he shall say. But if Righteousness be such a Beauty Spot in thine Eyes now, how is it that Wickedness was so closely stuck to by thee before? But this by the Bye.

Thou talkest now of a Reformation in Manſoul, and that thou thyself, if I will please, will be at the Head of that Reformation, all the while knowing, that the greatest Proficiency that Man can make in the Law, and the Righteousness thereof will amount to no more for the taking away of the Curse from Manſoul, than just nothing at all; for a Law being broken by Manſoul, that had before upon a Supposition of the Breach thereof, a Curse pronounced against him for it of God, can never by his obeying of the Law, deliver himself therefrom. (To say nothing of what a Reformation is like to be set up in Manſoul, when the Devil is become the Corrector of Vice.) Thou knowest that all that thou hast now said in this Matter is nothing but Guile and Deceit; and as it was the first, so is it the last Card that thou hast to play. Many there be that do discern thee, when thou shewest them thy cloven Foot; but in thy White, thy Light, and in thy Transformation thou art seen but of a few. But thou shalt not do thus with my Manſoul, O Diabolus, for I do still love my Manſoul.

He knows that that will do no good which yet he propounds for the Health of Manſoul.

Besides, I am not come to put Manſoul upon Works to live thereby, should I do so, I should be like unto thee; but I am come, that by me, and by what I have and shall do for Manſoul, they may to my Father be reconciled, though by their Sin they have provoked him to Anger, and though by the Law they cannot obtain Mercy.

Thou talkest of subjecting this Town to good when none desireth it at thy Hands. I am sent by my Father to possess it myself, and to guide it by the Skillfulness of my Hands into such a Conformity to him, as shall be pleasing in his Sight. I will therefore possess it myself: I will dispossess and cast thee out: I will set up mine own

All Things must be new in Manſoul.

Star

thereof did quickly clear the Street by the Use of their Slings, so that Way was made up to the Heart of the Town. Then did the Prince command that Captain Boanerges, Captain Conviction, and Captain Judgement, should forthwith march up the Town to the Old * Gentleman's Gate. Then did the Captains in * Conscience, most warlike manner enter into the Town of Manfoul, and marching in with flying they go up to the Recorder's Colours, they came up to the Recorder's House.

House, (and that was almost as strong as was the Castle.) Battering Rams they took also with them to plant against the Castle Gates. When they were come to the House of Mr. Conscience, they knocked, and demanded Entrance. Now the Old Gentleman not knowing as yet fully their Design, kept his Gates shut all the Time of this Fight. Wherefore Boanerges demanded Entrance at his Gates, and no Man making Answer, he gave it one Stroke with the Head of a Ram, They demand and this made the Old Gentleman shake, Entrance.

and his House to tremble and totter. Then came Mr. Recorder down to the Gate, and as well as he could with quivering Lips, he asked who was there? Boanerges answer'd, We are the Captains and Commanders of the great Shaddai, and of the blessed Emanuel his Son, and we demanded Possession of your House for the Use of our Noble Prince. And with that the Battering Ram gave the Gate They go in. another Shake: This made the Old Gentleman tremble the more, yet durst he not but open the Gate: Then the King's Forces march'd in, namely, the three brave Captains mention'd before. Now the Recorder's House was a Place of much Convenience for Emanuel, not only because it was near and fronted the Castle, the Den where now Diabolus was; for he was now afraid to come out of his Hold. As for Mr. Recorder, the Captains carried it very reservedly to him; as yet he knew nothing of the great Designs of Emanuel; so that he did not know what Judgment to make, nor what would be the End of such Thundring Regin-

They do keep themselves reservedly from the Recorder. nings.

things. It was also noised in the Town how the Recorder's House was possessed, his Rooms taken up, and his Palace made the Seat of War; and no sooner was it rosd His House the Seat of War. broad, but they took the Alarm as warmly, and gave out to others of his Friends (and you know at a Snow-ball loses nothing by rolling) so in little Time the whole Town was possid, that they must expect nothing from the Prince but Destruction; and the Ground of the Business was this, the Recorder trembled, and the Captains carried it strangely to him; so many came to see, but when th y with their own Eyes did behold the Captains in the Palace, and their Battering Rams ever played at the Castle Gates to beat them down, they were riveted in their Fears, and it made them as in amaze. And as I said, the Men of the House would encrease all this, for whoever came to him, or discoursed with him, nothing would he talk of, tell them, or hear, but that Death and Destruction now attended Mansoul.

The Office of Confidence
when he is awakened.

For (quoth the old Gentleman) you are all of you sensible that we have all been Traytors to that once despised, but now famously victorious and glorious Prince Emanuel, for he now, as you see, doth not only lie in close Siege about us, but hath forced his Entrance in at our Gates; moreover Diabolus lies before him, and he hath as you behold, made of my House a Garrison against the Castle where he is. I for my Part have transgressed greatly (and he that is clean it is well for him.) But, I say, I have transgressed greatly, in keeping of Silence when I should have spoken, and in perverting of Justice when I should have executed the same. True, I have suffer'd something at the Hands of Diabolus, for taking Part with the Laws of King Shaddai, but that, alas! what will that do! Will that make Compensation for the Rebellions and Treasons that I have done, and have suffered without gain-saying, to be committed in the Town of Abaddon? O, I tremble to think what will be the End of this so credul and so useful a Beginning!

Now when these brave Captains were thus busy in the House of the Old-Recorder, Captain Execution was as busy in other Parts of the Town, in securing the Block-houses and the Walls. He also hunted the Lord Will-fully, he suffered him not to rest in any Corner, he pursued him so hard, that he drove his Men from him, made him glad to thrust his Head

a Hole. Also this mighty Warrior cut three of Lord Will-be-will's Offidown to the Ground; one was Old Mr. Prejudice, that had his Crown crack'd in the iny: This Man was made by my
l Will-be-will, Keeper of Ear-gate, fell by the Hand of Captain Execution. There was one Mr. Backward-to-all-but-nought, and he also was of the Lord Will-be-will's Officers, and was the Cap-of the two Guns that once were mounted on the
of Ear-gate, he also was cut down to the Ground ie Hands of Captain Execution. Besides these two,
was another, a Third, and his Name was Cap-Treachercus, a vile Man this was, but one that Will-
will did put a great deal of Confidence in, but him did this Captain Execution cut down to the Ground the rest. He also made a very great Slaughter among Lord Will-be-will's Soldiers, killing many that were
and sturdy, and wounding many that for Diabolus
nimble and active. But all these were Diabolonians, was not a Man, a Native of Manfoul hurt.

The brave Exploits of Capt. Execution

Old Prejudice
slain.

her Feats of War were also likewise performed by
of the Captains, as at Eye-gate, where Captain
hope and Captain Charity had a Charge, was great ation done; for Captain Good-hope with his own s, slew one Captain Blindfold, the er of that Gate; this Blindfold was ign of a Thousand Men, and they they that fought with Manfoul; he ursued his Men, slew many, and wounded more,
made the the rest hide their Heads in Corners.
ere were also at that Gate, Mr. Ill-pulse, of whom ave heard before; he was an Old Man, and had a l that reached down to his Girdle; the same was at was Orator to Diabolus, he did Mischief in the Town of Manfoul, ll by the Hand of Captain Good-hope.

Capt. Good-hope
doth slay Captain Blindfold.

And Old Ill-
pulse.

at all I say? The Diabolonians in these Days lay dead in every Corner, though too many yet were alive in Manfoul.

The old Townsmen
meet and consult.

Now the old Recorder, and my Lord
Understanding, with some others of the Chief of the Town, to wit, such as knew they must stand and fall with the famous Town of Manfoul, came together upon a Day, and after Consultation had, did jointly agree to draw up a Petition, and to send it to Emanuel, now while he sat in the Gate of Manfoul. So they drew up their Petition to Emanuel the Contents where-

The Town
does Petition,
and are answered with Silence.

of were this, That they the Old Inhabitants of the deplorable Town of Man-foul, confessed their Sin, and were sorry that they had offended his Princely Majesty, and prayed that he would spare their Lives.

Unto this Petition he gave no Answer at all, and that did trouble them yet so much the more. Now all this while the Captains that were in the Recorder's House were playing with the Battering Rams at the Gates of the Castle
to beat them down. So after some Time,

The Castle
Gate broke open.

Labour and Travel, the Gate of the Castle that was called Impregnable, was beaten open, and broken into several Splinters; and so a Way was made to go into the Hold in which Diabolus had hid himself. Then were Tidings sent down to Ear-gate, for Emanuel still abode
there, to let him know that a Way was made in at the Gates of the Castle of Manfoul. But O! how the Trumpets at the Tidings sounded throughout the Prince's Camp, for that now the War was so near an End, and Manfoul
itself of being set free!

Emanuel
marches into
Manfoul.

Then the Prince arose from the Place where he was, and took with him such of his Men of War as were fittest for that Expedition, and marched up the Street of Manfoul to the Old Recorder's House.

Now the Prince himself was clad all in Armour of Gold, and so he marched up the Town, with his Standard born before him; but he kept his Countenance much reserved all the Way as he went, so that the People could not tell how to gather to themselves Love or Hatred by his Looks. Now as he marched up the Street, the Townsfolk came out at every Door to see, and could not but be taken with his Person, and the Glory thereof, but wondered at the Reservedness of his Countenance; for as yet he spake more to them by his Actions and Works, than he did by Words or Smiles. But also poor Manfoul (as in such Cases all are apt to do) they interpreted the Carriage of Emanuel to them, as did Joseph's Brethren his to them, even all the quite contrary Way: For thought they, if Emanuel loved us, he would shew it to us by Word or Carriage, but none of these he doth, therefore Emanuel hates us. Now if Emanuel hates us, Manfoul shall be slain, then Manfoul shall become a Dunghill. They knew that they had transgressed his Law, and that against him they had been in with Diabolus his Enemy. They also knew that the Prince Emanuel knew all this; for they were convinced that he was an Angel of God, to know all things that are done in the Earth. And this made them think that their Condition was miserable, and that the good Prince would make them desolate.

How they interpreted Emanuel's Carriage.

And thought they, what Time so fit to do this in, as now, when he has the Bridle of Manfoul in his Hand? And this I took special Notice of, that the Inhabitants (notwithstanding all this) could not; no, they could not, when they saw him march through the Town, but cringe, bow, bend, and were ready to lick the Dust off his Feet: They also wished a thousand Times over, that he would become their Prince and Captain, and would become their Protector. They would also one to another talk of the Comeliness of his Person, and how much for Glory and Valour he outstript the great Ones of the World. But poor Hearts, as to themselves, their Thoughts would change, and go upon all manner of Extreams. Yea, through the working of them backward and forward, Manfoul became as a Ball toss

The Holy War,

rolling Thing before a Whirlwind.

when he was come to the Castle Gates, he com-

Diabolus to appear, and to surrender himself Hands. But Oh, how loth was the Beast to appear! how he stuck at it! how he shrunk!

how he cringed! yet how he came to the Prince. Then Emanuel commanded, and they took Diabolus and bound him fast in Chains, the better to reserve him to the Judgment that he had appointed for him.

Diabolus stood up to intreat for himself, that Ema- uld not send him into the Deep, but suffer him to ut of Manfoul in Peace.

Emanuel had taken him and bound him, in

he led him into the Market-place, and there before Manfoul stript him of his Armour.

which he boasted so much of before.

This now was one of the Acts of Triumph of Emanuel, over his Enemy, and while that the Giant was stripping, the Town-

the Golden Prince did sound again; the Cap-

to shouted, and the Soldiers did sing for Joy.

Then was Manfoul called upon to behold

the Beginning of Emanuel's Triumph over him, in whom they so much had

and of whom they so much had boasted in the ion he flattered them.

having made Diabolus naked in the Eyes of

and before the Commanders of the Prince, in Place he commands that Diabolus should be

with Chains to his Chariot-Wheels, Eph. iv.

Then leaving some of his Forces, to wit, Captain Boanerges, and Captain Car-

vision a Guard for the Castle Gates, that Resistance might be made on his behalf,

(if any that heretofore followed Diabolus should make an Attempt to possess it)

he did ride in Triumph over him quite through the Town of Manfoul, and so out at, and before the Gate called Eye-gate, to the Plain where his Camp did lie.

But you cannot think, unless you had been there (as I was) what a shout there was in Emmanuel's Camp, when they saw the Tyrant bound by the Hand of their noble Prince, and tied to his Chariot Wheels.

The Holy War,

They Sing. And they said, he had led Captivity Captive, and hath spoiled Principalities and Powers. Diabolus is subjected to the Power of the Sword, and made the Object of all Derision.

The Reform- Those also that rode Reformades, and mades Joy. that came down to see the Battle, shouted with that Greatness of Voice, and sung with such melodious Notes, that they caused them that dwelt in the highest Orbs to open their Windows, put out their Heads, and look down to see the Cause of that Glory, Luke xv. 7, 10.

The Townsmen also, so many of them as saw this Sight, were as it were astonish'd, while they looked betwixt the Earth, and the Heavens. True, they could not tell what would be the Issue of Things as to them, all Things being done in such excellent Methods; and I cannot tell how, but Things in the Management of them seem'd to cast a Smile towards the Town; so that their Eyes, their Heads, their Hearts, and their Minds, and all that they had, were taken and held while they observed Emanuel's Order.

So when the brave Prince had finish'd this Part of his Triumph over Diabolus his Foe, he turn'd him up in the midst of his Contempt and Shame, having given him a Charge no more to be a Possessor of Manfoul. Then went he from Emanuel, and out of the midst of his Camp to inherit the parch'd Places in a Salt Land, seeking Rest but finding none, Mat. xii. 34.

Now Captain Boanerges and Captain Conviction, were both of them Men of very great Majesty, their Faces were like the Faces of Lions, and their Words like the Roaring of the Seas; and they still quarter'd in Mr. Conscience's House, of whom mention was made before. When therefore the High and

The Carriage of Boanerges, and of Captain Conviction do crush the Spirit of Manfoul,

Mighty Prince had thus far finish'd his Triumph over Diabolus, the Townsmen had more Leisure to view and to behold the Actions of their Noble Captains. But the Captains carried it with that

Terre

ry - Terror and Dread in all that they did (and you may be es sure that they had private Instructions so to do) that they he kept the Town under continual Heart-aching, and caused (in their Apprehension) the well-being of Manfoul for the d future, to stand in doubt before them, so that (for some d considerable Time) they neither knew what Rest or Ease,
 g or Peace, or Hope meant.

Nor did the Prince himself, as yet, abide in the Town of Manfoul, but in his Royal Pavilion in the Camp, and in the midst of his Father's Forces. So at a Time convenient, he sent special Orders to Captain Beaunerges, to summons Manfoul, the whole of the Townsmen into the Castle Yard, and then and there before their Faces, to take my Lord Understanding, Mr. Conscience, and that notable one the Lord Will-be-will, and put them all three in Ward, and that they should set a strong Guard upon them there, until his Pleasure concerning them was further known.

The Prince
 commands and
 the Captains
 put the three chiefs of Manfoul
 in Ward.

The which Orders when the Captains
 had put them in Execution, made no small Additions to the Fears of the Town of Manfoul: For now to their thinking, were their former Fears of their Ruin of Manfoul confirmed. Now what Death they should die, and how long they should be in dying, was that which most perplexed their Heads and Hearts: Yea, they were afraid that Emanuel would command them all into the Deep, the Place that the Prince Diabolus was afraid of; for they knew they had deserved it. Also to die by the Sword in the Face of the Town, and in the open Way of Disgrace, from the Hand of so good and so holy a Prince, that (too) troubled them sore, the Town was also greatly troubled for the Men committed to Ward, for that they were their Stay and their Guide, and for that they believed that if those Men were

Manfoul
 greatly distressed.

cut off, their Execution would be but the Beginning of the Ruin of the Town of Manfoul. Wherefore what do they, but together, with the Men in Prison, draw up a Petition to the Prince, and sent it to Emanuel

They send a Petition to Emanuel by the Hand of Mr. Would-live.

by the Hand of Mr. Went and came to t and presented the Pe which was this. Great and wonder over Diabolus, and Conqueror of th We the miserable Inhabitants of th poration, humbly beg that we may Sight, and remember not against us fo nor yet the Sins of the chief of our according to the Greatness of thy A die, but live in thy Sight: so shall thy Servants, and if thou shalt thin Meat under thy Table. Amen:

So the Petitioner v They are an- his Petition to the P fwer'd with took it at his Hand, Silence. with Silence. This f of Mansoul, but yet considering that petition or die, for now they could n therefore they consulted again, and which was much after the Form and M

And when the Petition was dr should they send it was the next would not send it by him by whom (for they thought that the Prince ha at the manner of his Deportment bel tempted to make Cap They petition Messenger with it, b again. neither durst, nor w nuel for Traytors; nor be to the Pr Rebels. Yet withal; said he, our

you may adventure They cannot tell by whom Hand of one of your to send it. went with a Rope; pleaded nothing but

Well, they made through Fear, they could, and longer than Delay at last the Dangerousness of th

h many a Fainting in their Minds, to send their Pe-on by Mr. Desires-awake; so they sent for Mr. Desires-awake; now he dwelt in a very mean Cott-ge in insoul, and he came at his Neighbour's Request. So y told him what they had done, and what they would concerning petitioning, and that they did desire of n that he would go therewith to the Prince. Then d Mr. Desires-awake, Why should not I
 the best I can to save so famous a Town
Manful from deserved Destruction?
 ey therefore delivered the Petition to

Mr. *Desires-
 awake* goes with the Petition.

n, and told him how he must address himself to the nce, and wish him ten thousand Good Speeds. So he nes to the Prince's Pavilion, as the first, and asked to ak with his Majesty: So Word was carried to Emauel, and the Prince came out to the Man. When Mr.
Desires-awake saw the Prince, he fell flat with his Face
 the Ground, and cried out, O that Manful might live fore thee! and with that he presented e Petition. The which when the Prince d read it, he turned away for a while and pt, but refraining himself, he turn'd again to the Man ho all this while lay crying at his Feet as (at first) and d to him, Go thy Way to thy Place, and I will consiof thy Requests.

His Entertainment.

Now you may think that they of Manful that had sent n, what with Guilt, and what with Fear, left their tion should be rejected, could not but look with many onging Look, and that too with strange Workings of eart, to see what would become of their Petition;
 last they saw their Messenger coming ck; so when he was come, they asked n how he fared? What Emanuel said?
 d what was become of the Petition?
 t he told them that he would be silent

His Return, and Answer to them that sent
 him.

he came to the Prison to my Lord-Mayer, my Lord ill-be-Will, and Mr. Recorder. So he went forwards to-rds the Prison house, where the Men of Manful lay
 nd. But O! what a Multitude flock'd alter to hear t the Messenger said. So when he was come, and he she

shewn himself at the Gate of the Prison, my Lord Mayor himself look'd as white as a Clout, the Recorder also did quake; but they asked and said, Come, good Str, what did the great Prince say to you? Then said Mr. Desires-awake, When I came to my Lord's Pavilion, I called, and he came forth; so I fell prostrate at his Feet, and delivered to him my Petition (for the Greatness of his Person, and the Glory of his Countenance would not suffer me to stand upon my Legs.) Now as he received the Petition, I cried, O that Manfoul might live before thee! So when for a while he had looked thereon, he turned him about and said to his Servant, Go thy Way to thy Place again, and I will consider of thy Requests. The Messenger added moreover, and said, The Prince to whom you sent me, is such a one for Beauty and Glory, that whoso sees him must love and fear him: I for my part can do no less, but I know not what will be the End of these Things. At this Answer they were all at a stand, both they in Prison, and they that followed the Messenger thither to hear the News, nor knew they what, or what manner of Interpretation to put upon what the Prince had said. Now when the Prison was cleared of the Throng, the Prisoners among themselves began to comment upon Emanuel's Words. My Lord-Mayor said, that the Answer did not look with a rugged Face; but Will-be-will said it betokened Evil; and the Recorder, that it was a Messenger of Death.

Manfoul confounded at the Answer.

The Prisoners Judgment upon the Prince's Answer.

Now they that were left, and that stood behind, and so could not so well hear what the Prisoners said, some of them catch'd hold of one Piece of a Sentence, and some on a Bit of another; some took hold of what the Messenger said, and some of the Prisoners Judgment thereon, so none had a right Understanding of Things; but you cannot imagine what Work these People made, and what Confusion there was in Manfoul now.

Misgiving Thoughts breed Confusion in Manfoul.

For presently they that had heard what was said, flew about the Town, one crying one Thing, and another the the quite contrary, and both were sure enough they told true, for they did hear they said with their Ears what was said, and therefore could not be deceived. One would say, We must all be killed; another would say, We must all be saved; and a Third would say, That the Prince would not be concerned with Mansoul; and a Fourth, That the Prisoners must be suddenly put to Death, And as I said, every one stood to it, that he told his Tale the rightest; and that all others but he were out. Wherefore Mansoul had now Molestation upon Molestation, nor could any Man know on what to rest the Sole of his Foot; for one would go by now, and as he went, if he heard his Neighbour tell his Tale, to be sure he would tell the quite contrary, and both would stand in it that he told the Truth. Nay, some of them had got this Story by the End, That the Prince did intend to put Mansoul to the Sword. And now it began to be dark, wherefore poor Mansoul was in sad Perplexity all that Night, until the next Morning.

Mansoul in Perplexity.

But so far as I could gather by the best Information I could get, all this Hubbub came through the Words that the Recorder said, when he told them, that in his Judgment the Prince's Answer was a Messenger of Death. 'Twas this that fired the Town, and that began the Fright in Mansoul; for Mansoul in former Times did use to count that Mr. Recorder was a Seer, that his Sentence was equal to the best of Oracles; and thus was Mansoul a Terror to itself.

What will not Guilt do?

And now did they begin to feel what was the Effects of stubborn Religion, and unlawful Resistance against their Prince. I say now they began to feel the Effects thereof by Guilt and Fear that now had swallowed them up; and who more involved in the one, but they that were most in the other, to wit the chief of the Town of Mansoul.

To be brief, when the Fame of the Fright was out of the Town, and the Prisoners had a little recovered themselves, they

They resolve to Petition gain.

take to themselves some Heart, and think to petition the Prince for Life again. So they draw up a third Petition The Contents whereof was this :

Their Petition. Prince Emanuel the Great, Lord of all Worlds, and Master of Mercy, we thy poor, wretched, miserable, dying Town of Manfoul, do confess unto thy great and glorious Majesty, that we have sinned against thy Father and Thee, and are no more worthy to be called thy Manfoul, but rather to be cast into the Pit. If thou wilt slay us, we have deserved it. If thou wilt condemn us to the Deep, we cannot but say thou art righteous. We cannot complain whatever thou dost, or however thou carriest it towards us. But Oh ! let Mercy reign, and let it be extended to us ! O let Mercy take hold upon us, and free us from our Transgressions, and we will sing of thy Mercy, and of thy Judgments. Amen.

Prayer attended with Difficulty.

This Petition when drawn up, was designed to be sent to the Prince as the first but who should carry it, that was the Question. Some said, let him do it that went with the first, but others thought good not to do that and that because he sped no better. Now there was a

Old Good-deed pronounced as a fit Person to carry the Petition. The Old Recorder opposes it, and he is rejected.

Old Man in the Town, and his Name was Mr. Good-deed. A Man that bare only the Name, but had nothing of the Nature of the Thing; now some were for sending him, but the Recorder was by no means for that: For, said he, we now stand in need of, and are pleading for Mercy, wherefore to send our Petition by a Man of his Name, will seem to cross the Petition itself, should we make Mr. Good-deed our Messenger, when our Petition cries for Mercy.

Besides, quoth the Old Gentleman, should the Prince now, as he receives the Petition, ask him, and say, What is thy Name ? and no body knows but he will ; and he should say, O Good-deed ; what think you would Emanuel say but this ; Ay, is Old Good-deed yet alive Manfoul ! then let Old Good-deed save you from your troubles. And if he says so, I am sure we are lost, Thousand of Old Good-deeds save Mansoul.

r the Recorder had given in his Reasons, why Good-deed should not go with this Petition to Emanuel the rest of the Prisoners and Chiefs of Mansoul opt also, and so Old Good-deed was laid aside, and agreed to send Mr. Desires-awake again; so they for him, and desir'd that he would a second Time bring their Petition to the Prince, and he readily told them he would. But they bid him, that in any wise he should take heed that in no Word or Carriage he gave offence to the Prince; for by doing so, for ought we know, you may bring Mansoul into utter Destruction, and so they.

Mr. Desires-awake, when he saw this, must go on this Errand, besought them they would grant that Mr. Wet-Eyes should go with him. Now this Wet-Eyes was a near Neighbour of Mr. Desires, a

Mr. Desires-awake goes again, and takes one Wet-Eyes with him.

Man, a Man of broken Spirit, yet one that could write well to a Petition. So they granted that he should go with him. Wherefore they address themselves to business; Mr. Desires put a Rope upon his Head, and Mr. Wet-Eyes went with his Hands wringing together.

Thus they went to the Prince's Pavilion.

When they went to petition this third Time, they were not without Thoughts that by often coming might be a Burden to the Prince. Wherefore when they were come to the Door of his Pavilion, they made their Apology for themselves, and for troubling him so often; and they said, they came not hither to Day; for that they delighted to hear themselves talk, but that Necessity caused them to come to Day; they could they said, have no

Their Apology for their coming again.

Day nor Night, because of their Transgressions against him and against Emanuel his Son. They also thought of some Misdemeanour of Mr. Desires-awake, the last time might give Distrust to his Highness; and so cause him to return from so momentous a Prince empty, and with a frowning Countenance. So when they had made their Apol

Apology, Mr. Desires awake cast himself prostrate on the Ground as at the first, at the Feet of the mighty Prince, saying, O! that Manfoul might live be thee! so he delivered his Petition. The Prince

The Prince
talketh with
them.

having read the Petition, turned aside while as before, and coming again to the Place where the Petitioner lay on the Ground, he demanded what his Name was, and of what Esteem in the Account of Manfoul. For that he above all the Multitude in Manfoul, should be sent to him on such an Errand. Then said the Prince, O let not my Lord be angry; and enquirest thou after the Name of such a dead Dog as I am? Pass by, I pray thee, and take no Notice of what I am, because there is as thou very well knowest, so great a Disproportion between me and thee. Why the Town

Mr. Desires
free Speech to his Prince.

men chose to send me on this Errand, my Lord, is best known to themselves, but it could not be, for that they thought I had Favour with my Lord. For my part I am out of Charity with myself, who then should be in Love with me? Yet live I would, and so would that my Townsmen should; and because both they and myself are guilty of great Transgressions, therefore have sent me, and I am come in their Names to beseech my Lord for Mercy. Let it please thee therefore to incline to Mercy, but ask not what thy Servants are.

Then said the Prince, And what is he that is become thy Companion in this so weighty a Matter? So Desires told Emanuel, that he was a poor Neighbour of his, and one of his most intimate Associates, and his Name, said he, may it please your most Excellent Majesty, is Wet-Eyes of the Town of Manfoul. I know that there are many of that Name that are nought, but I hope 'twill be no Offence to my Lord, that I have brought my poor Neighbour with me.

Then Mr. Wet Eyes fell on his Face to the Ground and made this Apology for his coming with his Neighbour to his Lord.

O, my Lord, quoth he, what I am, I know not myself, nor whether my Name be feign'd or true, especially when I begin to think what some have said, namely that this Name was given me, because Mr.

Mr. Wet-Eye's Apology for his coming with his Neighbour.

Repentance was my Father. Good Men have bad Children, and the Sincere do often times beget Hypocrites. My Mother also called me by this Name from my Cradle, whether because of the Moistness of my Brain, or because of the Softness of my Heart, I cannot tell. I see Dirt in mine own Tears, and Filthiness in the Bottom of my Prayers. But I pray thee (and all this while the Gentleman wept) that thou wouldst not remember against us our Transgressions, nor take Offence at the Unqualifiedness of thy Servant, but mercifully pass by the Sin of Manfoul, and refrain from the glorifying of thy Grace no longer.

So at his bidding they arose, and both stood trembling before him, and he spake to him to this Purpose :

The Town of Manfoul hath grievously rebelled against my Father, in that they have rejected him from being their King, and did chuse for themselves for their Captain, a Liar, a Murderer, and a Runagate Slave. For this Diabolus, your pretended Prince, tho' once so highly accounted of by you, made Rebellion against my Father and me, even in ~~your~~ Palace, and highest Court there, thinking for to become a Prince and King. But being timely discover'd and apprehended, and for his Wickedness bound in Chains, and separated to the Pit with those that were his Companions, he offered himself to you, and you have received him.

The Prince's Answer.

The Original of Diabolus.

Now this is, and for a long Time hath been an high Affront to my Father ; wherefore my Father sent to you a powerful Army to reduce you to your Obedience. But you know how those Men, their Captains, and their Councils were esteemed of you, and what they received at your Hand. You rebelled against them, you shut your Gates upon them, you bid them Battle, you fought them and fought for Diabolus against them. So they went my Father for more Power, and I with my Men at to subdue you. But as you treated the Servants, treated their Lord. You stood up in hostile manner me, you shut up your Gates against me, you turn deaf Ear to me, and resisted as long as you could now I have made a Conquest of you. Did you cry for Mercy so long as you had Hopes that you might prevail against me? But now I have taken the Tower, cry, but why did you not cry before, when the Flag of my Mercy, the Red Flag of Justice, and the Flag that threatned Execution, were set up to cite it? Now I have conquer'd your Diabolus, you come for Favour; but why did you not help me the Mighty? Yet I will consider your Petition, and answer it so as will be for my Glory.

Go, bid Captain Boanerges, and Captain Con bring the Prisoners out to me into the Camp To-morrow and lay you to Captain Judgment, and Captain tion, stay in the Castle, and take good heed to you that you keep all quiet in Manfoul, until you shall be further from me: And with that he turned himself back, and went into his Royal Pavilion again.

So the Petitioners having received this Answer from the Prince, returned as at the first, to go to their companions again. But they had not gone far but They began to work in their Minds, that no Mercy as yet intended by the Prince to Manfoul: So they went to the Place where the Prisoners lay bound; but these Words of Mind, about what would become of Manfoul such strong Power over them, that by that they came unto them that sent them, they were scarce to deliver their Message.

But they came at length to the Gates of the City (now the Townsmen with Eagerness were waiting for their Return) where many met them, to know what Answer was made to the Petition. Then they cried to those that were sent, What News from the Prince? And what hath Emanuel said? But they said that they must (as afore) go up to the Prison, and there deliver their Message. So away they went to the Prison

* Multitude at their Heels, now when they were come to the Gates of the Prison, they told the first Part of Emanuel's Speech to the Prisoners, to wit, how he reflected upon their Disloyalty to his Father and himself, and how they had chose, and closed with Diabolus, and fought for him, hearkened to him, and been ruled by him, but had despised him and his Men. This made the Prisoners look pale, but the Messengers proceeded, and said, He the Prince, said moreover, that yet he would consider your Petition, and give such Answer thereto as will stand with his Glory. And as these Words were spoken Mr. Wet-Eyes gave a great Sigh. At this they were all of them struck into their Dumps, and could not tell what to say: Fear also possed them in marvellous manner, and Death seemed to sit upon some of their Eyebrows. Now there was in the Company a notable sharp witted Fellow, a mean Man of Estate, and his Name was Old Inquisitive; this Man asked the Petitioners if they had told out every whit of what Emanuel had said. And they answered, Verily no. Then said Inquisitive, I thought so indeed. Pray what was it more that he said unto you? Then they paus'd a while, but at last they brought out all, saying, The Prince did bid us bid Captain Boanerges and Captain Conviction, bring the Prisoners down to him To-morrow, and that Captain Judgment and Captain Execution should take Charge of the Castle and Town, till they should hear further from him. They said also, That when the Prince had commanded them so to do, he immediately turned his Back upon them, and went into his Royal Pavilion.

But, Oh! how this Return, and especially this last Clause of it, That the Prisoners must go out to the Prince into the Camp, brake all their Loins in Pieces! Wherefore with one Voice they set up a Cry that reached up to the Heavens. This done, each of the Three prepared himself to die, (and the * Recorder said unto them, This was the Thing that I feared,) * Conscience

For they concluded that To-morrow by that the S went down, they should be tumbled out of the Wor The whole Town also counted of no other, but that their Time and Order they must all drink of the sa Cup. Wherefore the Town of Mansoul spent that Nig in Mourning and Sackcloth and Ashes. The Prison also when the Time was come to go down before t Prince, dressed themselves in Mourning Attire, with Ro upon their Heads. The whole Town of Mansoul a shewed themselves upon the Wall, and clad in Mourni Weeds, if perhaps the Prince with the Sight there might be moved with Compassion. I

Vain Thoughts.

Oh how the Busy-bodies that were in t Town of Mansoul, did now concern the selves! They did run here and there through the Stre of the Town by Companies, crying out as th-y ran tumultuous wise, one after one manner, and another quite contrary, to the almost utter Distraction of Mansoul.

Well, the Time is come that the Prisoners must down to the Camp, and appear before the Prince. A thus was the Manner of their going down: Capt Boanerges went with a Guard before the and Captain Conviction came behind, a the Prisoners went down bound in Cha in the midst; so I say (the Prisoners went in the mid and the Guard went with flying Colours behind and t fore, but the Prisoners went with drooping Spirits. m re particularly thus:

How they went

The Prisoners went down all in Mour ing, they put Ropes upon themselves, th went on smiting themselves on the Breasts, but durst n list up their Eyes to Heaven. Thus they went out at t Gate of Mansoul, till they came into the midst of t Prince's Army, the Sight and Glory of which did grea heighten their Affliction. Nor could they now long forbear, but cry out aloud, O unhappy Men! O wretch Mansoul! Their Chains still mixing their dolorous No with the Cries of the Prisoners, made the Noise mor unentable.

So when they were come to the Door of the Prince's Pavilion, they cast themselves prostrate upon the Place; then one went in and told the Lord, that the Prisoners were come down. The Prince then ascended a Throne of State, and sent for the Prisoners in; who when they came, did tremble before him; also they covered their Faces with Shame. Now as they drew near to the Place where he sat, they threw themselves down before him: Then said the Prince to the Captain Boanerges, Bid the Prisoners stand upon their Feet: Then they stood trembling before him, and he said, Are you the Men that heretofore were the Servants of Shaddai? and they said, Yes, Lord, yes. Then said the Prince again, are you the Men that did suffer yourselves to be corrupted and defiled by that abominable one Diabolus? and they said, We did more

They fell down prostrate before him.

They are upon their Tryal.

then suffer it, Lord, for we chose it of our Mind. The Prince asked further, saying, Could you have been content that your Slavery should have continued under his Tyranny as long as you had lived? Then said the Prisoners, Yes, Lord, yes, for his Ways were pleasing to our Flesh, and we were grown Aliens to a better State. And did you, said he, when I came against this Town of Manjoul, heartily wish that I might not have the Victory over you? Yes, Lord, yes, said they. Then said the Prince, and what Punishment is it think you, that you deserve at my Hands, for these and other your high and mighty Sins? and they said, both Death and the Deep, Lord; for we have deserved no less. He asked again, If they had ought to say for themselves, why the Sentence that they confessed that they had deserved, should not be pass'd upon them? and they said, We can say nothing, Lord; thou art just, for we have sinned. Then said the Prince, And for what are these Ropes on your Heads? The Prisoners answer'd, the * Ropes are to bend us withal to the

They condemn themselves.
• Sins.

Place of Execution, if Mercy be not pleasing in thy Sight, Prov. v. 22. So he further ask'd, If all the Men in the Town of Manjoul were in this Confession, as the

And they answered, all the Natives, Lord; but † Powers of the Soul.

† Diablonians that came into o
when the Tyrant got Possession
can say nothing for them.

Corruptions
and Lusts.

† A Victory
proclaimed.

Then the Prince commanded Herald should be called, and should in the midst, and throug Camp of Emanuel proclaim, † with Sound of Trumpet, that the Prince, th
Shaddai, had in his Father's Name, and for his Glory, gotten a perfect Conquest and Victory o
soul, and that the Prisoners should follow him
Amen. So this was done as he had commanded.

Joy for the Victory.

And presently the Musick tha
the upper Region sounded me
The Captains that were in th shouted, and the Soldiers did sing Songs of Tri the Prince, the Colours waved in the Wind, a Joy was every where, only it was wanting as ye Hearts of the Men of Mansoul.

They are pardoned, and are commanded to proclaim it Tomorrow in
Mansoul.

Then the Prince called for the
ers to come and to stand again
him, and they came and stood tr
And he said unto them, The Sin passes and Iniquities, that you whole Town of Mansoul, have fr
to time committed against my Father and Me Power and Commandment from my Father to fe
the Town of Mansoul; and do forgive you acc
And having so said, he gave them written in Pa
and sealed with seven Seals, a large and general commanding both my Lord-Mayor, my Lord
will, and Mr. Recorder, to proclaim, and cause proclaimed To-morrow by that the Sun is up, th
the whole Town of Mansoul.

Their Rags
are taken from them.

Moreover the Prince stripped soners of their Mourning Wee gave them Beauty for Ashes, an of Joy for Mourning, and the C
Praise for the Spirit of Heaviness, Isaiab lxi.

Then he gave to each of the Three, Jewels of Gold, and precious Stones, and took away their Ropes, and put Chains of Gold about their Necks, and Ear-rings in their Ears. Now the Prisoners when they did hear the gracious Words of Prince Emanuel, and had beheld all that was done unto them, fainted almost quite away; for the Grace, the Benefit, the Pardon, was sudden, glorious, and so big, that they were not able without staggering, to stand up under it. Yea, my Lord Will-be-will swooned outright, but the Prince stepped to him, put his everlasting Arms under him, embrac'd him, kissed him, and bid him be of good Cheer, for all should be performed according to his Word. He also did kiss and embrace, and smile upon the other two that were Will-be-will's Companions, saying, Take these as further Tokens of my Love, Favour and Compassions to you: And I charge you, that you Mr. Recorder tell the Town of Manfoul what you have heard and seen.

A strange Alteration.

Then were their Fetters broken to pieces before their Faces, and cast into the Air, and their Steps were enlarged under them. Then they fell down at the Feet of the Prince, and kissed his Feet, and wetted them with Tears; they also cried out with a mighty strong Voice, saying, Blessed be the Glory of the Lord from this Place. So they were bid rise up, and go to the Town and tell to Manfoul what the Prince had done. He commanded also that one with Pipe and Tabor should go and play before them all the Way into the Town of Manfoul. Then was fulfilled what they never looked for, and they were made to possess that which they never dreamt of.

Their Guilt.

They are sent home with Pipe and Tabor.

The Prince also called for the noble Captain Credence, and commanded that he and some of his Officers should march before the Noblemen of Manfoul, with flying Colours into the Town. He gave also unto Captain Credence a Charge, that about the Time that the Recorder did Captain Credence guards them home.

When Faith and Pardon meet together, Judgment and Execution departs from the Heart.

read the general Pardon in the Town of Manfoul, that at that very Time he should with flying Colours march in at Eye-gate, with his Ten Thousand at his Feet, and that he should so go until he came by the high Street of the Town, up to the Castle Gates, and that himself should take Possession thereof, against his Lord came thither. He commanded moreover, that he should bid Captain Judgment and Captain Execution to leave the strong Hold to him, and to withdraw from Manfoul, and to return into the Camp with Speed unto the Prince.

And now was the Town of Manfoul also delivered from the Terror of the first four Captains and the Men.

Well, I told you before how the Prisoners were entertained by the Noble Prince Emanuel, and how they behaved themselves before him, and how he set them away to their Home with Pipe and Tabor going before them. And now you must think that those of the Town, that had all this while waited to hear of the Death, could not but be exercis'd with Sadness of Mind and with Thoughts that pricked like Thorns. No could their Thoughts be kept to any one Point; the Wind blew with them all this while at great Uncertainties, yea, their Hearts were like a Balance that had been disquieted with a shaking Hand. But at last, as they with many a long Look look'd over the Wall of Manfoul, they thought that they saw some return to the Town; and thought again, who should they be too, who should they be? At last they discern'd that they were the Prisoners; but can you imagine how their Hearts were surpris'd with Wonder, especially when they perceiv'd also in what Equipage, and with what Honour they were sent Home! They went down to the Camp in Black, but they came back to the Town in White; they went down to the Camp in Ropes, they came back in Chairs of Gold; they went down to the Camp

A Strange Alteration.

with Feet in Fetters, but came back with their Steps enlarged under them; they went to the Camp looking for Death, but came back thence with Assurance of Life; they went down to

Camp with heavy Hearts, but came back again with Pipe and Tabor playing before them. So soon as they were come to Eye-gate, the poor and tottering Town of Manfoul adventured to give a Shout; and they gave such a Shout as made the Captains in the Prince's Army leap at the Sound thereof. Alas! for them, poor Hearts, who could blame them, since their dead Friends were come to life again; for 'twas to them as Life from the Dead, to see the Ancients of the Town of Manfoul to shine in such Splendor. They looked for nothing but the Axe and the Block; but behold! Joy and Gladness, Comfort and Consolation, and such melodious Notes attending of them, that was sufficient to make a sick Man well, Isa. xxxiii. 24. So when they came up they saluted each other, welcome: Welcome, and blessed be he that spared you. They added also, We see it is well with you, but how must it go with the Town of Manfoul? And will it go well with the Town of Manfoul said they? Then answered them the Recorder, and my Lord Mayor, Oh! Tydings! glad Tydings! good Tydings of Good! and of great Joy to poor Manfoul! Then they gave another Shout that made the Earth to ring again. After this they enquired yet more particularly how Things went in the Camp, and what Message they had from Emanuel to the Town. So they told them all Passages that had happened to them at the Camp, and every Thing that the Prince did to them. This made Manfoul wonder at the Wisdom and Grace of the Prince Emanuel; then they told them what they had received at his Hands for the whole Town of Manfoul, and the Recorder delivered it in these Words, Pardon, Pardon for Manfoul; and this shall Manfoul know To-morrow. Then he commanded, and they went and summoned Manfoul to meet together in the Market-place To-morrow, there to hear their general Pardon read.

O the Joy of Pardon for Sin.

But who can think what a Turn, what a Change, what an Alteration this Hint of Things did make in the Countenance of the Town of Manfoul! No Man of Manfoul could sleep that Night for Joy; in every House was Joy and Musick, singing and making merry ; tell and hearing of Emanuel's Happiness, was then all that Manful had to do : And this was the Burden of all the Song, Oh ! more of this at the rising of the Sun ! more of this To-morrow ! Who thought Yesterday, one would say, that this Day would have been such a Day to them. And who thought, that saw our Prisoners go down

Town-talk of the King's Mercy.

Irons, that they should have returned Chains of Gold ! Yea, they that judged themselves, as they went to be judged by their Judge, were by his Mouth acquitted not for that they were innocent, but of the Prince's Mercy, and sent home with Pipe and Tabor. But is this the common Custom of Princes ? Do they use to show such kind of Favours to Traytors ? No ! this is only peculiar to Shaddai, and unto Emanuel his Son.

Now Morning drew on apace, wherefore the Lord Mayor, the Lord Will-be-will, and Mr. Recorder came down to the Market-place at the Time that the Prince appointed, where the Townsfolk were waiting for them, and when they came, they came in that Attire and in that Glory that the Prince had put them into the Day before, and the Street was lightned with their Glory : So the Mayor, Recorder, and my Lord Will-be-will drew down to Mouth-gate, which was at the lower End of the Market-place, because that of old Time was the Place where they used to read public Matters. Thither therefore they came in their Robes, and their Taber went before them. For the Eagerness of the People to know the full Matter was great.

The Manner
of reading the Pardon.

Then the Recorder stood up upon his Feet, and first beckoning with his Hand for Silence, he read out with a loud Voice the Pardon. But when he came to these Words, The Lord, the Lord God is merciful and gracious, pardoning Iniquity, Transgressions and Sins ; and them, all Manner of Sin and Blasphemy shall be forgiven &c. Exod. xxxiv. Mark. iii. they could not forbear leap for Joy. For this you must know, that there was conjoined herewith every Man's Name in Manful

the Seals of the Pardon made a brave Shew.

When the Recorder had made an End of reading the Pardon, the Townsmen run upon the Walls of the Town, and they leaped thereon for Joy, and bowed themselves seven Times with their Faces towards Emanuel's Pavilion, and shouted out aloud for Joy, and said, Let Emanuel live for ever.

How they tread upon the Flesh.

Then Order was given to the young Men in Manfoul that they should ring the Bells for Joy (so the Bells did ring, and the People sing, and the Music go in every House) in Manfoul, Lively and warm thought.

When the Prince had sent Home the three Prisoners of Manfoul with Joy, and Pipe and Tabor, he commanded his Captains, with all the Field Officers and Soldiers throughout his Army to be ready on that Morning that the Recorder should read the Pardon in Manfoul, to do his further Pleasure. So the Morning, as I have shewed, being come, just as the Recorder had made an End of reading the Pardon, Emanuel commanded that all the Trumpets in the Camp should sound, that the Colours should be displayed, half of them upon Mount Gracious, and half of them upon Mount Justice. He commanded also that all the Captains should shew themselves in all their Harness, and that the Soldiers should shout for Joy. Nor was Captain Credence, though in the Castle, silent in such a Day, but he from the Top of the Hold shewed himself with the Sound of Trumpet to Manfoul, and to the Prince's Camp.

The Carriage of the Camp.

Faith will not be silent when Manfoul is saved.

Thus have I shewed you the Manner and Way that Emanuel took to recover the Town of Manfoul from under the Hand and Power of the Tyrant Diabolus.

Now when the Prince had compleated these outward Ceremonies of his Joy, he again commanded that his Captains and Soldiers should shew unto Manfoul some Feats of War. So they presently addressed themselves to this Work. But Oh! with what Agility, Nimbleness, Dexterity and Bravery did these military

The Prince displays his Graces before Manfoul.

Men discover their Skill in Feats of War to the now gazing Town of Manfoul!

They marched, they counter marched, they opened to the Right and Left, they divided and sub-divided, they closed, they wheeled, made good their Front and Rear, with their Right and Left Wings, and twenty Things more, with that Aptness, and then were ravished at the Sight of them. all as they were again, that they took, yea ravished the Hearts that were in Manfoul to behold it. But add to this, the handling of their Arms, the managing of their Weapons of War, were marvellous taking to Manfoul and me.

When this Action was over, the whole Town of Manfoul came out as one Man to the Prince in the Camp, to praise him, and thank him for his abundant Favour, and to beg that it would please his Grace to come unto Manfoul with his Men, and there to take up their Quarters for ever. And this they did in most humble manner, bowing themselves seven Times to the Ground before him. Then said he, All Peace be to you: So the Town came nigh and touched with the Hand the Top of his Golden Scepter, and they said, Oh! that the Prince Emanuel, with his Captains and Men of War, would dwell in Manfoul for ever; and that his Battering Rams and Slings might be lodged in her for the Use and Service of the Prince, and for the Help and Strength of Manfoul. For, said they, we have Room for thee, we have Room for thy Men, we have also Room for thy Weapons of War, and a Place to make a Magazine for thy Carriages. Do it Emanuel, and thou shalt be King and Captain in Manfoul for ever. Yea, govern thou also according to all the Desire of thy Soul, and make thou Governors and Princes under thee of thy Captains and Men of War, and we will become thy Servants, and thy Laws shall be our Direction.

They added moreover, and prayed his Majesty to consider thereof, for said they, if now after all this Grace bestowed upon us thy miserable Town of Manfoul, thou shouldst shouldest withdraw, thou and thy Captains from us, the Town of Mansoul will die. Yea, said they, our blessed Emanuel, if thou shouldest depart from us now, now thou hast done so much Good for us, and shewed so much Mercy unto us; what will follow but that our Joy will be as if it had not been, and our Enemies will a second Time come upon us with more Rage than at the first? Wherefore we beseech thee; O thou the Desire of our Eyes, and the Strength and Life of our poor Town, accept of this Motion that now we have made unto our Lord, and come and dwell in the midst of us; and let us be thy People. Besides, Lord, we do not know but that to this Day many Diabolicals may be yet lurking in the Town of Mansoul, and they will betray us when thou shalt leave us, into the Hands of Diabolus again; and who knows what Designs, Plots, and Contrivances have passed betwixt them about these Things already: Loth we are to fall again into his horrible Hands. Wherefore let it please thee to accept of our Palace for thy Place of Residence, and of the Houses of the best Men in our Town, for the Reception of thy Soldiers, and their Furniture.

Their Fears

Then said the Prince, If I come to your Town, will you suffer me further to prosecute that which is in my Heart against mine Enemies and yours? Yea, will you help me in such Undertakings?

The Prince's Question to
Mansoul.

They answered, We know not what we shall do, we did not think once that we should have been such Traytors to Shaddai as we have proved to be: What then shall we say to our Lord? Let him put no Trust in his Saints, let the Prince dwell in our Castle, and make of our Town a Garrison; let him set his noble Captains, and his warlike Soldiers over us. Yea, let him conquer us with his Love, and overcome us, and help us, as he was, and did that Morning that our Pardon was read unto us, we shall comply with this our Lord, and with his Ways, and fall in with his Word against the Mighty.

Their Answer.

One Word more, and thy Servants have done, and in this will trouble our Lord no more. We know not the Depth of the Wisdom of thee our Prince. Who could have thought that had been ruled by his Reason, that so much Sweet as we do now enjoy, should have come out of those bitter Trials wherewith we were tried at the first? But Lord, let Light go before, and let Love come after: Yea, take us by the Hand, and lead us by thy Counsels, and let this always abide upon us, that all Things shall be for the best for thy Servants, and come to our Mansoul, do as it pleaseth thee. Or, Lord, come to our Mansoul, and do what thou wilt, so thou keepest us from sinning, and makest us serviceable to thy Majesty.

He consenteth to dwell in Mansoul, and promiseth to come in To-morrow.

Then said the Prince to the Town of Mansoul again, Go return to your Houses in Peace. I will willingly in this comply with your Desires. I will remove my royal Pavilion, I will draw up my Forces before Eye-gate To-morrow, and so will march forwards into the Town of Mansoul, I will possess myself of your Castle of Mansoul, and will set my Soldiers over you; yea, I will yet do Things in Mansoul that cannot be parallel'd in any Nation, Country, or Kingdom under Heaven.

Then did the Men of Mansoul give a Shout, and return into their Houses in Peace; they also told to their Kindred and Friends the Good that Emanuel had promis'd to Mansoul. And To-morrow, said they, he will march into our Town, and take up his Dwelling, he and his Men in Mansoul.

Then went out the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul with Haste to the green Trees, and to the Meadows to gather Boughs and Flowers, therewith to strew the Streets against their Prince the Son of Shaddai.

Mansoul's Preparation for his Reception.

they also made Garlands, and other fine Works, to betoken how joyful they were, and should be to receive their Emanuel into Mansoul; yea, they strewed the Street quite from Eye-gate to the Castle gate, the Place where the Prince should be. They all prepared for his coming what Musick the Town of Mansoul could afford, that they might play before him to the Place of his Habitation.

So at the Time appointed, he makes his Approach to Mansoul, and the Gates were set open for him; there also the Ancients and Elders of Mansoul met him to salute him with a thousand Welcomes. Then he arose and entred Mansoul, he and all his Servants. The Elders of Mansoul did also go dancing before him, till he came to the Castle Gates. And this was the manner of his going up thither. He was clad in his golden Armour, he rode in his royal Chariot, the Trumpets sounded about him, the Colours were display'd, his Ten Thousands went up at his Feet, and the Elders of Mansoul danced before him. And now were the Walls of the famous Town of Mansoul filled with the Trampings of the Inhabitants thereof, who went up thither to view the Approach of the blessed Prince and his royal Army. Also the Casements, Windows, Balconies, and Tops of the Houses were all now filled with Persons of all Sorts, to behold how their Town was to be filled with Good.

He enters the Town of Mansoul, and how.

Now when he was come so far into the Town as to the Recorder's House, he commanded that one should go to Captain Credence, to know whether the Castle of Mansoul was prepared to entertain his Royal Presence (for the Preparation of that was left to that Captain) and Word was brought that it was, Acts xv. 9. Then was Captain Credence commanded also to come forth with his Power to meet the Prince, the which was as he had commanded done, and he conducted him into the Castle, Eph. iii. 17. This done, the Prince that Night did lodge in the Castle with his mighty Captains and Men of War, to the Joy of the Town of Mansoul.

Now the next Care of the Townsfolks was how the Captains and Soldiers of the Prince's Army should be quartered among them, and the Care was not how they should shut their Hands of them, but how they should fill their Houses with them; for every Man

Man

The Holy War.

The Townsmen covet who shall have most of the Soldiers that belong to the Prince.

on them, and would in those Days run at their Bidd like Lacqueys. At last they came to this Result :

How they were quartered in the Town of Manfoul.

Manfoul now had that Esteem of Emanuel and his Men, that nothing grieved them more, than because they were not enlarged enough every one of them to receive whole Army of the Prince; yea, it counted it their Glory to be waiting

1. That Captain Innocency should quarter at Mr. Reason's.

2. That Captain Patience should quarter at Mr. Mind's. This Mr. Mind formerly the Lord Will-be-will's Clerk the Time of the Rebellion.

3. It was ordered that Captain Charity should quarter at Mr. Affection's House.

4. That Captain Good-hope should quarter at my Lord Mayor's. Now for the House of the Recorder, him desired, because his House was next to the Castle, a because from him it was ordered by the Prince, that need be, the Alarm should be given to Manfoul: It was I say, desired by him that Captain Beauvilliers, and Captain Conviction should take up their Quarters with him even they and all their Men.

5. As for Captain Judgment and Captain Execution my Lord Will-be-will took them and their Men to him because he was to rule under the Prince for the Good of the Town of Manfoul now, as he had done before under the Tyrant Diabolus for the Hurt and Damage there Rom. vi. 19. Eph. iii. 17.

6. And throughout the rest of the Town were quartered Emanuel's Forces; but Captain Credence with his Men abode still in the Castle. So the Prince, his Captains, and his Soldiers were lodged in the Town of Manfoul.

Now the Ancients and Elders of the Town of Manfoul thought that they never should have

Manfoul enamoured with their Prince Emanuel.

nough of the Prince Emanuel; his Person, his Actions, his Words and Behaviour were so pleasing, so taking, so desire

tem. Wherefore they prayed him, that though the ile of Manfoul was his Place of Residence (and they red that he might dwell there for ever) yet that he uld often visit the Streets, Houses, and People of anfoul. For said they, Dread Sovereign, thy Presence, y Looks, thy Smiles, thy Words, are the Life, and rength, and Sinews of the Town of Manfoul.

Besides this, they craved that they might have without Difficulty or Interruption, continual Access unto him; so for that very Purpose They have Access unto him.
 he commanded that the Gates should stand open, that they might there see the manner of his Doings, the Fortifications of the Place, and the Royal Mansion-House of the Prince.

When he spake, they all stopped their Mouths, and gave Audience; and when They learn of him.
 he walked, it was their Delight to imitate
 him in his Goings.

Now upon a Time Emanuel made a Feast for the Town of Manfoul, and upon the Feasting Day, the Townsfolk were come to the Castle to partake of his Banquet. And he feasted them with all manner of Outlandish Food Food that grew not in the Fields of Manfoul, nor in al
 the whole Kingdom of Universe. It was Food that came from his Father's Court, and so there was Dish after Dish set before them, and Promise after Promise.
 they were commanded freely to eat. But still when a fresh Dish was set before them, they wor
 whisperingly say to each other, What is it? For th wist not what to call it, Exod. xvi. 15. They drank a of the Water that was made Wine; and were very merry with him. There was Brave Entertainment.
 Musick also all the while at the Table,
 and Man did eat Angels Food, and had Honey given out of the Rock; so Manfoul did eat the Food that peculiar to the Court, yea, they had now thereof
 full, Psal. lxxviii. 24, 25.

I must not forget to tell you, that as at this there were Musicians; so they were not those Country, nor yet of the Town of Manfoul;

were the Masters of the Songs that were sung at the Court of Shaddai.

Now after the Feast was over, Emanuel was for entertaining the Town of Manfoul with some curious Riddles of Secrets drawn up by his Father's Secretary, by the Skill and Wisdom of Shaddai; the like to these there is not in any Kingdom.

The Holy Scriptures. These Riddles were made upon King Shaddai himself, and upon Emanuel his Son, and upon his Wars and Doings with Manfoul.

Emanuel also expounded unto them some of those Riddles himself, but Oh how they were lightened! They saw what they never saw, they could not have thought that such Rarities could have been couched in so few and such ordinary Words. I told you before whom these Riddles did concern; and as they were opened, the People did evidently see 'twas so. Yea, they did gather that the Things themselves were a kind of a Portraiture, and that of Emanuel himself; for when they read in the Scheme where the Riddles were writ, and looked in the Face of the Prince, things look'd so like one to the other, that Manfoul could not forbear but say, This is the Lamb, this is the Sacrifice, this is the Rock, this is the Red Cow, this is the Door, and this is the Way; with a great many other Things more.

And thus he dismissed the Town of Manfoul. But can you imagine how the People of the Corporation

The End of that Banquet. were taken with his Entertainment? Oh! they were transported with Joy, they were drowned with Wonderment, while they saw and understood, and considered what their Emanuel entertained them withal, and what Mysteries he opened to them; and when they were at Home in their Houses, and in their most retired Places, they could not but sing of him, and of his Actions. Yea, so taken were the Townsmen now with their Prince, that they would sing of him in their Sleep.

Manfoul must be new modeled.

Now it was in the Heart of the Prince Emanuel to new model the Town of Manfoul, and to put it into such a Condition

as might be most pleasing to him, and that might best stand with the Profit and Security of the now flourishing Town of Mansoul. He provided also against Insurrections at Home, and Invasions Abroad; such Love had he for the famous Town of Mansoul.

Wherefore he first of all commanded that the great Slings that were brought from his Father's Court when he came to the War of Mansoul, should be mounted, some upon the Battlements of the Castle, some upon the Towers, for there were Towers in the Town of Mansoul, Towers new built by Emanuel since he came thither. There was also an Instrument invented by Emanuel, that was to throw Stones from the Castle of Mansoul, out at Mouth-gate; an Instrument that could not be resisted, nor that could miss of Execution; wherefore for the wonderful Exploits that it did when used, it went without a Name, and it was committed to the Care of, and to be managed by the brave Captain, the Captain Credence, in case of War.

The Instruments of War mounted.

A nameless terrible Instrument in Mansoul.

This done, Emanuel called the Lord Will-be-will to him, and gave him in Commandment to take Care of the Gates, the Wall, and Towers in Mansoul: Also the Prince gave him the Militia into his Hand, and a special Charge to withstand all Insurrections and Tumults that might be made in Mansoul against the Peace of our Lord the King, and the Peace and Tranquility of the Town of Mansoul. He also gave him in Commission, that if he found any of the Diabolanians lurking in any Corner of the famous Town of Mansoul, he should forthwith apprehend them, and slay them, or commit them to safe Custody, that they may be proceeded against according to Law.

Will-be-will promoted.

Then he called unto him the Lord Understanding, who was the old Lord-Mayor, he that was put out of Place when Diabolus took the Town, and put him into his former Office again, and in his former Place.

My Lord-Mayor put into Place.

him also that he should build him a Palace near Eye-gate, and that he should build it in Fashion like a Tower for Defence. He bid him also that he should read in the Revelations of Mysteries all the Days of his Life, that might know how to perform his Office aright.

He also made Mr. Knowledge the Recorder, not of Contempt to old Mr. Conscience who had been Recorder before but for that it was in his Princely Mind to confer upon Mr. Conscience another Employ; of which he told old Gentleman he should know more hereafter.

Then he commanded that the Image of Diabolus should be taken down from the Place where it was set up; that they should utterly destroy it, beat it into Powder, and casting it into Wind, without the Town-wall, and the Image of Shaddai his Father should be set up again, with his own, upon castle Gates; and that it should be more fairly drawn than ever; forasmuch as both his Father himself were come to Mansoul in more Grace and Merit than heretofore, Rev. xxii. 4. He would also that his Name should be fairly engraven upon the Front of the Town, and that it should be done on the best of Gold for the Honour of the Town of Mansoul.

After this was done, Emanuel gave out a Commandment that those three greatest Diabolonians should be apprehended, namely, the two late Lord-Mayors, to wit, Mr. Incredulity, Mr. Lustings, and Mr. Forget-good, Recorder. Besides these, there were several of them that Diabolus made Burgesses and Aldermen in Mansoul, that were committed to Ward by the Hand of the Lord Valiant, and now right Noble, the brave Lord Will-be-will.

Some Diabolonians committed to Prison under the Hand of Mr. Trueman the Keeper.

And these were their Names, Alderman Atheism, Alderman Hard-Heart, and Alderman False-Peace. Their Burgesses were Mr. No-Truth, Mr. Pitiless, Mr. Haughty, with the like. These were committed to close Prison; and the Goalers Name was Mr. Trueman.

Trueman, was one of those that Emanuel brought with him from his Father's Court, when at first he made a War-upon Diabolus in the Town of Manfoul.

After this, the Prince gave a Charge that the three strong Holds that at the Command of Diabolus, the Diablonians built in Manfoul, should be demolish'd and utterly pulled down; of which Holds, and their Names, with their Captains and Governors, you read a litle before. But this was long in doing, because of the Largeness of the Places, and because the Stones, the Timber, the Iron, and all the Rubbish was to be carried without the Town.

Diabolus's
strong Holds pulled down.

When this was done, the Prince gave Order that the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of Manfoul should call a Court of Judicature for the Trial and Execution of the Diablonians in the Corporation, now under the Care of Mr. Trueman the Goaler.

A Court to be called to try the Diablonians.

Now when the Time was come, and the Court set, Commandment was sent to Mr. Trueman the Goaler, to bring the Prisoner's down to the Bar. Then were the Prisoners brought down, pinion'd and chain'd together, as the Custom of the Town of Manfoul was. So when they were presented before the Lord-Mayor, the Recorder, and the rest of the honourable Bench; First, the Jury was impanel'd, and then the Witnesses sworn. The Names of the Jury were these, Mr. Belief, Mr. True-heart, Mr. Upright, Mr. Hate-bad, Mr. Love-God, Mr. See-truth, Mr. Heavenly-mind, Mr. Moderate, Mr. Thankful, Mr. Good-work, Mr. Zeal-for-God, and Mr. Humble.

The Prisoners
brought to the Bar.

The Jury im-panel'd and Witnesses
sworn.

The Names of the Witnesses were Mr. Know-all, Mr. Tell-true, Mr. Hate-lies, with my Lord Will-be will, and his Man, if need were.

So the Prisoners were set to the Bar, then said Mr. Do-right (for he was the Town-Clerk) Set Atbeism to the Bar, Goaler. So he was set to the Bar. Then said the Clerk, Atbe

Do-right,
the Clerk.

The Holy War,

Atbeism set to the Bar, his Indictment.

hold up thy Hand. Thou art here Indicted by the Name of Atbeism (an Intruder upon the Town of Manfoul) for that thou hast perniciously and doubtfully taught and maintained, that there is no God, and so no heed to be taken to Religion. This thou hast done against the Being, Honour, and Glory of the King, and against the Peace and Safety of the Town of Manfoul. What say thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Atbeism. Not guilty.

Cryer. Call Mr. Know-all, Mr. Tell-true, and Mr. Hate-lies into the Court.

So they were called, and they appeared.

Clerk. Then said the Clerk, You the Witnesses for the King, look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, do you know him?

Know. Then said Mr. Know-all, Yes, my Lord, we know him, his Name is Atbeism, he has been a very pestilent Fellow for many Years in the miserable Town of Manfoul.

Clerk. You are sure you know him.

Know. Know him! Yes my Lord, I have heretofore too often been in his Company, to be at this Time ignorant of him. He is a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian, I knew his Grandfather and his Father.

Clerk. Well said: He standeth here indicted by the Name of Atbeism, &c. and is charged that he hath maintained and taught that there is no God, and so no heed to be taken to any Religion. What say you the King's Witnesses to this? Is he guilty or not?

Know. My Lord, I and he were once in Villains-Land together, and he at that Time did briskly talk of diverse Opinions, and then and there I heard him say, That for his Part he did believe that there was no God. But he said he, I can profess one, and be as religious too if the Company I am in, and the Circumstances of other things said he, shall put me upon it.

Clerk. You are sure you have heard him say thus?

Know. Upon mine Oath I heard him say thus.

Then said the Clerk, Mr. Tell-true, What say you?

the King's Judges, touching the Prisoner at the Bar ?

Tell. My Lord, I formerly was a great Companion of his (for the which I now repent me) and I have often heard him say, and that with very great Stomachfulness, that he believ'd there was neither God, Angel, or Spirit.

Cler. Where did you hear him say so ?

Tell. In Black-mouth-lane, and in Blasphemers-row, and in many other Places besides.

Cler. Have you much Knowledge of him ?

Tell. I know him to be a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian, and an horrible Man to deny a Deity; his Father's Name was Never-be-good, and he had more Children than this Atheism. I have no more to say.

Cler. Mr. Hate-lies, Look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, Do you know him ?

Hate. My Lord, This Atheism is one of the vilest Wretches that ever I came near, or had to do with in my Life. I have heard him say that there is no God; I have heard him say that there is no World to come, no Sin, nor Punishment hereafter : And moreover, I have heard him say, that 'twas as good to go to a Whore-house, as to go to hear a Sermon.

Cler. Where did you hear him say these Things ?

Hate. In Drunkards-row, just at Rascals-lane's End, at House in which Mr. Impiety liv'd.

Cler. Set him by Goaler, and set Mr. Lustings to the Bar.

Mr. Lustings, Thou art here indicted by the Name of Lustings (an Intruder upon the Town of Manfoul) for that thou hast Devilishly and Traiterously taught by Practice and filthy Words, that it is lawful and profitable to Man to give way to his carnal Desires, and that thou for thy part, hast not, nor never wilt, deny thyself of any sinful Delight as long as thy Name is Lustings. How say'st thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment or not ?

Lustings set to the Bar.

His Indictment.

Lustings, Then said Mr. Lustings, My Lord, I am a Man of high Birth, and have been used to pleasures and Pastimes, and Greatness. I have not b wont to be shub'd for my Doings, but have been left to follow my Will as if it were Law. And it seems strang to me that I should this Day be called into-question for that, not only I, but almost all Men do either secretly or openly countenance, love, and approve of it.

His Plea.

Cler. Sir, we concern not ourselves with your Greatness (though the higher the better you should have been but we are concerned, and so are you, about an Indictment preferred against you: How say you, are you guilty of it, or not?

Lust. Not guilty.

Cler. Cryer, call upon the Witnesses to stand forth and give their Evidences.

Cryer. Gentlemen, you the Witnesses for the King, come and give in your Evidence for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar.

Cler. Come, Mr. Know-all, look upon the Prisoner at the Bar. Do you know him?

Know. Yes, my Lord, I know him.

Cler. What's his Name?

Know. His Name is Lustings, he was the Son of one Beasty, and his Mother bare him in Flesh-street, she was one Evil-Concupiscence's Daughter. I knew all the Generation of them.

Cler. Well said. You have heard his Indictment; What say you to it? Is he guilty of the Things charged against him, or not?

Know. My Lord, he has, as he saith, been a great Man indeed; and greater in Wickedness than by Pedigree, more than a Thousand-fold.

Cler. But what do you know of his particular Actions, and especially with Reference to his Indictment?

Know. I know him to be a Swearer, a Liar, a Sabbath-breaker; I know him to be a Fornicator, and an unclean Person; I know him to be guilty of Abundance of Evils. He has been to my Knowledge a very filthy Man.

Cler. But where did he use to commit his Wickednesses in some private Corners, or more open and shamelessly?

Know. All the Town over, my Lord.

Cler. Come Mr. Tell-true, what have you to say for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Tell. My Lord, all that the first Witness has said, I know to be true, and a great deal more besides.

Cler. Mr. Lustings, do you hear what these Gentlemen say?

Lust. I was ever of Opinion, that the happiest life that a Man could live on Earth, was to keep himself back from nothing that he desired in the World; nor have I been false at any time to this Opinion of mine, but have lived in the love of my notions all my Days. Nor was I ever so Churlish, having found such sweetness in them myself, as to keep the Commendations of them from others.

Court. Then said the Court, There hath proceeded enough from his own Mouth to lay him open to Condemnation, wherefore set him by, Goaler, and set Mr. Incredulity to the Bar.

Incredulity set to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Incredulity, thou art here indicted by the Name of Incredulity (an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for thou hast feloniously and wickedly, and that when thou wert an Officer in the Town of Mansoul, made head against the Captains of the great Shaddai, when they came, and demanded possession of Mansoul; yea thou didst bid defiance to the Name, Forces, and Cause of the King, and didst also, as did Diabolus thy Captain, stir up and encourage the Town of Mansoul to make head against, and resist the said force of the King. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty or not?

His Indictment.

Then said Incredulity, I know not Shaddai: I loved my old Prince, I thought it my

His Plea.

Duty to be true to my trust, and to do what I could to possess the Minds of the Men of Mansoul, to do their utmost to resist Strangers and Foreigners, and with might to fight against them. Nor have I, nor shall I change mine Opinion for Fear of Trouble, though you at present are possessed of Place and Power.

Court. Then said the Court, the Man as you is Incorrigible, he is for maintaining his Villanies, stoutness of Words, and his Rebellion with Impudent Confidence. And therefore set him by, Goaler, and set Mr. Forget-good to the Bar.

Forget-good set to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Forget good, thou art here Indicted by Name of Forget-good, an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul, for that thou, when the whole Affairs of the Town of Mansoul were in thy Hand, didst utter His Indictment, forget to serve them in what was good, and didst fall in with the Tyrant Diabolus against Shaddai the King, against his Captains, and all his Troops to the dishonour of Shaddai, the breach of his Law, and the endangering of the destruction of the famous Town of Mansoul. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty or not guilty?

His Plea. Then said Forget-good, Gentlemen, and this time my Judges; as to the Indictment by which I stand by several Crimes accused before you pray attribute my forgetfulness to my age, and not to my wilfulness: to the craziness of my brain, and to the carelessness of my mind, and then I hope I may by your Charity be excused from great Punishment though I be guilty.

Then said the Court, Forget-good, Forget-good, Thy forgetfulness of good was not simply of frailty, but of purpose; and for that thou didst loath to keep virtuous things in thy mind. What was bad thou couldst retain but what was good thou couldst not abide to think of, to purge therefore, and thy pretended craziness, thou makest use of to blind the Court withal, and as a Cloak to cover thy Knavery. But let us hear what the Witnesses have say for the King against the Prisoner at the Bar, is he guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Hate. My Lord I have heard this Forget-good say That he could never abide to think of Goodness, not for a quarter of an Hour.

Cler. Where did thou hear him say so?

Hate. In All-base-lane, at a House next Door to the Sign of the Conscience scared with an hot Iron.

Cler. Mr. Know-all, what can you say for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Know. My Lord, I know this Man well, he is a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian, his Father's Name was Love-nought, and for him, I have often heard him say, That he counted the very Thoughts of Goodness the most burdensome thing in the World.

Cler. Where have you heard him say these Words?

Know. In Flesh-lane, right opposite to the Church.

Then said the Clerk, Come, Mr. Tell-true, give in your Evidence concerning the Prisoner at the Bar, about that for which he stands here, as you see, Indicted before this honourable Court.

Tell. My Lord, I have heard him often say, He had rather think of the vilest thing, than of what is contained in the Holy Scriptures.

Cler. Where did you hear him say such grievous words?

Tell. Where? in a great many places; particularly in Nauseous-street, in the House of one Shameless, and in Filth-lane, at the Sign of the Reprobate, next Door to the Descent into the Pit.

Court. Gentlemen, you have heard the Indictment, his Plea, and the testimony of the Witnesses.

Goaler, set Mr. Hard-heart to the Bar.

He is set to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Hardheart, thou art here indicted by the Name of Hard-heart (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou didst most desperately and wickedly possess the Town of Mansoul with impenitency and obduracy, and didst keep them from remorse and sorrow for their evils, all the time of their apostasy from, and rebellion against the blessed King Shaddai. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty, or not guilty?

Hard. My Lord, I never knew what remorse or sorrow meant in all my Life: I am impenetrable, I care for no Man; nor can I be pierced with Men's grief; their groans will not enter into my Heart; whomever I mischief, whomever I wrong, to me it is Musick, when to others Mourning.

Court. You see the Man is a right Diabolonian.

The Holy War,

has convicted himself. Set him by, Goaler, and set Mr. False-peace to the Bar.

False-peace set to the Bar.

Mr. False-peace, Thou art here indicted by the Name of False-peace (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul for that thou did most wickedly and satannically bring bold, and keep the Town of Mansoul, both in her apostasy, and in her hellish rebellion, in a false, groundless, and dangerous peace, and damnable security, to the dishonour of the King, the transgression of his Law, and the great Damage of the Town of Mansoul. What sayest thou, are thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Then said Mr. False-peace, Gentlemen, and you now appointed to be my Judges, I acknowledge that my Name is Mr. Peace, but that my Name is False-peace

I utterly deny. If your Honours should please to send for any that do intimately know me, or for the Midwife that laid my Mother me, or for the Gossips that were at my Christening they will any, or all of them prove that my Name is not False-peace, but Peace. Wherefore I cannot plead to this Indictment, for as much as my name is not inserted therein, and as is my true name, so also are my conditions. I was always a Man that loved to live quiet, and what I loved myself, that I thought others might love also. Wherefore when I saw any of my neighbours to labour under a disquieted mind, I endeavoured to help them what I could; and instances of this good temper of mine, many I could give: As,

1. When at the beginning our Town of Mansoul did decline the ways of Shaddai, they some of them afterwards began to have disquieting reflections upon themselves for what they had done; but I, as one troubled to see them disquieted, presently sought out means to get them quiet again.

2. When the ways of the old World, and of Sodom were in fashion; if any thing happened to molest those that were for the customs of the present times, I laboured to make them quiet again, and to cause them to act without molestation.

3. To come nearer home, when the Wars fell out between Sbaddai and Diabolus, if at any time I saw any of the Town of Manfoul afraid of destruction, I often used by some way, device, invention or other, to labour to bring them to peace again. Wherefore since I have been always the Man of so virtuous a temper, as some say a Peace-maker is, and if a Peace-maker be so deservyng a Man as some have been bold to attest he is; then let me, Gentlemen, be accounted by you, who have a great Name for Justice and Equity in Manfoul, for a Man that deserveth not this inhumane way of treatment, but Liberty, and also a Licence to seek damage of those that have been my Accusers.

Then said the Clerk, Cryer, make Proclamation.

Cryer. O yes, for as much as the Prisoner at the Bar hath denied his Name to be that which is mentioned in the Indictment, the Court requireth that if there be any in this place that can give information to the Court of the original and right name of the Prisoner, they would come forth and give in their Evidence; for the Prisoner stands upon his own innocence.

Then came two into the Court, and desired that they might have leave to speak what they knew concerning the Prisoner at the Bar; the Name of the one was Search-truth, and the Name of the other Truth: to the Court demanded of these Men, if they knew the Prisoner, and what they could say concerning him, or he stands, said they, upon his own Vindication.

Then said Mr. Search-truth, My Lord, Court, Hold, give him his Oath, then they swore him. So he proceeded.

Search. My Lord, I know, and have known this man from a child, and can attest that his name is False-peace. I knew his Father, his name was Mr. Flatterer, and his Mother, before she was married, was called by the name of Mrs. Sooth-up; and these two, when they came together, lived not long without this Son, and when he was born, they called his name False-peace. I was his play-fellow, only I was somewhat older than he; and when his Mother did use to call him home from his play, she used to say, False-peace, False-peace, come home quick or I'll fetch you. Yea, I knew him when he suck and though I was then but little, yet I can remember that when his Mother did use to sit at the door v him, or did play with him in her arms, she would him twenty times together, my little False-peace, pretty False-peace, and O my sweet Rogue False-peace and again, O my little bird False-peace; and how I love my Child! The Gossips also know it is th tho' he has had the Face to deny it in open Court.

The Holy War,

Then Mr. Vouch-truth was called upon to sp what he knew of him. So they sware him.

Then said Mr. Vouch-truth, My Lord, all that former Witness hath said, is true; his Name is False-peace, the Son of Mr. Fatterer, and Mrs. Spock-up Mother. And I have in former times seen him an with those that called him any thing else but False-peace, for he would say that all such did mock and ni name him, but this was in the time when Mr. False-peace was a great Man, and when the Diabolonians w the brave Men in Manfoul.

Court. Gentlemen, you have heard what these Men have sworn against the Prisoner at the Bar: now Mr. False-peace to you, you have denied your n to be False-peace, yet you see that these honest Men b sworn that this is your name. As to your Plea, in t you are quite besides the matter of your Indictment, are not by it charged for evil doing, because you are a l of Peace, or a Peace-maker among your Neighbours; for that you did wickedly and satannically bring, k and hold the Town of Manfoul, both under its apo/ from, and in its Rebellion against its King, in a fi lying, and damnable Peace, contrary to the Law of Sh dai, and to the hazara of the destruction of the then serable Town of Manfoul: All that you have pleadea yourself is, that you have denied your Name, &c. here you see we have Witnesses to prove that you are Man.

For the Peace that you so much boast of makin among your Neighbours, know that Peace that is Companion of Truth and Holiness, but that wh without this Foundation, is grounded upon a Lye, and is both deceitful and damnable; as also the great Shaddai hath said: thy Plea therefore has not delivered thee from what by thy Indictment thou art charged with, but rather it doth fester all upon thee.

But thou shalt have very fair play, let us call the Witnesses that are to testify, as to matters of fact, and see what they have to say for our Lord the King against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Cler. Mr. Know-all, what say you for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar?

Know. My Lord, this Man hath for a long time made it, to my Knowledge, his business to keep the Town of Mansoul in a sinful quietness, in the midst of all her Leudness, Filthiness and Turmoils, and hath said, and that in my hearing, Come, come, let us fly from all trouble, on what ground soever it comes, and let us be for a quiet and peaceable Life, though it wanteth a good Foundation.

Cler. Come Mr. Hate-lies, what have you to say?

Hate. My Lord, I have heard him say, that Peace, though in a way of Unrighteousness, is better than Trouble with Truth.

Cler. Where did you hear him say this?

Hate. I heard him say it in Folly-yard, at the House of one Mr. Simple, next door to the Sign of the Self-deceiver. Yea, he hath said this to my Knowledge Twenty times in that place.

Cler. We may spare farther Witness, this Evidence is plain and full. Set him by Goaler, and set Mr. No-truth to the Bar. Mr. No-truth, thou art here Indicted by the Name of

No-truth set to the Bar.

No-truth, (an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou hast always, to the dishonour of Shaddai, and the endangering of the utter ruin of the famous Town of Mansoul, set thyself to deface, and utterly to spoil all the remainders of the Law and Image of Shaddai, that have been found in Mansoul, after her deep apostacy from her King, Diabolus, that envious Tyrant. What sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

No-truth. Not guilty, my Lord.

Then the Witnesses were called, and Mr. Know did first give in his Evidence against him.

Know. My Lord, this Man was at the pulling do of the Image of Shaddai; yea, this is he that did with his own Hands. I myself stood by and saw him do it, and he did it at the Commandment of Diabo. Yea, this Mr. No-truth did more than this, he did set up the horned Image of the beast Diabolus, in same place. This also is he that at the bidding of abolus did rend and tear, and cause to be consumed that he could of the remainders of the Law of the Ki even whatever he could lay his hands on in Manseoul.

Cler. Who saw him do this besides yourself?

Hate. I did, my Lord, and so did many others besides for this was not done by stealth, or in a corner, but in the open view of all, yea, he chose himself to do it publickly, for he delighted in the doing of it.

Cler. Mr. No-truth, how could you have the face to plead not guilty, when you were so manifestly the author of all this Wickedness?

No-tr. Sir, I thought I must say something; and my Name is, so I speak: I have been advantaged thereby before now, and did not know but by speaking No-truth, I might have reaped the same benefit now.

Cler. Set him by Goaler, and set Mr. Pitylefs to Bar. Mr. Pitylefs, thou art here indicted by the Name of Pitylefs, (an intruder upon the Town of Manseoul for that thou didst most treacherously and wickedly shut all Bowels of Compassion, and would not suffer poor Manseoul to condole her own misery, when she had apostatized from her rightful King, but didst evade, and at all turn her mind away from those Thoughts that bear them a tendency to lead her to repentance. What sayest thou to this Indictment? Guilty or not guilty?

Not guilty of Pitylefsness, all I did was to Cheer according to my Name, for my Name is not Pit but Cheer-up; and I could not abide to see Manseoul incline to Melancholy.

Clerk. How! do you deny your Name, and say it

Pityless, but Chear-up? Call for the Witnesses; What say you the Witnesses to this Plea?

Know. My Lord, his Name is Pityless; so he hath wrote himself in all Papers of Concern, wherein he has had to do. But these Diabolonians love to counterfeit their Names: Mr. Covetousness covers himself with the Name of good Husbandry, or the like; Mr. Pride can, when need is, call himself Mr. Neat, Mr. Handsome, or the like, and so of all the rest of them.

Cler. Mr. Tell-true, what say you?

Tell. His Name is Pityless my Lord; I have known him from a Child, and he hath done all that Wickedness whereof he stands charged in the Indictment; but there is a Company of them that are not acquainted with the danger of Damning, therefore they call all those Melancholy that have serious Thoughts how that State should be shunned by them.

Cler. Set Mr. Haughty to the Bar, Goaler. Mr. Haughty, Thou art here Indicted by the Name of Haughty, (an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou didst most Trayterously and Devilishly teach the Town of Mansoul, to carry it loftily and stoutly against the Summons that were given them by the Captains of the King Shaddai. Thou didst also teach the Town of Mansoul to speak contemptuously and willifysingly of their great King Shaddai; and didst moreover encourage, both by Words and Examples, Mansoul to take up Arms both against the King, and his Son Emanuel. How sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or not?

Haugh. Gentlemen, I have always been a Man of Courage and Valour, and have not used, when under the greatest Clouds, to sneak or hang down the Head like a Bulrush; nor did it at all at any time please me to see Men veil their Bonnets to those that have opposed them. Yea, though their Adversaries seemed to have ten times the advantage of them. I did not use to consider who was my Foe, nor what the cause was in which I was engaged, 'Twas enough to me if I carried bravely, Fought like a Man, and came off a Victor.

Court. Mr. Haughty, you are not here Indicted for that you have been a Valiant Man, not for your courage and stoutness in times of Distress, but for that you have made use of this your pretended Valour to draw the Town of Mansoul into Acts of Rebellion both against the great King and Emanuel his Son. This is the Crime, and the thing wherewith thou art charged in and by the Indictment. But he made no answer to that.

Now when the Court had thus far proceeded against the Prisoners at the Bar, then they put them over to the Verdict of their Jury, to whom they did apply themselves after this manner.

Court. Gentlemen of the Jury, you have been here, and have seen these Men; you have heard their Indictments, their Pleas, and what the Witnesses have testified against them: Now what remains, is, that you do forthwith withdraw yourselves to some place, where without confusion you may consider of what Verdict in a way of truth and righteousness you ought to bring in for the King against them, and so bring it in accordingly.

Then the Jury, to wit, Mr. Belief, Mr. True-heart, Mr. Upright, Mr. Hate-bad, Mr. Love-good, Mr. Se-truth, Mr. Heavenly-mind, Mr. Moderate, Mr. Thank-ful, Mr. Humble, Mr. Good-work, and Mr. Zeal-for-God withdrew themselves, in order to their Work. Now when they were shut up by themselves, they fell to discourse among themselves in order to the drawing up of their Verdict.

And thus Mr. Belief (for he was the Foreman) began: Gentlemen. quoth he, for the Men, the Prisoners at the Bar, for my part I believe that they all deserve Death. Very right, said Mr. True-heart, I am wholly of your Opinion: O what a Mercy is it, said Mr. Hate-bad, that such Villains as these are apprehended! Ay, Ay, said Mr. Love-good, this is one of the joyfullist Days that ever I saw in my Life. Then said Mr. Se-truth, I know that if we judge them to Death, our Verdict shall stand before Shaddai himself. Nor do I at all question it, said Mr. Heavenly-mind; he said moreover, when all such beasts as these are cast out of Mansoul, what a goodly Town will it be then? The

Moderate, It is not my manner to pass my Judgment rashness, but for these their Crimes are so notorious, and the Witnesses so palpable, that that Man must be blind, who sayest the Prisoners ought not to Die. be God, said Mr. Thankful, that the Traytors are in Custody. And I join with you in this, upon my Knees, said Mr. Humble. I am glad also, said Mr. Good-work. Then said the warm Man and true-hearted Zeal-for-God, Cut them off, they have been the plague, brought the Destruction of Man-oul.

Thus therefore being all agreed in their Verdict, it came instantly into the Court.

Clerk. Gentlemen of the Jury, answer all to your names; Mr. Belief, One: Mr. True-heart, Two: Mr. Upright, Three: Mr. Hate-bad, Four: Mr. Low-d, Five: Mr. See-truth, Six: Mr. Heavenly-mind, Seven: Mr. Moderate, Eight: Mr. Thankful, Nine: Mr. Humble, Ten: Mr. Good-work, Eleven: And Mr. Zeal-for-God, Twelve: Good Men, and true, stand together in your Verdict; are you all agreed?

Jury. Yes, my Lord.

Clerk. Who shall speak for you?

Jury. Our Foreman.

Clerk. You the Gentlemen of the Jury being Impannelled for our Lord the King, to serve here in a matter of life and Death, have heard the Trials of each of these ten the Prisoners at the Bar: What say you, are they guilty of that, and those Crimes for which they stand here indicted, or are they not guilty?

Foreman. Guilty, my Lord.

Clerk. Look to your Prisoners, Goaler.

This was done in the Morning, and in the Afternoon they received Sentence of Death according to the Law.

The Goaler therefore having received such a charge, put them all in the inward Prison, to preserve them there till the day of Execution, which was to be the next Morning.

But now to see how it happened, one of the Prisoners, Incredulity by Name, in the interim betwixt the Sent

Incredulity
breaks Prison. Sentence and time of Execution, broke Prison, and made his escape, and get him away quite out of the Town of Mansoul, and lay lurking in such places and holes as he might, until he should again have opportunity to do the Town of Mansoul a Mischief, for their thus handling of him as they did.

Now when Mr. Trueman the Goaler, perceived that he had lost his Prisoner, he was in a heavy taking, because he that Prisoner we speak of, was the very worst of all the Gang: Wherefore first he goes and acquaints my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, and my Lord Willbe-will with the matter, and to get of them an Order to make Search for him throughout the Town of Mansoul. So an Order he got, and Search was made, but no such Man could now be found in all the Town of Mansoul.

All that could be gathered was, that he had lurked a while about the out side of the Town, and that here and there one or other had a glimpse of him, as he did make his escape out of Mansoul; one or two also did affirm that they saw him without the Town, going apace quite over the Plain. Now when he was quite gone, it was affirmed by one Mr. Dissee, that he ranged all over dry places, till he met with Diabolus his Friend; and where should they meet one another but upon Hell-gate-bill.

But Oh! what a lamentable Story did the Old Gentleman tell to Diabolus, concerning what sad alteration Emanuel had made in Mansoul?

As first, how Mansoul had, after some delays, received a general Pardon at the Hands of Emanuel, and that they had invited him into the Town, and that they had given him the Castle for his Possession.

He said moreover, that they had called his Soldiers into the Town, coveted who should Quarter the most of them; they also entertained him with the Timbrel, Song, and Dance. But that, said Incredulity, that is the lowest vexation to me, that he hath pulled down, Father, thy Image, and set up his own, pulled down thy Officers, and set up his own. Yea, and Willberwell, that Rebel, who, one would have thought, should never have turned from us, he is now in as great Favour with Emanuel as ever he was with thee. But, besides all this, this Willberwill has received a special Commission from his Master to search for, to apprehend, and to put to Death all, and all manner of Diabolonians, that he shall find in Mansoul: Yea, and this Willberwill has taken and committed to Prison already Eight of my Lord's most truly Friends in Mansoul. Nay further, my Lord, with grief I speak it, they have been all arraigned, condemned, and, I doubt before this, executed in Mansoul. I told my Lord of Eight, and myself was the Ninth, who should assuredly have drunk of the same Cup; but that through craft I have made mine Escape from them.

When Diabolus had heard this lamentable Story, he yelled, and snuffed up the Wind like a Dragon, and made the Sky to look dark with his Roaring: He also swore that he would try to be revenged of Mansoul for this. So they concluded to enter into great Consultation how they might get the Town of Mansoul again.

Diabolus yells
at this News.

Now before this time the Day was come in which the Prisoners in Mansoul were to be executed: Rom. viii. xiii. and vi. 12, 13, 14. So they were brought to the Cross, and that by Mansoul, in most solemn manner: for the Prince said that this should be done by the hand of the Town of Mansoul, that I may see, said he, the forwardness of my now redeemed Mansoul to keep my Word, and to do my Commandments; and that I may bless Mansoul in doing this Deed, Gal. v. 24. Proof of sincerity pleases me well, let Mansoul therefore first lay their Hands upon these Diabolonians to destroy them.

So the Town of Mansoul slew them according to the Word of their Prince: But when the Prisoners were brought to the Cross to die, you can hardly believe what troublesome Work Mansoul had of it to put the Diabolonians to Death (for the Men knowing that they must die, and all of them having implacable enmity

Colours, for the Town of Mansoul; and the Scutcheon was the dead Lion, and the dead Bear. So the Prince returned to his Royal Palace again.

Now when he was returned thither the Elders of the Town of Mansoul, to wit, my Lord Mayor, the Recorder, and the Lord Willberwill, went to congratulate him, and in special way to thank him for his love, care, and the tender compassion which he shewed to his ever obliged Town of Mansoul. So after a while, and some sweet Communion between them, the Townsmen having solemnly ended their Ceremony, returned to their place again.

He renews their Charter. Emanuel also appointed them a Day wherein he would renew their Charter, yea wherein he would renew and enlarge it, mending several faults therein, that Mansoul's yoke might be yet more easy, Heb. viii. 13. Mat. xi. And this he did without any desire of theirs, even of his own frankness, and noble mind. So when he had sent for and seen their old one, he laid it by, and said, Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away. He said moreover, the Town of Mansoul shall have another, and a better. An Epitome whereof take as follows.

I Emanuel Prince of Peace, and a great lover of the Town of Mansoul, do in the Name of my Father, and of my own Clemency, give, grant, and bequeath to my beloved Town of Mansoul.

First, Free and full forgiveness of all wrongs, injuries, and offences, done by them against my Father, me, their Neighbours, or themselves, Heb. viii. Joh. xvii. 8. 14.

Secondly, I do give them the holy Law, and my Testament, with all therein contained, for their everlasting comfort and consolation, 2 Pet. i. 4. 2 Cor. vii. 1. 1 John i. 16.

Thirdly, I do also give them a portion of the self-same Grace and Goodness, that dwells in my Father's Heart and mine.

Fourthly, I do give, grant, and bestow upon them freely the World, and what is therein, for their good or. iii. 21. 22. And they shall have that power over us shall stand with the Honour of my Father, my y, and their Comfort, yea, I grant them the benefits of Life and Death, and of things present and things to 1. This Privilege, no other City, Town, or Corpora- shall have, but my Mansoul only.

Fifthly, I do give and grant them leave, and free- ss to me in my Palace at all Seasons, there to make own their wants to me, and I give them moreover a wife that I will bear and redress all their grievances, b. x. 19, 20. Matth. vii. 7.

Sixthly, I do give, grant to, and invest the Town of nsoul, with full Power and Authority to seek out, and enslave, and destroy all, and all manner of Diaboons, that at any time, from whence soever shall be and straggling in, or about the Town of Mansoul.

Seventhly, I do further grant to my beloved Town of nsoul, that they shall have Authority not to suffer Foreigner or Stranger, or their Seed, to be free in, of the blessed Town of Mansoul, nor to share in the allent Privileges thereof. But that all the Grants, privileges and Immunities that I bestow upon the famous own of Mansoul, shall be for those the old natives, and Inhabitants thereof, to them, I say, and to their Seed after them, Eph. iv. 22. Col. iii. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. But all Diabolonians of what Sort, Birth, Country, Kingdom soever, shall be debarred a share therein.

So when the Town of Mansoul had received their cious Charter, (which in itself is infinitely more ge) they carried it to Audience, that is to the Mar-
-place, and there Mr. Recorder read in the pre-
-ce of all the People, 2 Cor. iii. 3. Jer. xxxi. 33. 1. viii. 10. This being done, it was had back to the Ca-
-gates, and there fairly engraven upon

Doors thereof, and laid in Letters of ld, to the end that the Town of Man-
- with all the People thereof, might see it always in their view, or might go where they ht see what a blessed freedom their Prince had be

Their Charter set upon their Castle-gates.

in themselves, and their love renewed to their great and good Emanuel.

But what joy! what comfort! what consolation think you, did now possess the Hearts of the Men of Manfoul; the Bells rung, the Minstrels played, the People danced, the Captains shouted, the Colours waved in the Wind, and the Silver Trumpets sounded, and all the Diabolonians now were glad to hide their Heads.

When this was over, the Prince sent for the Elders of Manfoul, and communed with them about a Ministry he intended to establish among them; such a Ministry that might open unto them, and instruct them in the things that did concern their present and future State.

For, said he, You of yourselves, without you have Teachers and Guides, will not be able to know, and if not to know, to be sure not to do the Will of my Father, Jer. x. 23. 1 Cor. ii. 14.

At this news, when the Elders of Manfoul brought it to the People, the whole Town came running together (for it pleased them well as whatever the Prince now did, pleased the People) and all with one consent implored his Majesty, that he would forthwith establish such a Ministry among them, as might teach them both Law and Judgment, Statute and Commandment; that they might be documented in all good and wholesome things. So he told them he would grant their Requests; and would establish two among them, one that was of his Father's Court, and one that was a Native of Manfoul.

He that is from the Court, said he, is a Person of no less quality and dignity than my Father and I, 2 Pet. i. 21. 1 Cor. ii. 10. Job. i. 1. Job. v. 7. And he is the Lord Chief Secretary of my Father's House, for he is, and always has been the Chief Dictator of all my Father's Laws, a Person well skilled in all Mysteries and knowledge of Mysteries as is my Father, or as my self is. Indeed he is one with us in Nature, and as to loving of, and being faithful to, and in eternal concerns of the Town of Manfoul.

And this is he, said the Prince, that must be your chief Teacher: For 'tis he, and he only that can teach you clearly in all high and supernatural things. He, and he only it is, that knows the ways and methods of my Father's Court, nor can any like him shew how the heart of my Father is at all times, in all things, upon all occasions towards Mansoul, (for as no Man knows the things of a Man, but that Spirit of a Man which is in him, Job. xiv. 26. Ch. xvi. 13. 1 Job. ii. 27. So the things of my Father knows no Man but this his high and mighty Secretary. Nor can any (as he) tell Mansoul how and what they shall do, to keep themselves in the love of my Father.) He also it is that can bring lost things to your remembrance, and that can tell you things to come. This Teacher therefore must of necessity have the preheminance (both in our affections and Judgment) before your other Teacher; his personal dignity, the excellency of his teaching, also the great dexterity that he hath to help you to make and draw up Petitions to my Father for your help, and to be pleasing, must lay Obligations upon you to love him, fear him, and to take heed that you grieve him not, 1 Thes. i. 5. 6.

This Person can put Life and Vigour into all he says; yea, and can also put it into your Heart, Acts xxi. 10. 11. This Person can make Seers of you, and can make you tell what shall be hereafter, Jud. v. 20. Eph. vi. 3. Rom. viii. 16. Rev. ii. 7, 11, 17, 29. Eph. iv. 30. 2. lxiii. 10. By this Person you must frame all your petitions to my Father and me; and without his Advice and Counsel first obtained, let nothing enter into the Town or Castle of Mansoul, for that may disgust and grieve this noble Person.

Take heed, I say, that you do not grieve this Minister, for if you do, he may fight against you; and could he once be moved by you, to set himself against you, against you in Battle Array, that will distress you more than if twelve Legions should from my Father's Court be sent to make War upon you.

But (as I said) if you shall hearken unto him shall love him; if you shall devote yourselves teaching, and shall seek to have converse, and to tain Communion with him, you shall find him times better than is the whole World to any: xiii. 14. Rom. v. 5. Yea, he will shed abroad th of my Father in your Hearts, and Mansoul will wisest, and most blessed of all People.

Then did the Prince call unto him the Old G man, who afore had been the Recon Mansoul, Mr. Conscience by Name, and him, that forasmuch as he was well in the Law and Government of the of Mansoul, and was also well spoken, and could nently deliver to them his Master's Will in all t and domestick Matters, therefore he would also him a Minister for, in, and to the goodly Town of soul, in all the Laws, Statutes, and Judgments famous Town of Mansoul. And thou must (said Prince) confine thyself to the teaching of Mor tues, to the Civil and Natural Duties, but thou m attempt to presume to be a Revealer of those hig supernatural Mysteries that are kept close in the of Shaddai my Father, for those things know no nor can any reveal them but my Father's Secretary.

Thou art a Native of the Town of Mansoul, b Lord Secretary is a Native with my Father; whe as thou hast knowledge of the Laws and Customs Corporation, so he of the things and will of my F

Wherefore, Oh! Mr. Conscience, although made thee Minister and a Preacher to the Tc Mansoul, yet as to the things which the Lord S knoweth, and shall teach to this People, there must be his Scholar, and a Learner, even as t of Mansoul are.

Thou must therefore in all high and superi things, go to him for Information; for though be a Spirit in Man, this Person's inspiration m him understanding, Joh xxxiii. 8. Wherefore; O Mr. Recorder, be humble, and remember tha

abelonians, that kept not their first charge, but left their own standing, are now made Prisoners in the Pit ; be therefore content with thy Station.

I have made thee my Father's Vicegerent on Earth, in such things of which I have made mention before. And take thou power to teach them to Mansoul, yea, and to impose them with Whips and Chastisements, if they shall not willingly hearken to do thy Commandments. His Power in Mansoul.

And Mr. Recorder, because thou art old and feeble, therefore I give thee leave and license to go when thou wilt to my Fountain, my Conduit, and there to drink freely of the Blood of my Grape, for my Conduit doth always run Wine, Heb. ix. 14. Thus doing, thou shalt drive from thy Heart and Stomack all foul, gross, and hurtful Humours. It will also lighten thine Eyes, and strengthen thy memory for the reception and keeping of all that the King's most noble Secretary teacheth.

When the Prince had thus put Mr. Recorder (that once so was) into the place and office of a Minister of Mansoul; and the Man had thankfully accepted thereof, then did Emanuel address himself to the Townsmen themselves.

Behold (said the Prince to Mansoul) my love and care towards you, I have added to all that is past, this mercy ; to appoint you Preachers, the most noble Secretary to teach you in all sublime Mysteries ; and this Gentleman (pointing to Mr. Conscience) is to teach you in all things human and domestick, for therein lyeth his work. He is not, by what I have said, debarred of telling to Mansoul any thing that he hath heard from the Lord high Secretary ; only he shall not attempt to presume to pretend to be a reveler of those high Mysteries himself ; for the breaking of them up, and the discovery of them to Mansoul, lieth only in the power, authority, and skill of the Lord High Secretary himself. Talk of them he may, and so may the rest of the Town of Mansoul as occasion gives them opportunity, pres

The Prince's Speech to Mansoul.

A Licence to Mansoul.

the

' them upon each other for the benefit of the whole
 ' These things I would have you observe and do, for
 ' is for your Life, and the Lengthening of your Days.
 ' And one thing more to my beloved Town of Mansoul
 ' soul; you must not dwell in, nor stay upon any thing
 ' of that which he hath in Commission to teach you
 ' as to your trust and expectation of the next World
 ' (of the next World (I say) for I propose to give ano' ther to Mansoul, when this with them is worn out)
 ' but for that you must wholly and solely have recourse
 ' to, and make stay upon this Doctrine, that is your ' Teacher after the first order. Yea, Mr. Recorder him' self must not look for Life from that which he him' self revealeth; his dependance for that must be found' ed in the Doctrine of the other Preachers. Let Mr.
 ' Recorder also take heed, that he receive not any Doc' trine or Point of Doctrine, that is not communica-
 ' ted to him by his superior Teacher, nor yet within
 ' the Precincts of his own formal knowledge.'

Now after the Prince had thus settled things in the famous Town of Mansoul, he proceeded to give the Elders of the Corporation a necessary caution, to wit,

He gives them
 caution about
 the Captains.

how they should carry it to the noble
 Captains that he had, from his Father's Court, sent or brought with him to the famous Town of Mansoul. ' These Cap-

' tains, said he, do love the Town of Mansoul, and
 ' they are Men pickt out of abundance, as Men that ' best suit, and that will most faithfully serve in the ' Wars of Shaddai against the Diabolonians for the ' Preservation of the Town of Mansoul. I charge you
 ' therefore, said he, O ye Inhabitants of the now flourish-
 ' ing Town of Mansoul, that you carry it not un-
 ' towardly to my Captains or their Men; since they ' are pickt and choice Men. Men chosen out of many,
 ' for the good of the Town of Mansoul. I say, I
 ' charge you, that you carry it not unowardly to them;
 ' for tho' they have the hearts and faces of Lions, when
 ' at any time they shall be called forth to engage and
 ' fight with the King's Foes, and the Enemies of men of Mansoul; yet a little discountenance cast on them from the Town of Mansoul, will deject them, cast down their faces, will weaken and take away their courage. Do not therefore carry it unadvisedly to my valiant Captains, and courageous Men of War, but love them, nourish them, succour them, lay them to your Bosoms, and they will not on any account fight for you, but cause to fly from you all those bolonians that seek, and will, if possible, be your destruction.
 ' To

If therefore any of them should at any time be sick and weak, and so not able to perform that office of war, which with all their Hearts they are willing to do, (and will do also when well and in health) Heb. 12. Isa. xxxv. 3. slight them not, nor despise them, rather strengthen them, and encourage them, though they are weak and ready to die, for they are your fence, and your guard, your walls, your gates, your locks, and your bars, Rev. iii. 2. 1 Thes. v. 14. And altho' when they are weak they can do but little, but rather need to be helped by you, (than that you should then expect great things from them) yet when well, you know what Exploits, what Feats of Warlike Achievements they are able to do, and will perform for you.

Remember, if they be weak, thy Town of Mansoul cannot be strong; if they be strong, than Mansoul cannot be weak: Your safety therefore doth lie in their strength, and in your countenancing of them. Remember also, that if they be sick, they catch that Disease of the Town of Mansoul itself.

These things I have said unto you, because I love your welfare, and your honour: Observe therefore, my Mansoul, to be punctual in all things that I have given in charge unto you, and that not only as your own corporate, and so to your Officers and Guard and Guides in chief, but to you as you are a People whose well-being, as single Persons, depends on the observation of the Orders and Commandments of their Lord. Next, Oh my Mansoul, I warn you of the

The holy War,

A Caution about the Diabolonians that yet remain in Mansoul.

of which, notwithstanding that mation that at present is wrought
 you, you have need to be warned wherefore hearken diligently unto am now sure, and you will know
 ter, that there are yet some Diab
 remaining in the Town of Mansoul; Diab
 that are sturdy and implacable, and that do while I am with you, and that will yet more am from you, study, plot, contrive, invent, an ly attempt to bring you to Desolation, and state far worse than that of Egyptian Bondage
 are the avowed Friends of Diabolus, therefo about you, Matt. vii. 21, 22. They used ther lodge with their Prince in the Castle, when lity was Lord Mayor of this Town, but since ming hither, they lie more in the Out-sides, an
 and have made themselves Dens, and Cav Holes, and strong Holds therein, Rom. vii. 18.
 fore, Oh Mansoul! thy Work as to this, w much the more difficult and hard; that is, mortify, and put them to Death, according
 Will of my Father. Nor can you utterly r selves of them, unless you should pull down th
 of your Town, the which I am by no means you should. Do you ask me, What shall we Why, be you diligent, and quit you like M serve their Holds, find out their Haunts, assau
 and make no Peace with them: Where ev haunt, lurk, or abide, and what terms of Peac
 they offer you, abhor; and all shall be well you and me. And that you may the bette them from those that are the Natives of M
 will give you this brief Schedule of the Nam
 chief of them; and they are these that follow
 Lord Fornication, the Lord Adultery, the L

The Names of some of the Diabolonians
 in Mansoul.

der, the Lord Anger, the Lov
 ousness, the Lord Deceit, the eye, Mr. Drunkenness, Mr
 Mr. Idolatry, Mr. Witchc

riance, Mr. Emulation, Mr. Wrath, Mr. Strife, Mr. Sedition, and Mr. Heresie. These are some of the chief, O Mansoul! of those that will seek to overthrow thee for ever: These, I say, are the Skulkers in Mansoul, but look well into the Law of thy King, and thou shalt find their Physiognomy, and such other characteristical notes of them, by which they may be known.

' These, O my Mansoul, (and I would gladly that you should certainly know it) if they be suffered to run and range about the Town as they would, would quickly, like Vipers, eat out your Bowels, yea poison your Captains, cut the sinews of your Soldiers, break the Bars and Bolts of your Gates, and turn your now most flourishing Mansoul, into a barren and desolate Wilderness and ruinous Heap. Wherefore that you may take courage to yourselves to apprehend these Villains wherever you find them, I give to you by Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill and Mr. Recorder, with all the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul, full power and commission to seek out, to take, and to cause to be put to death by the Cross, all manner of Diabolonians, wherever you shall find them lurk within, or without the Walls of the Town of Mansoul. I told you before that I had placed a standing Ministry among you, not that you have but these with you, for my four first Captains who came against the Master and Lord of the Diabolonians that was in Mansoul, they can, and (if need be) if they be required, will not only privately inform, but publickly preach to the Corporation, both good and wholesome Doctrine, Yea, they will set up a weekly, yea, if need be, a daily Lecture in thee, Oh Mansoul! and will instruct thee in such profitable Lessons, that if heeded, will do thee good at the end. And take good heed that you spare not the Men that you have a Commission to take and crucify.

A Commission to destroy the Diabolonians.

Now as I have set out before your Eyes the Vagrants and Runagates by Name, so

A Caution

‘ I will tell you, that among yourselves some o ‘ shall creep in to beguile you, even such as ‘ seem, and that in appearance are very wise
 ‘ for Religion. And they, if you watch not,
 ‘ you a mischief, such an one as you do not thin
 ‘ These will shew themselves to you in anot
 ‘ than those under the Description before. W ‘ watch and be sober, and suffer not thyself to be be

When the Prince had thus far new model
 Town of Mansoul, and had instructed them matters as were profitable for them to know ;
 appointed another Day, in which he intended the Townsfolk came together, to b further Badge of Honour upon the
 of Mansoul. A Badge that sho stinguish them from all the People
 dreds and Tongues, that dwell in the Kingdom
verse. Now it was not long before the Day a ed was come, and the Prince and the People
 the King’s Place, where first Emanuel made Speech unto them, and then did for them as said, and unto them as he had promised.

His Speech to Mansoul. My Mansoul, said he, that which am about to do, is to make you know World to be mine, and to distinguish in your own Eyes, from all false Traytors that may among you.

Then he commanded that those that waited
 him should go and bring forth out of his Tr
 those white glistering Robes, that I, said he, be vided and laid up in store for my Mansoul. So th Garments were fetched and laid forth to the
 the People, Rev. xix. 8. Moreover, it was to them that they should take them and put th
 So the People were put into white, into fine, l
 white and clean.

Then said the Prince unto them, This, O M is my Livery, and the Badge by which mine ar from the Servants of others. Yea, it is that *all that are mine, and without which no Man is d to see my Face. Wear them therefore for my o gave them unto you: and also if you would be

by the World to be mine.*

now! can you think how Mansoul shone? It was the Sun, clear as the Moon, and terrible as an with Banners.

Prince added further, and said, No Prince, Poor mighty one of Universe, giveth this Livery self: Behold therefore, as I said before, you shall own by it to be mine.

Now, said he, I have given you my Livery, let ye you also in commandment concerning them:
I be sure that you take good heed to my Words.

1. Wear them daily, Day by Day, lest you should ne times appear to others, as if you were none of Eccl. ix. 8.

2. Keep them always white, for if they be 'tis Dishonour to me, Rev. iii. 2.

*3. Wherefore gird them up from the Ground,
t them not be soiled with dust or dirt.*

4. Take heed that you lose them not, lest you naked and they see your shame.

5. But if you should sully them, if you should deem (the which I am unwilling you should, and the e Diabolus will be glad if you would) Rev. vii. 15, 7. Then speed to do that which is written in my that yet you may stand, and not fall before me, and my Throne, Luke xxi. 36. Also this is the way to that I may not leave you nor forsake you while but dwell in this Town of Mansoul for ever.

And now was Mansoul, and the Inhabitants of it as igniet upon Emanuel's Right-hand; where was now a Town, a City, a Corporation that could are with Mansoul! A Town redeemed from the
, and from the Power of Diabolus! A Town that ing Shaddai loved, and that he sent el to regain from the Prince of the 'Cave; yea, a Town that Emanuel dwell in, and that he sent for his

The Glor-
ous State
of Mansoul

Royal Habitation; a Town that he fortified for and made strong by the force of his Army. Shall I say! Mansoul has now a most excellent Golden Captains and Men of War, Weapons and Garments as white as Snow. Nor are these fits to be counted little, but great; can Mansoul them so, and improve them to that end and for which they are bestowed upon them?

When the Prince had thus compleated the King of the Town, to shew that he had great de the Works of his hands, and took pleasure in th that he had wrought for the famous and flo Mansoul, he commanded, and they set his S upon the Battlements of the Castle. And ther

First, He gave them frequent Visits, not a L but the Elders of Mansoul must come to him ( them) into his Palace, 2 Cor. vi. 16. Now the walk and talk together of all the great things had done, and yet further promised to do for th of Mansoul. Thus would he often do with th Mayor, my Lord Willberwill, and the honest sub Preacher Mr. Conscience, and Mr. Recorder. E how graciously! how lovingly! how courteous tenderly did this blessed Prince carry it towa Town of Mansoul! in all the Streets, Garden chards, and other places where he came, to be Poor should have his Blessing and Benediction he would kiss them, and if they were ill, h lay hands on them, and make them well. Tl tains also he would daily, yea sometimes he courage with his Presence and goodly Word you must know that a smile from him up would put more Vigour, Life and Stoutness in than any thing else under Heaven.

The Prince would now also feast them, and them continually; hardly a Week would pass but quet must be had betwixt him and them, i C You may remember that some Pages before, mention of one Feast that they had together, seast them was a thing more common;

th Manfoul was a Feast-day now. Nor did he, when they returned to their places, send them empty away, ther they must have a Ring, a Gold-chain, a Bracelet, a white Stone, or something; so dear was Manfoul to him now, so lovely was Manfoul in his Eyes.

A Token of Marriage.

A Token of Honour.

A Token of Beauty.

A Token of Pardon.

Secondly, When the Elders and Townsmen did not come to him, he would send much plenty of provision upon them; least that came from Court, Wine and meat that were prepared for his Father's Table: Yes, such Delicates would he send unto them, and therewith would so cover their Table, that whoever saw it, confessed that the like could not be seen in any Kingdom.

Thirdly, If Manfoul did not frequently visit him as he desired they should, he would walk out to them, knock at their Doors, and desire entrance, that Amity might be maintained betwixt them and him; if they did hear and open to him, as commonly they would if they were at home, then would he renew his former love, and confirm it to, with some new Tokens, and signs of continued Favour, Rev. iii. 20. Cant. v. 2.

And was it not now amazing to behold, that in that very place where sometimes Diabolus had his Abode, and entertained the Diabolonains, to the almost utter destruction of Manfoul, the Prince of Princes should sit sitting and drinking with them, while all his mighty captains, Men of War, Trumpeters, with the Singing Men and Singing Women of his Father, stood round about to wait upon them! Now

Manfoul's Glory.

did Manfoul's Cup run over, now did her conduits run sweet Wine, now did she eat the finest of Wheat, and drink Milk and Honey out of the Rock! Now she said, how great is his goodness! For since I found Favour in his Eyes, how honourable have I been!

The blessed Prince did also ordain a new Officer in the Town, Col. iii. 15. And a goodly Person he was, his Name was Mr. God's-peace; this Man was set over by Lord Willbe-will, my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, a subordinate Preacher, Mr. Mind, and over all the

Nai

Natives of the Town of Mansoul. Himself
 tive of it, but came with the Prince Emu Court. He was a great acquaintance of dence, and Captain Goodhope: some say t and I am of that Opinion too, Rem. xv. 1
 as I said, was made Governor of the To specially over the Castle, and Captain C
 help him there. And I made great Obse that so long as all things went in Mansoul
 natured Gentleman would, the Town wa
 py condition. Now there were no Jars,
 no Interferings, no unfaithful doings in al
Mansoul; every Man in Mansoul kept clo Employment. The Gentry, the Officers and all in place observed the Holy Concep- as for the Women and Ch
 tions, Good Town they followed their B Thoughts. ly, they would work and sin
 ing till Night; so that quite thro' the T
ful now nothing was to be found but He ernels, joy and health. And this lasted

The Story of Mr. Carnal-
 Security.

mer. But there was a Man of Mansoul, and his Name
nal-Security; this Man did, Mercy bellowed upon this bring the Town of Mansoul into great Slavery and Bondage. A brief Account of his doings, take as followeth

When Diabelus at first took Possession of Mansoul, he brought thither with him
 number of Diabolians, Men of his ow Mr. Self-conceit. Now among these there a

Name was Mr. Self-conceit brisk Man he was, as any that in those sels the Town of Mansoul. Diabelus tho
 this Man to be active and bold, sent him desperate Designs, the which he manage more to the pleasing of his Lord, than with him from the Dens could do. Wh in so fit for his purpose, he preferred

xt to the great Lord Willbe-will, of whom we oke so much before. Now the Lord Willbe-will n those Days very well pleased with him, and his Atchievements, gave him his er, the Lady Fear-nothing to Wife. Carnal - S - ecurity's Original.
of my Lady Fear-nothing did this
U-conceit beget this Gentleman Mr.

U-Security. Wherefore there being then in Man-
ose strange kind of mixtures, 'twas hard for them e cases, to find out who were Natives, who n t;
r. Carnal-Security sprang from my Lord Willb-
y Mother's side, though he had for his Father a Man by Nature.

all, this Carnal-Security took much His Qualities.
his Father and Mother, he was Self-
ed, he feared nothing, he was also a very busy
; nothing of News, nothing of Doctrine, nothing
iteration or talk of Alteration could at any time Foot in Manfoul, but be sure Mr. Carnal-Secu- ould be at the Head or Tail of it: But to be sure uld decline thote that he deemed the weakest, ood always with them (in his way of standing)
ie supposed was the strongest side.

w when Shaddai the mighty, and Emanuel his made War upon Manfoul to take it, this Mr. Car- curity was then in the Town, and was a great among the People, encouraging them in their lion, and putting of them upon hardning of them-in their resisting of the King's Forces; but when
v that the Town of Manfoul was taken and con-l to the use of the glorious Prince Emanuel; and he also saw what was become of Diabolus, and he was unrooted, and made to quit the Castle in eatest contempt and scorn, and that the Town
mfoul was well lined with Captains, Engines of and Men, and also Provision, what doth he, but about also; and as he had served Diabolus a-
the good Prince, so he feigned that he would he Prince against his Foes.

things by the end (being bold) he ventures him to the Company of the Townsmen, and attend to chat among them. Now he knew that the and Strength of the Town of Mansoul was great that it could not but be pleasing to the People, increased up their Might and their Glory. Wherefore

ginneth his Tale with the Po-
 How Mr. Carnal-Security begins the misery of Mansoul. Strengthen of Mansoul, and affirm it was impregnable. Now met the Captains, and their Slings, and

Rams, then crying up their Forts and strong Holds; and lastly, the Assurance, that from their Prince, that Mansoul should be never. But when he saw that some of the Me-
 Town were tickled and taken with this Discovemakes it his Business, and walking from S-Street, House to House, and Man to Man, he also Mansoul to dance after his Pipe, and to most as carnally secure as himself; so from talk went to Feasting, and from Feasting to Sport
 so to some other matters; (now Emanuel was the Town of Mansoul, and he wisely observdoings) my Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbe-
 Mr. Recorder, were also taken with the V-this tatling Diabolonian Gentleman; forgett-their Prince had given them warning before,
 heed that they were not beguiled with any Di-sight; he had further told them, that the se-
 the now flourishing Town of Mansoul did not lye in her present Fortifications and Force,
 so using of what she had, as might oblige E-nuel to abide within her castle. For the rigtrine of Emanuel was, That the Town of should take heed that they forget not his Father and his; also that they should so deem them-to continue to keep themselves therein. It was not the way to do it, namely, to fall in one of the Diabolonians, and with such an or-
 Mr. Carnal-Security was, and to be led up by the Nose by him: They should have b-

Prince, feared their Prince, loved their Prince, and have stoned this Naughty Pack to Death, and took care to have walked in the ways of their Prince's prescribing, for then should their Peace have been as a River, when their Righteousness had been like the Waves of the Sea.

Now when Emanuel perceived that through the Policy of Mr. Carnal-Security, the Heart of the Men of Mansoul were chilled and abated in their practical Love to him.

First, he bemoans them, and condoles their State with the Secretary, saying, O that my People had hearkened unto me, and that Mansoul had walked in my Ways! I would have fed them with the finest of the Wheat, and with Honey out of the Rock would I have sustained them. This done, he said in his Heart, I will return to the Court, and go to my place, till Mansoul shall consider and acknowledge their Offence. And he did so, and the cause and manner of his going away from them was thus:

Emanuel
bemoans
Mansoul.

The Cause was for that.

First, Mansoul, declined him, as is manifest in these Particulars.

1. They left off their former way of visiting of him, they came not to his Royal Palace as afore.

2. They did not regard, nor yet take notice that he came, or come not to visit them.

3. The Love-feasts that had wont to be between their Prince and them, though he made them still, and called them to them, yet they neglected to come at them, or to be delighted with them.

4. They waited not for his Councils, but began to be head-strong and confident in themselves, concluding that now they were strong and invincible, and that Mansoul was secure, and beyond all reach of the Foe, and that her State must needs be unalterable for ever.

Now, as was said, Emanuel perceiving that by the craft of Mr. Carnal-Security the Town of Mansoul was taken off from their dependance upon him, and upon his Father by him, and set upon what by them was be stowed upon it : He first, as I said, bemoaned state; then he used means to make them unde- that the way they went on in, was dangerous. I sent my Lord High Secretary to them, to forbid such ways ; but twice when he came to them, he them at Dinner in Mr. Carnal-Security's Parlour perceiving also that they were not ing to reason about matters conce their good, he took grief and we way. The which when he had to the Prince Emanuel, he was grieved also, and re- to his Father's Court.

They grieve the Holy Ghost and Christ.

Now the methods of his withdrawing, as I wa ing before, were thus.

1. Even while he was yet with t Christ with- draws not all at once. Mansoul, he kept himself close, and retired than formerly.

2. His Speech was not now, if he c their Company, so pleasant and familiar as formerly

3. Nor did he, as in times past, send to Mansoul his Table those dainty Bits, which he was wont to

4. Nor when they came to visit him, as now an they would, would he be so easily spok'n with, a found him in times past. They might knock once, yea twice, but he wou'd not at all to regard them ; whereas fi ly he would run, and meet them half and take them too, and lay them in his Bosom.

The work- ing of their Afflictions.

But thus Emanuel carried it now, and by th carriage he sought to make them bethink them and return to him. But alas ! they did not con they did not know his ways, they regarded not, were not touched with these, nor with the tru memorance of former favours, Ezek. xi. 21 E 15. Lev. xxvi. 21, 22, 23, 24. Wherefore what he but in private manner withdraw himself, first his Palace then to the Gate of the Town, and so from Mansoul he goes, till they should acknow their Offence, and more earnestly seek his Face his peace also laid down his Commission, an

Thus they walked contrary to him, and he again by way of retaliation, walked contrary to them, Jer. ii. 32. But alas! by this time they were so hardened in their way, and had so drunk in the Doctrine of Mr. Carnal-Security, that the departing of their Prince touched them not, nor was he remembered by them when gone; and so of consequence his Absence was not condoled by them.

A Trick put upon Mr. Godly-fear, he goes to the Feast, and sits there like a Stranger.

Now there was a Day wherein this old Gentleman Mr. Carnal-Security did again make a Feast for the Town of Manfoul, and there was at that time in the Town one Mr. Godly-fear, one now but little set by, tho' formerly one of great request. This Man Old Carnal-Security had a mind, if possible, to gull and abuse as he did the rest, and therefore he now bids him to the Feast with his Neighbours. So the Day being come, they prepare, and he goes and appears with the rest of the Guests; and being all set at the Table, they did eat and drink, and were merry, even all but this one Man: For Mr. Godly-fear sat like a Stranger, and did neither eat, nor was merry, which when Mr. Carnal-Security perceived, he addressed himself in a Speech thus to him:

Mr. Godly-fear, Are you not well? You seem to be of ill Body, or Mind, or both. I have a Cordial of Mr. Forget-good's making, which, Sir, if you will take, I hope it may make you bonny and blith, and so make you more fit for we feasting Companions.

Talk betwixt Mr. Carnal-Security, and Mr. Godly-fear.

Unto whom the good old Gentleman discreetly replied: Sir, I thank you for all things courteous and civil, but for your Cordial I have no list thereto. But a word to the Natives of Manfoul: You the Elders and Chief of Manfoul, to me it is strange to see you so jocund and merry, when the Town of Manfoul is in such a woful case.

Then said Mr. Carnal-Security, You want Sleep, good Sir, I doubt. If you please lie down and take a Nap, and we the mean while will be merry.

To

Then said Mr. Godly-fear as follows: Is not destitute of an honest Heart, you could have done, and do.

Then said Mr. Carnal-Security, Why?

Godly. Nay, pray interrupt me not.

Town of Mansoul was strong, and (as) impregnable; but you have weakened it, and obnoxious to its Foes; nor is it a time to you, Mr. Carnal-Security, that have striven and driven her Glory from her; you have pulled down her Towers, you have broken down her Gates, you have broken down her Locks and Bars.

And now to explain myself: From that time the strength of Mansoul has been now broken and is gone. If any shall doubt of my Words, I will answer him by like questions: Where is the Prince Emanuel did a Man or Woman in Mansoul see him, or hear from him, or taste any of his Bits? You are now a feasting with this Monster, but he is not your Prince; I thought Enemies from without, had you taken not have made a prey of you, yet since you are against your Prince, your Enemies within will be hard for you.

Then said Mr. Carnal-Security, Fie! Fie! Godly-fear, Fie! Will you never shake off your fears? Are you afraid of being Sparrow-baited? Hath hurt you? Behold I am on your side, and I am for being Courageous, and I am for being Confident, Is this a time to be sad in? A Feast of mirth; why then do you now, to your sorrow and trouble, break out into such passionate Language, when you should eat and drink merrily?

Then said Mr. Godly-fear again, I may say for Emanuel is gone from Mansoul: I see him no more, and you, Sir, are the Man that have brought him away; yea, he is gone without so much the Nobles of Mansoul with his going, and if that is no sign of his Anger, I am not acquainted with the methods of Godliness.

And now my Lords and Gentlemen, for my Speech is still to you, you gradually declining from him, did provoke him to depart from you, the which he did gradually if perhaps you would have been made sensible thereof and have been renewed by humbling of your selves; but when he saw that none would regard, nor lay these fearful beginnings of his Anger and Judgment to Heart, he went away from this place, and this I saw with mine Eyes. Wherefore now while you boast, your strength gone, you are like the Man that had lost his Locks the before did wave about his Shoulders. You may with the Lord of your Feast, shake yourselves, and conclude to do as at other times; but since without him you can do nothing, and he departed from you, turn your feast into a sigh, and your mirth into lamentation.

His Speech
the Elders
Mansoul.

Then the subordinate Preacher, old Mr. Conscience by Name, he that of old was Recorder of Mansoul, being startled at what was said, began to second it thus: startled.

Conscience

Consf. Indeed, my Brethren, quoth he, I fear the Mr. Godlyfear tells us true: I, for my part, have not seen my Prince a long season. I cannot remember the Day, for my part. Nor can I answer Mr. Godlyfear's Question. I am afraid that all is naught with Mansoul.

Godly. Nay, I know that you will not find him in Mansoul, for he is departed and gone, yea, and gone for the Faults of the Elders, and for that they rewarded his Grace with unsufferable Unkindnesses.

Then did the Subordinate Preacher look as if he would fall down dead at the Table, although all there present, except the Man of the House, began to look pale and wan. But having little recovered themselves, and jointly agreeing to believe Mr. Godlyfear and his Sayings, they began to console what was said.

They all
agast

curity was gone into his withdrawing Room, for he liked not such dumpish doings) both to the Man of the House, for drawing them into evil, and also to recover Emanuel's Love.

And with that, the saying of their Prince came very hot into their Minds, which he had bidden them to do such as were false Prophets that should arise to delude the Town of Mansoul. So they took Mr. Carnal Security,

They consult and burn their Feast-maker. and burning his House upon him with fire, for he also was a Diabolonian by nature.

So when this was past and over, they bespeed themselves to look for Emanuel their Prince, Cant 5, 6. And they sought him, but they found him not; then were they more confirmed in the truth of Mr. Godlyfear's Sayings, and began also severely to reflect upon themselves for their vile and ungodly doings, for they concluded now that their Prince had left them.

Then they agreed and went to my Lord Secretary, (him whom before they refused to hear, him whom they had grieved with their doings) to know of him, for he was a Seer and could tell where Emanuel was, and how they might direct a Petition to him. But the Lord Secretary would not admit them to a Conference about this matter, nor would admit them to his Royal Palace, nor come out to them, Isa. 63. 10. Eph. 4. 30. 1 Th. 5. 19.

And now was it a Day gloomy and dark, a Day of clouds and of thick darkness with Mansoul. Now they saw that they had been foolish, and began to perceive what the company and prattle of Mr. Carnal Security had done, and what desperate Damage his swaggering Words had brought poor Mansoul into. But what further it was like to cost them, that they were ignorant of. Now Mr. Godlyfear began again to be in repute with the Men of the Town; yes, they were ready to look upon him as a Prophet.

Thundering
in.

Well, when the Sabbath-day was come, they went to hear their Subordinate Preach

Preacher, but oh how did it thunder and lighten this Day ! His Text was that in the Prophet Jonah, They that observe lying vanities, forsake their own Mercies, Jonah ii. 8. But there was then such power and authority in that Sermon, and such a dejection seen in the Countenances of the People that Day, that the like hath seldom been heard or seen. The People, when Sermon was done, were scarce able to go to their Homes, or to betake themselves to their Plays the week after ; they were so Sermon-smitten, and also so Sermon-sick, that they knew not what to do, Heb. vi. 13.

He did not only shew Manfoul their Sin, but did tremble before them, under the use of his own, still crying out of himself as he preached to 'em, Unhappy Man that I am ! that I should do so wicked a thing ! That I ! a Preacher ! whom the Prince did set up to teach to

The Subordinate Preacher doth acknowledge his fault, and bewails his Compliance with Mr. Carnal-Security.

Manfoul his Law, should myself live senseless and foolishly here, and be one of the first found in Transgression. This Transgression also fell within my Precincts, I should have cried out against the Wickedness, but I let Manfoul lie wallowing in it, until it had driven Emanuel from its Borders. With these things he also charged all the Lords and Gentry of Manfoul, to the almost distracting of the n. lxxxviii.

About this time also there was a great Sickness in the Town of Manfoul, and most of the Inhabitants were greatly afflicted.

A great Sickness in Manfoul.

Yea, the Captains, also and Men of War, were brought thereby to a languishing condition, and that for a long time together ; so that in case of an Invasion, nothing could to purpose now have been done, either by the Townsmen or Field Officers, Heb. xii. 12, 13. Rew. iii. 2. Isa. iii. 24. Oh how many pale Faces, weak Hands, feeble Knees, and staggering Men were now seen to walk the Streets of Manfoul ! Here were Groans, there Pains, and yonder lay those that were ready to faint.

The Garments too, which Emanuel had given them were but in a sorry case; some were rent, some torn, and all in a nasty condition; some also did so loofely upon them, that the next Bush they car was ready to pluck them off.

After some time spent in this sad and desolate dition, the Subordinate Preacher called for a Day of Fasting; and to humble themselves for being so wi against the great Shaddai and his Son: And he de

that Captain Boanerges would Preach Boanerges doth Preach to Mansoul. he consented to do it, and the Day come, and his Text was this, Cut it d why cumbrest it the Ground? And a smart Sermon he made upon the Text. First, shewed what was the occasion of the Words, to because the Fig-tree was barren; then he shewed was contained in the Sentence, to wit, Repentanc utter Desolation. He then shewed also by whose thority this Sentence was pronounced, and that by Shaddai himself. And lastly, he shewed the Re of the Point, and then concluded his Sermon. But was very pertinent in the application, insomuch he made poor Mansoul tremble; For this Sermor well as the former, wrought much upon the Hear the Men of Mansoul; yea it greatly helped to kee wake those that were rouzed by the Preaching went before. So that now throughout the w Town there was little or nothing to be heard or but Sorrow and Mourning, and Woe.

They consult what to do. Now after Sermon they got toge and consulted what was best to be d

But said the Subordinate Preacher, I do nothing of my own Head, without advising my Neighbour Mr. Godlyfear.

For it he had asere, and understood more of the r of our Prince than we, I do not know, but he also have it now, even now we are turning again to Vi So they call'd and sent for Mr. Godlyfear, and he fc with appeared; then, they desired that he would ther shew his Opinion about what they had best Then said the old Gentleman as followeth, I

tion that this Town of Mansoul should is Day of her Distress, draw up and an humble Petition to their offended

Mr. Godlysear's Advice.

ce Emanuel, that be in Favour and Grace, will turn
 n unto them, and not keep his Anger for ever.

Then the Townsmen had heard this Speech, they with one consent agree to his advice; so they did ntly draw up their request, and the next was, who shall carry it? At last they did all agree to it by my Lord-Mayor. So he accept-f the Service, and addressed himself is Journey; and went and came to Court of Shaddai, whither Emanuel

They send the Lord-Mayor
 to Court.

Prince of Mansoul was gone, Lam. iii. 8, 44. But Gate was shut, and a strict Watch kept thereat, so the Petitioner was forced to stand without for a t while together. Then he desired that some would n to the Prince, and tell him who stood at the
 , and what his Business was. So one went and told Idai and Emanuel his Son, that the Lord-Mayor of Town of Mansoul stood without at the Gate of the y's Court, desiring to be admitted into the Pree of the Prince, the King's Son. He also told the l-Mayor's Errand, both to the King and his Son
nuel. But the Prince would not come down, nor it that the Gate should be opened, but sent an ver to this Effect, Jer. ii. 27, 28. They have turned back unto me, and not their face, but now in the
of their trouble they say unto me, Arise and save us.
can they not now go to Mr. Carnal-Security, to whom went when they turned from me, and make him their ler, their Lord, and their Protection? When now in trouble do they visit me, since in their Prosperity they astay.

his answer made my Lord-Mayor look black in face; it troubled, it perplexed, it rent him sore,
 . iv. 7, 8. And now he began again to see what it to be familiar with Diabolonians, such as Mr. Carnality was, When he saw that at Court (as yet) there little help to be expected, either for himself, c Frier

The Lord-Mayor returns, and how. Friends in Manfoul; he smote upon his Breast, and returned weeping, and all the way bewailing the lamentable State of Manfoul.

Well, when he was come within sight of the Town, the Elders and chief of the People of Manfoul went out at the Gate to meet him, and to salute him, and to know how he sped at Court. But he told them his tale in so doleful a manner, that they all cried out, and mourned, and wept. Wherefore they threw ashes and dust upon their heads, and put sackcloth upon their loins, and went crying out through the Town of Manfoul; which when the rest of the Townsfolk saw, they all mourned, and wept. This therefore was a Day of rebuke and trouble, and of anguish to the Town of Manfoul, and also of great Distress.

After some time, when they had somewhat refrain'd themselves, they came together to consult again what was yet to be done; and they asked advice, as they did before, of that Reverend Mr. Godlyfear, who told them, that there was no way better than to do as they had done, nor would he that they should be discourag'd at all with what they had met with at Court; yea, tho' several of their Petitions should be answered with nought but silence or rebuke: For, said he, it is the way of the wise Shaddai, to make Men wait, and to exercise patience, and it should be the way of them in want, to be willing to stay his leisure.

Then they took courage, and sent again, and again, and again, and again; for there was not a Day, nor an Hour, that went over Manfoul's Head, wherein a Man might not have met upon the Road one or other riding Post from Manfoul to the Court of King Shaddai; and all with Letters petitionary in behalf of (and for the Prince's return to) Manfoul.

Groaning desires.

The Road, I say, was now full of Messengers, going and returning, and meeting one another; some from hurt, and some from Manfoul, and this was the

of the miserable Town of Manfoul, all that long,
arp, that cold and tedious Winter.

if you have not forgot, you may yet A Memento.
ber that I told you before, that after el had taken Manfoul, yea, and after that he had modelled the Town, there remained in several g Places of the Corporation, many of the old onians, that either came with the Tyrant, when he d and took the Town, or that had thereby rea-unlawful mixtures their birth, and breeding, and ng up. And their Holes, Dens and lurking Places n, under, or about the Wall of the Town. Some ir Names are the Lord Fornication, the Lord

ry, the Lord Murder, the Lord Anger, the Lord
iousness, the Lord Deceit, the Lord Evil-eye, the Blasphemy, and that horrible Villain the old and ous Lord Covetousness. These with many more,
at their abode in the Town of Manfoul, and that Emanuel had driven Diabolus out of the Castle.

inst these the good Prince did grant a Commission
Lord Willbewill and others, yea, to the whole of Manfoul to seek, take, secure and destroy any,
that they could lay hands of, for that they were onians by Nature, Enemies to the Prince, and hat sought to ruin the blessed Town of Manfoul.

Manfoul did not pursue this Warrant,
glected to apprehend, secure, and Manfoul heed-those Diabolonians. Wherefore ed not the do these Villains, but by degrees Prince's Cau-ourage to shew themselves to the In- tion, nor put nts of the Town. Yea, and as I was his Commission into Execution.

ome of the Men of Manfoul grew niliar with some of 'em, to the sorrow of the Cor-
on, as you will hear more of in time and place.

ll, when the Diabolonian Lords per- The Diabolo-
that Manfoul had through Sinning nians Plot.
d Emanuel their Prince, and that withdrawn himself and was gone, what do the t the ruin of the Town of Manfoul. So th met together at the hold of one Mr. Mischief's, who also was a Diabolonian, and here consulted how they might deliver up Mansoul into the Hands of Diabolus again. Now some advised one way, and some another, every Man according to his own liking. At last my Lord Lasciviousness propounded some of those that were Diabolonians in Mansoul, to offer themselves for Servants to some of the Natives of the Town; for said he, if they do so, and Mansoul shall accept of them, they may for us, and for Diabolus our Lord, make the taking of the Town of Mansoul more easy than otherwise it would be. But then stood up the Lord Murder, and said, This may not be done at this time, for Mansoul is now in a kind of Rage, because by our Friend Mr. Carnal-Security, she hath been once ensnared already, and made to offend against her Prince, and how shall she reconcile herself unto her Lord again, but by the Heads of these Men? Besides, we know that they have in Commission to take and slay us wherever they shall find us; let us therefore be wise as Foxes; when we are Dead, we can do them no hurt, but while we live we may. Thus when they had tossed the matter to and fro, they jointly agreed that a Letter should forthwith be sent away to Diabolus in their Name, by which the state of the Town of Mansoul should be shewed him, and how much it is under the frowns of their Prince; we may also, said some, let him know our intentions, and ask his Advice in the Case. So a Letter was presently framed, the contents of which was this,

They send to Hell for Advice.

To our great Lord, the Prince Diabolus, dwelling below in the Infernal Cave.

O Great Father, and mighty Prince Diabolus, we the true Diabolonians, yet remaining in the Rebellious Town of Mansoul, having received our Beings from thee, and our Nourishment at thy Hands, cannot with content and quiet endure to behold, as we do this Day, how thou art dispraised, disgraced, and reproached among the Inhabitants of this Town; nor is thy long ab-

sen

since at all delightful to us, because greatly to our detriment.

The reason of this our writing unto our Lord is, that we are not altogether without hope that this Town may become thy Habitation again; for it is greatly declined from its Prince Emanuel, and he is departed from them; yea, and though they send, and send, and send after him, to return to them, yet can they not prevail, nor get good Words from him.

There has been also of late, and is yet remaining a very great sickness and faintings among them, and that not only upon the poorer sort of the Town, but upon the Lords, Captains, and chief Gentry of the Place (we only who are Diabolonians by nature remain well, lively and strong) so that through their great transgression on one hand, and their dangerous sickness on the other, we judge they lye open to thy Hand and Power. If therefore it shall stand with thy horrible cunning, and with the cunning of the rest of the Princes with thee, to come and make an attempt to take Mansoul again, send us word, and we shall to our utmost power be ready to deliver it into thy Hand. Or if what we have said, shall not be thought best, and meet to be most done, send us thy mind in a few Words, and we are all ready to follow thy counsel, to the hazard of our lives, and what else we have.

Given under our Hands the Day and Date above written, after a close consultation of the House of Mr. Mischief, who is yet alive, and hath his place in our desirable Town of Mansoul.

When Mr. Profane (for he was the Carrier) was come with this Letter to Hellgate-hill, he knocked at the Gate for entrance. Then did Cerberus the Porter, for he is the Keeper of that Gate, open to Mr. Profane, to whom he deliver'd his Letter which he had brought from the Diabolonians in Mansoul. So he carried it in, and presented it to Diabolus his Lord and said, Tidings, my Lord, from Mansoul; and fr

Mr. Profane is Carrier, he brings the Letter to Hellgatehill, and presents it to Cerberus the Porter.

The Holy War,

Then came together Belzebub, Lucifer, & with the Rest of the Rabble there, to hear what from Mansoul. So the Letter was read, and stood by. When the Letter was openly read, Contents thereof spread into all the Corners of the command was given, that without let or stop, man's bell should be rung for joy.

Dead-man's bell, and how it went.

Bell was rung, and the Princes :
that Mansoul was like to come to Now the Clapper of the Bell we:

Town of Mansoul is coming to dwell with us, me
for Mansoul. This Bell therefore they did ring, they did hope that they should have Mansoul ag

Now when they had performed this their Ceremony, they got together again, to consu answer to send to their Friends in Mansoul, an advised one thing, and some another, but at because the business required haste, they left th
business to Diabolus, judging him the most prop of the place. So he drew up a Letter in answer
Mr. Profane had brought, and sent it to the L
nians in Mansoul, by the same Hand that broug
to him: And this was the Contents thereof.

To our Offspring the high and mighty L
nians, that yet dwell in the Town of M
Diabolus the great Prince of Mansoul,
a prosperous issue and conclusion of thos brave Enterprizes, Conspiracies and that you of your love and respect to o
nour, have in your Hearts to attempt t gainst Mansoul.

Beloved Children and Disciples, my Lord F
tion, Adultery, and the rest, we have her desolate Den received to our highest Joy and your welcome Letter by the Hand of our trusty M
fane, and to shew how acceptable your Tidings w rang out our Bell for gladness; for we rejoiced
as we could, when we perceived that yet we be

by John Bunyan.

183

soul, and such as sought our Honour and Revenge
in of the Town of Mansoul. We also rejoiced that they are in a degenerated condition, and that we offended their Prince, and that he is gone.
ickness also pleaseth us, as does also your Health, and Strength. Glad also would we be, right beloved, could we get this Town into our Clutches.
Nor will we be sparing of spending our Wit,
ning, our Craft, and bellish Inventions to bring shed Conclusion, this your brave beginning in order

take this for your Comfort, (our Birth and our
g) that shall we again surprize it and take it, attempt to, put all your Foes to the Sword, and ke you the great Lords and Captains of the Place.
d you fear (if ever we get it again) that we at shall be cast out any more; for we will come re strength, and so lay far more fast bold than at we did. Besides, it is the Law of that Prince,
w they own, that if we get them a second time,
ll be ours for ever. Mat. xii. 43, 44, 45.

on therefore, our trusty Diabolonians, yet more
, and endeavour to spie out the Weakness of the f Mansoul. We also would that you your selves pt to weaken them more and more. Send us word what means we had best to attempt the regaining to wit, whether by Persuasion to a vain and e; or, whether by tempting them to doubt and or, whether by blowing up of the Town by the oder of Pride and Self-conceit: Do you also, O ye diabolonians, and true Sons of the Pit, be always adiness to make a most hideous Assault within,
e shall be ready to storm it without. Now speed your project, and we in our desires, the utmost of our Gates, which is the Wish of your great is, Mansoul's Enemy, and bid him that trembles
e thinks of Judgment to come; all the Blessings
it be upon you, and so we close up our Letter.

men at the Pit's Mouth by the joint Consent of all the Princes of Darknes, to be sent (to and power that we have yet remaining soul) by the Hand of Mr. Profane.

By me

This Letter was sent to Manfoul to the Dungeon that yet remained there, and that yet in the Wall, from the dark Dungeon of Diabolus, hand of Mr. Profane, by whom they also in sent theirs to the Pit. Now when this Mr. Profane comes had made his return, and was home again. Manfoul again, he went and came was wont, to the House of Mr. for there was the place where the Contrivers v Now when they saw that their Messenger was safe and sound, they were greatly gladdened. When he presented 'em his Letter, which w had read and considered, did much augment t nefs. They asked him after the Welfare of thei as how their Lord Diabolus, Lucifer, and did, with the rest of those of the Den. To v Profane made answer, Well, well, my Lords, well, even as well as can be in their place. I said he, did ring for joy at reading of your l you will perceive by this when you read it.

Now, as was said, when they had read the and perceived that it encouraged them in the they fell to their way of contriving again, to they might compleat their design upon Manfoul. the first thing that they agreed upon was to keep from Manfoul as close as they could. Let it not b let not Manfoul be acquainted with what we gainst it. The next thing was, how, or by w they should try to bring to pass the ruin and c of Manfoul, and one said after this manner, ther said after that. Then stood up Mr. D said, My right Diabolonian Friends, our Lord high ones of the Dungeon do propound ur three ways.

1. Whether we had best to seek its ruin by making Mansoul loose and vain.
2. Or whether by driving them to doubt and despair.
3. Or whether by endeavouring to blow them up with the Gun-powder of Pride and Self conceit.

Now I think if we shall tempt them to pride that may do something; and if we tempt them to Wantonness; that may help. But in my mind, if we could drive them into Desperation, that would knock the nail on the Head; for then we should have them in the first place, question the truth of the love of the heart of their Prince towards them, and that will distrust him much. This if it works well, will make them leave off quickly their way of sending Petitions to him; then farewell earnest solicitations for help and supply; for then this conclusion lies naturally before them, As good do nothing, as to do to no purpose. So to us. Deceit they unanimously did consent.

Then the next question was, but how shall we do to bring this our Project to pass? And 'twas answered by the same Gentleman, that this might be the best way to do it? even let, quoth he, so many of our friends as are willing to venture themselves for the promoting of their Prince's Cause disguise themselves with apparel, change their Names, and go into the market like far Country Men, and proffer themselves for Servants to the famous Town of Mansoul, and let them pretend to do for their Masters as beneficially as may be; for by so doing they may, if Mansoul shall hire them, in little time so corrupt and defile the Corporation, that her now Prince shall be not only further befuddled with them, but in conclusion shall spew them out of his Mouth. And when this is done, our Prince Diabolus shall prey upon them with ease: Yea, of themselves they shall fall into the Mouth of the eater.

This project was no sooner propounded, but was as readily accepted, and forward were all Diabolonians now to engage in the Enterprize; but it was not thought that all should do thus; wherefore they pitched up two or three, namely, the Lord Covetousness, the Lord Lasciviousness, and the Lord Anger: Covetousness called himself by the Name of thrift; the Lord Lasciviousness called himself by the Name of Harmless-mirth; and the Lord Anger called himself by the Name of Good-zeal.

So up in a Market-day they came into the place, three lusty Fellows they were to look on; they were cloathed in Sheeps-ruffet, which was now in a manner as white as were the walls of the Men of Mansoul. Now the Men of the Town understood the Language of Mansoul well. So when they came into the Market-place, and had offered themselves to the Townsmen, they were presented up, for they asked but little Wages, and performed their Masters great Service.

Mr. Mind hired Prudent-thrift, and Mr. Conscience hired Good-zeal. True, this Fellow Harmless-mirth hang a little in Hand, and could not so easily find a Master as the others did, because the Town of Mansoul was now in Lent, but after a while, being almost out, the Lord Willbewill hired mirth to be both his waiting Man and his Jester, and thus they got them Masters.

These Villains now being got into the Town, the Men of Mansoul, quickly began to do mischief therein; for being filthy, arch, and quickly corrupted the Families where they were; they tainted their Masters much, especially the Lord thrift, and him they called Harmless-mirth. That went under the Vizard of Good-zeal was disliked of by his Master, for he quickly found that he was but a counterfeit Rascal; which when the Lord Good-zeal perceived, with speed he made his escape from the Town, or I doubt not but his Master had hanged him.

Well, when these Vagabonds had thus far performed their design, and corrupted the Town as much as they could, in the next place they considered what they themselves, at what time their Prince Diabolus with them, should make their entry upon Mansoul: and they all agreed that a Market-day would be best for that work; for why? Then will the Townsfolk be busy in their ways: And always take this for a Rule, When People are most busy in the World, they least fear a surprize. We also then, said they, shall be able with less suspicion to gather our selves together for the work of our Friends, and Lords; yea, and in such a Day, if we shall attempt our Work, and miss it, we may, when they shall give us the rout, the better hide our selves in the croud, and escape.

These things being thus far agreed upon by them, they wrote another Litter to Diabolus, and sent it by the hand of Mr. Profane, the Contents of which was this.

The Lords of Looseness send to the great and high Diabolus from our Dens, Caves, Holes, and Strong Holds, in, and about the Wall of the Town of Mansoul; Greeting.

O UR great Lord, and the nourisher of our lives, Diabolus; how glad we were when we heard of your Fatherhood's readiness to comply with us, and help forward our Design in our attempts to ruin Mansoul! none can tell but those, who as we do, sit themselves against all appearance of good, when and where-soever we find it, Rom. vii. 21. Gal. v. 17.

Teaching the encouragement that your Greatness is pleased to give us to continue to devise, contrive, and study the utter desolation of Mansoul, that we are not solicitous about, for we know right well that it cannot but be pleasing and profitable to us, to see our Enemies, and them that seek our Lives, to die at our feet, or fly before us. We therefore are still contriving, and that to the best of our cunning, to make this Work most facile and easy to your Lordships, and to us.

First, we considered of that most hellishly cunning compacted three-fold Project, that by you was propounded to us in our last; and have concluded, that though to blow them up with the Gun powder of Pride were to well, and to do it by tempting them to be loose vain, will help on, yet to contrive to bring them into the Gulf of Desperation, we think will do best of all. Now we who are at your Beck, have thought of two ways to do this: First, we for our parts will make them as vile as we can, and then you with us, at a time appointed, shall be ready to fall upon them with the utmost force. And of all the Nations that are at your Whistle, we think that an Army of Doubters may be the most likely to attack and overcome the Town of Mansoul. Thus shall we overcome these Enemies, else the Pit shall open her Mouth upon them, and desperation shall thrust them down into it. We have also, to effect this so much by us desired design, sent already three of our trusty Diabolonians among them, they are disguised in Garb, they have changed their Names, and are now accepted of them, to wit, Covetousness, Lasciviousness, and Anger. The Name of Covetousness is changed into Prudent thrifty, and him Mr. Mind has hired, and is almost become as bad as our Friend. Lasciviousness has changed his Name to Harmless-mirth, and he is got to be the Lord Willbewell's Lacquey, but he has made his Master very wonton. Anger changed his Name into Good-zeal, and was entertained by Mr. Godly-tear, but the peevish old Gentleman took Pepper in the Nose, and turned our Companion out of his House: Nay, he has informed us since, that he ran away from him, or else his old Master had hanged him for his labour.

Now these have much helped forward our Work and Design upon Mansoul; for notwithstanding the spite and quarrelsome Temper of the old Gentleman last mentioned, the other two ply their business well, and are like to ripen the Work apace.

Our next project is, that it be concluded that you come upon the Town upon a Market-day, and that when they are upon the heat of their business; for then to be sure they will be most secure, and least think that an assault will be made upon them. They will also at such a time be less able to defend themselves, and to offend you in the prosecution of our Design. And we your tri (and we are sure your beloved) ones, shall when make your furious Assault without, be ready to second the business within. So shall we in all likelihood be able to put Mansoul to utter Confusion, and swallow them up before they can come to themselves. If your Serpentine Heads, most subtle Dragons, and our highly esteemed Lords, can find out a better way than this, let us quickly know your minds.

To the Monsters of the Infernal Cave, from the House of Mr. Mischief in Mansoul, by the hand of Mr. Profane.

Now all the while that the raging runnagades, and ellish Diablonians were thus contriving the ruin of the Town of Mansoul, they, to wit, the poor Town itself, was in a sad and woful case, partly because they had so grievously offended The sad state of Mansoul. Shaddai and his Son, and partly because that the Enemies thereby got strength within them afresh, and also because, though they had by many Petitions made suit to the Prince Emanuel, and to his Father Shaddai by him, for their Pardon and Favour, yet therto obtained they not one smile; but contrariwise, through the craft and subtilty of the domestick Diablonians, their Cloud was made to grow blacker and blacker, and their Emanuel to stand at further stance.

The Sickneſs also did still greatly rage in Mansoul, it among the Captains, and the Inhabitants of the Town, their Enemies, and their Enemies only were now lively and strong, and like to become the Head, whilst Mansoul was made the Tail.

By this time the Letter last mentioned, that was written by the Diablonians that yet lurked in the Town of Mansoul, was conveyed to Diabolus in the Blacken, by the Hand of Mr. Profane. He carried the Letter by Hellgate-bill as afore, and conveyed it by Cerberus to his Lord.

But when Cerberus and Mr. Profane did meet, they were presently great as Beggars, and thus they se ° Ah! Old Friend, quoth Cerberus, art thou at Hellgate-bill again! by St. Mary I am glad to see thee.

Talk between him and Cerberus.
Prof. Yes, my Lord, I am come
about the concerns of the Town of Mansoul.
Cerb. Prithce tell me, what condition is that Town of Mansoul in at present?

Prof. In a brave condition, my Lord, for us, my Lords, the Lords of this place I trow; for greatly decayed as to Godliness, and that's as our Heart can wish; their Lord is greatly out of wit and that doth also please us well. We have already a Foot in their Dish, for our Diabolonian Friends laid in their Bosoms, and what do we lack, but the Masters of the place? Besides, our trusty Friends in soul are daily plotting to betray it to the Lord of the Town; also the Sickness rages bitterly among them that which makes up all, we hope at last to prevail.

The said Cerberus, no time like this to assault I wish that the enterprize be followed close, the Success desired may be soon effected: Yes, it for the poor Diabolonians sakes that live in continual fear of their Lives in that Trayterous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. The contrivance is almost finished, the Mansoul that are Diabolonians are at it Day and night and the other are like silly Doves, they want be concerned with their State, and to consider that is their band. Besides, you may, yea, must think when all things together, that there are many reasons to wail with Diabolus to make what haste he can.

Cerb. Thou hast said as it is, I am glad thereof this pass. Go in, my brave Profane, to my Lord will give thee for thy welcome as good a Countenance as this Kingdom will afford. I have sent thy Letter already.

Profane's Entertainment.
Then Mr. Profane went into the presence of his Lord Diabolus met him, and said, Welcome, my trusty Friend!

have been made glad with thy Letter. The rest of the Lords of the Pit gave him also their Salutations. Then Profane, after Obeisance made to them all, said, Let Mansoul be given to my Lord Diabolus, and let him be her King for ever. And with that the yawning Gorge of Hell gave so loud and hideous a Groan (for that is the Musick of that place) that it made the mountains about it totter, as if they would fall in pieces.

Now, after they had read and considered the Letter, they consulted what answer to return, and the first that did speak to it, was Lucifer.

Lucif. Then said he, The first Project of the Diablonians in Mansoul, is like to be lucky, and to take; to wit, that they will by all the means they can, make Mansoul yet more Vile; no way to destroy a Soul like this; our old Friend Balaam went this way and prospered many Years ago, Num. xxxi. 16. Rev. ii. 14. Let this therefore stand with us for a Maxim, and be to Diablonians for a general Rule in all Ages, for nothing can make this to fall but Grace, in which I would hope that this Town has no share. But whether to fall upon them on a Market-day, because of their cumber in business, that I would should be under debate. And there is more reason why this Head should be debated, than why some other should; because upon this will turn the whole of what we shall attempt. If we time not our business well, our whole Project may fail. Our Friends the Diablonians say, that a Market-day is best, for then will Mansoul be most busy, and have fewest Thoughts of a surprize. But what if they shall double their guards on those Days, (and methinks Nature and Reason should teach them to do it) and what if they should keep such a Watch on those Days as the necessity of their present case requires? Yea, what if their Men should be always in Arms on those Days? Then you may, my Lords, be disappointed in your Attempts, and may bring our Friends in the Town to utter Danger of unavoidable Ruin.

Beel. Then said the great Beelzebub, There is some
I. 4.

Diabolus began to blow out his own Malice, and plead his own cause, and he said, My Lords and Fiers of the Cave, my true and trusty Friends, I with much impatience, as becomes me, given e your long and tedious Orations: But my furious G and empty Paunch, so lusteth after a re-possession my famous Town of Mansoul, that whatever comes I can wait no longer to see the events of lingering jects. I must, and that without further delay, see all means I can to fill my unsatiable Gulf with the and Body of the Town of Mansoul. Therefore me your Heads, your Hearts and your Helps, now am going to recover my Town of Mansoul.

When the Lords and Princes of the Pit saw the ming desire that was in Diabolus to devour the mi ble town of Mansoul, they left off to raise any more jectious, but consented to lend him what strength could: Though had Apollyon's Advice been taken, had far more fearfully distressed the Town of Mansoul. But I say, they were willing to lend him what strength they could, not knowing what need they might of him, when they should engage for themselves a Wherefore they fell to advising about the next to propounded, to wit, what Soldiers they were, and how many: with whom Diabolus should go against the Town of Mansoul to take it; and after some debate was concluded; according as in the Letter the Devilians had suggested, that none was more fit for Expedition, than an army of terrible Doubters. They therefore concluded to send against Mansoul, an army of sturdy Doubters. The Number tho

An Army of fit to be employed in that Service, Doubters raised between twenty and thirty thousand. to go against then the result of that great Council the Town of those high and mighty Lords was, Mansoul.

Diabolus should even now out of his beat up his Drum for Men in the Land of Doubt which Land lyeth upon the confines of the place of Hellgate-hill, for Men that might be employ'd to against the miserable Town of Mansoul. It w included, that these Lords themselves could help him in the War, and that they would to that end head and manage his Men. So they drew up a Letter, and sent back to the Diabolonians that lurked in Mansoul, and that waited for the coming back of Mr. Profane, to signify to them into what method they had put their design. The Contents whereof follow.

The Princes of the Pit go with them.

From the dark and horrible Dungeon of Hell, Diabolus, with all the Society of the Princes of Darkness, sends to our trusty ones, in and about the Walls of the Town of Mansoul, now impatiently waiting for our most devilish Answer to their venomous and most poisonous Design against the Town of Mansoul.

Y U R native ones, in whom from Day to Day we boast, and in whose Actions all the Year long we do greatly light ourselves: We received your Welcome, because of your highly esteemed Letter, at the hand of our trusty and dearly beloved, the old Gentleman, Mr. Profane. And we give you to understand, that when we had broken it open, and had read the Contents thereof (to your amazement, Memory be it spoken) our yawning hollow bellied ice, where we are, made so hideous and yelling a noise of joy, that the Mountains that stand round about Hellgate hill, had like to have been shaken to pieces at the sound thereof.

We could also do no less than admire your Faithfulness to us, with the Greatness of that Subtilty that now hath bewitched itself to be in your Heads to serve us against the Town of Mansoul. For you have invented for us so excellent a method for our proceeding against that rebellious people, a more effectual cannot be thought of by all the Princes of Hell. The Proposals therefore which now at last we have sent us, since we saw them, we have done little but highly approved and admired them.

Now, we shall, to encourage you in the profundity of your Craft, let you know, that at a full Assembly of

Conclave of our Princes, and Principalities of th
your Project was discoursed and tossed from one our Cure to the other by their Mightinesses, but
and as was by themselves judged, a more fit per way, by all their wits could not be invented prize, take and make our own, the Rebellious
Mansoul,

Wherefore in fine, all that was said that var
what you had in your Letter propounded, fill of the Ground, and yours only was stuck to by Diab Prince; yea, his gaping Gorge, and yawning
was on fire, to put your invention into Execution.

We therefore give you to understand that ou furious, and unmerciful Diabolus, is rising relief, and the ruin of the Rebellious Town of M more than Twenty Thousand Doubters, to come that People. They are all stout and sturdy Men, that of old have been accustomed to War; I se doing of this Work of his with all the speed he can,
his heart and spirit engaged in it. We desire t that as you have hitherto stuck to us, and given advice and encouragement, you still will prosecute sign, nor shall you lose, but be gainers thereby;
intend to make you the Lords of Mansoul.

One thing may not by any means be omitted,
those with us desire that every one of you tha
Mansoul, would still use all your Power, Cunni Skill, with delusive persuasions, yet to draw the Mansoul into more Sin and Wickedness, even that be finished and bring forth Death.

For thus it is concluded with us, that the m sinful, and debauched the Town of Mansoul is, a backward, will their Emanuel be to come to th
either by presence, or other relief; yea, the m ful, the more weak, and so the more unable will
to make resistance, when we shall make our assa
them to swallow them up. Yea, that may ca their mighty Shaddai himself may cast them o Protection; yea, and send for his Captains an home with his Slings and Rams, and leave t

and bare, and then the Town of Mansoul will of itself open to us, and fall as the Fig into the Mouth of the eater. Yea, to be sure that we then with a great deal of ease shall come upon her and overcome her.

As to the time of our coming upon Mansoul, we as yet have not fully resolved upon that, though at present some of us think as you, that a Market-day, or a Market-day at Night will certainly be the best. However, do you be ready, and when you shall hear our roaring Drum without, do you be as busy to make the most horrible confusion within, 1 Pet. v. 8. So shall Mansoul certainly be distressed before and behind, and shall not know which way to betake herself for help. My Lord Lucifer, my Lord Beelzebub, my Lord Apollyon, my Lord Leigon, with the rest salute you, as does also my Lord Diabolus, and we wish both you, with all that you do or shall possess, the very self same fruit and success for their doing, as we ourselves at present enjoy for ours.

From our dreadful Confinement in the most fearful Pit, we salute you, and so do those many Legions here with us, wishing you may be as hellishly prosperous as we desire to be ourselves. By the Letter Carrier, Mr. Profane.

Then Mr. Profane addressed himself for his return to Mansoul, with his Errand from the horrible Pit to the Diablonians that dwelt in that Town. So he came up the Stairs from the Deep to the Mouth of the Cave where Cerberus was. Now when Cerberus saw him, he asked how matters did go below, about, and against the Town of Mansoul.

Prof. Things go as well as we can expect. The Letter that I carried thither was highly approved, and well liked by all my Lords, and I am returning to tell our Diablonians so. I have an answer to it here in my Bosom, that I am sure will make our Masters that sent me, glad; for the Contents thereof is to encourage them to pursue their design to the utmost, and to be ready also to fall on within, when they shall see

Lord Diabolus beleaguering of the Town of Mansoul. But does he intend to go against them?

Prof. Does he! Ay, and he will take along more than twenty thousand all sturdy Doubters, of War, picked Men from the Land of Deceit to serve him in the Expedition.

Cerb. Then was Cerberus glad, and said, And such brave Preparations a making to go against the miserable Town of Mansoul? And would I might be at the Head of a thousand of them, that I might shew my Valour against the famous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. Your wish may come to pass, you look that has mettle enough, and my Lord will have a share of those that are valiant and stout. But my Buquiers haste.

Cerb. Ay, so it does. Speed thee to the Town of Mansoul, with all the deepest mischiefs that it can afford thee. And when thou shalt come to the House of Mr. Mischief, the place where the Diabolonians meet to Plot, tell them that Cerberus desires them his Service, and that if he may, he will lead his Army come up against the famous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. That I will: And I know that my Lords there, will be glad to hear it, and to see you also.

So after a few more such kind of Compliments, Profane took leave of his Friend Cerberus, and returned again with a thousand of their Parting Wishes, and in haste with all speed to his Masters. The which he had heard, he made Obedience, and began to stir up his Heels to run.

Thus therefore he returned, and went to the Town of Mansoul, and going as afore to the House of Mr. Mischief, there he found the Diabolonians assembled waiting for his return. Now when he was come, he had presented himself; he delivered his Letter, and joined his Compliment to them therewith: My Greetings from the Confiners of the Pit, the high and mighty Principalities and Powers of the Den salutary to the true Diabolonians of the Town of Mansoul.

for the great Service, high Attempts, and brave Achievements that you have put yourselves upon, for the restoring to our Prince Diabolus the famous Town of Mansoul.

This was therefore the present state of the miserable Town of Mansoul: She had offended her Prince, and he was gone; she had encouraged the Powers of Hell by her foolishness, to come against her to seek her utter Destruction.

True, the Town of Mansoul was somewhat made sensible of her Sin, but the Diabolonians were gotten into her Bowels; she cried, but Emmanuel was gone, and her cries did not fetch him as yet again. Besides, she knew not whether ever or never, he would return, and come to his Mansoul again; nor did they know the Power and Industry of the Enemy, nor how forward they were to put in Execution that Plot of Hell that they had devised against her.

They did indeed still send Petition after Petition to the Prince, but he answered all with Silence. They did neglect Reformation, and that was as Diabolus would have it; for he knew, if they regarded Iniquity in their Heart, their King would not hear their Prayer; they therefore did still grow weaker and weaker, and were as a rowling thing before the Whirlwind. They cried to their King for help, and laid Diabolonians in their Bosoms, what therefore should a King do to 'em? Yea, there seemed now to be a mixture in Mansoul, the Diabolonians and Mansoulians would walk the Streets together. Yea, they began to seek their Peace, for they thought, that since the Sickness had been so mortal in Mansoul, 'twas in vain to go to handy-gripes with 'em. Besides, the weakness of Mansoul, was the strength of their Enemies; and the Sins of Mansoul, the advantage of the Diabolonians. The Foes of Mansoul did also now begin to promise themselves the Town for a Possession; there was no great difference now betwixt the Mansoulians and Diabolonians, both seemed to be Masters of Mansoul. Yea, the Diabolonians increased and grew, but the Town of Mansoul diminished gre-

ly. There was more than eleven thousand of Men, Women, and Children, that died by the Sicknes of Manfoul.

But now, as Shaddia would have it, there was whose Name was Mr. Prywell, a great Lover of People of Manfoul. And he, as his manner was, go listening up and down in Manfoul, to see, and hear if at any time he might, whether there was design against it or no. For he was always a jealous

Man, and feared some Mischief some-
The Story of Mr. Prywell. would befall it, either from the Diabolonians within, or from some Power w

out. Now upon a time it so happened, as Mr. Prywell went listening here and there, that he lighted upon a place called Vile-hill in Manfoul, where the Diabolonians used to meet; so hearing a muttering (you know that it was in the Night) he softly drew near to hear; nor had he stood long under

The Diabolonians Plot discovered, and by whom. House-end, (for there stood a House there) but he heard one confidently affirm, That it was not, or would not be long before Diabolus should possess him self again of Manfoul, and that then the Diabolonians did intend to put all Manfoul to the Sword, would kill and destroy the King's Captains, and drive all his Soldiers out of the Town.

He said moreover, That he knew there were about twenty thousand fighting Men prepared by Diabolus for the accomplishing of this Design, and that it would not be many Months before they all should be ready to execute it. When Mr. Prywell had heard

Understanding Conscience. Story, he did quickly believe it was true; wherefore he went forthwith to my Lord

Mayor's House, and acquainted him therewith; and sending for the Subordinate Preacher, brake the business to him, and he as soon gave the Alarm to the Town, for he was now the chief Preacher in Manfoul because as yet my Lord Secretary was ill at ease.

this was the way that the Subordinate Preacher came to Alarm the Town therewith: The same

he caused the Lecture-Bell to be rung, so the People came together; he gave them then a short Exhortation to Watchfulness, and made Mr. Prywell's News the Argument thereof. For, said he, an horrible Plot is contrived against Mansoul, even to massacre us all in a Day; nor is this Story to be slighted, for Mr. Prywell is the Author thereof. Mr. Prywell was always a lover of Mansoul, a sober and judicious Man, a Man that is no tatter, nor raiser of false Reports, but one that loves to look into the very bottom of matters, and talks nothing of News but by very solid Arguments.

I will call him, and you shall hear him your own selves; so he called him, and he came and told his Tale so punctually, and affirmed its truth with such ample grounds, that Mansoul fell presently under a conviction of the truth of what he said. The Preacher did also back him, saying, Sirs, it is not irrational for us to believe it, for we have provoked Shaddai to Anger, and have finned Emanuel out of the Town; we have had too much Correspondence with Diablonians, and have forgotten our tender Mercies; no marvel then if the Enemy both within and without should design and plot our Ruin; and what time like this to do it? The Sicknes is now in the Town, and we have been made weak thereby. Many a good-meaning Man is dead, and the Diablonians of late grown stronger and stronger.

Besides, quoth the Subordinate Preacher, I have received from this good Truth-teller is one inkling further, that he understood by those that he overheard, that several Letters have lately passed between the Furies and the Diablonians, in order to our destruction. When Mansoul heard all this, and not being able to gainsay it, they lift up their voice and wept. Mr. Prywell did also in the presence of the Townsmen, confirm all that their Subordinate Preacher had said. Wherefore they now set afresh to bewail their Folly, and to a doubling of Petitions to Shaddai, and his Son. They also break the business

They take
the Alarm.

They tell the things to the Captains.

to the Captains, high Command
Men of War in the Town of Mansoul
entreating of them to use the m
be strong, and to take good c

and that they would look after their Harne make themselves ready to give Diabolus Battle by or by Day, should he come, as they are infor
will, to beleaguer the Town of Mansoul.

When the Captains heard this, they being true Lovers of the Town of Mansoul, what d
but like so many Sampsons, they shake themsel come together to consult and contrive how to those bold and hellish contrivances that were u Wheel, by the means of Diabolus and his against the now sickly, weakly, and much i rished Town of Mansoul; and they agreed up following Particulars :

1. That the Gates of Mansoul sh
Their Agree- kept shut, and made fast with Bi ment. Locks, and that all Persons that w er came in, should be very strictly examined Captains of the Gaurds, 1 Cor. xvi. 13. To t said they, that those that are managers of the mongst us, may either coming or going be and that we may also find out who are the gre
trivers (amongst us) of our Ruin, Lam. iii. 40.

2. The next thing was, that a strict search sh made for, all kind of Diabolonians, through whole Town of Mansoul; and that every Man from top to bottom, should be looked into, a too, House by House, that if possible a farther
very might be made of all such an ong them :
hand in these Designs, Heb. xii. 15. 16.

Mansoul, that a publick Fast, and a Day of Humiliation should be kept throughout the whole Corporation, to the justifying of their Prince, the abasing of themselves before him for their Transgressions against him, and against Shaddai his Father, Joel i. 14. Chap. ii. 15, 16. It was further resolved, that all such in Mansoul as did not on that Day endeavour to keep that Fast, and to humble themselves for their faults, but should mind their worldly Employments, or be found wandering up and down the Streets, should be taken for Diabolonians, and suffer as Diabolonians for such wicked doings.

5. It was further concluded then, that with what speed, and with what warmth of mind they could, they would renew their Humiliation for Sin, and their Petitions to Shaddai for help; they also resolved to send Tidings to the Court of all that Mr. Prywell had told them, Jer. xxxvii. 4.

6. It was also determined, that Thanks should be given by the Town of Mansoul to Mr. Prywell, for his diligent seeking of the welfare of their Town; and further, that forasmuch as he was so naturally inclined to seek their Good, and also to undermine their Foes, they gave him a Commission of Scout-master General, for the good of the Town of Mansoul.

When the Corporation with their Captains had thus concluded, they did as they had said, they shut up their Gates, they made for Diabolonians strict search, they made those with whom any was found, to do Penance in the open place. They kept their Fast, and renewed their Petitions to their Prince, and Mr. Prywell managed his Charge, and the Trust that Mansoul had put into his Hands, with great Conscience, and good Fidelity; for he gave himself wholly up to his Employ, and that not only within the Town, but he went out to pry, to see, and to hear.

Mr. Prywell goes a Scout-ing.

And not many days after, he provided for his Journey, and went towards Hellgate-bill, into the Cove where Doubters were, where he heard of all the

been talked of in Mansoul, and he perceived also that Diabolus was almost ready for his March, &c. So he came back with speed, and calling the Captains and Elders of Mansoul together, he told them where he had been, what he had heard, and what he had seen.

He returns with great News.

Particularly he told them, that Diabolus was almost ready for his March, and that he had made old Mr. Incredulity, that once brake Prison in Mansoul, the General of his Army; that his Army consisted of all Doubters, and that their Number was above twenty Thousand. He told moreover, that Diabolus did intend to bring with him the chief Princes of the Infernal Pit, and that he would make them chief Captains over his Doubters. He told them moreover, that it was certainly true, that several of the Black Den would with Diabolus ride Reformades, to reduce the Town of Mansoul to the Obedience of Diabolus their Prince.

He said moreover, that he understood by the Doubters, among whom he had been, that the reason why old Incredulity was made General of the whole Army, was, because none truer than he to the Tyrant; and because he had an implacable spight against the welfare of the Town of Mansoul. Besides, said he, he remembers the Affront that Mansoul has given him, and he is resolved to be revenged of them.

But the Black Princes shall be made High Commanders; only Incredulity shall be over them all, because he can more easily and dexterously beleaguer the Town of Mansoul, than any of the Princes besides, Heb. xii. 1.

Now when the Captains of Mansoul, with the Elders of the Town, had heard the Tidings that Mr. Pryswell did bring, they thought it expedient without further delay, to put into Execution the Laws against the Diabolonians, their Prince had made and given them in Commandment to manage against them. Wherefore forthwith a diligent and impartial search was made in all Houses in Mansoul, for all and all manner of Diabolonians. Now in the House of Mr. Mind, and in the House of the great Lord Willbewill, were two Diabolonians found. In Mr. Mind's House was one Lord Wetousness found, but he had changed his Name to udent-thrifty. In my Lord Willbewill's House, one asciviousness was found, but he had changed his Name to Harmless-mirth. These two the Captains and Elders of the Town of Manfoul took and committed to Custody, under the hand of Mr. Trueman the Gaoler; and this Man handled them so severely, and added them so well with Irons, that they both fell to a very deep Consumption, and died in the Prison; their Masters also, according to the Agreement of the Captains and Elders, were brought to do Penance in the open place, to their shame, and for a warning to the rest of the Town of Manfoul.

Now this was the manner of Penance in those days. The Persons offending being made sensible of the Evil of their doings, were enjoined open Confession of their faults, and a strict Amendment of their Lives.

After this the Captains and Elders of Manfoul sought it to find out more Diabolonians, where ever they lurked, whether in Dens, Caves, Holes, Vaults, or here else they could, in or about the Wall, or Town of Manfoul. But though they could plainly see their footing, and so follow them by their Track, and smell their Holds, even to the Mouths of their Caves and dens, yet take and do justice upon them they could not, their ways were so crooked, their Holds so strong, and they so quick to take Sanctuary there.

But Manfoul did now with so stiff an Hand rule over the Diabolonians that were left, that they were had to shrink into Corners: Time was when they first walk openly and in the Day, but now they were forced to embrace privacy and the Night: Time was when a *Manfoul*ian was their Companion, but now they counted them deadly Enemies. This change did Mr. Prywell's Intelligence make in the Town of Manfoul.

By this time Diabolus had finished his Army which intended to bring with him for the Ruin of M.

soul, and had set over them Captains, and other Officers, such as liked his furious Stomack best, self was Lord Paramount. Incredulity was General of his Army. Their highest Captains shall be named afterwards, but now for their Officers, Colours, Scutcheons,

1. Their first Captain was Captain Rage, he was Captain over the Election-doubters, his were the red Colours; his Standard-bearer was Mr. Destructive, the great Red Dragon he had for his Scutcheon, xii. 3, 4, 13, 15, 17.

2. The second Captain was Captain Fury, he was Captain over the Vocation-doubters, his Standard-bearer was Mr. Darkness, his Colours were those that pale, and he had for his Scutcheon the fiery Flaming Serpent, Num. xxi. 6.

3. The third Captain was Captain Damnation, he was Captain over the Grace-doubters, his were the black Colours, Mr. No-life bare them, and he had for his Scutcheon the Black-den, Matth. iii. 22, 23. Rev.

4. The fourth Captain was Captain Insatiableness, he was Captain over the Faith-doubters, his were the white Colours, Mr. Devourer bare them, and he had for his Scutcheon the Yawning jaws, Prov. xxvii. 20.

5. The fifth Captain was Captain Brimstone, he was Captain over the Perseverance-doubters, his also the red Colours, Mr. Burning bare them, and his Scutcheon was the blue and stinking flame, Psal. lxxv. 11.

6. The sixth Captain was Captain Torment, he was Captain over the Resurrection-doubters, his Colours were those that were pale, Mr. Gnaw was his Standard-bearer, and he had the Black worm for his Scutcheon, Mark ix. 44, 46, 48.

7. The seventh Captain was Captain No-escape, he was Captain over the Salvation-doubters, his were the red Colours, Mr. Restless bare them, and his was the ghastly Picture of Death, Rev. iv. 11. Chap. vi.

8. The eighth Captain was Captain Sepulchre, he was Captain over the Glory-doubters, his these were the Standards, these were their C and these were their Scutcheons. Now over th

the great Diabolus make Superior Captains, ar
were in Number seven: As namely, the Lord
bub, the Lord Lucifer, the Lord Legion, the L
pollyon, the Lord Pythou, the Lord Cerberus, a Lord Belial; these seven he set over the Captair
Incredulity was Lord General, and Diabolus was

The Reformades also, such as were like them were made some of them Captains of Hundred some of them Captains of more: And thus w
Army of Incredulity compleated.

So they set out at Hellgate-hill, (for there th their Rendezvous) from whence they came straight course upon their March towards the of Mansoul. Now as was hinted before, the Tow
as Shaddai would have it, received from the Mc
Mr. Prywell the Alarm of their coming Wherefore they set a strong Watch at the Gate
had also doubled their Guards; they also m

The streaming of their Colours were also terrible and dejecting to behold.

When Diabolus was come up against the Town, first he made his approach to Ear-gate, and gave it a furious Assault, supposing, as it seems, that his Friends in Mansoul had been ready to do the work within; but care was taken of that before, by the vigilance of the Captains. Wherefore, missing of the help that he expected from them, and finding of his Army warmly attended with the Stones that the Slingers did sling (for that I will say for the Captains, that considering the Weakness that yet was upon them, by reason of the long Sickness that had annoyed the Town of Mansoul, they did gallantly behave themselves) he was forced to make some retreat from Mansoul, and to intrench himself and his Men in the Field, without the reach of the Slings of the Town, James iv. 7.

He makes an Assault upon Ear-gate, and is repelled.

He retreats & intrenches himself.

Now having intrenched himself, he did cast up four Mounts against the Town; the first he called Mount Diabolus, putting his own Name thereon, the more to fright the Town of Mansoul, the other three he called thus, Mount Aleho, Mount Megare, and Mount Tisiphone, for these are the Names of the dreadful Furies of Hell. Thus he began to play his Game with Mansoul, and to serve it as the Lion his Prey, even to make it fall before his Terror. But, as I said, the Captains and Soldiers resisted so stoutly, and did so much Execution, that they made him, though against Stomach, to retreat: Wherefore Mansoul began to take courage.

Now upon Mount Diabolus, which was raised on the North side of the Town, there did the Tyrant set up his Standard, and a fearful Thing it was to behold, for he had wrought in it by devilish Art after the manner of his Scutcheon, a flaming flame, fearful to behold, and the Picture of Mansoul burning in it.

Diabolus his Standard set up.

When Diabolus had thus done, he commanded his Drummer should every night approach of the Town of Mansoul, and beat a Parle-mand was to do it a Nights, for in the Evening he annoyed him with their Slings; for the
that he had a mind to Parley with the n-Town of Mansoul, and he commanded the should beat every Night, that throughout the night at last (if possible, at the first the willing yet) be forced to do it.

So the Drummer did as commanded,
and did beat his Drum. But when his Drum one looked towards the Town of Ma- darkness and sorrow; and the light was d- Heaven thereof, Isa. v. 30. No noise w-upon Earth more terrible, except the voice when he speaketh. But how did Mansoi- now looked for nothing but forthwith to go up.

When this Drummer had beaten a Parley, this Speech to Mansoul, My Master has bid
that if you will willingly submit, you sh- all be good of the Earth, but if you shall be stub- born, I will be forced to take you by force. But by that he had done beating his Drum, the Peoplhad betaken themselves to the Captains of the Castle, so that there was none to receive this Drummer an Answer; so he waited further that Night, but returned again t-
to the Camp.

When Diabolus saw, that by Drumming he could not work out Mansoul to his Will, the next he sendeth his Drummer without his Drum,
that the Townsmen know that he had a mind t-
to take them. But when all came to all, his Parley was turned into a Summons to the Town to deliver up. But they gave him neither heed nor hearing, nor remembered what at first it cost them to hear his Words.

The next Night he sends again,

ould be his Messenger to Mansoul, but the terrible Captain Sepulcher; so Captain Sepulcher came up to the Walls of Mansoul, and made this Oration to the Town.

O ye Inhabitants of the rebellious Town of Mansoul! I summons you in the Name of the Prince Diabolus, that without any more ado, you set open the Gates of your Town, and admit your Lord to come in. But if you will still Rebel, when we have taken the Town by force, we will swallow you up as the Grave; where-ever if you will hearken to my Summons, say so, and if not, then let me know.

The reason of this my Summons, quoth he, is, for that your Lord is your undoubted Prince and Lord, as you yourselves have formerly owned. Nor shall that Assault that was given to my Lord, when Emanuel dealt so dishonourably by him, prevail with him to lose his Right, nor to forbear to attempt to recover his own. Consider then, O Mansoul, with thyself, wilt thou shew thyself Peaceably, or not? If thou shalt quietly yield up thyself, then our old Friendship shall be renewed; but if thou shalt yet refuse and rebel, then expect nothing but fire and Sword.

When the languishing Town of Mansoul had heard this Summoner, and his Summons, they were yet more put to their dumps, but made the Captain no answer at all, so away he went as he came.

But after some Consultation among themselves, as also with some of their Captains, they applied themselves afresh to the Lord Secretary for Counsel and Advice from him; for this Lord Secretary was their chief Teacher (as also is mentioned some Pages before) only now he was ill at ease; and of him they begged favour in these two or three things.

1. That he would look comfortably upon them, and not keep himself so much retired from them as formerly. Also that he would be prevailed with to give them a hearing while they should make known their miserable condition to him. But to this he told them as before. That as yet he was by ill at ease, and therefore could not do as he desired.

2. The second Thing they desired, was that he would be pleased to give them his advice now so important Affairs, for that Diabolus had set before the Town with no less than Thousand Doubters. They said moreover he and his Captains were cruel Men, and were afraid of them. But to this he said look to the Law of the Prince, and there see upon you to do.

3. Then they desired that his Highness would frame a Petition to Shaddai, and send his Son, and that he would set his own seal to, as a Token that he was one with them. He said they, my Lord, many a one have we sought for an answer of Peace, but now surely one will come unto it, may obtain good for Mansoul.

But all the answer he gave to this, was that he had offended their Emanuel, and had also grieved them, and that therefore they must as yet partake of devices.

This Answer of the Lord Secretary fell like a stone upon them; yea, it crushed them so, that they could not tell what to do, yet they durst not refuse with the Demands of Diabolus, nor the Demands of his Captain, the Prince. So then here were the Straights of Mansoul. The Town of Mansoul was betwixt, and her Enemy came upon her: Her Foes were ready to swallow her up, and her Friends did forbear to help her.

Then stood up my Lord Mayor, whose name was my Lord Understanding, and he began to speak, until he had picked comfort out of the Lord Secretary's bitterly saying of the Lord Secretary he discarded upon it: First, said he, This saying follows upon the saying of my Lord Secretary, we must yet suffer for our Sins. 2. But, these words yet sound as if at last we should overcome our Enemies, and that after a few more will come and be our help. Now the Lord Mayor was more Critical in his dealing with the Secretary's Words, because my Lord was more than a wit, and because none of his Words were such,

 as at all times they were most exactly significant, and the Townsmen were allowed to pry into them, and to expound them to their best Advantage.

They took their leaves of my Lord, and returned, and came to the Captains, to whom they told what my Lord High Secretary had said, when they had heard it, were all of the same Opinion as was my Lord Mayor himself; the Captains therefore began to take some courage unto them, and were ready to make some brave Attempt upon the Fort of the Enemy, and to destroy all that were Diabolists, with the roving Doubters that the Tyrant sought with him to destroy the poor Town of Mansoul.

They all betook themselves forthwith to their places, the Captains to theirs, the Mayor to his, the Subordinate to his, and my Lord Willbewill.

The Town
 of Mansoul
 in Order.

The Captains longed to be at some Work for Prince, for they delighted in Warlike Achieve-

The next day therefore they came together consulted, and after Consultation had, they resolved to give an Answer to the Captain of Diabo-listic Slings; and so they did at the rising of the sun the Morrow; for Diabolus had adventured to come nearer again, but the Sling-stones were to do him, like Hornets. For as there is nothing more terrible to the Town of Mansoul so terrible as the roaring of the Devil's Drum, so there is nothing so terrible to Diabolus
 as the well playing of Emanuel's Slings.
 Therefore Diabolus was forced to make another retreat, yet further off from the famous Town of Mansoul. Then did the Lord Mayor of Mansoul have the Bells to be rung, and that thanks should be sent to my Lord High Secretary by the Mouth of the Subordinate

ordinate Preacher; for that by his W<sup>o</sup> and Elders of Mansoul had been s<sup>er</sup> Diabolus.

When Diabolus saw that his Captai high Lords, and renowned, were frigh down by the Stones that came from th of the Princes of the Town of Manso himself, and said, I will try to catch t I will try to flatter them into my Net.

Wherefore after a while Diabolus again to the Wall, not now changes nor with Captain Sepulcher, his way. so besugard his Lips, he see Sweet-mouthed, peaceable Prince, de for Humours sake, nor to be revenge injuries by them done to him, but t Good, and Advantage of the Town a in, was now, as he said, his only Des after he had called for Audience, and Townsfolk would give it to him, he Oration: And said,

Obl the desire of my heart, the famo: soul, how many Nights have I watche my weary steps have I taken, if per: shie good, 1 Pet. v. 8. Rev. xii. 10. be it from me to desire to make War up: but willingly and quietly deliver up yo. You know that you were mine of old, M: iv. 6, 7. Remember also, that so long: for your Lord, and that I enjoyed you so: wanted for nothing of all the delight: of I, your Lord and Prince, could get fo: could invent to make you bonny and blis: der, you never had so many hard, dark, heart-afflicting hours, while you were: had since you revolted from me, nor st: Peace again until you and I become ou: der prevailed with to embrace me aga: me, enlarge your old Charter with ages, so that your License and Liberty shall be to take, hold, enjoy, and make your own all that is pleasant from the East to the West. Nor shall any of these Incivilities wherewith you have offended me, be ever charged upon you by me, so long as the Sun and Moon endureth. Nor shall any of these dear Friends of mine, that now, for the fear of you, lie lurking in Dens and Holes, and Caves in Mansoul, be hurtful to you any more; yea, they shall be your Servants, and shall minister unto you of their Substance, and of whatever shall come to hand. I need speak no more, you know them, and have sometime since been much delighted in their Company, why then should we abide at such odds? Let us renew our old Acquaintance and Friendship again.

Bear with your Friend, I take the Liberty at this time to speak thus freely unto you. The love that I have to you, presses me to do it, as also does the Zeal of my Heart for my Friends with you; put me not therefore to further trouble, nor yourselves to further frights. Have you I will, in a way of Peace or War; nor do you flatter yourselves with the Power and Force of your Captains, or that your Emanuel will shortly come into your help; for such strength will do you no pleasure.

I am come against you with a stout and valiant Army, and all the Chief Princes of the Den are even at the Head. Besides, my Captains are swifter than Eagles, stronger than Lions, and more greedy of Prey than are the Evening Wolves. What is Og or Bashan; what's Goliath of Gath! and what's an hundred more of them to one of the least of my Captains! how then shall Mansoul think to escape my Hand and Force?

Diabolus having thus ended his flattering, fawning, deceitful, and lying Speech to the famous Town of Mansoul, the Lord Mayor replied unto him as follows.

O Diabolus! Prince of Darkness, and Master of all Deceit; thy lying Flatteries we have had, and made sufficient Probation of, and have tasted too deeply of that destruc-

The Lord Mayor's Answer.

time Cap already; should we therefore again become thee. And so break the Commandment of our Shaddai, to join affinity with thee, would not our Father reject us, and cast us off for ever, and being cast out, can the Place that he has prepared for thee, Place of Rest for us! Besides, O thou that art and void of all Truth, we are rather ready to die by His Hand than to fall in with thy flattering and lying words.

When the Tyrant saw that there was little to be in Parrying with my Lord Mayor, he fell into hellish Rage, and resolved that again with his
 of Devils, he would another time assault the
 of Mansoul.

So he called for his Drummer, who beat up Men (and while he did beat, Mansoul did shake be in a readiness to give Battle to the Corporal
 then Diabolus drew near with his Army, and disposed of his Men. Captain Cruel, and Cap-Torment, these he drew up, and placed against gate, and commanded them to set down there for War. And he also appointed, that if need
 Captain No-trust should come in to their relief.
 Nose-gate he placed Captain Brimstone and Captai-pulcher, and bid them look well to their Ward on side of the Town of Mansoul. But at Eye-gate placed that Grim-faced one, the Captain Pass.
 and there also now he did set up his terrible dard.

Now Captain Insatiable was to look to the Carr of Diabolus, and was also appointed to take into study that, of those Persons and things that shou-
 any time as Prey be taken from the Enemy.

Now Mouth-gate the Inhabitants of Mansoul
 for a Sally Port, wherefore that they kept strong that was it, by, and out at which the Townsfolk
 send their Petitions to Emanuel their Prince;
 also was the Gate, from the Top of which the rains did play their Slings at the Enemies, so Gate stood somewhat ascending, so that the

them here, and the letting of them fly from that lacc, did much Execation against the Tyrant's Army; wherefore for these causes with others, Diabolus sought, if possible, to stop up Mouth-gate with Dirt.

Now, as Diabolus was busy, and industrious in preparing to make his Assault upon the Town of Mansoul without, so the Captains and Soldiers in the Corporation, were as busy in preparing within; they counted their Sings, they set up their Banners, they sounded their Trumpets, and put themselves in such order as was judged most for the Annoyance of the enemy, and for the Advantage of Mansoul, and gave their Soldiers Orders to be ready at the sound of the rumpet for War. The Lord Willbewill

so, he took the charge of watching against the Rebels within, and to do what he could to take them while without, or to stifle them within their Caves,

The Lord Willbewill plays the Man.

ens, and Hole in the Town-wall of Mansoul. And to ask the truth of him, ever since he did Penance for his fault, he has shewed as much Honesty and Bravery of Spirit as may be in Mansoul, for he took one Will, and his Brother Griggish, the two Sons of his Servant Harmless-mirth, who were taken to that Day, though the Father was committed to Ward, the Sons had a good time (telling in the House of my Lord) I

Jolley and Griggish taken and executed.

he took them, and with his own Hands put them on the Cross. And this was the reason why he hang them up, after their Father was put into the Hand of Mr. Trueman the Goaler, they his Sons began to play their Pranks, and to be tricking and toying with the Daughters of their Lord; nay, it was jealousied that they are too familiar with them, the which was brought to his Lordship's Ear. Now his Lordship being unwilling unadvisedly to put any Man to death, did not suddenly fall upon them; but set Watch and Spies to see if the thing was true; of the which he was soon informed, for his two Servants, whose Names were Find-out and Tell-all, caught them together in an uncivil manner more than once or twice and went and told their Lord. So when my Lord Willbewill had sufficient ground to believe the thing was true, he takes the two young Diabolonians; such they were, (for their Father was a Diabolon born) and has them to Eye-gate, where he raised a very high Cross just in the face of Diabolus, and his Army, and there he hanged the young Villain in defiance to Captain Puff-bope, and the horrid Standard of the Tyrant.

Names

Now this Christian Act of the brave Lord Willbewill did greatly abash Captain Puff-bope, discouraged the Army of Diabolus; put fear into the Diabolonian runagades in Manfoul, and put strength and courage into the Captains that belonged to Emanuel the Prince; for they without did gather and that by this very Act of my Lord, that Manfoul was resolved to fight, and that the Diabolonians with the Town could not do such things as Diabolus had hoped they would. Nor was this the only Proof of the brave Lord Willbewill's Honesty to the Town, nor his Loyalty to his Prince, as will afterwards appear.

Now when the Children of Prudent-thrifty, who dwelt with Mr. Mind, for Thrift left Children with Mr. Mind, when he was also committed to Prison, and their Names were Gripe, and Rake-all, the begat of Mr. Mind's Bastard Daughter (whose Name was Mrs. Hold-fast-bast) I say, when his Children perceived he

Mr. Mind plays the Man.

the Lord Willbewill had served them that dwelt with him, what do they but (lest they should drink of the same Cup) endeavour to make their escape: But Mr. Mind being wary of it, took them, and put them in hold in his House till Morning (for it was done over Night) and remembering that by the Law of Manfoul all Diabolonians were to die, and to be sure they were at least by Father's-side such,

lay, by Mother's Side too; what does he, but them, and puts them in Chains, and carries to the self same place where my Lord hanged o before, there he hanged them.

The Townsmen also took great Encouragement at the sight of Mr. Mind, and did what they could to taken some more of these Diabolonian Troublers in soul; but at that Time the rest lay so close, they could not be apprehended; so they set them a diligent Watch, and went every Man Place.

Old you a little before, that Diabolus and his were somewhat abash'd and discouraged at the sight of what my Lord Willbewill did, when he hang'd those two young Diabolonians; but his Discouragement quickly turned itself into furious Madness, rage against the Town of Mansoul, and fight it would. Also the Townsmen and Captains with they had their Hopes and their Expectation heightened, believing at last the Day would be theirs, so feared them the less. Their Subordinate Preacher, made a Sermon about it, and he took that for his Text, Gad, a Troop shall overcome him, shall over-come at the last. Wherefore he shewed, though Mansoul should be sorely put to it at the yet the Victory should most certainly be Man's at the last, Gen. lxix. 19.

Diabolus commanded that his Drummer should be in Charge against the Town, and the Captains that were in the Town sounded a Charge against him; but they had no Drum, they were Trumpets, never with which they sounded against them. The trumpet which were of the Camp of Diabolus came to the Town to take it, and the Captains in battle, with the Slingers at Mouth-gate played them amain. And now there was nothing in the Camp of Diabolus but horrible Rage, blasphemy; but in the Town good Words, Praying and Singing of Psalms: The Enemy replied with more Objections, and the Terribleness of the Drum; but the Town made answer with the flapping of their Slings, and the melodious noise of their Trumpets. And thus the fight lasted for several days together, only now and then they had some small Intermission, in which the Townsmen refreshed themselves, and the Captains made ready for another Assault.

The Captains of Emanuel were clad in Silver Armour, and the Soldiers in that, which was of Proof; the Soldiers of Diabolus were clad in Iron, which was made to give place to Emanuel's Engine shot. In the Town some were hurt, and some were greatly wounded. Now the worst on't was, a Chirurgeon was scarce in Mansoul, for that Emanuel at present was absent, Rev. xxii. 2. Psal. xxxviii. 5. Howbeit, with the leaves of a Tree the wounded were kept from dying; yet their Wounds did greatly putrify, and some did grievously stink. Of the Townsmen these were wounded, to wit,

Who of Mansoul were wounded.

My Lord Reason, he was wounded in the Head.

Another that was wounded, was the brave Lord Mayor, he was wounded in the Eye.

Another that was wounded, was Mr. Mind, he received his Wound about the Stomach.

The honest Subordinate Preacher also, he received a Shot not far off the Heart, but none of these were Mortal.

Hopeful Thoughts.

Many also of the inferior sort were not only wounded, but slain outright.

Who in the Camp of Diabolus were Wounded and Slain.

Now in the Camp of Diabolus were wounded and slain a considerable number. For instance,

Captain Rage he was wounded, and so was Captain Cruel.

Captain Damnation was made to retreat, and to intrench himself further off of Mansoul; the Standard also of Diabolus was beaten down, and Standard-bearer Captain Much-burt, had his Brains beat out with a Sling-stone, to the no little grief and Shame of his Prince Diabolus.

Many also of the Doubters were slain out-right, though enough of them were left alive to make Mansoul shake and totter. Now the Victory that Day being turned to Mansoul, did put great Valour into the Townsmen and Captains, and did cover Diabolus's Camp with a Cloud, but with all it made them far more furious. So the next Day Mansoul rested and commanded that the Bells should be rung, the Trumpets also joyfully sounded, and the Captains shouted round the Town.

The Victory did turn that day to Mansoul, &c.

My Lord Willbewill also was not idle, but did notable Service within against the Domesticks, or the Diabolonians, that were in the Town, not only by keeping of them in awe, for he lighted on one at last, whose Name was Mr. Anything, a Fellow of whom mention

My Lord Willbewill taketh one Anything, and one Loose-foot, and committeth them to ward.

was made before, for 'twas he, if you remember, that brought the three Fellows to Diabolus, whom the Diabolonians took out of Captain Boanerges Companies, and that persuaded them to Lift themselves under the Tyrant, to fight against the Army of Shaddai; my Lord Willbewill did also take a notable Diabolonian, whose Name was Loosefoot; this Loosefoot was a Scout to the Vagabonds in Mansoul, and that did use to carry Tidings out of Mansoul to the Camp, and out of the Camp to those of the Enemies in Mansoul; both these my Lord sent away safe to Mr. Trueman the Goalor, with a Commandment to keep them in Irons; for he intended then to have them out to be Crucified, when it would be for the best to the Corporation, and most for the discouragement of the Camp of the Enemies.

My Lord Mayor also, thought he could not stir about so much as formerly, because of the Wound that he lately received, yet gave he out orders to all the

The Holy War,

that were the Natives of Mansoul, to look to their Watch, and stand upon their Guard, and as occasions should offer, to prove themselves Men.

Mr. Conscience the Preacher, he also did his utmost to keep all his good Documents alive upon the Hearts of the People of Mansoul.

The Captains
consult to fall
upon the Enemy.

Well, a while after, the Captains and stout ones of the Town of Mansoul agreed, and resolved upon a time to make a Sally out upon the Camp of Diabolus, and this must be done in the Night, and there was the folly of Mansoul (for the Night is always the best for the Enemy, but the worst for Mansoul to fight in) but yet they would do it, their Courage was so high; their last Victory also still stuck in their Memories.

The fight in the Night.
Who do lead
the Van.

So the Night appointed being come, the Prince's brave Captains cast Lots who should lead the Van in this new and desperate Expedition against Diabolus, and against his Diabolonian Army, and the Lot fell to Captain Credence, to Captain Experience, and to Captain Good-hope to lead the Forlorn-hope. (This Captain Experience the Prince created such when himself did reside in the Town of Mansoul) so as I said, they made their

How they fall
on.

Sally out upon the Army that lay in the Siege against them; and their hap was to fall in with the main Body of their Enemies. Now Diabolus and his Men being expertly accustomed to Night-work, took the Alarm presently, and were as ready to give the Battle, as if they had sent them word of their coming. Wherefore to it they went amain, and blows were hard on every side, the Hell-Drum also was beat most furiously, while the Trumpets of the Prince most sweetly sounded. And thus the Battle was joined, and Captain Insatiable looked to the Enemies Carriages, and waited when he should

The Prince's Captains fought it stoutly, beyond what indeed could be expected they should; they wounded many, they made the whole Army of Diabolus to make a retreat. But I cannot tell how, but the brave Captain Credence, Captain Good-hope, and Captain Experience, as they were upon the pursuit, cutting down, and following hard after the Enemy in the Rear, Captain Credence stumbled and fell, by which fall he caught so great a hurt, that he could not rise, till Captain Experience did help him up, at which their Men were put in disorder; the Captain also was so full of Pain, that he could not forbear but aloud to cry out; at this, the other two Captains fainted, supposing that Captain Credence had received his Mortal Wound: Their Men also were more disordered, and had no mind to fight. Now Diabolus being very observing, thought at this time as yet he was put to the worst, perceiving that an Halt was made among the Men that were the Pursuers, what does he, but taking it for granted, that the Captains were either wounded or dead: He therefore at first makes a stand, then faces about, and so comes up upon the Prince's Army with as much of his fury as Hell could help him to, and his hap was to fall in just among the three Captains; Captain Credence, Captain Good-hope, and Captain Experience, and did cut, wound, and pierce them so dreadfully, that what through Discouragement, what through Disorder, and what through the Wounds that now they had received, and also the loss of much Blood, they scarce were able, though they had for their Power the three best Bands in Manfoul, to get safe into the Town again.

They fight bravely.

Captain Credence hurt.

The rest of the Captains faint.

Diabolus takes courage.

The Prince's Forces beaten.

Now when the Body of the Prince's Army saw how these three Captains were put to the worst, they thought it their Wisdom to make as safe and good Retu

Retreat as they could, and so returned by the Sally-port again, and so there was an end of the present

Diabolus flusht. Action. But Diabolus was so flusht, with this Night's work, that he promised himself in a few Days, an easy and compleat Conquest over the Town of Mansoul; wherefore on the Day following he comes up to the sides thereof with

He demands great Boldness, and demands Entrance, the Town. and that forthwith they deliver themselves up to his Government. (The Diabolonians too that were within, they began to be somewhat brisk, as we shall shew afterward )

But the valiant Lord Mayor replied, The Mayor's Answer. That what he got he must get by Force; for as long as Emanuel their Prince was alive (though he at present was not so with them as they wisht) they should never consent to yield Mansoul up to another.

And with that the Lord Willbewill Brave Willbewill's Speech. stood up, and said, Diabolus, Thou Master of the Den, and Enemy to all that is good, we poor Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul, are too well acquainted with thy Rule and Government, and with the end of those things that for certain will follow submitting to thee, to do it. Wherefore, though a while we were without Knowledge, we suffered thee to take us (as the Bird that saw not the Snare, fell into the Hands of the Fowler) yet since we have been turned from Darkness to Light, we have also been turned from the Power of Satan to God. And though through thy Subtilty, and the Subtilty of the Diabolonians within, we have sustained much Loss, and also plunged ourselves into much Perplexity, yet give up ourselves, lay down our Arms, and yield to so horrid a Tyrant as thou, we will not; die upon the place we chuse rather to do. Besides, we have hopes that in time Deliverance will come from Court unto us, and therefore we yet will maintain a War against thee.

This brave Speech of the Lord Willbewill, with this that also of the Lord Mayor did somewhat abate the boldness of Diabolus, though it kindled the Fury of his Rage.

The Captains encouraged.

It also encouraged the Townsmen and Captains; yea, it was as a Plaister to the brave Captain Credence his Wound; for you must know that a brave Speech now, when the Captains of the Town, with their Men of War, came home Routed, and when the Enemy took courage and boldness at the Success that he had obtained, to draw up to the Walls, and demand Entrance, as he did, was in season and also advantageous.

The Lord Willbewill also did play the Man within, for while the Captains and Soldiers were in the Field, he was in Arms in the Town, and wherever by him there was a Diabolanian found, they were forced to feel the Weight of his heavy Hand, and also the edge of his penetrating Sword; many therefore of the Diabolanians he wounded, as the Lord Cavil, the Lord Brisk, the Lord Pragmatick, the Lord Murmur; several also of the meaner sort he did sorely maim; though there cannot at this time an Account be given you of any that he slew outright. The Cause, or rather the Advantage that my Lord Willbewill had at this time to do thus, was, for that the Captains were gone out to fight the Enemy in the Field. For now, thought the Diabolanians within, is our time to stir and make an Uproar in the Town; what do they therefore but quickly get themselves into a Body, and fall forthwith to Hurricaning in Manfoul, as if now nothing but Whirlwind and Tempest should be there;

Willbewill's Gallantry.

wherefore, as I said, he takes this Opportunity to fall in among them with his Men, cutting and slashing with courage that was undaunted; at which the Diabolanians with all haste dispersed themselves to their Holds, and my Lord to his place as before.

This brave Act of my Lord did somewhat revenge the wrong done by Diabolus to the Captains, and also did let them know, that Manfoul was not to pa

Nothing like
Faith to crush
Diabolus.

parted with, for the loss of a V
two; wherefore the Wing of rant was clipt again, as to be mean, in comparison of what have done if the Diabolonians had put the

the same Plight to which he had put the Cap

Well, Diabolus yet resolves to have the o
with Manfoul; for, thought he, since I b
once, I may beat them twice: Wherefore
manded his Men to be ready at such an Ho Night to make a fresh Assault upon the T he gave it out in special, that they should

He tries what he can do upon
the sense and seeking of the Christian.

there Force against Feel-gate
tempt to break into the Town that: The Word that then he
to his Officers and Soldiers w
fire. And, said he, if we bre
on them, as I wish we do, eit

some, or with all our Force, let them that look to it, that they forget not the Word.

nothing be heard in the Town of Manfoul, I fire, Hill fire, Hell-fire. The Drummer wa beat without ceasing, and the Standard bea to display their Colours; the Soldiers too w on what courage they could, and to see played Manfully their Parts against the Tow

So the Night was come, and all things b rant made ready for the Work, he suddenl his Assault upon Feel-gate, and after he had struggled there, he throws the Gates wide o
the Truth is, those Gates were but weak, an easily made to yield. When Diabolus had made his Attempt, he placed his Captain Tormens and No-case there; so he attempted forward, but the Prince's Captains came do him, and made his entrance more difficult
desired. And to speak truth, they made w ance they could; but the three of their best valiant Captains being Wounded, and Wounds made much uncapable of doing that Service they would (and all the rest having more than their Hands full of the Doubters, and their Captains that did follow Diabolus) they were over-powered with Force, nor could they keep them out of the Town. Wherefore the Prince's Men and their Captains betock themselves to the Castle, as to the stronghold of the Town : And this they did, partly for their own security, partly for the security of the Town, and partly, or rather chiefly, to preserve to Emanuel the Prerogative Royal of Mansoul, for so was the Castle of Mansoul.

The Captains therefore being fled into the Castle, the Enemy, without much resistance, possess themselves of the rest of the Town, and spreading themselves as they went, into every Corner, they cried out as they marched, according to the Command of the Tyrant, Hell-fire, Heli-fire, Hell-fire ; so that nothing for a while throughout the Town of Mansoul could be heard but the direful Noise of Hell-fire together with the Roaring of Diabolus's Drum. And now did the Clouds hang black over Mansoul, nor, to Reason, did any thing but Ruin seem to attend it. Diabolus also quartered his Soldiers in the Houses of the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul. Yea, the Subordinate Preacher's House was as full of these Outlandish Doubters, as ever it could hold ; and so was my Lord Mayor's, and my Lord Willbewill's also. Yea, where was there a Corner, a Cottage, a Barn, or a Hogstie, that now was not full of these Vermin ? Yea, they turned the Men of the Town out of their Houses, and would lie in their Beds, and sit at their Tables themselves. Ah, poor Mansoul ! now thou seekest the Fruits of Sin, and what Venom was in the flattering Words of Mr. Carnal Security ! They made great Havock of whatever they laid their Hands on ; yea, they fired the Town in several Places ; many young Children also were by them dashed in pieces, yea, those that were yet unborn they destroyed in their Mother's Wombs ; For you must needs think that it could not now be otherwise ; for what C science; what Pity, what Bowels of Compassion can any expect at the Hands of Outlandish Doubters? Many in Manfoul that were Women, both young and old; they forced, ravished, and Beast-like abused, so that they swooned, miscarried, and many of them died, and so lay at the top of every Street, and in all by-places of the Town.

And now did Manfoul seem to be nothing but a Den of Dragons, an Emblem of Hell, and a place of total Darkness. Now did Manfoul lie (almost) like the barren Wilderness; nothing but Nettles, Bryars, Thorns, Weeds, and stinking Things seem now to cover the Face of Manfoul. I told you before, how that these Diabolonian Doubters turned the Men of Manfoul out of their Beds, and now I will add, they wounded them, they mauled them, yea, and almost brained many of them. Many did, I say, yea, most, if not all of them. Mr. Conscience they so wounded, yea, and his Wounds so festered, that he could have no ease Day nor Night, but lay as if continually upon a Rack (but that Shaddai Rules

Sad Work
among the Townsmen.

and had not

Satan has a particular spite against a Sanctified
Will.

his Exploits you will here of afterwards.

Now a Man might have walked for many Days together in Manfoul, and scarce have seen one in the Town that look'd like a Religious Man. Oh the fearful state of Manfoul now! now every Corner

The Soul
full of idle thoughts and phemies.

swarmed with Outlandish Doubters; Red-coats and Black-coats walked the Town by clusters, and filled up all the Houses with hideous Noises, vain Songs
ly:

lying Stories, and blasphemous Language against Shaddai and his Son. Now also those Diabolonians that lurked in the Walls, and Dens, and Holes that were in the Town of Mansoul, came forth and shewed themselves; yea, walked with open face in Company with the Doubters that were in Mansoul. Yea, they had more Boldness now to walk the Streets, to haunt the Houses, and to shew themselves abroad, than had any of the honest Inhabitants of the now woful Town of Monfoul.

But Diabolus and his Outlandish Men were not at Peace in Mansoul; for they were not there entertained as were the Captains and Forces of Emanuel; the Townsmen did brow-beat them what they could: Nor did they partake or make Destruction of any of the Necessaries of Mansoul, but that which they seized on against the Townsmen's Will; what they could they hid from them, and what they could not they had with an ill Will. They, poor Hearts, had rather have had their Room than their Company, but they were at present their Captives, and their Captives for the present they were forced to be, Rom. vii. But I say, they discountenanced them as much as they were able, and shewed them all the Dislike that they could.

The Captains also from the Castle did hold them in continual Play with their Slings, to the chafing and fretting of the Minds of the Enemies. True, Diabolus made a great many Attempts to have broken open the Gates of the Castle, but Mr. Godly-fear was made the Keeper of that; and he was a Man of Courage, Conduct, and Valour, that 'twas in vain as long as Life lasted within him, to think to do that Work, though most desired; wherefore all the Attempts that Diabolus made against him, were fruitless; (I have wished sometimes that that Man had had the whole Rule of the Town of Mansoul.)

Mr. Godly-fear is made Keeper
of the Castle-gate.

The Town of Manfoul the Seat of War.

Well, this was the Condition of the Town of Manfoul, for about two Years and an half ; the Body of the Town was the Seat of War ; the People of the Town were driven into Holes, and the Glory of Manfoul was laid in the Dust ; what Rest then could be to the Inhabitants, what Peace could Manfoul have, and what Sun could shine upon it ? Had the Eremy lain so long without in the Plain against the Town, it had been enough to have famished them ; but now when they shall be within, when the Town shall be their Tent, their Trench, and Fort against the Castle that was in the Town, when the Town shall be against the Town, and shall serve to be a Defence to the Enemies of her Strength and Life : I say, when they shall make use of the Forts and Town-holds,

Heart. to secure themselves in, even till they shall take, spoil, and demolish the Castle, this was terrible ; and yet this was now the State of the Town of Manfoul.

After the Town of Manfoul had been in this sad and lamentable condition for so long a Time as I have told you, and no Petitions that they presented their Prince with (all this while) could prevail ; the Inhabitants of the Town, to wit, the Elders and Chief of Manfoul, gather together, and after some Time spent in condoling their miserable State, and this miserable Judgment coming upon them, they agreed together

Mr. Godly-
fear's advice
about drawing up a Petition to the Prince.

to draw up yet another Petition, and to send it away to Emanuel for Relief. But Mr. Godlyfear stood up, and answered, That he knew that his Lord the Prince never did, nor ever would receive a Petition for these Matters from the Hand of any whoever, unless the Lord Secretary's Hand was to it, (and this, quoth he, is the Reason you prevailed not all this while.) Then they said they would draw up one, and get the Lord Secretary's Hand unto it. But Mr. Godlyfear answered again, That he knew also that the Lord Secretary would not set hi

Ho

Hand to any Petition that himself had not an hand in composing and drawing up; and besides, said he, the Prince doth know my Lord Secretary's Hand from all the the Hands in the World; wherefore he cannot be deceived by any pretence whatever; wherefore my Advice is, that you go to my Lord, and implore him to lend you his aid. (Now he did yet abide in the Castle, where all the Captains and Men at Arms were.)

So they heartily thanked Mr. Godlyfear, took his Counsel, and did as he had bidden them; so they went and came to my Lord, and made known the Cause of their coming to him: To wit, that since Mansoul was in so deplorable a Condition, his Highness would be pleased to undertake to draw up a Petition for them to Emanuel, the Son of the Mighty Shaddai, and to their King and his Father, by him.

Then said the Secretary to them, What Petition is it that you would have me draw up for you? But they said, Our Lord knows best the state and condition of the Town of Mansoul, and how we are backsliden and degenerated from the Prince; thou also knowest who is come up to War against us, and how Mansoul is now the Seat of War. My Lords knows moreover, what barbarous usages our Men, Women, and Children have suffered at their Hands, and how our home-bred Diabolonians do walk now with more boldness than dare the Townsmen in the Streets of Mansoul. Let our Lord therefore, according to the Wisdom of God that is in him, draw up a Petition for his poor Servants to our Prince Emanuel. Well, said the Lord Secretary, I will draw up a Petition for you, and will also set my Hand thereto. Then said they, But when shall we call for it at the Hand of our Lord? But he answered, Yourselfes must be present at the doing of it. Yea, you must put your desires to it. True, the Hand and Pen shall be mine, but the Ink and Paper must be yours, else how can you say, it is your Petition? Nor have I need to Petition for my self, because I have not offended.

The Secretary employed to draw up a Petition for Mansoul.

The Holy War,

He also added as followeth : No Petition goes from me in my Name to the Prince, and so to his Father by him, but when the People, that are chiefly concerned therein, do join in Heart and Soul in the Matter, for that must be inserted therein.

So they did heartily agree with the Sentence of the Lord, and a Petition was forthwith drawn up for them. But now who shall carry it, that was the next. But the Secretary advised that Captain Credence should carry it, for he was a well spoken Man. . They therefore called for him, and propounded to him the business. Well, said the Captain, I gladly accept of the Motion ; and though I am lame, I will do this business for you, with as much speed, and as well as I can. The Contents of the Petition were to this purpose.

O our Lord, and Sovereign Prince Emanuel, the potent, the long-suffering Prince: Grace is poured into thy Lips, and to thee belongs Mercy and Forgiveness, though we have rebelled against thee. We who are more worthy to be called thy Mansoul, nor yet fit to partake of common Benefits, do beseech thee, and thy Father by thee, to do away our Transgressions. We confess, that thou mightest cast us away for them, but do it not for thy Name's sake; let the Lord rather take an Opportunity at our miserable Condition, to let out his Bowels and Compassion to us; we are compassed on ever side; Lord, our own backslidings reprove us, our Diabolonians within our Town fright us, and the Army of the Angel of the Bottomless Pit distress us. Thy Grace can be our Salvation, and whither to go but to thee we know not.

Furthermore, O Gracious Prince, we have weakened our Captains, and they are discouraged, sick, and of late some of them grievously worsted, and beaten out of the Field by the Power and Force of the Tyrant. Yea, even those of our Captains, in whose Valour we did formerly use to put most of our Confidence, they are as wounded Men. Besides, Lord, our Enemies are lively, and they are strong, they vaunt and boast themselves, and do threaten threaten to part us among themselves for a Booty. They are fallen also upon us, Lord, with many Thousand Doubters, such as with whom we cannot tell what to do; they are all Grim-looking, and unmerciful ones, and they bid defiance to us and thee.

Our Wisdom is gone, our Power is gone, because thou art departed from us, nor have we what we may call ours, but Sin, Shame, and Confusion of Face for Sin. Take pity upon us, O Lord, take pity upon us thy miserable Town of Mansoul, and save us out of the Hands of our Enemies. Amen.

This Petition, as was touched afore, was handed by the Lord Secretary, and carried to the Court by the brave and most stout Captain Credence. Now he carried it out at Mouth-gate, for that, as I said, was the Sally-port of the Town; and he went and came to Emanuel with it. Now how it came out, I do not know, but for certain it did, and that so far as to reach the Ears of Diabolus. Thus I conclude, because that the Tyrant had it presently by the end, and charged the Town of Mansoul with it, saying, Thou Rebelious and stubborn-hearted Mansoul, I will make thee to leave off Petitioning; art thou yet for Petitioning? I will make thee to leave off. Yea, he also knew who the Messenger was that carried the Petition to the Prince, and it made him both to fear and rage.

Satan cannot abide Prayer.

Wherefore he commanded that his Drum should be beat again, a thing that Mansoul could not abide to hear; but when Diabolus would have his Drum beat, Mansoul must abide the noise. Well, the Drum was beat, and the Diabolonions were gathered together.

Then said Diabolus, O ye stout Diabolonians, be it known unto you, that there is a Treachery hatcht against us in the Ribellious Town of Mansoul; for albeit the Town is in our Possession, as you see, yet these miserable Mansouliaus have attempted to dare, and have been so hardy as yet to send to the Court of Emanuel for help. This I give you to understand, that ye may yet know how

O my trusty Diabolonians, I command that yet more ye distresse this Town of Mansoul, and vex your Wives, ravish their Women, d'strow their Children, brain their Ancients, fire their Churches, and what other Mischief you can; and let this be your Reward of the Mansouliaus from me, for their rebellions against me.

This you see was the Charge, but something in betwixt that and Execution, for as yet there was but little more done than to rage.

Moreover, when Diabolus had done thus, he went the next way up to the Castle-gates, and demanded that upon pain of Death, the Gates should be given to him, and that entrance should be given to his Men that followed after. To whom Mr. Goodly replied, (for he it was, that had the Charge of the Gate.) That the Gate should not be opened unto him, nor to the Men that followed after him. He said over, That Mansoul, when she had suffered a siege, should be made perfect, strengthened, and settled.

Then said Diabolus, Deliver me's Satan cannot abide Faith. Men that have petitioned against me, specially Captain Credence that carries your Prince, deliver that Varlet into my Hands, and he will depart from the Town.

Then up starts a Diabolonain, whose Name was Fooling, and said, My Lord offereth you fair, I prefer you that one Man perish, than that your Mansoul should be undone.

But Mr. Goodly fear made him this replication, long will Mansoul be kept out of the Dungeon, will he hath given up his Faith to Diabolus? As good lose the Town as lose Captain Credence; for if one be gone, other must follow. But to that Mr. Fooling said nothing.

Then did my Lord Mayor reply, and said, O devouring Tyrant, be it known unto thee, we shall not be moved by none of thy words, we are resolved to resist as long as a Captain, a Man, a Sling, and a Stone shall be found in the Town of Mansoul.

Diabolus answered, Do you hope, do you wait, do you look for help and deliverance? You have sent to Emanuel, but Wickedness sticks too close in your Skirts, so let innocent Prayers come out of your Lips. Think you, that you will be Prevailers, and prosper in this Design? You will fail in your Wish, you will fail in your Attempts; for not only I, but your Emanuel is against you. Yea, it is he that hath sent me against you to subdue you; what then do you hope, or by what means will you escape?

Then said the Lord Mayor, We have feared indeed, but that shall be no help to us, for our Emanuel hath said it, and that in great faithfulness. And him that saith to me, I will in no wise cast out. He hath also told us (O our Enemy) that A manner of Sin and Blasphemy shall be forgiven to the Sons of Men. Therefore we dare not despair, but will wait for, and wait for Mercy.

The Lord Mayor's Speech just at the time of the return of Captain Credence.

And now by this time Captain Credence was returned and come from the Court from Emanuel to the Castle of Mansoul, and he returned to them with a Acquet. So my Lord Mayor hearing that Captain Credence was come, withdrew himself from the noise of the roaring of the Tyrant, and left him to yell at the Wall of the Town, or against the Gates of the Castle. So he came up to the Captain's Lodgings, and saluting him, he asked him of his Welfare, and what was the best news at Court? But when he asked Captain Credence that, the water stood in his Eyes. Then said the Captain; cheer up, my Lord, for all will be well in time: And with that he first produced his Acquet, and laid it by, but that the Lord Mayor and the rest of the Captains took for a sign of good Tidings. (Now a Season of Grace being come, he sent all the Captains and Elders of the Town that were and there in their Lodgings, in the Castle, in their Guard, to let them know that Ca-something in general, and something in particular to them.) So they all came up and saluted him, and asked him concerning and what was the best news at Court? And them as he had done the Lord Mayor by would be well at last. Now when the

thus saluted them, he opened The Pacquet and thence did draw out opened.

Notes for those that he had
 the first Note was for my Lord Mayor,
 signified:

The Prince Emanuel be
 A Note for my Lord Mayor. that my Lord Mayor had be trusty in his Office, and the
that lay upon him for the Town and Pa soul. Also he bid him to know that he to be had been so bold for his Prince Emanuel gaged so faithfully in his Cause against I
also signified at the close of his Letter,
shortly receive his reward.

The second Note that
 A Note for the Lord Willbe- for the noble Lord Willbe will. there was signified, That manuel did well understar
and Courageous he had been for the Honour of
in his absence, and when his Name was by Diabolus. There was signified also had taken it well that he had been so
Town of Mansoul, in his keeping of so
and Eye over, and so strict a Reign upon
the Diabolonians that did still lie lurking
in the famous Town of Mansoul

He signified moreover, how that he
my Lord had with his own Hand done
upon some of the Chief of the Rebels the discouragement of the adverse Party,
example of the whole Town of Mansoul
his Lordship should have his reward.

The third Note came out of Preacher, wherein was signified, is well from him, that he had so honestly and so faithfully performed his Office, and executed the trust committed to him by his Lord, while he exhorted, rebuked, and fore-warned Mansoul according to the Laws of the Town. He signified moreover, that he took it well at his Hand, that he called to Fasting, to Sackcloth and Ashes, when Mansoul was under her revolt. Also that he called for the aid of the Captain Boanerges to help in so weighty a Work, and that shortly he also should receive his reward.

A Note for the Subordinate Preacher.

The fourth Note came out for Mr. Godly-fear, wherein his Lord thus signified, That his Lordship observed that he was the first of all the Men in Mansoul that detected Mr. Carnal-Security, as the only one that thro' his subtilty and cunning, had obtained for Diabolus a defection and decay of goodness in the blessed Town of Mansoul. Moreover, his Lord gave him to understand, that he still remembered his Tears and Mourning for the state of Mansoul. It was also observed by the same Note, that his Lord took notice of his detecting of this Mr. Carnal-Security at his Table among his Guests, in his own House, and that in the midst of his Follies, even while he was seeking to perfect his Villanies against the Town of Mansoul. Emanuel also took notice, that this reverend Person Mr. Godly-fear, stood stoutly to it at the Gates of the Castle against all the threats and attempts of the Tyrant, and that he had put the Townsmen in a way to make their Petition to their Prince, so as that he might accept thereof, and as that they might obtain an answer of Peace; and that therefore shortly he should receive his reward.

A Note for Mr. Godly-fear.

After all this, there was yet produced a Note which was written to the whole Town of Mansoul, whereby they perceived, That their Lord took notice of their so often repeating of Petitions to him, and that they should see more of the fruits of such their doings in time to come. Their Prince did also therein re-

A Note for the Town of Mansoul.

them, That he took it well, that their Heart now at last abode fixed upon him and his Way Diabolus had made such Inroads upon them, neither Flatteries on the one Hand, nor Mardstb other, could make them yield to serve his cruel. There was also inserted at the Bottom of t That his Lordship had left the Town of Mans Hands of the Lord Secretary, and under the t Captain Credence, saying, Beware that you yet selves unto the Governance, and in due time you ceive your Reward.

So after the brave Captain Credence had his Notes to those to whom they belonged, himself to my Lord Secretary's Lodgings, spends his time in conversing with him; for were very great one with another, and di know more how things would go with Man did all the Townsmen besides. The Lord also loved Captain Credence dearly, yea, mai bit was sent him from my Lord's Table; also have a shew of countenance when the rest c lay under the Clouds; so after some time fo was spent, the Captain betook himself to h bers to rest. But it was not long after but did send for the Captain again; so the Cap to him, and they greeted one another with lutations. Then said the Captain to the L tary, What hath my Lord to say to his Serv the Lord Secretary took him, and had h and after a sign or two of more Favour, he sa made thee the Lord Lieutenant over all the Mansoul; so that from this day forward a Mansoul shall be at thy Word, and thou shalt shalt lead in, and that shall lead out Manso shalt therefore manage according to thy place, ti thy Prince, and for the Town of Mansoul, Force and Power of Diabolus, and at thy com the rest of the Captains be.

Now the Townsmen began to perceive rest the Captain had, both with the Gov

with the Lord Secretary in Mansoul; for no Man before could speed when sent, nor bring such good News from Emanuel as he. Wherefore what do they, after some Lamentation that they made no more use of him in their Distresses, but send by their Subordinate Preacher to the Lord Secretary, to desire him that all that ever they were and had, might be put under the Government, Care, Custody, and Conduct of Captain Credence.

So their Preacher went and did his Errand, and received this Answer from the Mouth of his Lord, that Captain Credence should be the great doer in all the King's Army against the King's Enemies, and also for the welfare of Mansoul. So he bowed to the Ground, and thanked his Lordship, and returned and told his news to the Townsfolk. But all this was done with all imaginable Secresy, because the Foes had yet great Strength in the Town. But,

To return to our Story again: When Diabolus saw himself thus boldly confronted by the Lord Mayor, and perceived the Stoutness of Mr. Godly-fear, he fell into a rage, and forthwith called a Council of War, that he might be revenged on Mansoul. So all the Princes of the Pit came together, and old Incredulity in the head of them, with all the Captains of his Army. So they consulted what to do. Now the effect and conclusion of the Council that day was, how they might take the Castle, because they could not conclude themselves Masters of the Town, so long as that was in the Possession of their Enemies. So one advised this way, and another advised that; but when they could not agree in their Verdict, Apollyon the President of the Council stood up, and thus he began: My brotherhood, quoth he, I have some things to propound unto you; and my first is this, let us withdraw ourselves from the Town into the Plain again, for our presence here will do us no good, because the Castle is yet in our Enemies hands; nor is it possible that we should take that, so long as so many brave Captains are in it, and this bold Fellow Godly-fear is made the Keeper of the Gates of it.

fought them in the Field before. Besides, can we draw them out into the Fields, we may lay an Ambush behind the Town, which shall, when they are forth abroad, rush in and take possession of the Town. But Beelzebub, stood up and replied, saying, 'Tis not possible to draw them all off from the Castle; you may be sure they will lie there to keep that; and therefore it will be but in vain thus to attempt, unless we were sure that they will all come out. He then concluded, that what was done must be done by some other means. And the most likely means that the greatest of their heads could invent, was that which Apollyon had advised to before, to wit, to get the Townsmen again to Sin. For, said he, it is not being in the Town, nor in the Field, nor our Fighting nor our killing of their Men, that can make us Masters of Mansoul; for so long as one in the Town is able to lift up his Finger against us, Emanuel will take their parts, and if he shall take their part, we know what time a day it will be with us. When let us do this, and before we so do, let us advise again with our trusty Diabolonians that are yet in the Holds of Mansoul, and let them to work to betray the Town to us; for they indeed must do it, or it will be left undone for ever. By these sayings of Beelzebub, (for I think 'twas he that gave this Counsel) the whole Conclave was forced to be of his Opinion, to wit, that the way to get the Castle was, to get the Town to Sin. Then they fell to inventing by what means they might do this thing.

Then Lucifer stood up and said, The Counsel of Beelzebub is pertinent; now the way to bring this to pass in mine Opinion is this: Let us withdraw our force from the Town of Mansoul, let us do this, and let us terrify them no more, either with Summons or Threats, or with the noise of our Drum, or any other awakening means. Only let us lie in the Field at a Distance, and be as if we regarded them not (for Frights I see do but awaken them, and make them more stand to their Arms.) I have also another Stratagem in my Head, you know Mansoul is a Market-Town, and a Town that delights in Commerce, what therefore if some of our Diabolonians shall feign themselves for Country-men, and shall go out and bring to the Market of Mansoul, some of our Wares to sell; and what matter at what rates they sell their Wares, though it be but for half the worth. Now let those that thus trade in their Market, be those that are witty and true to us, and I will lay my Crown to pawn, it will do. There are two that are come to my thoughts already, that I think will be arch at this work, and they are Mr. Penny-wife-pound-foolish, and Mr. Get it' hundred and lose it' shire; nor is this Man with the long Name at all inferior to the other. What also if you join with them Mr. Sweet-world, and Mr. Present-good, they are Men that are civil and cunning, but our true Friends and Helpers, Rev. iii. 17. Let these, with us many more engage in this Business for us, and let Mansoul be taken up in much Business, and let them grow all and rich, and this is the way to get ground of them; remember ye not, that thus we prevailed upon Laodicea, and how many present do we hold in this Snare? Now when they begin to grow full, they will forget their Misery, and if we shall not frighten them, may happen to fall asleep, and so be got to neglect their Town-Watch, their Castle-Watch, as well as their Watch at the Gates.

Yea, may we not by this means so cumber Mansoul with abundance, that they shall be forced to make of their Castle a Warehouse, instead of a Garrison fortified against us, and a receptacle of Men of War? Thus if we get our Goods and Commodities thither, I reckon that the Castle is more than half ours. Besides, could we so order it, that they should be filled with such kind of Wares, that then, if we made a sudden Assault upon them, it would be hard for the Captains to take a shelter there. Do you know that of the Parable, Luke viii. 14. The deceitfulness of Riches choak the Word; and again, When the heart is over-charged with fornicating and Drunkenness, and the Cares of this Life, all Mischief comes upon them unawares, Chap. xxi. 34, 35, 36.

Furthermore, my Lords, quoth he, you very well know that it is not easy for a People to be filled with our things, and not to have some of our Diabolonians as retainers to their Houses and Services. Where is a Mansoul that is full of this World that has not for his Servants and Waiting-Men, Mr. Profuse, or Mr. Prodigality, or some other of our Diabolonian Gang, as Mr. Voluptuousness, Mr. Pragmatical, Mr. Ostentation, or the like? Now these can take the Castle of Mansoul, or blow it up, or make it unfit for a Garrison for Emanuel, and any of these will do. Yea, these for ought I know, may do it for us sooner than an Army of twenty thousand Men. Wherefore to end as I began, my advice is, that we quickly withdraw ourselves not offering any further force, or so cible attempt upon the Castle, at least at this time, and let us set on foot our new project, and let's see if that will not make them destroy themselves.

This advice was highly applauded by them all, and was accounted the very Malter-piece of Hell; to wit, to choak Mansoul with a fulnets of this World, and to surfeit her heart with the good things thereof. But see how things meet together. Just as this Diabolonian Counsel was broken up, Captain Credence received a Letter from Emanuel, the Contents of which was this, That upon the third day he would meet him in the Field in the Plains about Mansoul. Meet me in the Field, quoth the Captain? What meaneth my Lord by this? I know not what he meaneth by meeting of me in the Field. So he took the Note in his Hand, and did carry it to my Lord Secretary to ask his Thoughts thereupon, (for my Lord was a Seer in all matters concerning the King, and also for the good and comfort of the Town of Mansoul.) So he shewed my Lord the Note, and desired his Opinion thereof: For my part, quoth Captain Credence, I know not the meaning thereof. So my Lord did take and read it, and after a little Pause he said, The Diabolonians have had against Mansoul a great consultation to day; they have, I say, this day been contriving the utter ruin of the Town; and the result of their Counsel is, to set Mansoul into such a way, which if taken, will surely make her destroy herself. And to this end they are making ready for their own departure out of the Town, intending to betake themselves to Field again, and there to lie till they shall see whether this their Project will take or no. But be thou ready with the Men of thy Lord (for on the third day they will be in the Plain) there to fall upon the Diabolonians; for the Prince will by that time be in the Field; yea, by that it is, break of day, Sun-rising, or before, and that with a mighty force against them. So be shall be before them, and thou shalt be behind them, and betwixt you both, their Army shall be destroyed.

When Captain Credence heard this, away goes he to the rest of the Captains, and tells them what a Note he had a while since received from the Hand of Emanuel. And said he, that which was dark therein has my Lord Secretary expounded unto them. He told them moreover, what by himself at them must be done to answer the mind of their Lord. Then were the Captains glad, and Captain Corbush commanded, that all the King's Trumpeters should ascend on the Battlements of the Castle, and the the Audience of Diabolus, and of the whole Town of Mansoul, make the best Musick that Heart could invent. The Trumpeters then did as they were commanded. They got themselves up to the top of the Castle, and thus they began to sound; then Diabolus start, and said, What can be the meaning of this, they neither sound Boot and Saddle, nor March and away, nor a Charge. What do these Madmen mean, that yet they should be so merry and jocund? Then answered him one of themselves, and said, It is for Joy that their Prince Emanuel is coming to relieve the Town of Mansoul; that to this end he is the Head of an Army, and that this Relief is near.

The Men of Mansoul also were greatly concerned at this melodious charm of the Trumpets; they knew no harm to us; surely this can be no harm.

Diabolus withdrews from the Town, and why.

Then said the Diabolenians, what was we best to do? And it was answered, It was best to quit the Town; and said one, Ye may do in pursuance of your last Counsel, and by so doing be better able to give the Enemy Battle, than an Army from without come upon us. So on the second day they withdrew themselves from Mansoul and abode in the Plains without, but they incamped themselves before Eye-gate, in what terrible and horrible manner they could. The reason why they could not abide in the Town (besides the reasons that were debated in their late Conclave) was for that they were not possessed of the strong Hold, and because, they, we shall have more convenience to fight, also to fly, if need be, when we are incamped in an open Plain. Besides, the Town would have

Pit for them, rather than a Place of defence, had the Prince come up and enclosed them fast therein. Therefore they betook themselves to the Field, that they might also be out of the reach of the Slings, by which they were much annoyed all the while that they were in the Town.

Well the Time that the Captains were to fall upon the Diabolonians being come, they eagerly prepared themselves for action, for Captain Credence had told the Captains over night, that they should meet their Prince in the Field To-morrow, was like Oil to a flaming Fire; for of a long Time they had been at a Distance; they therefore were for this the more earnest and desirous of the Work. So as I said, the Hour being come, Captain Credence, with the rest of the Men of War, drew out their Forces before it was day by the Sally-port of the Town. And being all ready, Captain Credence went up to the Head of the Army, and gave to the rest of the Captains the Word, and so they to the Under-officers and Soldiers, the Word was, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence; which is in the Manfoulian Tongue, The Word of God and Faith. Then the Captains fell on and began roundly to front, and flank, and rear Diabolus's Camp.

The Time come for the Captains to fight them.

They draw out into the Field.

Now they left Captain Experience in the Town, because he was ill of his Wounds, which the Diabolonians had given him in the last Fight. But when he perceived that the Captains were at it, what does he, but calling for his Crutches with haste, gets up, and away he goes to the Battle, saying, Shall I lie here when my Brethren are in the Fight, and when Emanuel the Prince will shew himself in the Field to his Servants? But when the Enemy saw the Man come with his Crutches, they were daunted yet the more, for thought they, what Spirit has possessed these Manfoulians, that they fight me upon their Crutches. Well, the Captains, as I said, fell on, and did bravely handle their Weapons, still crying out, and shouting as they laid on Blows, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence.

Now, when Diabolus saw that the Captains were come out, and that so valiantly they surrounded his Men, he concluded (that for the present)

The Battle
joined.

nothing from them was to be looked for but blows, with the Dints of their two-edged Swords.

Wherefore he also falls on upon the Prince's Army, with all his deadly Force. So the Battle was joined. Now who was it that at first Diabolus met with in the Fight; but Captain Credence on the one Hand, and the Lord Willbevill on the other; now Willbevill's Blows were like the Blows of a Giant, for that Man had a strong Arm, and he fell in upon the Election-Doubters, for they were the Life-guard of Diabolus, and he kept them in play a good while, cutting and battering shrewdly. Now when Captain Credence saw my Lord engaged, he did stoutly fall on, on the other Hand upon the same Company also, so they put them to great disorder. Now Captain Good-hope had engaged the Vocation-Doubters, and they were sturdy Men; but the Captain was a Valiant Man: Captain Experience did also send him some Aid; so he made the Vocation Doubters to retreat. The rest of the Armies were hotly engaged, and that on every Side, and the Diablonians did fight stoutly. Then did my Lord Secretary command that the Slings from the Castle should be play'd, and his Men could throw Stones at an Hair's Breadth. But after a while those that were made to fly before the Captains of the Prince, did begin to rally again, renewed.

The Battle

and they came up stoutly upon the Rear of the Prince's Army; wherefore the Prince's Army began to faint; but remembering that they should see the Face of their Prince by and by, they took courage, and a very fierce Battle was fought. Then shouted the Captains, saying, The Sword

Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence; and with that Diabolus gave back, thinking that more aid had been come.

But no Emanuel as yet appeared. Moreover the Battle did hang in doubt; and they made a little retreat on both Sides. Now in the Time of Respite, Captain Credence bravely encouraged his Men to stand to it, and Diab. lus did the like, as well as he could. But Captain Credence made a brave Speech to his Soldiers, the Con-

They both retreat, and in the Time of respite Captain Credence makes a Speech to his Soldiers.

ten's whereof here follow.

Gentlemen Soldiers, and my Brethren in this design, it rejoiceth me much to see in the Field, for our Prince this Day, so stout and so valiant an Army, and such faithful Lovers of Ma soul. You have hitherto, as haib become you, shewn yourselves Men of Truth and Courage against the Diabolonian Forces, so that for all their boast, they have not yet cause much to boast of their gettings. Now take to yourselves your wonted Courage, and shew yourselves Men, even this once only; for in a few Minutes after the next Engagement this time, you shall see your Prince shew himself in the Field; for we must make this second Assault upon this Tyrant Diabolus, and then Emanuel comes.

No sooner had the Captain made this Speech to his Soldiers, but one Mr. Speedy came post to the Captain from the Prince, to tell him that Emanuel was at hand. This News, when the Captain had received, he communicated to the other Field-Officers, and they again to their Soldiers and Men of War. Wherefore, like Men raised from the Dead, so the Captains and their Men arose, made up to the Enemy, and cried as before, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence.

The Diabolonians also bestirred themselves, and made resistance as well they could, but in this last Engagement the Diabolonians lost their Courage, and many of the Doubters fell down dead to the Ground four or more, Captain Credence lift up his Eyes, and saw, and behold Emanuel came, and he came with Colours flying, Trumpets sounding, and the of his Men scarce touched the Ground, they hastened with that Celerity towards the Captains that were engaged. Then did Captain Credence wheel his Men to the Townward, and gave to Diabolus the Field. Emanuel came upon him on the one Side, and the other's place was betwixt them both; then again they fell to it afresh, and now it was but a little while more but Emanuel and Captain Credence met, still rambling down the Slain as they came.

The Holy War,

But when the Captains saw that the Prince was come, and that he fell upon the Diabolonians on the other Side, and that Captain Credence and his Highness had got them up betwixt them, they shouted, (they so shouted, that the Ground rent again) saying, The Sword of Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence. Now when Diabolus saw that he and his Forces were so hard beset by the Prince and his Princely Army, what does he and the Lords of the Pit that were with him, but make their escape, and forsake their Army, and leave them to fall by the Hand of Emanuel, and of his noble Captain Credence: So they fell all down slain before them, before his Prince, and before his Royal Army; there was no left so much as one Doubter alive; they lay spread upon the Ground like dead Men, as one would spread Dung upon the Land.

When the Battle was over, all things came in order in the Camp; then the Captains and Elders of Manfoul came together to salute Emanuel, without the Corporation; so they saluted him, and welcom'd him, and that with a thousand Welcomes for that he was come to the Borders of Manfoul again. So he smiled upon them, and said, Peace be unto you. Then they addressed themselves to go to the Town. They went then to go up to Manfoul, they, the Prince with all the new Forces that now he had brought with him to the War. Also all the Gates of the were set open for his Reception, so glad were they of his blessed Return. And this was the manner and order of his going into Mansoul.

First, (as I said) all the Gates of the Town were set upon, yea, the Gates of the Castle; the Elders too of the Town of Mansoul placed themselves at the Gates of the Town, to salute him at his entrance thither: And so they did, for as he drew near, and approached towards the Gates, they said, Lift your Heads, O ye Gates, and be ye lift up ye everlasting Doors and the King of Glory shall come in. And they answered again; Who is the King of Glory? And they made return to themselves, The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord is mighty in Battle. Lift up your Heads, O ye Gates, even lift them up ye everlasting Doors, &c.

Secondly, It was ordered also by those of Mansoul, that all the Way from the Town-gates to those of the Castle, his blessed Majesty should be entertained with the Song, by them that had best Skill in Musick in all the Town of Mansoul; then did the Elders, and the rest of the Men of Mansoul answer one another as Emanuel entered the Town, till he came at the Castle-gates, with Songs and Sound of Trumpets, saying, They have seen thy goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my King in the Sanctuary. So the Singers went before, the Players on Instruments followed after, and among them were the Damsels playing on Timbrels.

Thirdly, Then the Captains (for I would speak a word of them) they in their order waited on the Prince as he entered into the Gates of Mansoul, Captain Credence went before, and Captain Good-hope with him; Captain Charity came behind, with other of his Companions, and Captain Patience followed after all, and the rest of the Captains, some on the right hand, and some on the left, accompanied Emanuel into Mansoul. And all the while the Colours were displayed, the Trumpets sounded, and continual shoutings were among the Soldiers. The Prince himself rode into the Town in his Armour, which was all of beaten Gold, and in his Chariot, the Pillars of it were of Silver, the Bottom thereof of Gold, the covering of it were of Purple, the midst thereof being paved with Love for the Daughters of the Town of Mansoul.

Fourthly, when the Prince was come to the entrance of Mansoul, he found all the Streets strewed with Lillies and Flowers, curiously deck'd with Boughs and Branches from the green Trees, that stood round about the Town. Every Door also was filled with Persons who had adorned every one their fore part against their House with something of variety and singular Excellency to entertain him withal as he passed in the Streets; they also themselves, as Emanuel passed by, did welcome him with shouts and acclamations of Joy, saying, Blessed be the Prince that cometh in the Name of his Father Shaddai.

Fifthly, at the Castle Gates the Elders of Mansoul, to wit, my Lord Mayor, the Lord Willbe-will, the Subordinate Preacher, Mr. Knowledge, and Mr. Mind, with other of the Gentry of the Place, saluted Emanuel again; they bowed before him, they kissed the dust of his Feet, they thanked, they blessed and praised his Highness for not taking advantage against them for their Sins, but rather had pity upon them in their Misery, and returned to them with Mercies, and to build up their Mansoul for ever. Thus was he had up straightway to the Castle; for that was the Royal Palace, and the Place where his Honour was to dwell; the which was ready prepared for his Highness by the Presence of the Lord Secretary, and the Work of Captain Credence. So he entered in.

Sixthly, Then the People and Commonalty of the Town of Mansoul came to him into the Castle to mourn and to weep, and to lament for their Wickedness, by which they had forced him out of the Town. So they, when they were come, bowed themselves to the Ground seven Times, they also wept, they wept aloud, and asked forgiveness of the Prince, and prayed

prayed that he would again, as of old, confirm his love to Mansoul.

To which the great Prince replied, Weep not, but go your way, eat the fat and drink the sweet, and send Portions to them for whom nought is prepared, for the Joy of your Lord is your Strength. I am returned to Mansoul with Mercies, and my Name shall be set up, exalted and magnified by it. He also took these Inhabitants, and kissed them, and laid them in his Bosom.

Moreover, he gave to the Elders of Mansoul, and to each Town Officer a Chain of Gold and a Signet. He also sent to their Wives Ear-rings and Jewels, and Bracelets, and other Things. He also bestowed upon the True-born Children of Mansoul, many precious Things.

When Emanuel the Prince had done all these Things for the famous Town of Mansoul, then he said unto them, first, Wash your Garments, then put on your Ornaments, and then come to me into the Castle of Mansoul, Eccl. ix. 8. So they went to the Fountain that was set open for Judab and Jerusalem to wash in; and there they washed, and there they made their Garments white, and came again to the Prince into the Castle, and thus they stood before him, Zach. xiii. 1. Rev. vii. 14, 15.

And now there was Musick and Dancing throughout the whole Town of Mansoul; and that because their Prince had again granted to them his presence, and light of his Countenance; the Bells also did ring, and the Sun shone comfortably upon them for a great while together.

The Town of Mansoul did also now more thoroughly seek the destruction and ruin of all remaining Diasabolians that abode in the Walls, and the Dens (that they had in the Town of Mansoul) for there was of them that had to this Day escaped with Life and Limb from the Hand of their Suppressors in the famous Town of Mansoul.

But my Lord Willbewill was a greater Terror

them now than ever he had been before, forasmuch as his Heart was yet more fully bent to seek, contrive, and pursue them to the death; he pursued them Night and Day, and did put them now to some distress, as will afterwards appear.

After things were thus far put into order in the famous Town of Mansoul, care was taken, and order given by the blessed Prince Emanuel, that the Towns-

Orders given out to bury
the Dead.

men should, without further delay, appoint some to go forth into the Plain to bury the Dead that were there; the Dead that fell by the Sword of Emanuel, and by the Shield of Captain Credence, lest the Fumes and ill Savours that would arise from them, might infect the Air, and so annoy the famous Town of Mansoul. This also was a reason of this Order, to wit, that as much as in Mansoul lay, they might cut off the name and being, and remembrance of those Enemies from the thought of the famous Town of Mansoul, and its Inhabitants.

So order was given out by the Lord Mayor, that wise and trusty Friend of the Town of Mansoul, that Persons should be employed about this necessary Business; and Mr. Godlyfar, and one Mr. Upright were to be Overseers about this matter; so Persons were put under them to work in the Fields, and to bury the Slain that lay dead in the Plains. And these were their Places of Employment, some were to make the Graves, some were to bury the Dead, and some were to go to and fro in the Plains, and also round about the borders of Mansoul, to see if a Skull or a Bone, or a piece of a Bone of a Doubter was yet to be found above ground any where near the Corporation; and if any were found, it was ordered that the Searchers that searched should set up a Mark thereby and a Sign, that those that were appointed to bury them might find it, and bury it out of sight, that the name and remembrance of a Diabolonian Doubter might be blotted out from under Heaven. And that the Children and they that were to be born in Man- soul might not know (if possible) what a Skull, what a Bone, or a piece of a Bone of a Doubter was. So the Buriers, and those that were appointed for that purpose, did as they were commanded; they buried the Doubters, and all Skulls and Bones, and pieces of Bones of Doubters, wherever they found them, and so they cleansed the Plains. Now also Mr. Godspeace took up his Commission, and acted again as in former Days.

Thus they buried in the Plains about Mansoul, the Election-Doubters, the Vocation-Doubters, the Grace-Doubters, the Perseverance-Doubters, the Resurrection-Doubters, the Salvation-Doubters, and the Glory-Doubters, whose Captains were, Captain Rage, and Captain Cruel, Captain Damnation, Captain Insatiable, Captain Brimstone, Captain Torment, Captain No-ease, Captain Sepulchre, and Captain Past-hope: And Old Incredulity was under Diabolus their General; there were also the seven Heads of their Army, and they were the Lord Beelzebub, the Lord Lucifer, the Lord Legion, the Lord Apollyon, the Lord Python, the Lord Cerberus, and the Lord Belial. But the Princes and the Captains, with Old Incredulity their General, did all of them make their escape; so their Men fell down slain by the Power of the Prince's Forces, and by the Hands of the Men of the Town of Mansoul. They also were buried as is before related, to the exceeding great joy of the now famous Town of Mansoul. They that buried them, buried also with them their Arms, which were cruel Instruments of Death (their Weapons were Arrows, Darts, Mauls, Firebrands, and the like) they buried also their Armour, their Colours, Banners, with the Standard of Diabolus, and what else soever they could find that did but smell of a Diabolonian Doubter.

Now when the Tyrant was arrived at Hellgate-hill, with his old friend Incredulity, they immediately descended the Denz, and having there with their followers for a while condoled their misfortune; and great loss that they sustained against the Town of Mansoul, the fell at length into a Passion, and revenged they be for the Loss that they sustained before the Town of Mansoul; wherefore they present

The Tyrant resolves to have yet about with Mansoul. a Council to contrive yet further was to be done against the Town of Mansoul, for their yawn

Paunches could not wait to see the salt of their Lord Lucifer's and their Lord Apo Counsel that they had given before, for their Gorge thought every Day even as long as a short ever, until they were filled with the Body and with the Flesh and Bones, and with all the del of Mansoul. They therefore resolved to make an attempt upon the Town of Mansoul, and that Army mixed, and made up partly of Doubters partly of Bloodmen. A more particular Account take of both.

The Doubters are such as have their Name their Nature, as well as from the Lord and King where they are born; their Nature is to put a question upon every one of the Truths of Emanuel's their Country is, The Land of Doubting, and Land lyeth off, and furthest remote to the North between the Land of Darkness, and that called Valley of the Shadow of Death. For though the of Darkness, and that called the Land of the Shadow of Death, be sometimes called as if they were and the self same Place; yet indeed they are lying but a little Way asunder, and the Land Doubting is in the middle between them.

Land of Doubting, yet they do both but and bound upon the Hill called Hellgate-hill. These People are always in League with the Doubters, for they jointly do make question of the Faith and Fidelity of the Men of the Town of Mansoul, and so are both alike qualified for the Service of their Prince.

Now of these two Countries did Diabolus by the beating of his Drum raise another Army against the Town of Mansoul, of five and twenty thousand strong. There were ten thousand Doubters, and fifteen thousand Bloodmen, and they were put under several Captains for the War; and old Incredulity was again made General of the Army.

As for the Doubters, their Captains were five of the Seven that were Heads of the last Diabolonian Army, and these are their Names, Captain Beelzebub, Captain Lucifer, Captain Apollyon, Captain Legion, and Captain Cerberus, and the Captains that they had before were some of them made Lieutenants, and some Ensigns of the Army.

But Diabolus did not count that in this Expedition of his, these Doubters would prove his principal Men, for their Manhood had been tried before; also the *Mansoul*ians had put them to the worst, only he did bring them to multiply a Number, and to help, if need was, at a Pinch, but his trust he put in his Bloodmen, for that they were all rugged Villains, and he knew that they had done Feats heretofore.

As for the Bloodmen they also were under command, and the Names of The Captains of Blood-men. their Captains were, Captain Cain, Captain Nimrod, Captain Ishmael, Captain Esau, Captain Saul, Captain Absalom; Captain Judas, and Captain Pope.

1. Captain Cain was over two Bands, to wit, the Zealous, and the Angry Blood-men; his Standard bearer bare the red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Murdering Club, Gen. iv. 8.

2. Captain Nimrod was Captain over two Bands, to wit, the Tyrannical and Increasing Blood-men, his Standard

Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and cheon was the Great Blood-bound, Gen. x. 8,

3. Captain Ishmael was Captain over two wit, over the Mocking and Scorning Blood Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and cheon was one Mocking at Abraham's Isaac, Gen. ix. x.

4. Captain Esau was Captain over two wit, the Blood-men that grudged that another have the blessing; also over the Blood-men that executing their private revenge upon others; Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was one privately lurking to murder Jacob, Gen. 42. 43. 44. 45.

5. Captain Saul was Captain over two Bands, the Groundlessly jealous and the Devilishly furious men, his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, his Scutcheon was three Bloody Darts cast at David, 1 Sam. viii. 10.

6. Captain Absalom was Captain over two wit, over the Blood-men that will kill a Friend, for the glory of this World; also over the Blood-men that hold one fair in hand with which they shall have pierced him with their Swords; Standard-bearer did bare the Red Colours, Scutcheon was the Son pursuing the Father's Blood, Gen. x. 10. Ch. xx. 23. 2 Sam. xv. 16. 17.

7. Captain Judas was over two Bands, the Blood men that will sell a Man's Life for Money; also that will betray their Friend with his Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, Scutcheon was Thirty Pieces of Silver, and the Mat. xxvi. 14, 15, 16.

8. Captain Pope was Captain over one Band, these Spirits are joined in one under him; Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Stake, the Flame, and the good Man, Rev. xiii. 7, 8. Dan. xi. 33.

Now the Reason why Diabolus did so for another Force after he had been beaten out for that he put mighty Confidence in this Army Blood-men, for he put a great deal of more Trust in them, than he did before in his Army of Doubters, though they had also often done great Service for him in the strengthening of him in his Kingdom. But those Blood-men he had proved them often, and their Sword did often return empty. Besides, he knew that these Maſtiffs, would faſten upon any; upon Father, Son, Brother, Siſter, Prince or Governour, yea, upon the Prince of Princes. And that which engaged him the more was, for that they once did drive Emanuel out of the Kingdom of Univerſe, and he thought he, may they not drive him from the Kingdom of Manſoul?

So this Army of five and twenty thouſand ſtrong, by their General, the great Lord Incredulity led againſt the Town of Manſoul. Now Mr. Prywell Scout-maſter-general, did himſelf go out to ſpie, and he did bring Manſoul Tidings of their coming: wherefore they ſhut up their Gates, and put themſelves in Poſture of Defence againſt theſe new Diabolonians came up againſt the Town.

So Diabolus brought up his Army, and beleaguered the Town of Manſoul; the Doubters were placed about the Gate, and the Blood-men ſet down before Eye-gate and Ear-gate.

Now when this Army had thus incamped themſelves, Incredulity did in the Name of Diabolus, his Name, and the Name of the Blood-men, and the others that were with him, ſend a Summons as hot as ſcorched Iron to Manſoul, to yield to their Demands, ſaying that if they ſtill ſtood it out againſt them, they would preſently burn down Manſoul with Fire. Now you muſt know that as for the Blood-men, they were not ſo much that Manſoul ſhould be ſurrendered, but that Manſoul ſhould be deſtroyed, and cut off out of the Land of Living. True, they ſent to them to conſider, but ſhould they ſo do, that would not ſerve to quench the Thirſts of theſe Men: They muſt and it is from hence that they have their name. Wherefore these Bloodmen he reserv'd while now, that they might, when all his Engines proved ineffectual, as his last and sure card he played against the Town of Mansoul, Psal 29. 10. Isa. 59. 7. Isa. 22. 17.

Now when the Townsmen had received this red-hot Summons, it begat in 'em at present some changing, and interchanging thoughts; but they jointly agreed in less than half an hour to carry the Summons to the Prince, the which they did when they had writ at the bottom of it, Lord save Mansoul from bloody Men, Psal. 59. 2.

So he took it, and looked upon it, and considered it, and took notice also of that short Petition that the Men of Mansoul had written at the bottom of it, and called to him the noble Captain Credence, and bid him go and take Captain Patience with him, and go and take care of that side of Mansoul that was beleaguerr'd by the Bloodmen, Heb. 6. 12. Ver. 15. So they went and did as they were commanded; then Captain Credence went and took Captain Patience, and they both fortified that side of Mansoul that was besieg'd by the Bloodmen.

Then he commanded that Captain Goodhope and Captain Charity, and my Lord Will-be-will should take charge of the other side of the Town, and I, said the Prince, will set my Standard upon the Battlements of your Castle, and do you three watch against the Doublers. This done, he again commanded that the brave Captain the Captain Experience should draw up his Men in the Market-place, and that there he should exercise them day by day before the People of the Town of Mansoul. Now the Siege was long, and many a fierce attempt did the Enemy, especially those called Bloodmen, make upon the Town of Mansoul, and many a shrewd Brush did some of the Townsmen meet with from them; especially Captain Self denial; who, I should have told you before, was commanded to take the Care of Ear-gate and Eye-gate now against the Bloodmen. This Captain Self denial was

ing Min, but stout, and a Townsman in Manful, Captain Experience also was. And Emanuel at his return to Manful, made him a Captain over thousand of the Manfulians, for the good of the oration. This Captain therefore being an hardy, and a Man of great Courage, and willing to give himself for the good of the Town of Manful, did now and then fall out upon the Blood-men, give them many notable alarms, and entred several Skirmishes with them, and also did some action upon them, but you must think that this is not easily be done, but he must meet with his himself, for he carried several of their marks in his Face; yea, and some in some other Parts of his

After some time spent for the Trial of his faith, and hope, and love of the Town of Manful; the Prince Emanuel one Day calls his Captains and Men to War together, and divides them into two Companies; this done, he commands them at a time appointed, and

Emanuel prepares to give the Enemy Battle. How he ordereth his Men.

In the Morning very early, to fall out upon the Enemy; saying, Let half of you fall upon the Doubters, and half of you fall upon the Blood-men. Let those of you that go out against the Doubters, kill and slay, and cause to perish so many of them as by means you can lay hands on; but for you that go against the Blood-men, slay them not, but take them

At the time appointed, betimes in the Morning, the Captains went out as they were commanded against the Enemies: Captain Goodscope, Captain Charity, and those were joined with them, as Captain Innocent, and Captain Experience, went out against the Doubters; and Captain Credence, and Captain Patience, with Captain Penial, and the rest that were to join with them went against the Blood men.

Those that went out against the Doubters went in a Body before the Plain, and on to bid them Battle: But the Doubters remembering their last Success, made a retreat, not daring to stand the Shock, but fled from the Prince's Men; wherefore they pursued them, and in their pursuit slew many, but they could not catch them all. Now those that escaped went some of them home, and the rest by fives, nines, and seventeens, like Wanderers, went straggling up and down the Country, where they upon the barbarous People shewed and exercised many of their Diabolonian Actions; nor did these People rise up in Arms against them, but suffered themselves to be enslaved by them. They would also after this shew themselves in Companies before the Town of Mansoul, but never to abide it; for if Captain Credence, Captain Goodhope, or Captain Experience did but shew themselves, they fled.

Those that went against the Blood-men, did as they were commanded, they forbore to slay any but sought to compass them about. But the Bloodmen, when they saw that no Emanuel was in the Field, concluded also that no Emanuel was in Mansoul; wherefore they looking upon what the Captains did, to be, as they called it, a Fruit of the Extravagancy of their wild and foolish Fancies, rather despised them, than feared them; but the Captains minding their Business, at last did compass them round, they also that had routed the Doubters, came in again to their Aid; so in fine, after some little struggling, for the Bloodmen also would have run for it, only now it was too late, (for though they are mischievous and cruel where they can overcome, yet all Bloodmen are Chicken-hearted Men, when they once come to see themselves matcht and equal'd) so the Captain took 'em, and brought them to the Prince.

Now when they were taken, had before the Prince, and examined, he found them to be of three several Counties, though they all came out of one Land.

1. One Sort of them came out of Blindmansbire, and they were such as did ignorantly what they did.

2. An

2. Another Sort of them came out of Blindzealshire, and they did superstitiously what they did.

3. The third Sort of them came out of the Town of Malice in the County of Envy, and they did what they did out of Spite and Implacableness.

For the first of these, to wit, they that came out of Blindmanfbire, when they saw where they were, and against whom they had fought, they trembled, and cried as they stood before him; and as many of those asked him Mercy, he touched their Lips with his golden Scepter.

They that came out of Blindzealfbire, they did not as their Fellows did, for they pleaded that they had right to do what they did, because Manfoul was a Town whose Laws and Customs were diverse from all that dwelt thereabouts; very few of these could be brought to see their Evil, but those that did, and asked Mercy, they also obtained Favour.

Now they that came out of the Town of Malice, that is in the County of Envy, they neither wept nor disputed, but stood gnawing of their Tongues before him for Anguish and Madness, because they could not have their Will upon Manfoul. Now those last, with all those of the other two Sorts that did unfeignedly ask pardon for their Faults: Those be made to enter into sufficient Bond to answer for what they had done against Manfoul, and against her King, at the great and general Assizes to be holden for our Lord the King, where he himself should appoint for the Country and Kingdom of Univerſe.

So they became bound each Man for himself to come when called upon, to answer before our Lord the King or what they had done as before.

And thus much concerning this second Army that was sent by Diabolus to overthrow Manfoul.

But there were three of those that came from the Land of Doubting, who after they had wandered and ranged the Country a while, and perceived that they had escaped, were so hardy as to thrust themselves knowing that yet there were in the Town of Dis

Three or four of the Doubters
go into Man-soul, are entertained, and by whom.

lus, I say, they were so hardy as to thrust themselves into Man-soul among them. (Three did I say, I think there were four.) Now to whose House should these Diabolonian Doubters go, but to the House of an old Diabolonian in Man-soul, whose Name was Evil-questioning, a very great Enemy he was to Man-soul, and a great doer among the Diabolonians there. Well, to this Evil-questioning's House, as was said, did these Diabolonians come, (you may be sure that they had Directions how to find the way thither) so he made them welcome, pitied their Misfortune, succoured them with the best that he had in his House. Now after a little Acquaintance, and it was not long before they had that, this old Evil-questioning asked the Doubters if they were all of a Town, (he knew that they were all of one Kingdom;) and they answered, no, not of one Shire neither, for I, said one, am an Electiō-Doubter; I, said another, am a Vocation Doubter; then said the third, I am a Salvation Doubter; and the fourth said he was a Grace-Doubter. Well, quoth the old Gentleman, be of what Shire you will, I am persuaded that you are Town-boys, you have the very length of my foot, are one with my heart, and shall be welcome to me. So they thanked him, and were glad that they had found themselves an harbour in Man-soul. Then said Evil-questioning to them, How many of your Company might there be that came with you to the Siege of Man-soul? And they answered, there were but ten thousand

Talk betwixt
the Doubters and old Evil-questioning.

Doubters in all, for the rest of the Army consisted of fifteen thousand Blood-men: These Blood-men, quoth they, border upon our Country; but poor Men, we hear, they were every one taken by Emanuel's Forces. Ten thousand, quoth the old Gentleman, I'll promise you that's a round Company. But how came it to pass, since you were so mighty a Number, that you fainted, and durst not fight your Foes? Our

General

al, said they, was the first Man that did run

Pray, quoth their Landlord, who was that your dly General? He was once the Lord-Mayor of ul, said they. But pray call him not a cowardly al, for whether any from the East to the West has more service for our Prince Diabolus, than has my

Incredulity, will be a hard Question for you to
r. But had they catched him, they would for cer-ave hanged him, and we promise you, hanging is bad business.

en said the old Gentleman, I would that all the housand Doubters were now well armed in Man- ind my self in the head of them, I would see
I could do. Ah, said they, that would be well, could see that: But Wishes, alas! what are they?
these Words were spoken aloud. Well, said old questioning, take heed that ye talk not too loud, you be quiet and close, and must take care of your-while you are here, or I'll assure you, you will be yy? Quoth the Doubters.

yy! Quoth the old Gentleman? Why, because the Prince and Lord Secretary, and there Cap-
and Soldiers are all at present in Town; yea, town is as full of them as ever it can hold. And s, there is one whose Name is Will-be-will, a most Enemy of ours, and him the Prince had made r of the Gates, and has commanded him, that all the Diligence he can, he should look for,
out, and destroy all, and all Manner of Dia- mons.

d if he lighted upon you, down you go, though Head's made of Gold.

d now, to see how it happened, one      They are over-Lord Will-be-will's faithful Soldiers,      heard.

Name was Mr. Diligence, stood all while listening under old Evil-questioning's Eaves, eard all the Talk that had been betwixt him and
doubters that he entertained under his Roof.

The Soldier was a Man that my Lord had much Confidence in, and that he loved dearly, and that both because he was a Man of Courage, and also a Man that was unwearied in seeking after Diabolonians to apprehend them.

Now this Man, as I told you, heard all the Talk that was between old Evil-questioning and these Diabolonians; wherefore what does he, but goes to his Lord and tells him what he had heard. And sayest thou so, my trusty, quoth my Lord? Ay, quoth Diligence, that I do, and if your Lordship will be pleased to go with me, you shall find it as I have said. And are they there, quoth my Lord? I know Evil-questioning well, for he and I were great at the Time of our Apostasie. But I know not now where he dwells. But I do, said his Man, and if your Lordship will go, I will lead you the Way to his Den. Go! quoth my Lord, that I will. Come, my Diligence, let's go find them out. So my Lord and his Man went together the direct Way to his House. Now his Man went before to shew him the Way, and they went till they came even under old Mr. Evil-questioning's Wall: Then said Diligence, Hark (my Lord,) do you know the old Gentleman's Tongue when you hear it? Yes, said my Lord, I know it well, but I have not seen him many a Day. This I know, he is cunning, I wish he doth not give us the Slip. Let me alone for that, said his Servant Diligence. But how shall we find the Door, quoth my Lord? Let me alone for that too, said his Man. So he had my Lord Willberwill about, and shewed him the Way to the Door. Then my Lord, without more ado, broke open the Door, rushed into the House, and caught them all five together, even as Diligence his Man had told him. So my Lord apprehended them, and led them away, and committed them to the Hand of Mr. Trueman the Goaler, and he commanded, and he did put them in Ward. This done, my Lord-Mayor was acquainted in the Morning with who

They are apprehended and committed to Prison.

that my Lord Willberwill had done over Night, and his Lordship rejoiced much at the News, not only because they were Doubters apprehended, but because that old Evil-questioning was taken; for he had been very great Trouble to Manfoul, and much Affliction to my Lord-Mayor himself. He had also been sought for often, but no Hand could ever be laid upon him till now.

Well, the next Thing was to make Preparations to try these five that by my Lord had been apprehended, and that were in the Hands of Mr. Trueman the Gaoler. So the Day was set, and the Court called and came together, and the Prisoners brought to the Bar. My Lord Willberwill had Power to have slain them when at first he took them, and that without any more ado, but he thought at this Time more for the Honour of the Prince, the Comfort of Manfoul, and the Discouragement of the Enemy, to bring them forth to publick Judgment,

They are brought to Trial.

But I say, Mr. Trueman brought them in Chains to the Bar, to the Town-hall, for that was the Place of Judgment. So to be short, the Jury was pannelled, the Witness sworn, and the Prisoners tried for their lives; the Jury was the same that tried Mr. No-truth, Useless, Haughty, and the rest of their Companions.

And first, old Evil-questioning himself was set to the Bar; for he was the Receiver, the Entertainer and Comforter of these Doubters, that by Nation were Outlandish-men; then he was bid to hearken to his Charge, and was told that he had Liberty to object, if he had ought to say for himself. So his Indictment was read, the Manner and Form here follows.

Mr. Questioning, Thou art here indicted by the Name of Evil-questioning, an Intruder upon the Town of Manfoul, for that thou art a Daboionian by Nature, and also a Hater of the Prince Emanuel, and that hast studied the Rain of the Town of Manfoul. Thou art also here indicted, for entertaining the King's Enemies, after wholesome Laws made to the contrary: For, 1. Thou hast questioned the Truth of her Doctrine and State. 2. In wishing that ten thousand Doubters were in her. In receiving, entertaining and encouraging of her Enemies, that came from their Army unto thee. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty, or not guilty?

My Lord, quoth he, I know not the Meaning of this Indictment, forasmuch as I am not the Man concerned in it; the Man that standeth by this Charge accused before this Bench, is called by the Name of Evil-questioning, which Name I deny to be mine, mine being Honest-Enquiring. The one indeed sounds like the other, but I trow, your Lordships know that between these two there is a wide Difference; for I hope that a Man even in the worst of Times, and that too amongst the worst of Men may make an honest Enquiry after Things, without running the Danger of Death.

Then spake my Lord Willberwill, for he was one of the Witnesses: My Lord, and you the honourable Bench and Magistrates of the Town of Mansoul, you all have heard with your Ears, that the Prisoner at the Bar has denied his Name, and so thinks to shift from the Charge of the Indictment. But I know him to be the Man concerned, and that his proper Name is Evil-questioning. I have known him (my Lord) above this thirty Years, for he and I (a Shame it is for me to speak it) were great Acquaintance, when Diabolus that Tyrant had the Government of Mansoul; and I testify that he is a Diabolonian by Nature, and an Enemy to our Prince, and an Hater of the blessed Town of Mansoul. He has in Times of Rebellion been at, and lain in my House, my Lord, not so little as twenty Nights together, and we did use to talk then (for the Substance of Talk) as he, and his Doubters have talked of late: True, I have not seen him many a Day, I suppose that the coming of Emmanuel to Mansoul has made him to change his Lodgings, as this Indictment has driven him to change his Name; but this is the Will of my Lord.

Then said the Court unto him, Hast thou any more to say?

Yes, quoth the old Gentleman, that I have; for all that has yet been said against me, is but by the Mouth of one Witness, and it is not lawful for the famous Town of Mansoul, at the Mouth of one Witness, to put any Man to Death.

Then stood forth Mr. Diligence, and said, My Lord, I was upon my Watch such a Night at the Head of Badstreet, in this Town, I chanced to hear a muttering within the Gentleman's House; then thought I, what's to do here? So, I went up close, but very softly, to the Side of the House to listen, thinking, as indeed it fell out, that there I might light of some Diabolonian Conventicle. So, as I said, I drew nearer and nearer, and when I was got up close to the Wall, it was but a while before I perceived that there were Outlandish-Men in the House (but I did understand their Speech, for I have been a Traveller my self) now hearing such Language in such a tottering Cottage this old Gentleman dwelt in, I clapt mine Ear to a Hole in the Window, and there heard them talk as followeth. This old Mr. Questioning asked these Doubters what they were, whence they came, and what was their Business in these Parts? And they told him to all these Questions, yet he did entertain them. He also asked what Numbers there were of them, and they told him ten thousand Men. He then asked them why they made no more Manly Assault upon Mansoul? and they told him. So he called their General Coward, for marching off when he should have fought for his Prince. Further, this old Evil-questioning wisht, and I heard him wish, would all the ten thousand Doubters were now in Mansoul, and himself in the head of them. He bid them also take heed of them. He bid them also to take heed and lie quiet, for if they were taken they must die, although they had heads of Gold.

Then said the Court, Mr. Evil-questioning, how another Witness against you and his contrary: For, 1. Thou hast questioned the Truth of her Doctrine and State. 2. In wishing that ten thousand Doubters were in her. In receiving, entertaining and encouraging of her Enemies, that came from their Army unto thee. What sayest thou to this Indictment, art thou guilty, or not guilty?

My Lord, quoth he, I know not the Meaning of this Indictment, forasmuch as I am not the Man concerned in it; the Man that standeth by this Charge accused before this Bench, is called by the Name of Evil-questioning, which Name I deny to be mine, mine being Honest-Enquiring. The one indeed sounds like the other, but I trow, your Lordships know that between these two there is a wide Difference; for I hope that a Man even in the worst of Times, and that too amongst the worst of Men may make an honest Enquiry after Things, without running the Danger of Death.

Then spake my Lord Willberwill, for he was one of the Witnesses: My Lord, and you the honourable Bench and Magistrates of the Town of Mansoul, you all have heard with your Ears, that the Prisoner at the Bar has denied his Name, and so thinks to shift from the Charge of the Indictment. But I know him to be the Man concerned, and that his proper Name is Evil-questioning. I have known him (my Lord) above this thirty Years, for he and I (a Shame it is for me to speak it) were great Acquaintance, when Diabolus that Tyrant had the Government of Mansoul; and I testifie that he is a Diabolonian by Nature, and an Enemy to our Prince, and an Hater of the blessed Town of Mansoul. He has in Times of Rebellion been at, and lain in my House, my Lord, not so little as twenty Nights together, and we did use to talk then (for the Substance of Talk) as he, and his Doubters have talked of late: True, I have not seen him many a Day, I suppose that the coming of Emanuel to Mansoul has made him to change his Lodgings, as this Indictment has driven him to change his Name; but this is the Man, my Lord.

Then

by John Bunyan.

2

Then said the Court unto him, Hast thou any to say?

Yes, quoth the old Gentleman, that I have; for that has yet been said against me, is but by the Mouth of one Witness, and it is not lawful for the famous Town of Mansoul, at the Mouth of one Witness, to put a Man to Death.

Then stood forth Mr. Diligence, and said, My Lord, as I was upon my Watch such a Night at the Head Badstreet, in this Town, I chanced to hear a mutter within the Gentleman's House; then thought I, what to do here? So, I went up close, but very softly, to the side of the House to listen, thinking, as indeed it fell out, that there I might light of some Diabolonian Convent. So, as I said, I drew nearer and nearer, and when I was got up close to the Wall, it was but a while before I perceived that there were Outlandish-Men in the House (but I did understand their Speech, for I have been Traveller myself) now hearing such Language in a tottering Cottage this old Gentleman dwelt in, I came mine Ear to a Hole in the Window, and there heard them talk as followeth. This old Mr. Questioning asked these Doubters what they were, whence they came, and what was their Business in these Parts? And he told him to all these Questions, yet he did enter them. He also asked what Numbers there were of them, and they told him ten thousand Men. He asked them why they made no more Manly Assault on Mansoul? and they told him. So he called to his General Concord, for marching off when he should be fought for his Prince. Further, this old Evil-questioning asked, and I heard him wish, would all the thousand Doubters were now in Mansoul, and him in the head of them. He bid them also take heed of them. He bid them also to take heed and lie quiet, for they were taken they must die, although they had heads of Gold.

Then said the Court, Mr. Evil-questioning, this is now another Witness against you, and his Testimony mory is full: 1. He swears that you did receive these Men into your House, and that you did nourish them there, tho' you knew that they were Diabolonians, and the King's Enemies. 2. He swears that you did wish ten thousand of them in Manfoul. 3. He swears that you did give them Advice to be quat and close, lest they were taken by the King's Servants. All which manifesteth that thou art a Diabolonian; but hadst thou been a Friend to the King, thou wouldst have apprehended them.

Then said Evil-questioning, To the first of these I answer, the Men that came into mine House were Strangers, and I took them in, and is it now became a Crime in Manfoul for a Man to entertain Strangers? That I did also nourish them is true, and why should my Charity be blamed. As for the Reason why I wished ten thousand of them in Manfoul, I never told it to the Witnesses, nor to themselves. I might wish them to be taken, and so my Wish might mean well to Manfoul, for ought that any yet knows. I did also bid 'em take heed that they fell not into the Captain's Hands, but that might be because I am unwilling that any Man should be slain, and not because I would have the King's Enemies, as such, escape.

My Lord-Mayor then replied, That tho' it was a Virtue to entertain Strangers, yet it was Treason to entertain the King's Enemies. And for what else thou hast said, thou dost by Words but Labour to evade, and defer the Execution of Judgment. But could there be no more proved against thee but that thou art a Diabolonian, thou must for that die the Death by the Law; but to be a Receiver, a Nourisher, a Countenancer, and a Harbours of others of them, yea, of outlandish Diabolonians; yea, of them that came from far, on purpose to cut off and destroy our Mansoul; this must not be born.

Then said Evil-questioning, I see how the Game will go. I must die for my Name, and for my Charity. And so held his Peace.

Then they called the outlandish Doubters to the Bar,

Bar, and the first of them that was arraigned, was the Election-Doubter; so his Indictment was read, and because he was an Outlandish-man, the Substance of it was told to him by an Interpreter: to wit, That he was there charged with being an Enemy to Emanuel the Prince, a hater of the Town of Mansoul, and an opposer of her most wholesome Doctrine.

Then the Judge asked him if he would plead? But he said only this, That he confessed that he was an Election-Doubter, and that that was the Religion that he had even been brought up in. And said moreover, if I must die for my Religion, I throw, I shall die a Martyr, and so I care the less.

Then the Judge replied, To question Election is to overthrow a great Doctrine of the Gospel; to wit, the Omniscieny, and Power, and Will of God, to take away the Liberty of God with his Creature, to stumble the Faith of the Town of Mansoul, and to make Salvation to depend upon Works, and not upon Grace, It also belied the Word, and disquieted the Minds of the Men of Mansoul, therefore by the best of Laws he must die.

Then was the Vocation-Doubter called, and set to the Bar; and his Indictment for Substance was the same with the other, only he was particularly charged with the denying the calling of Mansoul.

The Judge asked him also what he had to say for himself?

So he replied, That he never believed that there was any such Thing as a distinct and powerful Call of God to Mansoul, otherwise than by the general Voice of the Word, nor by that neither, otherwise than as is extorted them to forbear Evil, and to do that which is Good, and in so doing a Promise of Happiness is annexed.

Then said the Judge, Thou art a Diabolical, and hast denied a great Part of one of the most experimental Truths of the Prince of the Town of Mansoul; for he has called, and she has heard a most distinct and powerful Call of her Emanuel, by which she has been quickened, subdued, and possessed with His venly Grace to desire to have Communion with her Prince, to serve him, and to do his Will, and to look for her happiness merely of his good pleasure. And for thine abhorrence of this good Doctrine thou must die the death.

Then the Grace-Doubter was called, and his Indictment was read, and he replied thereto, That though he was of the Land of Doubting, his Father was the Offspring of a Pharisee, and lived in good fashion among his Neighbours, and that he taught him to believe, and believe I do, and will, that Mansoul shall never be saved freely by Grace.

Then said the Judge, Why, the Law of the Prince is plain: Negatively, Not of Works: 2. Positively, By Grace you are saved, Rom. 3. Eph. 2. And thy Religion setteth in and upon the works of the Flesh: For the works of the Law are the works of the Flesh. Besides, in saying (thou hast done) thou hast robbed God of his Glory, and given it to a sinful Man; thou hast robbed Christ of the necessity of his undertaking, and the sufficiency thereof, and hast given both these to the works of the Flesh. Thou hast despised the Work of the Holy Ghost, and hast magnified the will of the Flesh, and of the legal Mind. Thou art a Diabolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian; and for thy Diabolonian Principles thou must die.

The Court then having proceeded thus far with them, sent out the Jury, who forthwith brought them in guilty of Death. Then stood up the Recorder, and addressed himself to the Prisoners: You the Prisoners at the Bar, you have been here indicted, and proved guilty of high Crimes against Emanuel, our Prince, and against the Welfare of the famous Town of Mansoul: Crimes for which you must be put to Death; and die ye accordingly.

So they were sentenced to the Death of the Cross: The Place assigned them for Execution was that where Diabolus drew up his last Army against Mansoul; save only that old Evil-questioning was hanged at the top of Badstreet, just over against his own Door.

When the Town of Manfoul had thus far rid themselves of their Enemies, and of the Troublers of their Peace, in the next place a strict Commandment was given out, that yet my Lord Willberwill should, with Diligence his Man, search for, and do his best to apprehend what Town Diablonians were yet left alive in Manfoul. The Names of several of them were Mr. Fooling, Mr. Letgoodslip, Mr. Slawish fear, Mr. No love, Mr. Mistrust, Mr. Flesh, and Mr. Sloth. It was also commanded that he shou'd apprehend Mr. Evil-questioning's Children that he left behind him, and that they should demolish his House there; Mr. Doubt, and he was his eldest Son; the next to him was Legal life, Unbelief, Wrong-thoughts-of-Christ, Clip-promise, Carnal sense, Live-by-feel, Self-love. All these he had by one Wife, and her Name was No-hope, she was the Kinswoman of old Incredulity, for he was her Uncle, and when her Father old Dark was dead, he took her and brought her up, and when she was marriageable, he gave her to this old Evil-questioning to wife.

Now the Lord Willberwill did put into execution his Commission with great Diligence his Man. He took Fooling in the Streets, and hanged him up in Want-wit-alley, over against his own House. This Fooling was he that would have had the Town of Manfoul deliver up Captain Credence into the hands of Diabolus, provided that then he would have withdrawn his Force out of the Town. He also took Mr. Letgoodslip one day as he was busie in the Market, and executed him according to Law; now there was an honest poor Man in Manfoul, and his Name was Mr. Meditation, one of no great account in the Days of Apostasie; but now of repute with the best of the Town. This Man therefore they were willing to prefer; now Mr. Letgoodslip had a great deal of Wealth heretofore in Manfoul, and at Emanuel's therefore was now given to Mr. Meditation to improve for the common Good, and after him to his Son Mr. Thinkwell; this Thinkwell he had by Mrs. Piety his Wife, and she was the Daughter of Mr. Recorder.

After this my Lord apprehended Clip-promise; now because he was a notorious Villain, for by his Doings much of the King's Coin was abused, therefore he was made a publick Example. He was arraigned and judged to be the first set in the Pillory, and then to be whipt by all the Children and Servants in Manfoul, and then to be hanged till he was dead. Some may wonder at the Severity of this Man's Punishment, but these that are honest Traders in Manfoul, are sensible of the great Abuse that one Clipper of Promises in little Time may do to the Town of Manfoul. And truly my Judgment is, that all those of his Name and Life should be served even as he.

He also apprehended Carnal-sense, and put him in Hold, but how it came about I cannot tell, but he broke Prison and made his Escape. Yea, and the bold Villain will not yet quit the Town, but lurks in the Diabolian Dens a Days, and haunts like a Ghost honest Mens Houses a Nights. Wherefore there was a Proclamation set up in the Market-place in Manfoul, signifying that whosoever could discover Carnal-sense, and apprehend him and slay him, should be admitted daily to the Prince's Table, and should be made keeper of the Treasure of Manfoul. Many therefore did bend themselves to do this Thing, but take him and slay him they could not, though often he was discovered.

But my Lord took Mr. Wrong-thoughts of Christ, and put him in Prison, and he died of a lingering Consumption.

Self-love was also taken and committed to Custody, but there were many that were allied to him in Manfoul, so his Judgment was deferred, but at last Mr. Self-denial stood up and said, if such Villains as these may be winked at in Manfoul, I will lay down my Cow

by John Bunyan.

2

Commission. He also took him from the Croud, had him among his Soldiers, and there he was brain. But some in Manfoul muttered at it, though none could speak plainly, because Emanuel was in the Town. this brave Act of Captain Self-denial came to Prince's Ears, so he sent for him, and made him a Lord in Manfoul. My Lord Willberwill also obtained great Commendations of Emanuel for what he had done in the Town of Manfoul.

Then my Lord Self-denial took Courage, and to the pursuing of the Diabolonians with my Lord Willberwill; and they took Live-by-feeing, and they took Legal life, and put them in hold till they died. Mr. Unbelief was a nimble Jack, him they could not lay hold of, though they attempted to do it often. He therefore, and some few more of the subtillest of the Diabolonian Tribe did yet remain in Manfoul the Time that Manfoul left off to dwell any longer in the Kingdom of Universe. But they kept them in their Dens and Holes; if one of them did appear to happen to be seen in any of the Streets of the Town of Manfoul, the whole Town would be up in Arms against them, yes, the very Children in Manfoul would cry after them as after a Thief, and would wish that they might stone them to death with Stones. And now Manfoul arrive to some good Degree of Peace and Quietness, her Prince also did abide within her Borders, her Captains also, and her Soldiers did their Duties, and Manfoul minded her Trade that she had with the Country round off; also she was busy in her Manufacture, Isa. 33. Phil 3 20. Prov. 31.

When the Town of Manfoul had thus far rid themselves of so many of their Enemies, and the Trouble of their Peace; the Prince sent to them, and appointed a Day wherein he would at the Market-place meet the whole People, and there give them in Charge concerning the future Matters, that if observed, would tend to their farther Safety and Comfort, and to the Condemnation and Destruction of their home-

Diabolonians. So the Day appointed was come, and the Townsmen met together; Emanuel also came down in his Chariot, and all his Captains in their state attending of him on the Right-hand, and on the Left. Then was an Oye made for Silence, and after some mutual Carriages of Love, the Prince began, and thus proceeded.

Emanuel's      ' You, my Manfoul, and the beloved of Speech to      ' mine Heart, many and great are the Pri-Manfoul.      ' viledges that I have bestowed upon you;

                  ' I have singled you out from others, and
' have chosen you to myself, not for your worthiness,
' but for mine own Sake. I have also redeemed you,
' not only from the Dread of my Father's Law, but
' from the Hand of Diabolus. This I have done, be' cause I loved you, and because I have set my Heart
' upon you to do you good. I have also that al-
' Things that might hinder thy Way to the Pleasures o-
' Paradise might be taken out of the Way, laid down
' for thee, for thy Soul, a plenary Satisfaction, and
' have bought thee for myself; a Price not of corrup-
' tible Things, as of Silver and Gold, but a Price o-
' Blood, mine own Blood, which I have freely spil-
' upon the Ground to make thee mine. So I have re' conciled thee, O my Manfoul, to my Father, and ' intrusted thee in the Mansion-houses that are within
' my Father in the Royal City, where Things are as
' my Manfoul, that Eye hath not seen, nor hath entered ' into the Heart of Man to conceive.

                  ' Besides, O my Manfoul, thou seest what I have ' done, and how I have taken thee out of the Hands o-
' thine Enemies; unto whom thou hast deeply revolt-
' ed from my Father, and by whom thou wast contri' buted to be possessed, and also to be destroyed. I came ' to thee first by my Law, then by my Gospel to awa-
' ken thee and shew thee my Glory. And thou know-
' est what thou wast, what thou saidst; what thou
' didst, and how many Times thou rebelledst against
' my Father and me; yet I left thee not, as thou seest
' this Day, but came to thee, have born thy Man-

‘ have waited upon thee, and after all accepted of thee
 ‘ even of my meer Grace and Favour; and would not ‘ suffer thee to be lost, as thou most willingly wouldst
 ‘ have been. I also compassed thee about, afflicted thee
 ‘ on every Side, that I might make thee weary of thy ‘ Ways, and bring down thy Heart with Molestation
 ‘ to a Willingness to close with thy Good and Happi‘ ness. And when I had gotten a compleat Conquest ‘ over thee, I turned it to thy Advantage.

‘ Thou seest also what a Company of my Father’s ‘ Host I have lodged within thy Borders, Captains and ‘ Rulers, Soldiers, Men of War, Engines and excel‘ lent Devices to subdue and bring down thy Foes; ‘ thou knowest my Meaning; O Manfoul. And they ‘ are my Servants, and thine too, Manfoul. Yes, my ‘ Design of possessing of thee with them, and the na‘ tural Tendency of each of them, is to defend, purge, ‘ strengthen, and sweeten thee for myself, O Manfoul;
 ‘ and to make thee meet for my Father’s Presence;
 ‘ Blessing and Glory; for thou, my Manfoul, art created ‘ to be prepared unto these.

‘ Thou seest moreover, my Manfoul, how I have ‘ passed by thy Back-slidings, and have healed thee.
 ‘ Indeed I was angry with thee, but I have turned ‘ my Anger, and mine Indignation is ceased in the ‘ Destruction of thine Enemies; O Manfoul. Nor did ‘ thy Goodness fetch me again unto thee, after that I ‘ for thy Transgressions have hid my Face, and with‘ drawn my Presence from thee. The Way of Back‘ sliding was thine, but the Way and Means of Recovery
 ‘ was mine. I invented the Means of thy Return; it ‘ is I that made an Hedge and a Wall, when thou wast ‘ beginning to turn to Things in which I delighted not.
 ‘ ’Twas I that made thy Sweet Bitter, thy Day Night;
 ‘ thy smooth Way thorny; and that also confounded
 ‘ all that sought thy Destruction. ’Twas I that set ‘ Mr. Godlyfear to work in Manfoul. ’Twas I that ‘ stirred up thy Conscience and Understanding, thy Will
 ‘ and thy Affections, after thy great and woeful Deceit.

me, that thou mightest find me, and in thy finding, find thine own Health, Happiness and Salvation. 'Twas I that fetched the second Time the Diabolonians out of Manfoul; 'twas I that overcame them, and that destroyed them before thy Face.

And now my Manfoul, I am returned to thee in Peace, and thy Transgressions against me are as if they had not been. Nor shall it be with thee as in former Days, but I will do better for thee than at thy beginning. For yet a little While, O my Manfoul, even after a few more Times are gone over thy Head, I will (but be not thou troubled at what I say) take down this famous Town of Manfoul, Stick and Stone to the Ground. And I will carry the Stones thereof, and the Timber thereof, and the Walls thereof, and the Dust thereof, and Inhabitants thereof, into mine own Country, even into the Kingdom of my Father; and will there set it up in such Strength and Glory, as it never did see in the Kingdom where now it is placed. I will even there set it up for my Father's Habitation, for, for that Purpose it was at first erected in the Kingdom of Universe; and there will I make it a Spectacle of Wonder, a Monument of Mercy. There shall the Natives of Manfoul see all that of all which they have seen nothing here; there shall they be equal to those unto whom they have been inferior here. And there shalt thou, O my Manfoul, have such communion with me, with my Father, and with your Lord Secretary, as is not possible here to be enjoyed, nor ever could be, should thou live in Universe the Space of a thousand Years.

And there, O my Manfoul, thou shalt be afraid of Murderers no more; of Diabolonians no more. There shall be no more Plots, nor Contrivances, nor Designs against thee, O my Manfoul. There thou shalt no more hear the evil Tidings, or the Noise of the Diabolonian Drum. There thou shalt not see the Diabolonian Standard-bearers, nor yet behold Diabolus his Standard. No Diabolonian Mount should be ‘ cast up against thee there, nor shall there the Diabolonian Standard be set up to make thee afraid.

 ‘ There, thou shalt meet with no Sorrow, nor Grief, ‘ nor shall it be possible that any Diabolonian should ‘ again (for ever) be able to creep into thy Skirts, bur‘ row in thy Wall’s, or be seen within thy Borders all ‘ the Days of Eternity. Life shall there last longer than ‘ here you are able to desire it should, and yet it shall ‘ always be sweet and new, nor shall any Impediment ‘ attend it for ever.

‘ There, O Manfoul, thou shalt meet with many of ‘ those that have been like thee, and that have been ‘ Partakers of thy Sorrows; even such as I have cho‘ sen, and redeemed, and set apart as thou for my Fa‘ ther’s Court and City Royal. All they will be glad ‘ in thee, and thou, when thou seest them, shall be ‘ glad in thine Heart.

‘ There are Things, O Manfoul, even Things of thy ‘ Father’s providing and mine, that never were seen ‘ since the Beginning of the World, and they are laid ‘ up with my Father, and sealed up among his Treas‘ ures for thee, till thou shalt come thither to them.
 ‘ I told you before that I would remove my Manfoul,
 ‘ and set it up elsewhere, and where I will set it, there ‘ are those that love thee, and those that rejoice in ‘ thee now, but much more when they see thee exal‘ ted to Honour. My Father will then send them for ‘ you to fetch you; and their Bosoms are Chariots to ‘ put you in. And you, O my Manfoul, shall ride ‘ upon the Wings of the Wind, Psal. 68. 17. They ‘ will come to convey, conduct, and bring you to that ‘ when your Eyes see more, that will be your desired ‘ Haven.

‘ And thus, O my Manfoul, I have shewed unto ‘ thee what shall be done to thee hereafter, if thou ‘ canst understand; and now I will tell thee what a ‘ present must be thy Duty and Practice, until I shall ‘ come and fetch thee to myself, according as is related ‘ in the Scriptures of Truth.

' First, I charge thee that thou dost hereafter keep
 ' more white and clean the Liveries which I give thee
 ' before my last withdrawing from thee. Do it, I say,
 ' for this will be thy Wisdom. They are in themselves
 ' fine Linnen, but thou must keep them white and clean.
 ' This will be your Wisdom, your Honour, and will ' be greatly for my Glory. When your Garments are ' white, the World will count you mine. Also when ' your Garments are white, then I am delighted in your ' Ways; for then your goings to and fro will be like a ' Flash of Lightening, that those that are present must ' take notice of, also their Eyes will be made to dazle
 ' thereat. Deck thyself therefore according to my
 ' bidding, and make thyself by my Law straight Steps
 ' for thy Feet, so shall thy King greatly desire thy
 ' Beauty, for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him.

' Now that thou mayst keep them as I bid thee, I ' have, as I before did tell thee, provided for thee an ' open Fountain to wash thy Garments in. Look
 ' therefore that thou wash often in my Fountain, and
 ' go not in defiled Garments; for as it is to my Dis-
 ' honour, and my Disgrace, so it will be to thy Dis-
 ' comfort, when you shall walk in filthy Garments,
 ' Zach. 3, 1, 2. Let not therefore my Garments, your
 ' Garments, the Garments that I gave thee, be defiled
 ' or spotted by the Flesh, Jude v. 23. Keep thy Gar' ments always white, and let thy head lack no Ornament.

' My Manfoul, I have oft-times delivered thee from
 ' the Designs, Plots, Attempts, and Conspiracies of
 ' Diabolus, and for all this I ask thee nothing, but
 ' that thou render not to me Evil for my Good, but
 ' that thou bear in Mind my Love, and the continua' tion of my Kindness to my beloved Manfoul, so as to ' provoke thee to walk, in thy Measure, according to ' the Benefit bestowed on thee. Of old the Sacrifices
 ' were bound with Cords to the Horns of the Golden ' Altar. Consider what is said to thee, O my blessed
 ' Manfoul.

‘ O my Manfoul, I have lived, I have died, I live
‘ and will die no more for thee. I live that thou ‘ mayest not die. Because I live thou shalt live also ‘ I reconciled thee to my Father by the Blood of my ‘ Cross, and being reconciled thou shalt live through ‘ me. I will pray for thee, I will fight for thee,
‘ will yet do thee good.

‘ Nothing can hurt thee but Sin; nothing can grieve ‘ me but Sin; nothing can make thee base before thy ‘ Foes but Sin: Take heed of Sin; my Manfoul.

‘ And dost thou know why I at first, and do still ‘ suffer Diabolonians to dwell in thy Walls; O Ma
‘ soul? It is to keep thee waking, to try thy Love
‘ to make thee watchful, and to cause thee yet ‘ prize my noble Captains, their Soldiers, and my ‘ Mercy.

‘ It is also that yet thou mayest be made to remem‘ ber what a deplorable Condition thou once wast in ‘ I mean when, not some, but all did dwell, not ‘ thy Wall, but in thy Castle, and in thy strong Hold ‘ O Manfoul.

‘ O my Manfoul, should I slay all them within ‘ many there be without that would bring thee in ‘ bondage; for were all these within cut off, thou ‘ without would find thee sleeping, and then as in ‘ Moment they would swallow up my Manfoul.
‘ therefore left them in thee, not to do thee hurt (to ‘ which they yet will, if thou hearken to them, and ‘ serve them) but to do thee good, the which thou ‘ must, if thou watch and fight against them. Know ‘ therefore that whatever they shall tempt thee to, my ‘ Design is that they should drive thee, not further ‘ but nearer to my Father, to learn thee War, to make ‘ Petitioning desirable to thee, and to make thee lit-
‘ in thine own Eyes. Hearken diligently to this ‘ Manfoul.

‘ Shew me then thy Love, my Manfoul, and let ‘ those that are within thy Walls, take thy Affection ‘ off from him that hath redeemed thy Soul.

' I came once and twice, and thrice to save thee from
 ' the Poison of those Arrows that would have wrought
 ' thy Death; stand for me, my Friend, my Mansoul,
 ' against the Diabolians, and I will stand for thee
 ' before my Father, and all his Court. Love me a' gainst Temptation, and I will love thee notwithstand' ing thine Infirmities.

' O my Mansoul, remember what my Captains, my ' Soldiers, and mine Engines have done for thee. They ' have fought for thee, they have born much at thy
 ' Hands to do thee good, O Mansoul. Hadst thou not
 ' had them to help thee, Diabolus had certainly made a
 ' Hand of thee. Nourish them therefore, my Mansoul.
 ' When thou dost well, they will be well, when thou
 ' dost ill, they will be ill, and sick, and weak. Make
 ' not my Captains sick, O Mansoul, for if they be sick
 ' thou canst not be well; if they be weak, thou canst
 ' not be strong; if they be faint, thou canst not be
 ' stout and valiant for thy King, O Mansoul. Nor must
 ' thou think always to live by Sense, thou must live up-
 ' on my Word. Thou must believe, O my Mansoul,
 ' when I am for thee, that yet I love and bear thee
 ' upon mine Heart for ever.

' Remember therefore, O my Mansoul, that thou art
 ' beloved of me; as I have therefore taught thee to
 ' watch, to fight, to pray, and to make War against
 ' my Foes, so now I command thee to believe that my ' Love is constant to thee, O my Mansoul, how have
 ' I set my Heart, my Love upon thee, watch, Behold,
 ' I lay, none other burden upon thee, than what thou hast
 ' already, hold fast till I come.

F I N I S.

Irish Revue 1800

har Book 1800

John

Susanna

Carleton

